"Will it Work If You Switch?"

A baseball pitcher knew there was a glitch.

His manager asked, "Does the stitch make your finger twitch?"

The pitcher responded, "No, but every time I throw the ball, it ends up in a ditch. I can't find my niche (a comfortable situation)."

The manager scratched his head but not from an itch. His idea was to switch baseballs.

The plan worked without a hitch (no problem). They won the game and became rich.
