PART 97—OVERTIME SERVICES RELATING TO IMPORTS AND EXPORTS

Administrative Instructions Prescribing Commuted Travel Time Allowances

Pursuant to the authority conferred upon the Director of the Animal Health Division by § 97.1 of the regulations concerning overtime services relating to imports and exports, effective July 31, 1966 (9 CFR 97.1), administrative instructions (9 CFR 97.2) effective July 30, 1963, as amended May 18, 1964 (29 F.R. 6318), December 7, 1964 (29 F.R. 16316), April 12, 1965 (30 F.R. 4609), June 18, 1965 (30 F.R. 7893), June 7, 1966 (31 F.R. 8020), October 11, 1966 (31 F.R. 13114), November 1, 1966 (31 F.R. 13939), November 23, 1966 (31 F.R. 14826), February 14, 1967 (32 F.R. 20843), April 15, 1967 (32 F.R. 6021), August 26, 1967 (32 F.R. 12441), September 29, 1967 (32 F.R. 13650), February 9, 1968 (33 F.R. 2756), March 7, 1968 (33 F.R. 4248), July 13, 1968 (33 F.R. 10085), July 31, 1968 (33 F.R. 10839), August 15, 1968 (33 F.R. 11587), September 25, 1968 (33 F.R. 14399), November 8, 1968 (33 F.R. 16382), December 14, 1968 (33 F.R. 18573), February 1, 1969 (34 F.R. 1586), and June 3, 1969 (34 F.R. 8697), prescribing the commuted travel time that shall be included in each period of overtime or holiday duty, are hereby amended by adding to or deleting from the respective "lists" therein as follows:

WITHIN METROPOLITAN AREA

ONE HOUR

Add: Stapleton International Airport (served from Arvada, Colo.).

This commuted travel time period has been established as nearly as may be practicable to cover the time necessarily spent in reporting to and returning from the place at which the employee performs such overtime or holiday duty when such travel is performed solely on account of such overtime or holiday duty. Such establishment depends upon facts within the knowledge of the Animal Health Division.

It is to the benefit of the public that this instruction be made effective at the earliest practicable date. Accordingly, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 553, it is found upon good cause that notice and public procedure on this instruction are impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest, and good cause is found for making this instruction effective less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Hyattsville, Md., this 25th day of June 1969.

R. E. OMOHUNDRO,
Acting Director, Animal Health Division, Agricultural Research Service.

SUBCHAPTER B—FARM MARKETING QUOTAS AND ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS

[Amdt. 7]

PART 722—COTTON

Subpart—Marketing Quotas for the 1966 and Succeeding Crops of Upland Cotton and Extra Long Staple Cotton

1969 RATES OF PENALTY

This amendment is issued pursuant to the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 1281 et seq.). The purpose of this amendment is to establish the 1969 rates of penalty for excess upland cotton and extra long staple cotton.

It is essential that the penalty rates be made available to producers and cotton buyers as soon as possible. Establishment of such rates involves a mathematical computation in accordance with the statutory formula. Accordingly, it is hereby determined and found that compliance with the notice, public procedure, and 30-day effective date requirements of 5 U.S.C. 553 is impracticable and contrary to the public interest and this amendment shall be effective upon filing of this document with the Director, Office of the Federal Register.

Section 722.100 of the regulations for Marketing Quotas for the 1966 and Succeeding Crops of Upland Cotton and Extra Long Staple Cotton (31 F.R. 6573, 9445, 13035, 15791, 32 F.R. 9298, 33 F.R. 6701, and 9387) is amended by adding the following new paragraph (d) at the end thereof:

§ 722.100 Penalty rate for each crop year.

* * * * *

(d) 1969 crop—(1) Upland cotton. The parity price for upland cotton effective as of June 15, 1969, is 47.80 cents per pound. The rate of penalty for upland cotton produced in 1969 as calculated on the basis of 50 percent of such parity price in accordance with § 722.79 shall be 23.9 cents per pound of upland lint cotton.

(2) Extra long staple cotton. The parity price for ELS cotton, effective as of June 15, 1969, is 77 cents per pound. The rate of penalty for ELS cotton produced in 1969 as calculated on the basis of 50 percent of such parity price shall be 38.5 cents per pound of ELS lint cotton.

(Secs. 346, 347, 375, 63 Stat. 674, as amended, 63 Stat. 675, as amended, 52 Stat. 66, as amended, 7 U.S.C. 1346, 1347, 1375)

Effective date: Date of filing this document with the Director, Office of the Federal Register.

Signed at Washington, D.C., on June 25, 1969.

CARROLL G. BRUNTHAVER,
Acting Administrator, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

[Grapefruit Reg. 67, Amdt. 5]

PART 905—ORANGES, GRAPEFRUIT, TANGERINES, AND TANGELOS GROWN IN FLORIDA

Limitation of Shipments

Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 905, as amended (7 CFR Part 905), regulating the handling of oranges, grapefruit, tangerines, and tangelos grown in Florida, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), and upon the basis of the recommendations of the committees established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of grapefruit, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rulemaking procedure, and postpone the effective date of this amendment until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553) in that the time intervening between the date when information upon which this amendment is based became available and the time when this amendment must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; this amendment relieves restrictions on the handling of grapefruit (grown in Regulation Area I) during the period June 27, through July 6, 1969, and on the handling of all Florida grapefruit during the period July 7, through September 14, 1969.

Order. In § 905.506 (Grapefruit Reg. 67, 33 F.R. 14066, 14169, 17893, 18429, 34 F.R. 7897), paragraph (a) is deleted and a new paragraph (a) is substituted in lieu thereof to read as follows:

§ 905.506 Grapefruit Regulation 67.

(a) Order. (1) During the period June 27, through July 6, 1969, no handler shall ship between the production area and any point outside thereof in the continental United States, Canada, or Mexico:

(i) Any grapefruit, grown in Regulation Area I, which do not grade at least U.S. No. 1 Golden;

(ii) Any seedless grapefruit, grown in Regulation Area I, which are smaller than 3 7/16 inches in diameter except that a tolerance of 10 percent, by count, of seedless grapefruit smaller than such minimum size shall be permitted, which tolerance shall be applied in accordance with the provisions for the application of tolerances specified in the U.S. Standards for Florida Grapefruit;

(iii) Any seeded grapefruit, grown in the production area, which are smaller than 3 15/16 inches in diameter except that a tolerance of 10 percent, by count, of seeded grapefruit smaller than such minimum size shall be permitted, which tolerance shall be applied in accordance with the provisions for the application of tolerances specified in said U.S. Standards for Florida Grapefruit; or

(iv) Any seedless grapefruit, grown in Regulation Area II, unless such grapefruit grade at least Improved No. 2 and are not smaller than 3 9/16 inches in diameter, except that a tolerance of 10 percent, by count, of seedless grapefruit smaller than such minimum size shall be permitted, which tolerance shall be applied in accordance with the provisions for the application of tolerances specified in said United States Standards for Florida Grapefruit: Provided, That seedless grapefruit, grown in Regulation Area II, which grade at least U.S. No. 1 Golden may be shipped if such grapefruit are not smaller than 3 7/16 inches in diameter, except that a tolerance of 10 percent, by count, of seedless grapefruit smaller than such minimum size shall be permitted, which tolerance shall be applied in accordance with the provisions for the application of tolerances specified in said U.S. Standards for Florida Grapefruit.

(2) During the period July 7, through September 14, 1969, no handler shall ship between the production area and any point outside thereof in the continental United States, Canada, or Mexico:

(i) Any grapefruit, grown in the production area, which do not grade at least U.S. No. 2 Russet;

(ii) Any seeded grapefruit, grown in the production area, which are smaller than 3 15/16 inches in diameter except that a tolerance of 10 percent, by count, of seeded grapefruit smaller than such minimum size shall be permitted, which tolerance shall be applied in accordance with the provisions for the application of tolerances specified in the U.S. Standards for Florida Grapefruit; or

(iii) Any seedless grapefruit, grown in the production area, which are smaller than 3 7/16 inches in diameter except that a tolerance of 10 percent, by count, of seedless grapefruit smaller than such minimum size shall be permitted, which tolerance shall be applied in accordance with the provisions for the application of tolerances specified in said U.S. Standards for Florida Grapefruit.

Title 12—BANKS AND BANKING

Chapter II—Federal Reserve System

SUBCHAPTER A—BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

[Reg. Z]

PART 226—TRUTH IN LENDING

Miscellaneous Interpretations

§ 226.605 Rate charts and tables unavailable.

(a) Subject to certain conditions, § 226.6(f) of Regulation Z permits a creditor to use an estimate or approximation of information when the information is "unknown or not available to the creditor, and the creditor has made a reasonable effort to ascertain it."

(b) It appears that some creditors who require special charts or tables in order to operate with necessary efficiency in compliance with Regulation Z, and who have placed orders for such charts or tables with suppliers of them, may be unable to obtain such charts or tables by July 1, 1969, the effective date of Regulation Z.

(c) In the circumstances indicated, when the necessary charts or tables have been ordered prior to July 1, 1969, and are temporarily unavailable to a creditor who has thus made a reasonable effort to obtain them, § 226.6(f) permits the creditor to use an estimate or approximation of the annual percentage rate and other information during the interim until they become available, subject, of course, to the other requirements of that paragraph.

§ 226.810 Disclosures—variable interest rates.

(a) In some cases a note, contract, or other instrument evidencing an obligation provides for prospective changes in the annual percentage rate or otherwise provides for prospective variation in the rate. The question arises as to what disclosures must be made under these circumstances when it is not known at the time of consummation of the transaction whether such change will occur or the date or amount of change.

(b) In such cases, the creditor shall make all disclosures on the basis of the rate in effect at the time of consummation of the transaction and shall also disclose the variable feature.

(c) If disclosure is made prior to the consummation of the transaction that the annual percentage rate is prospectively subject to change, the conditions under which such rate may be changed, and, if applicable, the maximum and minimum limits of such rate stipulated in the note, contract, or other instrument evidencing the obligation, such subsequent change in the annual percentage rate in accordance with the foregoing disclosures is a subsequent occurrence under § 226.6(g) and is not a new transaction.

§ 226.903 Refinancing and increasing—disclosures and effects on the right of rescission.

(a) In some cases the creditor of an obligation will refinance that obligation at the request of a customer by permitting the customer to execute a new note, contract, or other document evidencing the transaction under the terms of which one or more of the original credit terms, including the maturity date of the obligation, is changed. Although such refinancing constitutes a new transaction, and all disclosures required under § 226.8 must be made, the question arises as to whether that transaction is subject to the right of rescission under § 226.9 where the obligation is already secured by a lien on real property which is used or expected to be used as the principal residence of that customer.

(b) If the amount of such new transaction does not exceed the amount of the unpaid balance plus any accrued and unpaid finance charge on the existing obligation, § 226.9 does not apply to the transaction.

(c) If, however, the amount of such new transaction is for an increased amount, that is for an amount in excess of the amount of the unpaid balance plus any accrued and unpaid finance charge on the existing obligation, § 226.9 applies to the transaction. However, such right of rescission applies only to such excess and does not affect the existing obligation (or related security interest) for the unpaid balance plus accrued and unpaid finance charge.

(d) The provisions of paragraph (b) of this section and the second sentence of paragraph (c) of this section do not apply in the event that the obligation is refinanced by a creditor other than the creditor of the existing obligation.

(Interprets and applies 15 U.S.C. 1635)

Dated at Washington, D.C., the 20th day of June 1969.

By order of the Board of Governors.

Assistant Secretary.

Title 14—AERONAUTICS AND SPACE

Chapter I—Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation

[Airspace Docket No. 69–SO–51]

PART 71—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS, CONTROLLED AIRSPACE, AND REPORTING POINTS

Alteration of Transition Area

The purpose of this amendment to Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is to alter the Auburn, Ala., transition area.

The Auburn transition area is described in § 71.181 (34 F.R. 4637). In the description, an extension is predicated on the Tuskegee, Ala., VOR 056° radial to provide controlled airspace protection for aircraft executing the VOR–1 instrument approach procedure. A new prescribed instrument approach procedure to Auburn-Opelika Airport, utilizing the Columbus, Ga., VOR 270° radial, is to become effective August 21, 1969. Concurrently, the existing VOR–1 instrument approach procedure will be canceled. It is necessary to alter the transition area description to provide required controlled airspace protection for IFR aircraft executing the new VOR RWY 28 instrument approach procedure, and revoke the extension predicated on the Tuskegee, Ala., VOR 056° radial.

Since this amendment is less restrictive in nature and lessens the burden on the public, notice and public procedure hereon are unnecessary and action is taken herein to alter the description accordingly.

In consideration of the foregoing, Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended, effective 0901 G.m.t., August 21, 1969, as hereinafter set forth.

In § 71.181 (34 F.R. 4637), the Auburn, Ala., transition area is amended to read:

AUBURN, ALA.

That airspace extending upward from 700 feet above the surface within a 5-mile radius of Auburn-Opelika Airport (lat. 32°36'55" N., long. 85°26'10" W.); within 2.5 miles each side of Columbus, Ga., VOR 270° radial, extending from the 5-mile radius area to 17.5 miles west of the VOR.

(Sec. 307(a), Federal Aviation Act of 1958; 49 U.S.C. 1348(a); sec. 6(c), Department of Transportation Act; 49 U.S.C. 1655(c))

Issued in East Point, Ga., on June 19, 1969.

Director, Southern Region.

PART 71—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS, CONTROLLED AIRSPACE, AND REPORTING POINTS

Designation of Transition Area

On May 13, 1969, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (34 F.R. 7616), stating that the Federal Aviation Administration was considering an amendment to Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations that would designate the Mount Pleasant, Tenn., transition area.

Interested persons were afforded an opportunity to participate in the rule making through the submission of comments. All comments received were favorable.

Subsequent to publication of the notice, the geographic coordinate (lat. 35°-33'15" N., long. 87°10'50" W.) for Maury County Airport was obtained from Coast and Geodetic Survey. It is necessary to alter the description by appropriately inserting the geographic coordinate for the airport.

Since this amendment is editorial in nature, notice and public procedure hereon are unnecessary and action is taken herein to alter the description accordingly.

In consideration of the foregoing, Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended, effective 0901 G.m.t., August 21, 1969, as hereinafter set forth.

In § 71.181 (34 F.R. 4637), the following transition area is added:

MOUNT PLEASANT, TENN.

That airspace extending upward from 700 feet above the surface within a 9.5-mile radius of Maury County Airport (lat. 35°-33'15" N, long. 87°10'50" W.); within 9.5 miles southeast and 4.5 miles northwest of the 060° and 227° bearings from Maury County RBN (lat. 35°33'20" N., long. 87°10'-57" W.), extending from the 9.5-mile radius area to 18.5 miles northeast and southwest of the RBN.

(Sec. 307(a), Federal Aviation Act of 1958; 49 U.S.C. 1348(a); sec. 6(c), Department of Transportation Act; 49 U.S.C. 1655(c))

Issued in East Point, Ga., on June 19, 1969.

Chapter II—Civil Aeronautics Board

SUBCHAPTER A—ECONOMIC REGULATIONS

[Reg. ER–584, Amdt. 7]

PART 288—EXEMPTION OF AIR CARRIERS FOR MILITARY TRANSPORTATION

Miscellaneous Amendments

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 25th day of June 1969.

On May 12, 1969, by notice of rule making EDR–163 (34 F.R. 7707), the Board proposed to amend Part 288 of the economic regulations by setting new minimum rates for Logair and Quicktrans domestic military cargo charters. Written data, views, and arguments have been filed in response to the notice by Overseas National Airways, Inc., Universal Airlines, Inc., and the Department of Defense.[1] All comments and supporting materials before the Board have been carefully considered, and all contentions not otherwise disposed of herein are rejected.

