ABOUT ALLANA

Allana Robinson is a former early interventionist turned Parenting Coach. She has more than 15 years experience supporting families worldwide as a Registered Early Childhood Educator, Developmental Specialist, and coach.

Allana founded Uncommon Sense Parenting in 2017 to help parents of toddlers, preschoolers, and kindergarteners become the experts on their own child, understand why their children are misbehaving and how to fix it without yelling, shaming, or time-outs.

To date she has helped over 2 thousand families worldwide find connection, calm, and confidence raising their young children.