Upon consideration of the comments the Board has determined to establish as the fair and reasonable minimum rates the rates listed as adopted in the following table, which also sets forth the current minimum rates and the minimum rates proposed in the notice:

Rates for aircraft not included in the notice. DoD recommended that rates be established for all jets of the standard (B–707/DC–8–50) and stretched (DC–8–61 and 63) series and for the CL–44, DC–7, and C–46. However, of the jet series mentioned, cost information has not been supplied for aircraft other than the DC–8–55F and the DC–8–61/CF (for which rates were proposed), these aircraft have not previously had rates established for Logair or Quicktrans, and there is no information indicating the extent of anticipated requirements. The CL–44 and DC–7 aircraft have been used in prior years, but as indicated in the notice, current cost information has not been submitted for them and fiscal year

[1] No comments were received from the other three carriers which submitted cost forecasts, Airlift International, Inc., Saturn Airways, Inc., and World Airways, Inc. Northwest Airlines, Inc., which has a contract with Military Airlift Command (MAC) for international charters, has petitioned in Docket 21084 for extension of Part 288 beyond July 1, 1969, to permit continuation of such services pending completion of the rate review for these operations.

1969 rates were predicated on costs reflecting substantial annual operations at reasonable daily utilizations, rather than the occasional and infrequent use apparently contemplated by DoD. Therefore, we will not establish rates for those aircraft which were not covered by our notice. Moreover, in view of DoD's advice that it does not have an immediate requirement for three- and four-engine jet aircraft, we will defer action on minimum rates for the B–727, DC–8–50F, and DC–8–61CF aircraft.[2] On the other hand, in the case of the C–46, a current solicitation of bids (RFP) indicates that a regular service is currently envisioned to meet a special need for this limited capacity[3] aircraft. Accordingly, in the absence of information disclosing that the fiscal 1969 rate no longer reflects costs appropriate for minimum rate purposes, we shall accommodate DoD's needs by extending the current C–46 rate as the fair and reasonable minimum rate for fiscal 1970.

Separate rates for B–727 and L–100–20 aircraft. Our grouping of aircraft types was based upon similarity of costs after adjustment. However, DoD states that the B–727 and the L–100–20 are not sufficiently interchangeable in ability to support its airlift requirements since the L–100–20 has capabilities[4] not met by the B–727. In view of these representations we will establish separate rates for the two aircraft types, based on their individual cost characteristics. As indicated above, action on the B–727 rate will be deferred to a later date.

Depreciation. DoD urges the use of 15 percent residual values for turbojet and AW–650 aircraft (rather than the 10 percent used in the notice) and the use of an 8-year service life for the L–188C (rather than the 6-year life proposed).

As to the residual values, DoD argues that continuing maintenance avoids deterioration and that the resale values are a minimum of 15 percent, especially in view of the interchangeability of high cost repairable sub-systems and serviceable engines. It states that a 2-year increase in service life does not warrant a one-third reduction in residual values; that used turbojet aircraft have in recent years consistently been sold for amounts substantially higher than depreciated book value; and that 15 percent is a conservative figure in light of persistent inflationary factors inherent in the economy and of the rising cost/price pattern for sophisticated aircraft. With respect to the AW–650 residual value, DoD states that a decrease from last years' 15 percent residual was not requested by any carrier and has not been supported.[5]

In our judgment, DoD's position is meritorious and we have decided to use 15 percent as the residual value for all equipment covered by this order.[6] In addition to the points raised by DoD, it may be noted that a 14-year service life with a 15 percent residual value is within the range of industry usage for the DC–9–30 as shown on the carrier's Form 41 reports, and conforms to the depreciation policy of Overseas, the only carrier which has offered the DC–9–30 for MAC domestic operations. With respect to the other aircraft types, a 15 percent residual was used in establishing rates for fiscal year 1968, and we agree with the DoD position that there are insufficient grounds for reducing those values at this time.

With respect to the proposed 6-year service life for the L–188C, DoD argues that this aircraft is, for all practical purposes, a new type, notes that in the past the Board used an 8–10-year life for the turboprop L–100, CL–44, and AW–650 aircraft, and points out that the AW–650 entered revenue service in 1959, at the same time as the L–188. Accordingly, DoD suggests that an 8-year service life be used. We have determined to adhere to the service life proposed in the notice. The notice extended the service life from 5 years to 6 years, and in view of the age of the basic aircraft we believe this extension more reasonable than the 8-year life advocated by DoD. Several L–188 aircraft were retired by domestic certificated carriers last year, and while the L–188C aircraft appear to be feasible for commercial usage, it has a somewhat limited suitability. Moreover, comparison with the AW–650 service life is not valid, since that life started some 5 years prior to the L–188C conversion.

Overseas' utilization for L–188 aircraft. Overseas contends that the daily aircraft utilization proposed in the notice for the L–188 is excessive. It urges that because of the requirement of the Quicktrans RFP that aircraft be "dedicated",[7] the aircraft utilization will be less than contemplated. The carrier has also studied the RFP's in an attempt to analyze aircraft preferences and has noted the patterns it believes will be awarded for various equipment types. On the basis of this determination, ONA has charted operations and maintenance times and arrived at utilization figures at 6.6 hours with six aircraft for Logair and 5.4 hours with 5.1 aircraft for Quicktrans for the L–188. ONA also has provided a compilation of delays in Quicktrans service (both Government caused and caused by weather and other factors) and claims that the magnitude of the delays would result in unacceptable schedule reliability if its utilization figure is not accepted.

One difficulty with the carrier's position is that it would alter L–188 utilization because of the preferences it detects in the RFP's, but makes no changes in utilization of other aircraft. Thus, no change is indicated by ONA in utilization for the DC–9 aircraft it offers, which are grouped with the L–188, and no basis is given for changes in utilization for the L–100–20, which also will compete with the L–188 for preference according to ONA. Further, if ONA is correct with respect to the aircraft patterns for which preference will be given to the L–100–20, there will be a substantial reduction in L–188 Quicktrans procurement. However, we are advised that no bid has been submitted for Quicktrans operations utilizing the L–100–20, and thus a major premise to ONA's conclusion may be contrary to fact. The short of the matter is that the RFP's do not, in this instance, give a valid basis for concluding what awards will be made to the carriers for the various aircraft types, and are an insufficient predicate for changing utilization proposed in the notice, especially on a piece-meal basis.

Universal's landing rate for AW–650 aircraft. Universal takes issue with the rate per directed landing element for its AW–650 aircraft. The carrier refers to its modification contract with the manufacturer and states that the contract establishes a safe life based upon the number of landings to be performed. In light of this, the carrier contends that aircraft amortization should be based upon a "safe life" tied to the number of landings rather than upon conventional depreciation methodology based upon years of anticipated service life. Accordingly, the carrier states that it would delete from the linehaul portion of the rate the allowance for depreciation and obsolescence and add into the stop charge an amortization element which would produce a somewhat higher cost. It would also increase the return allowance somewhat, because of the impact on operating margin, apply this charge to the linehaul element, and then adjust the two elements to obtain an even $150 per landing figure (as opposed to the $100 per landing proposed in the notice). The result would be to increase the total rate per statute mile flown at a 350-mile/stage length from $1.6976 to $1.7033.

DoD opposes this change as incompatible with the rate structuring method heretofore used and accepted. It also urges that landing charges should not be adjusted to reflect a "safe life", stating that Universal's support for that contention, the contract between the carrier and the manufacturer, in no way expresses the potential maximum structural integrity of the airplane, but rather represents a minimum service warranty.

[2] Since we are not now establishing rates for the DC–8–50F and DC–8–61CF we need not act now on the suggestion that uniform ton-mile costs be used for these aircraft types.

[3] The C–46 ACL approximates 13,000 pounds, as contrasted to the 22,000-pound ACL for the AW–650, which is the lowest capacity aircraft included in our notice.

[4] Truck bed height of cargo deck, multiple pallet-loading, ability to handle specialized cargo, and straight-in tail end loading.

[5] DoD questions the full service life method used in applying our depreciation policy to the AW–650 modification, but we note that this is the same method which has been used in the case of other aircraft types.

[6] We are not at this time passing upon the proper depreciation rates for three- and four-engine jet aircraft.

[7] A specified number of aircraft to be used in performing the contract cannot be used in other revenue service without prior permission.

We agree with DoD as to the nature of the agreement with the manufacturer and would not apportion a "safe life" charge to landings in lieu of depreciation charged to both linehaul and stop charge elements. However, we have reviewed the AW–650 rates proposed in the notice and have now concluded that the rate structure should be revised to reflect a higher landing charge and a concomitant decrease in the linehaul charge. It appears that the rate proposed in the notice of $100 per landing is out of line with the landing charges for other comparable aircraft. The matter assumes importance because the costs developed in the notice were predicated upon a stage length of 350 miles, whereas it appears that the average stage lengths to be performed on the basis of the RFP's will be 269 miles. Since landing costs will have a greater significance in the overall cost of the operation, it is important that these costs not be understated. Accordingly, we have determined to change the structure by increasing the landing charge to $125 (which conforms to the charge for the DC–6A) and decreasing the linehaul rate from $1.4119 to $1.3334.

Incorporation by reference. No other comments were received with respect to the minimum rates proposed, and, except to the extent modified herein, the costs and other findings contained in the notice are incorporated herein by reference. For convenience of the users, the modified adjusted costs [8] are summarized below:

[1] Based on current rate.

Extension of expiration date. The current rule provides that Part 288 shall expire on June 30, 1969. The rates for Logair and Quicktrans are being established for use during fiscal year 1970 and we will provide for their expiration on June 30, 1970, unless earlier rescinded by the Board. However, as pointed out in the notice, rates for MAC international operations will be established at a later date. Northwest Airlines, Inc., an international contractor, has requested that Part 288 be extended to September 30, 1969, to correspond with the extension by MAC of international contracts for fiscal year 1969, and that amendments to Part 288 be made effective October 1, 1969. We have decided to extend Part 288 to October 31, 1969, for international operations to assure that adequate time will be provided for establishing the international rates. The question of the effective date for these rates will be left open, however, and the extent of any retroactive effect to be given the rates will be determined at the time the rates are established.

In consideration of the foregoing, the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby amends Part 288 of the economic regulations (14 CFR Part 288), effective July 1, 1969,[9] in the following respects:

1. Section 288.7(b) is revised to read as follows:

§ 288.7 Reasonable level of compensation.

* * * * *

(b) For Logair and Quicktrans services, other than specified in paragraph (c) of this section:

Aircraft type	Linehaul rate per course flown statute mile		Rate per directed landing
	Logair	Quicktrans
C–46	$0.8645	$0.8305	$50
AW–650	1.3334		125
DC–6A	1.1535	1.1535	125
L–188C	1.4144	1.4573	150
DC–9–30	1.4144	1.4573	150
L–100–20	1.6953	1.7494	150

[9] In light of the fact that the exemption provided by Part 288 will expire unless effective action is taken prior to July 1, 1969, and considering the matters discussed in the preceding paragraph of the text, we find that notice with respect to the extension of the exemption and public procedure thereon are impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest. For these reasons, as well as the fact that the notice of rule making proposed that the revised rates will be effective July 1, 1969, we find that good cause exists for making the rule effective prior to the expiration of the 30-day notice period.

2. Section 288.18 is revised to read as follows:

§ 288.18 Expiration.

(a) With respect to Logair and Quicktrans services and substitute service within the contiguous 48 States, this part shall expire June 30, 1970, unless rescinded by the Board at an earlier date.

(b) With respect to foreign and overseas transportation, transportation between the 48 contiguous States, on the one hand and Hawaii or Alaska, on the other hand, and for transportation within Alaska, including substitute service therefor, this part shall expire October 31, 1969, unless rescinded by the Board at an earlier date.

(c) The Board reserves the right to rescind this part or any provision thereof at any time, with or without notice or hearing, as the public interest may require.

(d) The transportation services performed pursuant to the authorization granted in this part do not constitute an activity of a continuing nature within the meaning of 5 U.S.C. 558(c).

PART 500—REGULATIONS UNDER SECTION 4 OF THE FAIR PACKAGING AND LABELING ACT

Effective Date

The Federal Trade Commission published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of May 27, 1969 (34 F.R. 8200) the adoption of the regulations previously published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of March 19, 1968 (33 F.R. 4718) pertaining to the Fair Packaging and Labeling Act. The effective date of the subject order was specified in § 500.25(c)(2) as July 1, 1969.

Subsequent to the adoption of the regulations, actions instituted in the courts have raised issues respecting the implementation of the Fair Packaging and Labeling Act by the Federal Trade Commission. The Commission has determined that the effective date of the order should be postponed for a short period of time to afford possible resolution of the problems involved.

Therefore, notice is hereby given that the July 1, 1969 effective date is postponed until further order of the Commission. The new order will provide at least thirty (30) days advance notice of the new effective date.

Issued: June 27, 1969.

By direction of the Commission.

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

SUBCHAPTER B—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

PART 17—BAKERY PRODUCTS

Bread, Identity Standard; Confirmation of Effective Date of Order Listing Polysorbate 60 as Optional Ingredient

In the matter of amending the definition and standard of identity for bread (21 CFR 17.1) to permit the use of polysorbate 60 as an optional ingredient:

One objection was received to the order in the above-identified matter published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of March 27, 1969 (34 F.R. 5719). The objection questioned the availability of adequate scientific data to justify such use of polysorbate 60.

The Commissioner of Food and Drugs has evaluated the objection and concludes that it is without sufficient support to merit a stay of the order. The objector has been notified by letter and a copy is on file with the Hearing Clerk.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (secs. 401, 701, 52 Stat. 1046, 1055, as amended 70 Stat. 919, 72 Stat. 948; 21 U.S.C. 341, 371) and under authority delegated to the Commissioner (21 CFR 2.120), notice is given that the amendment promulgated by the subject order became effective May 26, 1969.

Dated: June 23, 1969.

J. K. KIRK,
Associate Commissioner for Compliance.

Title 45—PUBLIC WELFARE

Subtitle A—Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, General Administration

PART 85—CONTROL OF AIR POLLUTION FROM NEW MOTOR VEHICLES AND NEW MOTOR VEHICLE ENGINES

Standards for Exhaust Emissions, Fuel Evaporative Emissions, and Smoke Emissions, Applicable to 1970 and Later Vehicles and Engines

On June 4, 1968, regulations for the control of air pollution from new motor vehicles and new motor vehicle engines beginning with the 1970 model year were published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (33 F.R. 8304).

Subsequent to that publication, numerous written questions and comments were received by the Commissioner, National Air Pollution Control Administration, from manufacturers concerning the interpretation and application of the provisions of those regulations. In order that National Air Pollution Control Administration personnel could properly respond to the industry's inquiries and observations, a Technical Meeting was held at the National Air Pollution Control Administration's motor vehicle testing facility at Willow Run Airport, Ypsilanti, Mich., on August 7, 1968. Notice of the meeting was forwarded to vehicle manufacturers and industry associations, both domestic and foreign, together with an invitation affording them an opportunity to discuss the implementation of those regulations. In addition, an announcement of the meeting was made through a press release which invited the public to participate. In attendance at the meeting, in addition to Federal personnel, were representatives of the domestic and foreign automobile and engine manufacturers and the industry associations, as well as several research and development concerns, several oil companies, and one State air pollution control agency.

The amendments and corrections set forth below are the results of that meeting and of further efforts at clarification by program personnel. In the few instances where substantive changes are involved, those affected have been made aware of the intended revisions.

Since failure to formally adopt these procedures immediately would work to the detriment of those affected by them, the Department finds that it is in the public interest and that good cause exists for the adoption of these amendments and corrections effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. To insure that all parties and interests participate in the further formulation of the regulations, interested persons are invited to submit data, views, comments, or arguments concerning the regulations hereby promulgated within 30 days after such publication in writing to the Secretary, Health, Education, and Welfare, Attention: National Air Pollution Control Administration, 801 North Randolph Street, Arlington, Va. Consideration will be given such submissions as fully as though they had been received in response to a proposal.

Part 85 of Subtitle A, Title 45 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended as follows:

1. In § 85.76, paragraph (c) is revised to read as follows:

§ 85.76 Dynamometer procedure.

* * * * *

(c) The power absorption unit shall be adjusted to reproduce road load at 50 m.p.h. true speed.

(1) The proper horsepower setting for a particular vehicle—dynamometer combination is predetermined by:

(i) Measuring the absolute manifold vacuum of a representative vehicle of the same equivalent inertia weight class, when operated on a level road under balanced wind conditions at a true speed of 50 m.p.h., and

(ii) Noting the dynamometer horsepower setting required to reproduce that manifold vacuum, when the same vehicle is operated on the dynamometer at a true speed of 50 m.p.h.

(2) Where it is expected that more than 33 percent of the vehicles in an engine displacement class will be equipped with air conditioning, an additional 10 percent will be added to the road load horsepower, determined above, for all test vehicles representing such engine class.

* * * * *

2. In § 85.80, the second sentence of paragraph (c) is revised and paragraph (d) is revised. As amended, § 85.80 reads as follows:

§ 85.80 Engine starting.

* * * * *

(c) Vehicles equipped with manual choke shall be started according to the manufacturer's procedure. Use of the choke should not extend beyond sequence eight of the first cycle.

(d) Where necessary, in order to keep the engine running, the operator may use more choke, higher r.p.m., or decreased rate of acceleration.

3. In § 85.87, paragraph (a) is revised by adding a final sentence, as follows:

§ 85.87 Calculations (exhaust emissions).

The final reported test results shall be derived through the following steps:

(a) Exhaust gas concentrations shall be adjusted to a dry exhaust volume containing 14.5 mole percent carbon atoms by applying the following dilution factor to the individual mode data:

$$\frac{14.5}{\%\ CO_2 + (0.5)\%\ CO + (1.8 \times 6)\%\ HC}$$

Since hydrocarbons, carbon monoxide, and carbon dioxide are all measured with the same moisture content, no moisture correction is required to convert the results to a dry basis. Where fuel shutoff during deceleration is employed, the dilution factors for the deceleration modes shall be the dilution factors established during the preceding idle modes.

* * * * *

4. In § 85.91, paragraph (b)(2) is revised by adding third and fourth sentences, as follows:

§ 85.91 Mileage accumulation and emission measurements.

(b) * * *

(2) For 1970 model year vehicles equipped for fuel evaporative emission control, these vehicles will be tested for their evaporative emissions through not less than 12,000 miles. Emission measurements shall be made at least every 4,000 miles: Provided, That the evaporative emission control system or device shall remain on the vehicle beyond the 12,000-mile point, in operable condition, and shall be maintained in accordance with applicable portions of § 85.90, if the vehicle is also used for exhaust emission testing. (Vehicles which duplicate test vehicles used in prior year durability fleets but required to be retested for fuel evaporative emission control do not come under this proviso. For such vehicles, the exhaust emission control system deterioration factor may be reconstructed from pertinent prior year durability data.)

5. In § 85.92, paragraph (c) is amended as follows: Subparagraph (1) (i), (ii), and (iii) is revised, subparagraph (2) is revised, and subparagraph (2a) is added. As amended, § 85.92 reads as follows:

§ 85.92 Compliance with emission standards.

* * * * *

(c) * * *

(1) * * *

(i) All applicable results will be plotted as a function of mileage and the best fit straight lines, fitted by the method of least squares, will be drawn through these data points.

(ii) The deterioration factors for exhaust emission control systems or devices shall be calculated as follows:

$$\text{factor} = \frac{\text{exhaust emissions interpolated to 50,000 miles}}{\text{exhaust emissions interpolated to 4,000 miles}}$$

(iii) The deterioration factors for evaporative emission control systems or devices shall be calculated by subtracting the evaporative emissions interpolated to 4,000 miles from the evaporative emissions interpolated to 50,000 miles: Provided, That for evaporative emission systems within the proviso of § 85.21(b), for the 1970 model year only, the factors shall be calculated by subtracting the evaporative emissions interpolated to 4,000 miles from the evaporative emissions interpolated to 12,000 miles.

(2) The exhaust emission test results from each emission data vehicle shall be multiplied by the appropriate deterioration factor.

(2a) The evaporative emission test results from each emission data vehicle shall be adjusted by addition of the appropriate deterioration factor.

(3) The emissions to compare with the standard shall be the adjusted emissions of subparagraphs (2) and (2a) of this paragraph classified according to engine displacement and, within each engine displacement, weighted in proportion to the projected sales of the vehicles represented by each emission data vehicle.

6. In § 85.110, the second sentence of paragraph (b) is revised. As amended, paragraph (b) reads as follows:

§ 85.110 Test engines.

* * * * *

(b) Durability data engines. The durability data engines shall comprise a minimum of two and a maximum of six. The number shall be determined by selection of those engine displacements which represent at least 70 percent of the manufacturer's projected sales in the United States of each class of emission control system employed, during the full calendar year for which certification is sought, selected in order of sales volume: Provided, however, That when such manufacturer's projected full calendar year sales in the United States represents less than 10 percent of all domestic sales of engines subject to this section, the number of durability data engines shall be determined by the number of engine displacement-emission control system combinations comprising at least 50 percent of domestic sales by the manufacturer projected for such calendar year, but in no event shall there be less than two engines unless a lesser number is agreed to by the Secretary as meeting the objectives of this procedure.

7. In § 85.113, paragraph (c)(1)(i) is revised to read as follows:

§ 85.113 Compliance with emission standards.

* * * * *

(c) * * *

(1) * * *

(i) All applicable results will be plotted as a function of dynamometer hours and the best fit straight lines, fitted by the method of least squares, will be drawn through these data points.

* * * * *

8. In § 85.121, the tables in paragraphs (b) and (c) are revised. As amended, § 85.121 reads as follows:

§ 85.121 Diesel fuel specifications.

PART 250—ADMINISTRATION OF MEDICAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

Reasonable Charges for Individual Practitioner Services; Notice of Interim Policies and Requirements

Notice is hereby given that the regulations set forth below, made pursuant to section 1102 of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. 1302, prescribe certain interim policies and requirements relating to reasonable charges for individual practitioner services under State plans for medical assistance under title XIX of such Act. These regulations are effective with respect to payments made under the State plans for services provided on or after July 1, 1969, by physicians, dentists, and other individual practitioners, and are applicable in such case notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the regulations in 45 CFR 250.30 (34 F.R. 1244, Jan. 25, 1969). The regulations in 45 CFR 250.30 shall remain applicable except to the extent that they are inconsistent with these regulations.

Interested persons who wish to submit comments, suggestions, or objections thereto may present their views in writing to the Administrator, Social and Rehabilitation Service, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, 330 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20201, within a period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

MEDICAL ASSISTANCE; REASONABLE CHARGES FOR INDIVIDUAL PRACTITIONER SERVICES

SECTION 1. State plan requirements. A State plan for medical assistance under title XIX of the Social Security Act must:

(a) Provide that payments for physician, dentist, and other individual practitioner services will not exceed the amounts provided for on January 1, 1969, under the payment structures in effect under the State plan on that date (or, if later, the date the State began operation of its title XIX program), or the reasonable charges determined under title XVIII-B of the Act as of such date, whichever is less, except as provided in section 2 below.

(b) Include descriptions of all payment structures, regardless of type, for individual practitioner services.

(1) The description of the payment structures based on usual, customary, reasonable or prevailing charges shall include (i) definitions of those terms, (ii) a listing of the maximum charges allowed for the procedures most frequently performed, (iii) the method by which and the sources from which information on charges is obtained, and (iv) the methods which will assure that payment will not exceed the customary charge of the individual practitioner.

(2) Payment structures consisting of fixed fee schedules or schedules of maximum allowances shall be incorporated in the State plan as published or administered by the State.

(3) Payment structures based on Relative Value Studies shall be incorporated in the State plan by reference to the published study and identification of the applicable conversion factor(s).

(4) Where applicable, all descriptions shall include a listing of the different maximum charges allowed where there are variations due to geographic areas, medical specialties, and situations not falling within the usual allowances such as payments (if any) to institution-based practitioners and payments for nursing home visits.

(c) Provide that any change in a payment structure for individual practitioner services will not become operative until such change has been incorporated in the State plan by an amendment submitted to and approved by the Secretary.

(d) Provide that the following information will be submitted with an amendment referred to in paragraph (c) of this section:

(1) An estimate of the percentile of the range of customary charges to which the proposed revised payment structure will equate and a description of the method used in arriving at the estimate.

(2) An estimate of the composite average percentage increase of the proposed revised fee structure over its predecessor which shall be accompanied by a listing of the maximum charges allowed for the procedures most frequently performed.

SEC. 2. Provisions relating to approval of proposed revised payment structures. The Secretary will be guided by the following considerations in the approval or disapproval of proposed revised payment structures for individual practitioner services.

(a) A proposed revised payment structure that would be applicable for a period within the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1969, may be approved if (1) it equates to no more than the 75th percentile of the ranges of customary charges existing in the State on January 1, 1969; (2) the State describes the methods which will assure that payment will not exceed the customary charge of the individual practitioner, and (3) differentials have been established as described in section 1(b)(4).

(b) A proposed revised payment structure that would be applicable for a period beginning on or after July 1, 1970, may be approved if (1) it equates to no more than the 75th percentile of the ranges of customary charges existing in the State on January 1, 1969, plus a composite average percentage increase which does not exceed the percentage increase in (i) the all-services component of the Consumer Price Index (adjusted to exclude the medical component) or (ii) an alternate index designated by the Secretary; (2) there is satisfactory evidence that the State and the profession concerned have collaborated in the establishment of an effective utilization and quality control system, including provision for the disqualification of practitioners who are found to have defrauded, over-utilized, or otherwise abused the program; (3) provision is made for prior authorization of selected services; and (4) differentials have been established as described in section 1(b)(4).

(c) In no event will approval be granted for any proposed revised payment structure which will result in payments exceeding the reasonable charges determined under title XVIII-B of the Social Security Act.

SEC. 3. States beginning operation of title XIX program after July 1, 1969. Payment structures for States which begin operation of a title XIX program after July 1, 1969, must comply with the provisions of section 2 (as if the initial payment structures were submitted as proposed revised payment structures).

SEC. 4. Federal financial participation. Federal financial participation is available for payments for physician, dentist, and other individual practitioner services within the limits described in sections 1-3, in accordance with the provisions of the State plan.

The final regulations will be codified in Part 250, Chapter II, Title 45 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

Dated: June 27, 1969.

MARY E. SWITZER,
Administrator, Social and Rehabilitation Service.

Approved: June 27, 1969.

[7 CFR Part 1050]

MILK IN CENTRAL ILLINOIS MARKETING AREA

Notice of Proposed Suspension of Certain Provision of Order

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), the suspension of a certain provision of the order regulating the handling of milk in the Central Illinois marketing area is being considered for the month of July 1969.

The provision proposed to be suspended is in § 1050.14(b)(2) and reads as follows, "during the months of May and June and in any other month for not more than 8 days of production of producer milk by such producer". It relates to diversion of producer milk to nonpool plants.

The suspension action is requested by the Pure Milk Association to accommodate the handling of reserve milk of the market. The association claims that supplies of reserve milk in the month of July will exceed the quantity that can be handled under the 8-day diversion limitation. The association states that it is faced with loss of producer status for some dairy farmers, or, in the alternative, undue expense of receiving the milk first at the pool plant for reshipment to manufacturing plants.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments in connection with the proposed suspension should file the same with the Hearing Clerk, Room 112, Administration Building, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, not later than 7 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. All documents filed should be in quadruplicate.

All written submissions made pursuant to this notice will be made available for public inspection at the office of the Hearing Clerk during regular business hours (7 CFR 1.27(b)).

CANNED TOMATOES

Identity Standard; Optional Forms of Tomatoes, Increased Calcium Salts, and Use of Cyclamic Acid

Notice is given that a petition has been filed by the Del Monte Corp., 215 Fremont Street, San Francisco, Calif. 94105, proposing that the standard of identity for canned tomatoes (21 CFR 53.40) be amended to provide for (in addition to the presently permitted tomato ingredients and optional ingredients);

1. Optional cut forms of the tomato ingredient; namely, diced, sliced, or wedges with required label declaration of the form used.

2. Optional increased use of calcium salts when the tomato ingredient is diced, sliced, or wedge-shaped, to a maximum of 0.05 percent of the food.

3. Optional use of cyclamic acid when the tomato ingredient is diced, sliced, or wedge-shaped, to a maximum of 0.026 percent of the food: Provided, That when cyclamic acid is used nutritive sweeteners may not be used and that label declaration is required if cyclamic acid is used.

4. Optional modification of the name of the food by the word "whole" when not less than 80 percent of the drained weight consists of whole tomatoes.

Grounds given in the petition in support of the proposal are that:

1. The industry is now producing cut forms of canned tomatoes and these should conform to a standard of identity.

2. The Draft Provisional Standard for Canned Tomatoes proposed by the Codex Alimentarius Commission provides for various forms of the tomato ingredient.

3. New varieties of tomatoes have been developed which permit the canning of cut forms that can be used by the consumer in salads, as garnishments, etc., where a distinct form is desirable. In the past such forms were available only as a result of the consumer cutting fresh tomatoes which are available only in season or at high cost out of season.

4. No change is proposed in the standard of quality (21 CFR 53.41). The drained weight of cut forms (as well as uncut) would be not less than 50 percent of the weight of water required to fill the container.

5. To assure that cut forms maintain their shapes, a level of calcium higher than permitted by the present standard is necessary.

6. Cyclamic acid simultaneously provides acidification, sweetness, and flavor enhancement. When cyclamic acid is used, a nutritive sweetener need not be used and, as proposed, is not to be used. Taste panels have concluded that the flavor of canned tomatoes prepared with cyclamic acid but without nutritive sweeteners is acceptable.

7. There would be no representation in the labeling for special dietary use due to the addition of cyclamic acid.

8. Test marketing by the petitioner under a temporary permit has revealed a definite consumer acceptance of tomato wedges prepared with cyclamic acid.

9. The Codex draft standard provided that the name of the food may include the term "whole" if not less than 80 percent of the drained tomatoes are whole or almost whole.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (secs. 401, 701, 52 Stat. 1046, 1055, as amended 70 Stat. 919, 72 Stat. 948; 21 U.S.C. 341, 371) and in accordance with the authority delegated to the Commissioner of Food and Drugs (21 CFR 2.120), all interested persons are invited to submit their views in writing (preferably in quintuplicate) regarding this proposal within 60 days following the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Such views and comments should be addressed to the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Room 5440, 330 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20201, and may be accompanied by a memorandum or brief in support thereof.

Dated: June 23, 1969.

J. K. KIRK,
Associate Commissioner for Compliance.

Since designation of controlled airspace at Bloomington, Ind., the instrument approach procedures for Monroe County Airport have been altered. In addition, the criteria for the designation of control zones and transition areas have changed. Accordingly, it is necessary to alter the Bloomington, Ind., control zone and transition area to adequately protect aircraft executing the altered approach procedures and to comply with the new control zone and transition area criteria.

In consideration of the foregoing, the Federal Aviation Administration proposes to amend Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations as hereinafter set forth:

(1) In § 71.171 (34 F.R. 4557), the following control zone is amended to read:

BLOOMINGTON, IND.

This control zone is effective during the specific dates and times established in advance by a Notice to Airmen. The effective date and time will thereafter be continuously published in the Airman's Information Manual.

(2) In § 71.181 (34 F.R. 4637), the following transition area is amended to read:

BLOOMINGTON, IND.

That airspace extending upward from 700 feet above the surface within a 7-mile radius of Monroe County Airport (latitude 39°08'25" N., longitude 86°37'00" W.); within 5 miles each side of the Bloomington VORTAC 062° radial, extending from the 7-mile radius area to 14 miles northeast of the VORTAC; within 5 miles each side of the Bloomington VORTAC 181° radial, extending from the 7-mile radius area to 12 miles south of the VORTAC; within 5 miles each side of the Bloomington VORTAC 341° radial, extending from the 7-mile radius area to 12 miles north of the VORTAC; and within 3 miles each side of the Bloomington VOR TAC 236° radial, extending from the 7-mile radius area to 10½ miles southwest of the VORTAC.

These amendments are proposed under the authority of section 307(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1348), and of section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

In addition, the existing special instrument approach procedures at this airport are being canceled. Also, the criteria for the designation of control zones and transition areas have been changed. Accordingly, it is necessary to alter the Glasgow, Mont., control zone and transition area to provide controlled airspace for the protection of aircraft executing the new approach procedures, to delete that airspace now protecting the procedures which are being canceled and to comply with the new controlled airspace criteria. The new procedures will become effective and the existing airline special instrument approach procedures canceled concurrently with the alteration of the control zone and transition area.

(2) In § 71.181 (34 F.R. 4637), the following transition area is amended to read:

GLASGOW, MONT.

That airspace extending upward from 700 feet above the surface within a 9-mile radius of Glasgow International Airport (latitude 48°12'50" N., longitude 106°37'10" W.); and within 1½ miles each side of the Glasgow VOR 195° radial, extending from the 9-mile radius area to the VOR; and that airspace extending upward from 1,200 feet above the surface within 4½ miles east and 9½ miles west of the Glasgow VOR 195° and 015° radials, extending from 6 miles south to 18½ miles north of the VOR; within 4½ miles south and 9½ miles north of the 112° bearing from Glasgow International Airport, extending from the airport to 18½ miles east of the airport; within 4½ miles east and 9½ miles west of the 342° bearing from Glasgow International Airport, extending from the airport to 18½ miles north of the airport; and within 5 miles each side of the 162° bearing from Glasgow International Airport, extending from the airport to 12 miles south of the airport.

These amendments are proposed under the authority of section 307(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1348), and of section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

That airspace extending upward from 700 feet above the surface within an 11.5-mile radius of Gadsden Municipal Airport.

The application of current airspace criteria appropriate to Gadsden Municipal Airport requires an increase in the transition area basic radius circle from 8 to 11.5 miles. Additionally, it permits the revocation of the extension predicated on the Gadsden 233° radial.

Interested persons may participate in the proposed rule making by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Director, Western Region, Attention: Chief, Air Traffic Division, Federal Aviation Administration, 5651 West Manchester Avenue, Post Office Box 92007, Worldway Postal Center, Los Angeles, Calif. 90009. All communications received within 30 days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Administration officials may be made by contacting the Regional Air Traffic Division Chief. Any data, views, or arguments presented during such conferences must also be submitted in writing in accordance with this notice in order to become part of the record for consideration. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

A public docket will be available for examination by interested persons in the office of the Regional Counsel, Federal Aviation Administration, 5651 West Manchester Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif. 90045.

A new VOR/DME approach and departure procedure has been developed for Aurora Airport utilizing the Newberg, Oreg., VORTAC. The transition area is required to provide controlled airspace protection for aircraft executing these instrument procedures.

In consideration of the foregoing the FAA proposes the following airspace action.

In § 71.181 (34 F.R. 4637) the following transition area is added:

AURORA, OREG.

That airspace extending upward from 700 feet above the surface within a 5-mile radius of the Aurora State Airport (latitude 45°15'00" N., longitude 122°46'10" W.) and within 2.5 miles each side of the 125° radial of the Newberg VORTAC, extending from the 5-mile radius area to the VORTAC; that airspace extending upward from 1,200 feet above the surface within 9.5 miles southwest and 4.5 miles northeast of the 305° radial of the Newberg VORTAC, extending from the VORTAC to 18.5 miles northwest of the VORTAC.

This amendment is proposed under the authority of section 307(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended (72 Stat. 749; 49 U.S.C. 1348), and of section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

Issued in Los Angeles, Calif., on June 23, 1969.

LYNN L. HINK,
Acting Director, Western Region.

RESTRICTED AREA

Proposed Alteration

The Federal Aviation Administration is considering an amendment to Part 73 of the Federal Aviation Regulations which would raise the ceiling of the Lake Erie, Ohio, Restricted Area R-5505 from 2,600 feet MSL to 6,000 feet MSL.

Interested persons may participate in the proposed rule making by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the airspace docket number and be submitted in triplicate to the Director, Eastern Region, Attention: Chief, Air Traffic Division, Federal Aviation Administration, Federal Building, John F. Kennedy International Airport, Jamaica, N.Y. 11430. All communications received within 30 days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

An official docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of the General Counsel, Attention: Rules Docket, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20590. An informal docket also will be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Division Chief.

The using agency of R-5505 is the Commanding Officer, U.S. Naval Air Station, Grosse Ile, Mich.

The 4413th Combat Crew Training Squadron, Tactical Air Command (TAC), Lockbourne AFB, Ohio, shares the use of the area. Their training requirements involve aircraft using sidefiring Gatling guns simulating operating conditions in Southeast Asia. However, the Department of the Air Force has stated that to properly perform this mission the aircraft must be able to operate freely up to 6,000 feet MSL. The Air Force further stated that this change is considered a temporary requirement and that the airspace would revert to its present profile when the requirement no longer exists. The Department of the Navy concurs in this proposal.

If this action is taken the ceiling of the Lake Erie, Ohio, Restricted Area R-5505 would be raised from 2,600 feet MSL to 6,000 feet MSL.

This amendment is proposed under the authority of section 307(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1348) and section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 24, 1969.

T. MCCORMACK,
Acting Chief, Airspace and Air Traffic Rules Division.

[Docket No. 18577; FCC 69-689]

RADIOTELEGRAPH TRANSMITTERS ABOARD SHIP AND AT COAST STATIONS

Uniform Program and Schedule of Dates for Type Acceptance

In the matter of amendment of Parts 81, 83, and 85 to provide a uniform program and schedule of dates for type acceptance of radiotelegraph transmitters aboard ship, in the band 535–27,500 kc/s, and at coast stations, in the bands below 27.5 Mc/s; Docket No. 18577.

1. Notice of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter is hereby given.

2. The World Administrative Radio Conference (WARC) on marine matters, Geneva, 1967, convened by the International Telecommunication Union, reduced channel spacing in the radiotelegraph bands, adopted technical standards for narrow-band direct-printing telegraph and data transmission systems, and tightened frequency tolerances for several of the Maritime Mobile Services.

3. In Docket No. 18218, the Commission amended its rules to rearrange radiotelegraph channels based on the WARC channel spacing. As an integral part of the WARC and Commission channel rearrangement, to assure that ship station emissions remained within the new channels, the Commission also adopted a tighter frequency tolerance. Further, with the reduction in channel spacing, the need for compliance with the Commission's spurious emission limitations increased, i.e., there is an increase in the number of channels adversely affected by noncompliance with the spurious emission requirements.

4. In the proceedings in Docket No. 10887 (1956–1957), applicable to the maritime services (Parts 81, 83, and 85) on frequencies below 30 Mc/s, the Commission amended its rules to include a program for type acceptance of radiotelephone transmitters, and other provisions relating to bandwidth and spurius emissions. A program for type acceptance of radiotelegraph ship station transmitters was not included in that proceeding. In regard to these transmitters, the rules adopted in Docket No. 10887 require that all radiotelegraph ship station transmitters brought into use after January 1, 1959, comply with the new tolerance levels for attenuation of spurious emissions. Radiotelegraph ship station transmitters installed prior to January 1, 1959, were exempt from compliance with the new spurious emission limitations.

5. In the main, these exempt radiotelegraph transmitters, installed during the 1940's, have enjoyed some 20 years of service; 12 years of which have elapsed since adoption, in 1956, of the Commission's spurious emission limitations. In regard to U.S. treaty obligations under the ITU International Radio Regulations, Geneva, 1959, these radiotelegraph transmitters do not conform [1] to (a) the tolerance level of spurious emissions applicable to transmitters installed prior to January 1, 1964, or (b), to the tolerance level applicable to all transmitters after January 1, 1970. Thus, as concerns U.S. registry ship stations employing these radiotelegraph transmitters, they are operated in derogation of that treaty.

6. Similar to the situation above-described for radiotelegraph ship station transmitters, the rules do not currently require that radiotelegraph transmitters used at coast stations be type accepted. Further, in regard to attenuation of spurious emissions, the current rules are applicable only to transmitters which are type accepted. Since radiotelegraph coast station transmitters are not type accepted, they are not required to conform to the spurious emission limitations set forth in Part 81.[2]

7. In order to carry out its responsibilities, it is necessary for the Commission to ascertain that the equipment involved is capable of meeting the technical operating standards set forth in applicable statutes, treaties and the Commission's rules and regulations. Accordingly, the Commission proposes in the instant proceeding to extend the type acceptance requirement to radiotelegraph transmitters used aboard ship, in the band 535–27,500 kc/s, and at coast stations, in the bands below 27.5 Mc/s.

8. Ship station radiotelegraph transmitters would be required to be type accepted if first installed on or after January 1, 1971. Ship radiotelegraph transmitters installed before January 1, 1971, would be required to be type accepted effective January 1, 1973.

9. Coast station radiotelegraph transmitters would be required to be type accepted if first installed after January 1, 1971. Coast radiotelegraph transmitters installed prior to January 1, 1971, would be required to be type accepted by January 1, 1973.

10. The proposed amendments to the rules as set forth below are issued pursuant to the authority contained in sections 4(i) and 303 (e), (f), and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

11. Pursuant to applicable procedures set forth in § 1.415 of the Commission's rules, interested persons may file comments on or before August 4, 1969, and reply comments on or before August 14, 1969. All relevant and timely comments and reply comments will be considered by the Commission before final action is taken in this proceeding. In reaching its decision in this proceeding, the Commission may take into account other relevant information before it, in addition to the specific comments invited by this notice.

12. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.419 of the Commission's rules, an original and 14 copies of all statements, briefs or comments filed shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: June 25, 1969.

Released: June 26, 1969.

[Docket No. 18576; FCC 69-688]

COMPULSORILY FITTED MF RADIOTELEGRAPH SHIPS

Program and Schedule of Dates for Increasing Required Output Power of Transmitters Where Vertical Antenna(s) Are Employed

In the matter of amendments of Parts 83 and, consequentially, 85 to provide a program and schedule of dates for increasing the required output power of transmitters where vertical antenna(s) are employed aboard compulsorily fitted MF radiotelegraph ships; Docket No. 18576.

1. Notice of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter is hereby given.

2. A substantial proportion of the newer radiotelegraph installations aboard compulsorily fitted ships include a vertical antenna, which is used on medium frequencies (MF) in the band 405–525 kc/s, including the world-wide radiotelegraph distress and calling frequency 500 kc/s. The efficiency of this vertical antenna is substantially lower than the older wire type antenna. The older type antenna was, generally, high above deck and extended roughly two-thirds the length of the vessel. This is in contrast to the newer vertical antenna, which extends upwards from a deck to a height of approximately 40 feet.

3. The current rules specify, for mandatorily fitted radiotelegraph ships, that the output power of the MF transmitter on 500 kc/s, operating into an average ship station antenna, shall be not less than: For the main transmitter, 200 watts; and, for the reserve transmitter, 25 watts. These values of transmitter output power were determined in 1939 following lengthy considerations and have been in effect since that date. Accordingly, the Commission proposes, where the older antenna is used (i.e., an average ship station antenna: Part 83, §§ 83.552(b) and 83.553(b)), to retain the present transmitter output power values without change.

4. In the case of the newer vertical antenna, with its lower radiating efficiency, the above transmitter output powers will not generally produce the required field intensities (main: 30 mV/m at 1 mile; reserve: 10 mV/m at 1 mile) necessary to maintain parity with the 1939 values. On the basis of the measurement data currently available to the Commission, an increase in output power of approximately 6 decibels will be required to produce field intensities equal to the 1939 values, where a vertical antenna is used.

5. Under adverse weather conditions, the vertical antenna is also subject to power losses, as indicated by a reduction in antenna current. Presumably this effect is caused by losses at the vertical antenna base insulator caused by rain and salt water spray. Specific technical explanation of this loss is not available; however, pending availability of an explanation and possible reduction in the loss, it is proposed that the transmitter output power be increased by an additional 1 decibel, in partial compensation for this loss.

6. In this notice the Commission is proposing that the output power of radiotelegraph transmitters, operating in the frequency band 405–525 kc/s, aboard mandatorily fitted ships employing vertical antenna(s) be increased by 7 decibels, as follows:

Transmitter	Power (watts) into FCC-approved vertical antenna (A1 emission)
Main	[1] 1,000
Reserve	[1] 125

[1] Applicable to ship stations authorized by station license first issued after Jan. 1, 1971, and to all ship stations employing vertical antennas after Jan. 1, 1976.

Further, the Commission proposes, as in the past, to continue the practice of requiring demonstration of the capability of vertical antennas intended for use aboard vessels compulsorily fitted for radiotelegraphy.

7. In accordance with the provisions of Part 85, § 85.155, the rule amendments set forth below for Part 83 are also applicable to stations of the maritime services in Alaska.

8. The proposed amendments to the rules as set forth below are issued pursuant to the authority contained in sections 4(i) and 303 (e), (f) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

9. Pursuant to applicable procedures set forth in § 1.415 of the Commission's rules, interested persons may file comments on or before August 4, 1969, and reply comments on or before August 14, 1969. All relevant and timely comments and reply comments will be considered by the Commission before final action is taken in this proceeding. In reaching its decision in this proceeding, the Commission may take into account other relevant information before it, in addition to the specific comments invited by this notice.

10. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.419 of the Commission's rules, an original and 14 copies of all statements, briefs or comments filed shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: June 25, 1969.

Released: June 26, 1969.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[18 CFR Part 141]

[Docket No. R-361; Order 331]

REPORT OF BULK POWER SUPPLY INTERRUPTIONS

Notice of Proposed Rule Making

JUNE 23, 1969.

1. Notice is given pursuant to section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 553) that the Commission proposed to amend its Order No. 331 which requires all public utilities, licensees and other entities engaged in the generation or transmission of electric energy, whether or not otherwise subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, to report on specified conditions concerning bulk power supply. The order applies equally to privately, publicly, and cooperatively owned systems.

2. The proposed amendments to Order No. 331 are the result of more than 2 years experience in receiving information under the original order, and will enable the Commission to be better informed on matters of concern in carrying out its responsibilities related to the reliability of the Nation's bulk power supply. The amendments will extend the reporting requirement to cover information on selected equipment failures and operating conditions which do not necessarily result in interruption of customer loads. The proposed amendments add new subparagraphs (2), (3), and (4) to § 148.58 (c) of the Commission's regulations under the Federal Power Act.

3. The Commission has the statutory responsibility, among other things, for encouraging actions to assure an abundant supply of electric energy throughout the country and is authorized by subsection 202(c) of the Federal Power Act to take appropriate action as in its judgment will best meet an emergency situation arising out of any failure of an adequate power supply. Under section 311 of the Act the Commission is responsible for reporting the problems and developments of the electric industry to Congress and is directed to collect information regarding the generation, transmission, distribution and sale of electric energy, however produced, and whether or not otherwise subject to its jurisdiction. The information which we are here proposing to require will enable us to carry out these responsibilities.

4. These amendments to the Commission's regulations are proposed to be issued under the authority of the Federal Power Act, as amended, particularly sections 202, 205, 206, 304, 307, 309, and 311 (49 Stat. 848, 851, 852, 855, 856, 858, 859, 16 U.S.C. 824a, 824d, 824e, 825c, 825f, 825h, 825j).

5. Accordingly, it is proposed to amend Part 141, Subchapter D, Chapter I, Title 18, § 141.58 of the Code of Federal Regulations as follows:

§ 141.58 Report of load shedding and/or service interruptions in bulk electric power supply and related power supply facilities.

(a) Definitions. (1) For the purpose of this section, a bulk electric power supply interruption shall be any interruption or loss of service to customers of any electric utility, licensee, or other entity engaged in the generation or transmission of electric energy caused by or involving an outage of any generating unit or of electric facilities operating at a nominal voltage of 69 kv. or higher. In determining the aggregate of loads which are interrupted, any load which is interrupted in accordance with the provisions of contracts permitting interruption in service shall not be included. If the interruption affects only a single ultimate customer, the interruption need not be reported. For the purpose of this section, a report or a part of a report may be made jointly by two or more entities.

(2) The proposed reports concerning actions to reduce power system loads apply to any measures taken to reduce loads whether through reduction of voltage, manual switching, or operation of automatic load-shedding devices.

(b) Telephonic reports. Every electric utility, licensee, or other entity engaged in the generation or transmission of electric energy shall report to the Commission's Washington office by telephone any loss in service for 15 minutes or more of bulk power supply to aggregate loads in excess of 200,000 kw. Calls should be placed as soon as practicable without unduly interfering with service restoration and, in any event, within one hour after the beginning of the interruption to Area code 202, number 962-1307. This number is in service at all times. The information supplied in the initial telephonic report should include at least the approximate territory affected by the interruption, the time of occurrence, an estimate of the number of customers and amount of load involved, whether any known critical services were interrupted, and an appraisal of the likely duration of the interruption. To the extent known or suspected, the report desirably will include a description of the initial incident resulting in the interruption. The Commission or the Chief of its Bureau of Power may require further reports during the period of interruption and restoration of service, such reports to be made by telephone or telegraph or both, as required.

(c) Telegraphic reports. Every electric utility, licensee, and other entity engaged in the generation or transmission of electric energy shall report any event as described below to the Commission's Washington office by telegram addressed to the Chief, Bureau of Power, Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D.C. within 2 hours after the beginning of the event to be reported. Events requiring a report are as follows:

(1) Any loss in service for 15 minutes or more of bulk power supply to aggregate loads exceeding the lesser of 25,000 kw. or half of the current annual system peak load, and not required to be reported under paragraph (b) of this section. The information supplied shall include the approximate territory affected by the interruption, a description of the initial incident resulting in the interruption, cause of the interruption and an appraisal of the likely duration of load involved, and whether any known critical services were interrupted. The report should include the time of occurrence and the times of restoration.

(2) Any unscheduled outage, not reported under paragraph (b) of this section or subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, of a generating unit of 200,000 kw. and larger or 15 percent of the total system generating capacity if less than 200,000 kw., due to trouble which cannot be corrected within 24 hours. The information supplied shall include the location, rating, and type of unit; the cause and expected duration of the outage; the relative effect on reserve capacity margin and arrangements for substitute capacity, if any.

(3) Any situation requiring a previously unscheduled import of supplemental power because of a system condition which cannot be adjusted to permit a return to the normal interchange schedule within 24 hours. The information supplied shall include the cause and expected duration of the abnormal condition and the effect on generating capacity reserve margin. Where the aforementioned interchange transaction is handled on a power pool basis, the reporting requirement should be considered on a comparable basis.

(4) Any measures taken to reduce load because of a shortage of generating capacity, or insufficient reserves, whether through programs for utility or customer curtailment, reduction of voltage, manual switching, or the action of automatic load-shedding devices. The information supplied should include an explanation of the conditions leading to the reduction in load, the magnitude of the load reduction involved, how accomplished, and the expected duration.

Telephonic reports in lieu of telegraphic reports will be accepted (Area code 202, number 962–1307) if preferred by the respondent.

(d) Report of details. (1) If so directed by the Commission or the Chief, Bureau of Power, an entity experiencing a condition, as described in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, shall submit a full report of the circumstances surrounding such occurrence and the conclusions the entity has drawn therefrom. The report shall be filed at such time subsequent to the submittal of the initial report by telephone or telegraph as may be directed by the Commission or the Chief, Bureau of Power.

(2) The report shall be prepared in such detail as may be appropriate to the severity and complexity of the incident experienced and should include an account understandable to the informed layman in addition to the following technical and other information:

(i) The cause or causes of the incident clearly described, including the manner in which it was initiated.

(ii) A description of any operating conditions of an unusual nature preceding the initiation of the incident.

(iii) If the incident was an interruption and geographically widespread, an enumeration of the sequence of events contributing to its spread.

(iv) An account of the measures taken which prevented further spreading in the loss of service, e.g., manual or automatic load shedding, unit isolation, or system sectionalization. These actions and all chronicled events should be keyed to a record of the coincident power frequencies which occurred.

(v) A description of the measures taken to restore service with particular evaluation of the availability of start-up power and the ease of difficulty of restoration.

CLINICAL LABORATORIES IMPROVEMENT ACT OF 1967 AND COLLEGE OF AMERICAN PATHOLOGISTS

Stringency of Standards

Notice is hereby given that the standards applied by the Commission on Inspection and Accreditation of the College of American Pathologists in determining whether or not to accredit a laboratory have been found to be equal to or more stringent than the provisions of section 353 of the Public Health Service Act, 42 U.S.C. 263a, and the rules and regulations issued thereunder. It has been found also that there is adequate provision for assuring that such standards continue to be met by laboratories accredited by the Commission.

These findings are based upon a review of the standards described in the documents entitled "Standards for Accreditation of Medical Laboratories" (1968), "Inspection and Accreditation Program" (undated), "Confidential Report to Regional Commissioner by Inspector" (undated), "Recommended Standard Operating Procedures for Regional Commissioners" (September 1968), and "Surveys" (1969), submitted by the College of American Pathologists by letters dated December 18, 1968, and April 16, 1969.

The requirements of 42 CFR Part 74 for the issuance and renewal of licenses do not apply to laboratories which are accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of the College of American Pathologists and which hold an unrevoked and unsuspended letter of exemption issued pursuant to 42 CFR 74.46. Applications for such letter of exemption may be obtained from the Chief, Licensure and Performance Evaluation Section, Laboratory Division, National Communicable Disease Center, Atlanta, Ga. 30333, and should be filed promptly at that office. Provisions relating to termination of accreditation and applicability of the standards prescribed in 42 CFR Part 74 to accredited laboratories are contained in Subpart F; provisions relating to revocation, suspension, or limitation of licenses and letters of exemption are contained in Subpart H; and Subpart I has been reserved for hearings on proposed actions for revocation, suspension, or limitation of licenses and letters of exemption.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[Docket No. 21065; Order 69-6-136]

CATALINA AIR LINES, INC.

Order To Show Cause Regarding Establishment of Service Mail Rate

Issued under delegated authority on June 25, 1969.

The Postmaster General filed a notice of intent June 6, 1969, pursuant to 14 CFR Part 298, petitioning the Board to establish for the above captioned air taxi operator, a final service mail rate of 67 cents per great circle aircraft mile for the transportation of mail by aircraft between Santa Maria and Los Angeles, Calif.

No protest or objection was filed against the proposed services during the time for filing such objections. The Postmaster General states that the Department and the carrier agree that the above rate is a fair and reasonable rate of compensation for the proposed services. The Postmaster General believes these services will meet postal needs in the market. He states the air taxi plans to initiate mail service with twin-engine Beechcraft, Model D-18 aircraft equipped for all-weather operation.

It is in the public interest to fix, determine, and establish the fair and reasonable rate of compensation to be paid by the Postmaster General for the proposed transportation of mail by aircraft, the facilities used and useful therefor, and the services connected therewith, between the aforesaid points. Upon consideration of the notice of intent and other matters officially noticed, it is proposed to issue an order[1] to include the following findings and conclusions:

The fair and reasonable final service mail rate to be paid to Catalina Air Lines, Inc., in its entirety by the Postmaster General pursuant to section 406 of the Act for the transportation of mail by aircraft, the facilities used and useful therefor, and the services connected therewith, shall be 67 cents per great circle aircraft mile between Santa Maria and Los Angeles, Calif.

[1] As this order to show cause is not a final action but merely affords interested persons an opportunity to be heard on the matters herein proposed, it is not regarded as subject to the review provisions of Part 385 (14 CFR Part 385). These provisions for Board review will be applicable to final action taken by the staff under authority delegated in § 385.14(g).

Accordingly, pursuant to the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, and particularly sections 204(a) and 406 thereof, and regulations promulgated in 14 CFR Part 302, 14 CFR Part 298, and 14 CFR 385.14 (f):

It is ordered, That:

1. Catalina Air Lines, Inc., the Postmaster General, Air West, Inc., and all other interested persons are directed to show cause why the Board should not adopt the foregoing proposed findings and conclusions and fix, determine, and publish the final rate specified above for the transportation of mail by aircraft, the facilities used and useful therefor, and the services connected therewith as specified above as the fair and reasonable rate of compensation to be paid to Catalina Air Lines, Inc.;

2. Further procedures herein shall be in accordance with 14 CFR Part 302, and notice of any objection to the rate or to the other findings and conclusions proposed herein, shall be filed within 10 days, and if notice is filed, written answer and supporting documents shall be filed within 30 days after service of this order;

3. If notice of objection is not filed within 10 days after service of this order, or if notice is filed and answer is not filed within 30 days after service of this order, all persons shall be deemed to have waived the right to a hearing and all other procedural steps short of a final decision by the Board, and the Board may enter an order incorporating the findings and conclusions proposed herein and fix and determine the final rate specified herein;

4. If answer is filed presenting issues for hearing, the issues involved in determining the fair and reasonable final rate shall be limited to those specifically raised by the answer, except insofar as other issues are raised in accordance with Rule 307 of the rules of practice (14 CFR 302.307); and

5. This order shall be served upon Catalina Air Lines, Inc., the Postmaster General, and Air West, Inc.

This order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

FOREWORD

South Carolina is dedicated to the purpose of protecting and improving the lot of its citizens. This dedication is realized, in part, by its full participation in the age of atoms, in due recognition of the many benefits to be derived from the peaceful uses of nuclear energy and its byproducts.

To discharge its responsibility to the citizens of this State to protect them from possible harmful effects of ionizing radiation, the 1967 General Assembly enacted the Atomic Energy and Radiation Control Act, which at one time recognizes the partnership that must exist between the fostering of nuclear enterprise and the protection against potential radiation hazards.

This Act authorizes the Governor to enter into an agreement with the Federal Government whereby certain regulatory functions now exercised by the Federal Government in the licensing and control of byproduct material, source material and special nuclear material in quantities not sufficient to create a critical mass will be transferred to the State.

The Act also designates the South Carolina State Board of Health as the agency which shall be responsible for the control of radiation sources. A complete regulatory program consistent with that conducted by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission is authorized.

The following pages will present a description of past, present, and future activities of the State Board of Health in the field of Radiological Health, including the organization, procedures, and resources which will be brought to bear on the new responsibility assumed as a result of the aforementioned agreement.

History

As early as 1947 the South Carolina State Board of Health became aware of and concerned about the occupational exposure of workers to static eliminators. Over fifty of these devices were located, surveyed, and recommendations for shielding and access control were made. No leak-testing was performed as equipment was not available at the time.

Also at this time a program designed to reduce occupational exposure of shoe salesmen to X-rays from fluoroscopic shoe-fitting machines was instituted. This was later followed by more complete regulations covering all aspects of the use of these devices, and finally they were outlawed altogether. Ninety-six shoe-fitting machines in all were eliminated.

A voluntary X-ray program was begun in 1953, whereby services of the South Carolina State Board of Health were made available for the purpose of inspecting X-ray installations and recommending corrective actions where needed. This program received very good response, and during the period 1953–1966, 965 machines were inspected and 38 percent were found to be deficient in some respect. Eighty percent of these deficiencies were corrected as a result of recommendations and followup inspections. This included 662 dental SurPak examinations, resulting in the installation of 63 aluminum filters and 135 collimators. More recently, during the period in which more comprehensive radiation control regulations were being developed, a program of voluntary registration of X-ray machines was begun. By December 31, 1968, 1,269 X-ray machines were registered.

A radium management program was begun in 1965 when it was discovered that the radium storage facility in a large hospital was contaminated by a leaking source, which the hospital no longer possessed. The services of the South Carolina State Board of Health were offered in this area of concern, and this voluntary service resulted in the registration of 331 radium sources in 23 facilities totaling 2,352 milligrams. Of these sources, 254 have been leak-tested and 29 leaking sources have been detected. All owners of leaking sources of radium voluntarily disposed of the leaking radium sources or had them reencapsulated. The Agency provides assistance to radium users in the proper disposal of unwanted or leaking sources. Inspections were based on recommendations in NBS Handbook 73. A written report with recommendations was left with the users after each inspection. The degree of compliance with recommendations was 90 percent. Followup visits were made when indicated.

Another activity in the area of radioactive materials has been the accompanying of AEC Inspectors on the occasion of inspection visits to South Carolina. Within the last 8 years, South Carolina personnel have accompanied Atomic Energy Commission Inspectors on 75 percent of the inspections within the State. This has served the valuable purpose of familiarizing the staff with the inspection of licenses of radioactive materials, as well as the investigation of incidents involving licensed material.

In 1956, as a result of recommendations made by the Savannah River Advisory Board, the South Carolina Water Pollution Control Authority conservatively entered into an environmental monitoring program to determine the effect, if any, of the Savannah River Plant of the Atomic Energy Commission on the aquatic environment. Initially, this program consisted of one sampling point on the Savannah River below the plant effluent, which was subjected to gross alpha and beta analysis. Continuous paddlewheel samplers were later added at three locations, and more rigorous analytical procedures were employed, including specific isotope analysis and gamma spectroscopy when indicated by gross measurements.

The location of the Carolinas-Virginia Nuclear Power Associates' small power reactor at Parr, S.C., as well as the nuclear submarine repair facility at the Charleston Naval Shipyard prompted considerable expansion and sophistication of the environmental program to include over 150 sampling points, sampling air, water, precipitation, bottom muds and silt, vegetation, and milk. These samples were subjected to gross alpha and beta analysis, specific isotope analysis and gamma scans. Approximately 1,200 analyses per year were performed. The number of sampling points, as well as items sampled and analyzed underwent change as new nuclear installations were announced. Modern, well equipped laboratory facilities were provided for this work.

During the past year the responsibility for the environmental program was transferred to the South Carolina State Board of Health, in close cooperation with the South Carolina Pollution Control Authority.

Also during the past year regulations governing radioactive materials, X-ray machines and particle accelerators were adopted, after several meetings of the Technical Advisory Radiation Control Council, which met to consider in detail proposed regulations, and after public hearings to air the recommendations before the public. The Technical Advisory Radiation Control Council is a committee authorized by the Atomic Energy and Radiation Control Act to advise the State Board of Health on policy matters, including regulations.

Present Program

The present program of the Division of Radiological Health consists of initiating the activities authorized by the Atomic Energy and Radiation Control Act, and continuing environmental monitoring, expanding the scope of this operation to take care of the burgeoning nuclear industries announced for South Carolina.

Licensing of radium is now mandatory. All X-ray machines and particle accelerators were required to be registered by March 31, 1969. The portions of the program dealing with these requirements have begun.

The radium management inspection determines compliance with regulations and terms of the license. Items checked are shielding, storage, access control, posting of signs, records, leak-testing, survey meters, personnel monitoring, and transport equipment. Again, other recommendations of a helpful nature are made.

The environmental program consists of sampling the environment in the vicinity of nuclear installations existing, under construction or announced. Preoperational surveillance activities consist of determining radioactivity levels in environmental samples as a baseline against which to compare those levels found after operations commence. Surveillance around existing facilities is conducted to determine if there is any impact on the environment as a result of release of radioactivity. If gross alpha and beta determinations show an increase, gamma and alpha spectrometry or specific isotope analysis is used to determine the source. An experimental program to determine the efficacy of using thermo-luminescent dosimetry as an environmental monitor is being conducted.

Future Plans

Future plans will include extending the regulatory program to licensing and regulating the use of those radioactive materials presently under the purview of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, dependent upon signing an agreement with the Atomic Energy Commission. Details of the regulatory procedures and policies to be followed are given in a later section.

An in-house formal training program in radiological health will be conducted for new staff personnel on a scheduled basis, and will utilize outside instructors where they are available.

Scope of Problem

There are an estimated 2,000 X-ray units in South Carolina, approximately 600 of these being dental units. The number of Atomic Energy Commission licenses for byproduct material, source material and special nuclear material in quantities not sufficient to form a critical mass currently in effect is 142. There are 331 known radium sources in use at 23 facilities totaling 2,352 milligrams. Numerous particle accelerators exist in this State.

Four large commercial nuclear power reactors are under construction, three of them being at one location. Also under construction is a nuclear fuels fabrication plant. Announcements have been made by two separate companies of their intentions to construct a nuclear fuels reprocessing plant. Other installations which indicate the need for environmental surveillance activities are the Savannah River Plant of the Atomic Energy Commission and the nuclear submarine repair base at Charleston, S.C.

Organization and Staff

Under the provisions of the Atomic Energy and Radiation Control Act, the South Carolina State Board of Health is designated as the agency to exercise regulatory functions in radiological health. The organization of the State Board of Health is shown in Appendix, Chart 1. A Technical Advisory Radiation Control Council, appointed by the Governor, is also established. The purpose of this Council is to advise the State Board of Health on matters pertaining to ionizing radiation including standards, rules and regulations to be adopted, modified, promulgated or repealed by the Agency. Present membership of the Council is given in Table 1 of the appendix.

To assist the State Board of Health and staff in judging applications for nonroutine medical use of radioactive materials a Medical Advisory Committee has been appointed, the membership of which is shown in Table 2 of the appendix.

The functional radiological health program is operated by the Division of Radiological Health which, in turn, is a division of the Bureau of Environmental Engineering. The director of this division is also the director of the Division of Air Pollution Control, and spends his time equally divided between the two divisions. In addition to State Board of Health staff members, experienced technicians are assigned to the Division of Radiological Health from the Bureau of Pollution Control to do work in environmental surveillance.

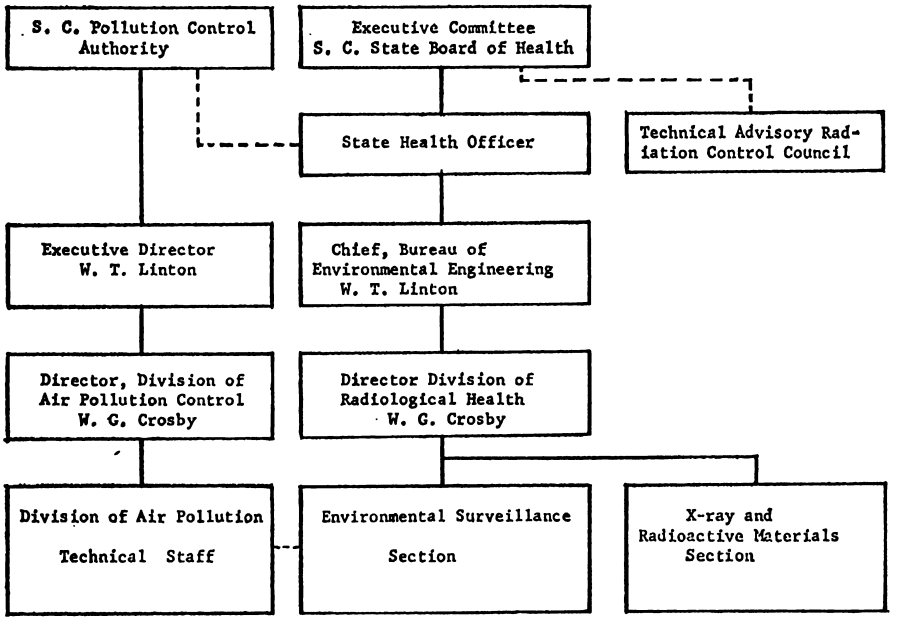
The line of authority and responsibility is shown on the accompanying diagram. The dotted line shown between the State Health Officer and the Pollution Control Authority indicates that he is, ex officio, Chairman of the Pollution Control Authority. There is also the statutory requirement that two additional members of the Authority be appointed from the Executive Committee of the State Board of Health. The dotted line between the Technical Staff of the Division of Air Pollution Control and the Environmental Surveillance Section of the Division of Radiological Health is intended to show the assignment of personnel and technical services by the Pollution Control Authority to the Division of Radiological Health.



REGULATORY PROCEDURES AND POLICY

Licensing and registration. The South Carolina State Board of Health has been designated the State Agency with the responsibility to develop an all-encompassing radiological health program in accordance with sections 1-400.11 through 1-400.16 of the 1962 Code of Laws of South Carolina and supplement thereto, the Atomic Energy and Radiation Control Act of South Carolina. The Division of Radiological Health has the responsibility for the operational phases of this program.

This program will regulate the safe use of all sources of ionizing radiation in the State including radium and accelerator produced nuclides, X-ray producing machines and particle accelerators. Certain small quantities of radionuclides as well as electronic devices which produce X-rays incidental to their operations in intensities insufficient to constitute a health hazard will be exempt. Licensing of all radionuclides including radium, and registration of X-ray machines and particle accelerators are features of this program. All regulations governing these sources are substantially in accord with the suggested State regulations as published by the Council of State Governments in cooperation with the Atomic Energy Commission and the U.S. Public Health Service. Every effort will be made to conduct the program in a fashion that is compatible with those operated by other agreement States and the Atomic Energy Commission.

The licensing program will be patterned after the one established by the Atomic Energy Commission and will use applicable criteria contained in regulations as published by the Atomic Energy Commission. The director and key staff members will evaluate each radioactive material license application, including prelicensing visits if this is indicated. When applications are received for unusual uses, additional advice will be sought. When applications for nonroutine medical uses are received the Medical Advisory Committee will be consulted. When applications for specific licenses are approved, licenses will be signed by the State Health Officer for the South Carolina State Board of Health.

Inspection. Inspection to determine radiation safety and compliance with pertinent regulations, and provisions of license or registration will be conducted as needed by division staff members. These members consist of the Director, the Radiological Health Specialist, Radiological Health Inspector and the Laboratory Technician III, who are or will be qualified by training and experience to conduct the inspections. Inspections will be either by prearrangement or unannounced during reasonable hours.

Licenses will be inspected on a priority basis determined by type of use, quantity of radioactive material, physical and chemical form, training, and experience of user, frequency of use and other factors in keeping with the experience gained by others including the Atomic Energy Commission and other agreement States. The initially planned frequencies are categorized as follows:

Classification of use	Usual inspection frequency
Industrial radiography:
Fixed installations	Once each 12 months.
Mobile operations	Once each 6 months.
Operations involving waste disposal.	Once each 6 months.
Broad licenses—industrial, medical, or academic.	Once each 6–12 months.
Other specific licenses — industrial, medical, or academic.	Once each 12–24 months.

These frequencies are subject to alteration and are presented as a depiction of the general policy at this time. Individual licenses will be judged on the particular circumstances associated with the terms of the license.

Inspections will include the observation of pertinent facilities and equipment; a review of use procedures and radiation safety practices; a review of records of radiation surveys, personnel exposure, and receipt and disposition of licensed materials; and instrument surveys to assess radiation levels incident to the operation—all as appropriate to the scope and conditions of the license and applicable regulations.

At the start and conclusion of an inspection, personal contact will be at management level whenever possible. Following the inspections, results will be discussed with the license management, appropriate tentative recommendations will be made and questions answered.

Investigations will be made of all reported or alleged incidents to determine the conditions and exposures incident thereto and to determine the steps taken for correction, cleanup, and the prevention of similar incidents in the future.

Radiological assistance in the form of monitoring, liaison with appropriate authorities, and recommendations for area security and cleanup will be available from the Agency on the occasion of incidents.

Reports will be prepared covering each inspection or investigation. The reports will be reviewed by a senior staff member and submitted to the Director of the Division of Radiological Health.

All inspectors will keep abreast of changes and developments in the field of radioactive materials by attending training courses, seminars and symposia, as well as in-house training which will be required.

Compliance and enforcement. The status of compliance with regulations, registration, or license conditions will be determined through inspections and evaluations of inspection reports.

Where there are items of noncompliance, the licensee shall be so informed at the time of inspection. When the items are minor and the licensee agrees at the time of inspection to correct them, written notice at the completion of the inspection will list the items of noncompliance, confirm corrections made at the time, and inform the person that a review of other corrective action will be made at the next inspection.

Where items of noncompliance of a more serious nature occur, the licensee will be informed by letter of the items of noncompliance and required to reply within a stated time as to the corrective action taken and the date completed, or expected to be completed. Assurance of corrective action will be determined by a followup inspection or at the time of the next regular inspection.

The terms and conditions of a license, upon request by the licensee, may be amended, consistent with the Act or regulations, to meet changing conditions in operations or to remedy minor items of noncompliance. The Agency may amend, suspend or revoke a license in the event of continuing refusal of the licensee to comply with terms and conditions of the license, the Act, or regulations or failure to take adequate action concerning items of noncompliance. Prior to such action, the Agency shall notify the licensee of its intent to amend, suspend or revoke the license and provide the opportunity for a hearing.

Whenever the Agency finds that an emergency exists requiring immediate action to protect the public health, safety, or general welfare, it may, in accordance with the Act, without notice of hearing, issue a regulation or order reciting the existence of such emergency and require that such action be taken as is necessary to meet the emergency. The Agency, in the event of an emergency, is empowered to impound or order the impounding of sources of ionizing radiation upon findings that the possessor is unable to observe or is not observing the provisions of the Act or regulations issued thereunder. After these actions the licensee still has right to a hearing.

A court order directing a person to comply, or enjoining practices in violation of the Act or regulations, may be sought by the Attorney General in the appropriate court upon request of the Agency, after notice to such persons and ample opportunity to comply has been afforded.

The Agency will use its best efforts to obtain compliance through cooperation and education. Only in instances of repeated noncompliance, willful violation, or where serious potential hazards exist, will the full legal procedures normally be employed.

Effective date of license transfer. Any person who, on the effective date of the agreement with the Atomic Energy Commission, possesses a license issued by the Federal Government shall be deemed to possess a like license issued by the Agency which shall expire either 90 days after the receipt from the Agency of a notice of expiration of such license or on the date of expiration specified in the federal license, whichever is earlier.

Compatibility and reciprocity. In promulgating rules and regulations, the Agency has, insofar as practicable, avoided requiring dual licensing and has provided for reciprocal recognition of other state and federal licenses.

Radiological emergency capability. The Division of Radiological Health has maintained the capability for handling radiological emergencies since 1959. This capability includes training of personnel, proper monitoring instruments, and liaison with other agencies such as State Highway Patrol, Atomic Energy Commission, Savannah River Plant, and U.S. Public Health Service.

As a result of our Radium Management Program, additional capability was formulated in 1965 to handle other radiological emergencies such as lost or damaged radium sources, overexposures, contamination, or transportation incidents. Additional personnel were trained, better instruments purchased and maintained, "emergency kits" put together for immediate use, and a system for telephone communications instituted. Emergency plans of other groups and agencies involving radiological incidents were reviewed by our Division.

Future plans for emergency procedures involve first of all a thorough review of our existing plan in light of the new role as an agreement state. A more formal plan will be instituted delineating the responsibility of each group or agency. Radiological Emergency Assistance Teams will be organized and trained in areas of major radiological activity. The Division of Radiological Health, which will be responsible for the program, will coordinate the new plan so that when and if an emergency does occur a systematic procedure will be followed.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[Docket No. 18558; FCC 69-665]

OTTAWAY STATIONS, INC.

Order Designating Application for Hearing on Stated Issues

In re application of Ottaway Stations, Inc., Oneonta, N.Y., Requests: 103.1 mc, No. 276; 630 w; 590 feet, Docket No. 18558, File No. BPH-6273, for construction permit.

1. The Commission has under consideration the above-captioned application for a new FM station at Oneonta, N.Y.

2. The applicant corporation is licensee of Oneonta's only AM station and is applying for one of the two FM channels assigned to the community. In addition, applicant's controlling stockholder publishes Oneonta's only daily newspaper as well as newspapers in Danbury, Conn.; New Bedford and West Yarmouth, Mass.; Port Huron, Mich.; and Middletown, Plattsburgh, and Port Jarvis, N.Y. It also controls the licensees of stations in West Yarmouth, Mass., and Stroudsburg, Pa.

3. After careful consideration of the application before us, we have concluded that the multiple ownership situation here involved raises substantial questions as to concentration of control of media of mass communications and as to whether a grant would serve the public interest. In addition, applicant's showing in response to questions in section IV-A of the application is defective in that the responses of local leaders dealt with programing preferences rather than community needs. Accordingly, a Suburban issue is also required.

4. The applicant is qualified in other respects, but in view of the foregoing, we find that the application must be designated for evidentiary hearing on the issues set forth below.

5. It is ordered, That pursuant to section 309(e) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the application is designated for hearing at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues.

1. To determine whether a grant of this application would tend to create an undue concentration of control over media of mass communications.

2. To determine the efforts made by the applicant to ascertain the community needs and interests of the area to be served and the means by which the applicant proposes to meet those needs and interests.

3. To determine in light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issues, whether a grant of the subject application would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity.

6. It is further ordered, That to avail itself of the opportunity to be heard, the applicant, pursuant to § 1.221(c) of the Commission's rules, in person or by attorney shall, within twenty (20) days of the mailing of this order, file with the Commission in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date fixed for the hearing and present evidence on the issues specified in this order.

7. It is further ordered, That the applicant herein shall, pursuant to section 311(a)(2) of the Commission's rules, give notice of the hearing, within the time and in the manner prescribed in such rule, and shall advise the Commission of the publication of such notice as required by § 1.594(g) of the rules.

Adopted: June 18, 1969.

Released: June 23, 1969.

SOUTH CAROLINA EDUCATIONAL TELEVISION COMMISSION (WITV) ET AL.

Memorandum Opinion and Order Designating Applications for Consolidated Hearing on Stated Issues

1. The Commission has before it for consideration (a) the above-captioned applications of South Carolina Educational Television Commission (WITV), licensee of Noncommercial Educational Television Broadcast Station WITV, Channel 7, Charleston, S.C.; Reeves Broadcasting Corp. (WUSN-TV), licensee of Television Broadcast Station WUSN-TV, Channel 2, Charleston, S.C.; First Charleston Corp. (WCIV), licensee of Television Broadcast Station WCIV, Channel 4, Charleston, S.C. and WCSC, Inc. (WCSC-TV), licensee of Television Broadcast Station WCSC-TV, Channel 5, Charleston, S.C.; and (b) petitions to deny, informal objections, and related pleadings filed in this proceeding which are listed in the appendix hereto.[1]

2. Television Broadcast Stations WUSN-TV, Channel 2, WCIV, Channel 4, and WCSC-TV, Channel 5, Charleston, S.C., are authorized to operate with effective radiated visual power of 100 kw. from antenna heights above average terrain of 790 feet, 940 feet and 1,000 feet respectively. Noncommercial Educational Television Broadcast Station WITV, Channel 7, Charleston is authorized to operate with effective radiated power of 28.8 kw. and an antenna height of 220 feet above average terrain. The present controversy arises from the requests of these stations to move their respective transmitter sites from four separate locations, approximately 1 to 7 miles east of Charleston, to a joint 2,000-foot tower located approximately 20 miles northeast of the center of Charleston, in the direction of Florence, S.C., approximately 10 miles northeast of Wando, S.C., and to make other changes in the facilities of the stations. Operating as proposed, Stations WUSN–TV, WCIV, and WCSC–TV would increase their antenna heights above average terrain to 1,860 feet, 1,950 feet, and 1,950 feet respectively with no change in power and Station WITV would increase its effective radiated visual power to 316 kw. and its antenna height above average terrain to 1,720 feet. From the proposed site, the four stations would, for the first time, provide predicted Grade B service to Florence, S.C., and to communities in the vicinity of Columbia, S.C. Petitions to deny have been filed by Rovan of Florence, Inc. (WPDT), permittee of Television Broadcast Station WPDT, Channel 15, Florence, S.C., and by Cape Fear Telecasting, Inc., now Clay Broadcasting Corp. (WWAY), licensee of Television Broadcast Station WWAY, Channel 3, Wilmington, N.C., and informal objections have been filed by Palmetto Radio Corp. (WNOK–TV), licensee of Television Broadcast Station WNOK–TV, Channel 19, Columbia, S.C., and by Columbia Television Broadcasters, Inc. (WOLO–TV), licensee of Television Broadcast Station WOLO–TV, Channel 25, Columbia, S.C.

3. WPDT and WWAY claim standing in this proceeding as "parties in interest" within the meaning of section 309(d) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, on the basis that grant of the applications would result in the diversion of advertising revenues from Stations WPDT and WWAY and would cause economic injury to them. We find that petitioners have standing.[2] Federal Communications Commission v. Sanders Brothers Radio Station, 309 U.S. 470, 60 S. Ct. 693, 9 RR 2008. WOLO–TV and WNOK–TV do not claim standing as "parties in interest" and their oppositions to grant of the applications will be treated as informal objections, pursuant to § 1.587 of the Commission's rules.

4. The applicants allege that grant of the applications will permit a substantially more efficient and effective use of the Charleston channel assignments. It will enable these stations to improve their existing service in their present coverage areas and provide high quality television signals, particularly good color television and full three network service for the first time to areas and populations in communities and rural areas outlying from Charleston. It is contended that a grant of the WITV application will afford an opportunity to increase approximately threefold the coverage of the Charleston eduactional television station. In addition, the applicants assert that the substantial increase in coverage by the Charleston stations will enhance the importance of Charleston as a television market and enable the Charleston television stations to compete more effectively with television stations located in adjacent cities. The applicants also state that the use of a joint tower will promote aeronautical safety and further the Commission's policy of fostering the development of antenna farms. Finally, it is alleged that the proposed joint tower will be made available to present and future Charleston FM stations and to public entities such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Department of Commerce for their communication facilities.

5. Petitioners and objectors allege that grant of the applications would have an adverse impact on UHF television broadcasting in Florence and Columbia, S.C., and in Wilmington, N.C. An examination of the present situation in Florence and Columbia is sufficient to indicate that this concern with the impact of the proposed transmitter moves on UHF development may be valid. At the present time, Florence, S.C., has one operating commercial VHF television broadcast station (WBTW, Channel 13, CBS), an operating noncommercial educational UHF television broadcast station (WJPM–TV, Channel 33), a commercial UHF television broadcast station (WPDT, Channel 15) which has not yet commenced construction[3] and Channel 21, which is allocated, but no station is authorized to operate on this channel. Television Broadcast Station WIS–TV, Channel 10, NBC, Columbia, S.C., presently places a predicted Grade B signals over Florence, S.C. While the predicted Grade B signals of the four Charleston VHF stations presently fall approximately 30 miles short of Florence, operating as proposed, the Charleston stations would, for the first time, provide predicted Grade B service to Florence and surrounding areas. As a consequence, UHF television stations assigned to Florence would have to compete with three additional commercial VHF stations and such added competition may have an adverse affect on the activation of the UHF channels. It should be noted that since Station WBTW (Florence) and WIS–TV (Columbia) presently provide CBS and NBC network programing to Florence, the possibility of a Florence UHF station providing the third network service to this community may be substantially impaired as a result of a grant of the application of Station WUSN–TV, the Charleston ABC affiliate.

6. In Columbia, S.C., there is presently an operating VHF commercial television broadcast station (WIS–TV, Channel 10, NBC), two operating commercial UHF television broadcast stations (WNOK–TV, Channel 19, CBS, and WOLO–TV, Channel 25, ABC), an operating noncommercial educational television broadcast station (WRLK–TV, Channel 35) and Channel 57, which is allocated, but for which no application is pending. Television Broadcast Stations WRDW–TV, Channel 12, CBS, and WJBF, Channel 6, ABC, Augusta, Ga., both presently place predicted Grade B signals over Columbia, S.C., and Television Broadcast Station WBTW, Channel 13, CBS, Florence, S.C., presently places a predicted Grade B signal over a small portion of Richland County in which the city of Columbia is located. While the Charleston stations do not presently provide predicted Grade B service to Columbia, they do provide predicted Grade B service to approximately 80 percent of Clarendon County, 40 percent of Orangeburg County and 5 percent of Calhoun County, which counties are located generally south of Columbia. Operating as proposed, the Charleston stations would still not provide predicted Grade B service to Columbia, but they would provide predicted Grade B service to all of Clarendon County and to approximately 75 percent of Orangeburg and Calhoun Counties, and for the first time, they would provide predicted Grade B service to approximately 90 percent of Sumter County and 45 percent of Lee County. Therefore, while there is now relatively little overlap between the predicted Grade B contours of the Charleston and Columbia stations, operating with the requested facilities, the Grade B contours of the Charleston stations would overlap approximately 25 percent of the area and population located in the authorized Grade B contours of the Columbia stations.

7. We believe that under these circumstances, it is necessary to explore in an evidentiary hearing whether the proposed operations of the Charleston stations would have an adverse impact upon the development of UHF television broadcasting in the proposed service areas. While the Commission encourages television broadcast stations to operate with maximum facilities in order to make the most efficient use of channel assignments, we have also expressed our concern with fostering the development of UHF broadcasting. By the hearing ordered herein, a full record will be established which will form a basis for determining the choice between these policies. The burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence with respect to the UHF impact issue will be placed on the respondents and the burden of proof with respect to this issue will be placed on the applicants. Petitioners and objectors assert that the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence should also be placed on the applicants because they can better afford to bear the costs of an evidentiary hearing. However, since the petitioners and objectors have alleged that grant of the applications would have an adverse impact on UHF broadcasting, we believe that the responsibility for proceeding with the introduction of evidence is properly theirs.

[2] Since both petitions were not timely filed, the petitioners have filed requests for waiver of § 1.580(i) of the Commission's rules. Since both petitioners have shown good cause for grant of their waiver requests, we shall waive the procedural requirements of § 1.580(i) of the rules.

[3] The Commission in an order, Radio Longview, Inc., et al., 6 FCC 69–182, 16 FCC 2d 716, adopted Feb. 26, 1969, designated inter alia, the application (BMPCT–6743) of WPDT for an extension of time within which to complete construction for oral argument on the question of whether the failure to complete construction was due to causes not under its control or that the reasons stated were sufficient to justify an extension within the meaning of section 319(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and § 1.534 (a) of the Commission's rules.

8. WWAY also requests that the applications be designated for hearing on a Carroll issue,[4] alleging that the introduction, for the first time, of the predicted Grade B signals of the Charleston stations into Horry County, S.C., which county lies within WWAY's service area, would have an adverse economic effect upon WWAY's operation with a resulting diminution or loss of television service to the public. WWAY asserts that since it commenced operation in October 1964, it has continually operated at a financial loss. It also states that it places a predicted Grade A signal over a portion of Horry County and a predicted Grade B signal over all of the county and that the county is a vital part of its market since it contains approximately 20 percent of the homes in the seven counties in which WWAY claims a net weekly circulation in excess of 50 percent. Furthermore, WWAY alleges that because of the importance of Horry County, a significant part of the station's sales efforts are devoted to the county and the station makes substantial efforts to serve the programing needs of the residents. In further support of its contention that Horry County constitutes a significant part of the Wilmington television market, WWAY has submitted data which compares the total population, number of families median income, bank deposits, retail sales and wholesale sales of Horry County with New Hanover County, in which the city of Wilmington is located and with neighboring Brunswick County. WWAY states that while substantially all of Horry County receives service from three network affiliated television stations,[5] the introduction of the Charleston television signals would result in a diminution of WWAY's audience in the county, which would cause a decline in the time sales to local advertisers in the county and in Wilmington. In this connection, WWAY states that since Horry County is located substantially closer to Wilmington than to any other city of comparable size, the Wilmington merchants seek to attract customers from the county and are therefore concerned with whether a television station can deliver an audience in the county. WWAY concludes that since a substantial number of persons receive their only off-the-air service from WWAY and from Station WECT, the other operating Wilmington television station, any cutback of WWAY's public service programing would result in injury to the public interest which would not be outweighed by any benefits arising from grant of the applications.

9. Previously, where a petitioner attempted to raise a Carroll issue, the applicant sought to establish a new station in either the same or neighboring community. As a consequence, the service areas of the petitioner's station and the applicant's proposed station were to a large extent coextensive and the competitive aspects of the case were more sharply focused. In the present case, however, only a portion of the petitioner's service area will be overlapped, for the first time, by the signals of stations located at substantial distances from the overlap area. Therefore, in this situation, the petitioner must provide the Commission with ample statistical data pertinent to the specific area of overlap in order to enable the Commission to determine whether there will be an adverse economic impact upon the petitioner's operation with a net loss or degradation of service to the public. We find that petitioner has failed to meet this burden. In Missouri-Illinois Broadcasting Co., FCC 64-748, 3 RR 2d 232, adopted July 29, 1964, the Commission set out the type of specific economic data necessary to support a request for a Carroll issue. Subsequently, in Folkways Broadcasting Co., Inc. v. Federal Communications Commission, 375 F. 2d 299, 8 RR 2d 2089 (1967) the Court of Appeals held that the Commission could not demand of Carroll petitioners "exact calculations" or "pre-knowledge of the exact economics of the situation" which would occur after grant. In the present case, however, the petitioner has failed to furnish the Commission with any information concerning the amount of revenues it receives from Horry County or an estimate as to any loss of revenues which would result from grant of the applications. In addition, no information has been supplied concerning the amount of money presently being expended on public service programing or the relationship between the loss of revenues in the overlap area and the withdrawal of programing service to the public. In the absence of such information, we cannot find that WWAY has raised a substantial and material question of fact with respect to whether there will be a diminution or loss of television service to the public in the event of a grant of the Charleston applications. Accordingly, the request for a Carroll issue will be denied.

10. WPDT contends that noncommercial educational television broadcast station WITV has not demonstrated that it has sufficient funds available to construct the station as proposed. Specifically, WPDT states that while WITV relies upon an appropriation of funds by the State legislature of South Carolina to meet the station's construction costs of $526,845, the documentation to support the availability of such funds has not been submitted with the application. However, since WITV subsequently amended its application and submitted the necessary documentation indicating that the funds have been appropriated, the applicant has demonstrated that it is financially qualified and therefore, no financial issue will be specified.

11. We have carefully considered all of the matters raised in the various pleadings and, except as indicated by the issues specified below, we find that the applicants are qualified to construct and operate as proposed and that, except as indicated in the preceding paragraphs hereof, no substantial and material questions of fact have been raised by the pleadings. The Commission, however, is unable to make the statutory finding that a grant of the applications would serve the public interest, convenience, and necessity, and is of the opinion that the applications must be designated for evidentiary hearing on the issues set forth below:

12. Accordingly, it is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309(e) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-captioned applications are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding at a time and place to be specified in subsequent order, upon the following issue:

1. To determine whether a grant of the applications would impair the ability of authorized and prospective UHF television broadcast stations in the area to compete effectively, or would jeopardize, in whole or in part, the continuation of existing UHF television service.

2. To determine, in the light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issue, whether grant of the applications would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity.

13. It is further ordered, That to the extent indicated herein, the petitions to deny filed by Rovan of Florence, Inc.; and Clay Broadcasting Corp. are granted, and in all other respects are denied.

14. It is further ordered, That Rovan of Florence, Inc., Clay Broadcasting Corp., and upon the Commission's own motion Palmetto Radio Corp. and Columbia Television Broadcasters, Inc., are made parties respondent in this proceeding.

15. It is further ordered, That the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence with respect to Issue 1, herein is hereby placed upon the parties respondent, and the burden of proof with respect to Issues 1 and 2 is hereby placed upon the applicants.

16. It is further ordered, That to avail themself of the opportunity to be heard, the applicants and the parties respondent herein, pursuant to § 1.221 (c) of the Commission's rules, in person or by attorney, shall within twenty (20) days of the mailing of this order, file with the Commission, in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date fixed for the hearing and present evidence on the issues specified in this order.

UNION TEXAS PETROLEUM ET AL.

Notice of Applications

JUNE 23, 1969.

Take notice that each Applicant herein has filed an application pursuant to section 7(b) of the Natural Gas Act for permission and approval to abandon the sale of natural gas to Cities Service Gas Co. produced in the West Edmond Field, in various counties in Oklahoma, and processed in the Trindle plant in Kingfisher County, Okla., all as more fully set forth in the applications which are on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicants, including Sohio Petroleum Co., the plant operator, are owners of the Trindle plant and state that the volume of natural gas available for processing has declined to the point where it is no longer economically feasible to continue operation of the plant. Applicants state further that the plant has been operating at a loss due to the declining volumes of natural gas available for processing and that it is anticipated that expenditures for plant maintenance and repairs will increase rapidly in the near future for which there will be no additional revenues.

Under the circumstances it is appropriate that there should be a shortened notice period; and, accordingly, any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said applications should on or before July 7, 1969, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on these applications if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that permission and approval for the proposed abandonment are required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicants to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Secretary.

ATLANTIC SEABOARD CORP.

Notice of Application

JUNE 24, 1969.

Take notice that on May 21, 1969, Atlantic Seaboard Corp. (Applicant) Post Office Box 1273, Charleston, W. Va. 25325, filed in Docket No. CP69-314 an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the activation and operation of a new underground storage field including (A) the acquisition and operation of certain natural gas properties and facilities and underlying gas reserves; (B) the construction and operation of certain additional natural gas facilities; and (C) the wholesale sale and delivery of specified volumes of natural gas to Consolidated Gas Supply Corp. The proposal is more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Specifically, Applicant proposes to activate an additional storage field consisting of 3,000 acres situated in Preston County, W. Va., estimated to have a maximum turnover of 4,769,000 Mcf upon final activation. In addition to acquiring the related facilities and outstanding production rights to the Onondaga Chert and Oriskany formations underlying the perimeter of the storage field, Applicant proposes to construct and operate the following additional facilities:

(1) Install one 1,100 horsepower gas engine driven compressor unit at its Terra Alta Compressor Station;

(2) Recondition 12 existing production wells;

(3) Drill 20 new storage wells;

(4) Install approximately 117,300 feet of project piping ranging in size from 1.315-inch to 14-inch pipeline, including a proposed interconnection with Consolidated Gas Supply Corp.; and

(5) Install master and wellhead measurement facilities.

The application states that the proposed storage project is necessary to provide for the future market growth of Applicant's customers during the 1969-70 winter period under Applicant's Rate Schedule WS.

The total estimated cost of the proposed project is $7,502,786, which will be financed from funds provided by Applicant's parent company, The Columbia Gas System, Inc.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before July 14, 1969, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

CITIES SERVICE GAS CO.

Notice of Proposed Changes in Rates and Charges

JUNE 24, 1969.

Take notice that on June 20, 1969, Cities Service Gas Co. (Cities) tendered for filing proposed changes in its FPC Gas Tariff, Second Revised Volume No. 1, to become effective on July 23, 1969. The proposed rate changes would increase charges for jurisdictional sales and services by approximately $16,090,776 annually, based on sales for the 12-month period ending February 28, 1969, as adjusted. The proposed changes would increase the rates and charges in Cities' Rate Schedules, F-1, F-2, C-1, C-2, I-1, I-2, LVS-2, P, and IRG-1.

Cities states that the proposed change is required by an increased jurisdictional cost of service reflecting the general inflationary conditions in the country and in the natural gas transmission industry in particular. The proposed rates include a claimed rate of return of 8⅝ percent. Cities also states that the increased rates reflect an amount for amortizing a judgment entered against Cities in a suit by Western Natural Gas Co. and a contested claim by Mobil Oil Corp. under a contract provision relating to payment for volumes not taken in the Kansas-Hugoton Field.

Copies of the filing were served on customers and interested state regulatory agencies.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before July 10, 1969, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, petitions to intervene or protests in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Persons wishing to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file petitions to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules. The application is on file with the Commission and available for public inspection.

COMMONWEALTH EDISON CO.

Notice of Application

JUNE 24, 1969.

Take notice that on June 16, 1969, Commonwealth Edison Co. (Applicant) of Chicago, Ill., filed an application seeking authority pursuant to section 204 of the Federal Power Act to extend to no later than December 31, 1971, the final maturity date of short-term unsecured promissory notes authorized to be issued under the Commission's order of April 2, 1968, in Docket No. E-7396. In that order, the Commission authorized the Applicant to issue short-term promissory notes in face amounts of up to a maximum of $250 million with final maturities no later than December 31, 1969.

Applicant is incorporated under the laws of the State of Illinois with its principal business office at Chicago, Ill., and is principally engaged in the electric utility business in a service area of approximately 13,000 square miles in northern Illinois, including the city of Chicago.

The notes are to be issued from time to time to commercial banks and to commercial paper dealers, and are to have maturities of 12 months or less from the dates of issuance, and in any event are to be payable on or before December 31, 1971. The interest rate is to be (a) for notes issued to commercial banks, the prime rate as from day to day in effect, or (b) for commercial paper, the prevailing rate at time of issuance for paper of comparable quality and maturity.

The proceeds from the issuance of any notes will be added to working capital for ultimate application toward the cost of gross additions to utility properties and to reimburse the Applicant's treasury for construction expenditures. Applicant's construction program as now scheduled calls for plant expenditures of approximately $1,600 million for the 5-year period 1969-73. The extension of 2 years is necessary to provide flexibility needed to meet financing requirements under the tight money market conditions.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before July 7, 1969, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, petitions to intervene or protests in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Persons wishing to become parties to a preceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file petitions to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules. The application is on file with the Commission and available for public inspection.

FLORIDA GAS TRANSMISSION CO.

Notice of Application

JUNE 23, 1969.

Take notice that on June 18, 1969, Florida Gas Transmission Co. (Applicant), Post Office Box 44, Winter Park, Fla. 32789, filed in Docket No. CP69-340 an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the installation and operation of a field compressor unit on existing gas supply facilities, all as more fully stated in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Specifically, Applicant seeks authorization to install and operate a skid-mounted field compressor unit in the South Alvin Field in Brazoria County, Tex., which Applicant states will enable it to continue to receive natural gas from said field when the Superior Oil Co. exercises its contractual rights to reduce delivery pressure of gas delivered to Applicant not in excess of 500 p.s.i.g. Applicant states that under the contract for the sale of such gas to it, Superior Oil Co. has the right to reduce the pressure at which gas is delivered to Applicant to pressures not in excess of 500 p.s.i.g. during the last 10 years of the contract term, which right became effective on June 5, 1969. Applicant also states that Superior has advised Applicant that it plans to exercise its right to reduce delivery pressure at an early date, in which event it will be necessary for Applicant to install the requested compressor facilities to maintain continuity of deliveries of gas by Superior to Applicant from the South Alvin Field.

Applicant states that the total estimated cost to be $93,000, which will be financed from internally generated funds.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before July 21, 1969, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

JUNE 24, 1969.

Take notice that on June 19, 1969, Florida Gas Transmission Co. (Applicant), Post Office Box 44, Winter Park, Fla. 32789, filed in Docket No. CP69-342 an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the installation and operation of a short gathering line and a field compressor unit on existing gas supply facilities to enable it to continue to receive natural gas from the Superior Oil Co. (Superior) under currently effective contractual arrangements and presently outstanding authorization, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Specifically, Applicant seeks authorization to install and operate a 4-inch gathering line approximately 1 mile in length and a skid mounted field compressor unit in the Monte Christo Field, Hidalgo County, Tex., to enable it to continue to receive natural gas from said field when Superior exercises its contractual rights to reduce delivery pressure of gas delivered to Applicant.

Estimated total cost is $213,000, which will be financed out of internally generated funds.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before July 21, 1969, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Secretary.

TEXACO, INC., ET AL.

Order Amending Order Accepting Contract Agreement, Providing for Hearings on and Suspension of Proposed Changes in Rates

JUNE 24, 1969.

By order issued May 29, 1969, in Docket No. RI69-781,[1] a rate increase from 24.0084 cents to 27 cents per Mcf at 15.325 p.s.i.a. filed by Quaker State Oil Refining Corp. (Quaker State) for a sale of natural gas to The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. in Meigs County, Ohio, was suspended for 5 months from June 1, 1969. No formal ceiling rates have been announced for Ohio. However, the rate increase, designated as Supplement No. 1 to Quaker State's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 28, was suspended for 5 months because it exceeded the formal ceiling for increased rates in the adjacent State of West Virginia which the Commission considers applicable to the subject sale.

The basis contract underlying the subject rate schedule is dated after September 28, 1960, the date of issuance of the Commission's statement of general policy No. 61-1; and the proposed increased rate, while exceeding the increased rate ceiling of 25 cents per Mcf at 15.325 p.s.i.a., does not exceed the initial service ceiling of 28 cents per Mcf at 15.325 p.s.i.a., for West Virginia. For these reasons, we believe that the suspension period should be reduced from 5 months to a 1 day's duration in Docket No. RI69-781.

The Commission finds: Good cause exists for amending the Commission's aforementioned order issued May 29, 1969, with respect to Docket No. RI69-781 only to the extent hereafter provided.

The Commission orders:

(A) The Commission's order issued May 29, 1969, in Docket No. RI69-781, is amended to provide that Supplement No. 1 to Quaker State Oil Refining Corp.'s FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 28 is suspended in Docket No. RI69-781 until June 2, 1969, and that said supplement shall become effective subject to refund in Docket No. RI69-781 on June 2, 1969, if within 20 days from the date of the issuance of this order, Quaker State shall execute and file in Docket No. RI69-781 its agreement and undertaking to comply with the refunding and reporting procedures required by the Natural Gas Act and § 154.102 of the regulations thereunder, accompanied by a certificate showing service of a copy thereof upon the purchaser, The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. Unless Quaker State is advised to the contrary within 15 days after filing of its agreement and undertaking, the agreement and undertaking shall be deemed to have been accepted.

(B) In all other respects, the order issued May 29, 1969, in Docket No. RI69-781, shall remain unchanged and in full force and effect.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before July 21, 1969, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). Notice of Joint Petition To Amend

JUNE 24, 1969.

Take notice that on June 19, 1969, United Gas Pipe Line Co., 1525 Fairfield Avenue, Shreveport, La. 71102, and Humble Gas Transmission Co., 1700 Commerce Building, New Orleans, La. 70112 (Applicants), filed a joint application, pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act, requesting that the certificate of public convenience and necessity heretofore issued in this docket, be amended to authorize the exchange of additional quantities of natural gas under an amendment to an existing exchange agreement between them, the establishment of an additional exchange point, and the construction and operation by United Gas Pipe Line Co. of proposed additional measuring facilities. The additional exchange point will be at the existing intersection of the facilities of Applicants in Ouachita Parish, La., all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

It is further ordered, Pursuant to Rule 7 of the Commission's rules of practice, that the issuer file an answer to the allegations contained in this order within 30 days of the entry thereof.

Notice is hereby given that any person having any interest in the matter may file with the Secretary of the Commission, within 30 days after the entry of this order, a written request for hearing; that within 20 days after receipt of such request the Commission will, or at any time upon its own motion may, set the matter down for hearing, at a place to be designated by the Commission, for the purpose of determining whether this order of suspension should be vacated or made permanent, without prejudice, however, to the consideration and presentation of additional matters at the hearing; that if no hearing is requested and none is ordered by the Commission, this order shall become permanent on the 30th day after its entry and shall remain in effect unless or until it is modified or vacated by the Commission; and that notice of the time and place for any hearing will promptly be given by the Commission.

MIDDLE SOUTH UTILITIES, INC.

Notice of Filing and Order for Hearing Regarding Acquisition by Holding Company of Common and Preferred Stock of Nonassociate Public Utility Company

JUNE 25, 1969.

Notice is hereby given that Middle South Utilities, Inc. ("Middle South"), 280 Park Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017, a registered holding company, has filed an application-declaration with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act"), designating sections 6, 7, 9, and 10 of the Act and Rule 50 promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transactions. The application-declaration relates to Middle South's proposal to acquire the outstanding shares of common and preferred stocks of Arkansas-Missouri Power Co. ("Ark-Mo"), a nonassociate public-utility company, in exchange for shares of the common stock of Middle South. All interested persons are referred to the application-declaration, which is summarized below, for a complete statement of the proposed transactions.

Middle South holds all of the outstanding shares of the common stocks of four public-utility companies which distribute electric energy to approximately 1,086,700 customers in Arkansas, Mississippi, and Louisiana. In addition, one of these also engages in the retail gas and passenger transit businesses in New Orleans, La. As of December 31, 1968, the Middle South system had consolidated net assets of $1,454,788,000, and for the year then ended consolidated gross operating revenues of $370,274,000, and consolidated net income of $46,318,000.

Ark-Mo is both an electric utility company and a gas utility company and operates in Arkansas and Missouri, and its wholly owned subsidiary company, Associated Natural Gas Co. ("Associated"), is engaged in the distribution at retail of gas in Missouri. Ark-Mo, and Associated, combined, serve electricity to approximately 48,500 customers and natural gas at retail to approximately 47,600 customers. As of December 31, 1968, Ark-Mo had consolidated net assets of $48,767,000 and its consolidated gross operating revenues for the year then ended were $25,276,000, of which $16,451,000 was derived from the electric business and $8,825,000 from the gas business. Consolidated net income for the year 1968 was $1,925,000.

Middle South proposes to offer 0.7 of a share of its common stock, $5 par value, for each share of Ark-Mo common stock. Middle South further proposes to acquire all the shares of $100 par value 4.65 percent cumulative preferred stock of Ark-Mo on the basis of 4⅛ shares of Middle South common stock for each share of Ark-Mo preferred stock. The 10 financial institutions which hold all such shares of preferred stock have agreed to the exchange, if, as described below, the holders of the requisite number of shares of Ark-Mo's common stock accept the offer.

The exchange offer will be made over an initial period of approximately 30 days from the date it is first made to the Ark-Mo common stockholders. The offering period is subject to extension for an additional period or periods by Middle South, but not beyond 60 days from the initial date of the exchange offer, unless further extended upon approval by the Commission. The exchange offer requires acceptance thereof by the holders of not less than 80 percent of the outstanding shares of Ark-Mo common stock. When at least 80 percent of the outstanding shares of Ark-Mo common stock is deposited in acceptance of the exchange offer, Middle South, within 3 business days thereafter, will declare the exchange offer effective. The proposed transactions are part of a program which includes a plan, to be filed subsequently, under section 11(e) of the Act whereby any remaining minority interest in the common stock of Ark-Mo will be eliminated. The program also includes the filing of a plan or plans under section 11(e) of the Act to dispose of the gas transmission and distribution properties of Ark-Mo and the capital stock and gas transmission and distribution properties of Associated.

The application-declaration states that Arkansas Power & Light Co. ("Arkansas"), a subsidiary company of Middle South, has been the principal supplier of the electric power sold by Ark-Mo, and that in 1968, some 81 percent of electric power distributed by Ark-Mo was supplied by Arkansas. Middle South states that Ark-Mo and Arkansas are interconnected at three points and that a fourth point of interconnection is under construction.

The filing states that on State commission and no Federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions. Middle South requests that the Commission exempt the proposed issuance of Middle South common stock in exchange for the common and preferred stock of Ark-Mo from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule 50.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a public hearing be held with respect to the proposed transactions; that the stockholders of Ark-Mo and other interested persons be afforded an opportunity to be heard in such hearing with respect to the fairness of the proposed exchange offer and other aspects of the proposed transactions; and that the application-declaration should not be granted or permitted to become effective except pursuant to further order of the Commission:

It is ordered, That a hearing be held herein on August 5, 1969, at 10 a.m., at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 500 North Capitol Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20549. On such date the Hearing Room Clerk will advise as to the room in which the hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That a Hearing Examiner, hereafter to be designated shall preside at said hearing. The officer so designated is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18(c) of the Act and to a hearing officer under the Commission's rules of practice.

The Division of Corporate Regulation of the Commission having advised the Commission that it has made a preliminary examination of the application-declaration and that, upon the basis thereof, the following matters and questions are presented for consideration, without prejudice, however, to the presentation of additional matters and questions upon further examination:

1. Whether the proposed issue and sale of shares of the common stock of Middle South satisfies the requirements of section 7 of the Act;

2. Whether the proposed acquisition by Middle South of 80 percent or more of the outstanding shares of common stock of Ark-Mo meets the standards of section 10 of the Act, and particularly the requirements of sections 10 (b) and (c);

3. Whether exemption from compliance with the competitive bidding requirements of Rule 50 should be granted as to the shares of common stock of Middle South to be issued pursuant to the exchange offer;

4. Whether the accounting entries to be made in connection with the proposed transactions are proper and in accord with sound accounting principles;

5. Whether the fees, commissions and other expenses to be incurred are for necessary services and reasonable in amount;

6. What terms or conditions, if any, the Commission's order should contain; and

7. Generally, whether the proposed transactions are in all respects compatible with the provisions and standards of the applicable sections of the Act and of the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

It is further ordered, That particular attention be directed at said hearing to the foregoing matters and questions.

It is further ordered, That any person, other than applicant-declarant, desiring to be heard in connection with this proceeding or proposing to intervene therein shall file with the Secretary of the Commission, on or before August 1, 1969, a written request relative thereto as provided in Rule 9 of the Commission's rules of practice. A copy of such request should be served personally or by mail (airmail if the person being served is located more than 500 miles from the point of mailing) upon the applicant-declarant at the above-stated address, and proof of service (by affidavit or, in case of an attorney at law, by certificate) should be filed with the request. Persons filing an application to participate or be heard will receive notice of any adjournment of the hearing as well as other actions of the Commission involving the subject matter of these proceedings.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be, and it hereby is, reserved to separate, in whole or in part, either for hearing or for disposition, any issues or questions which may arise in these proceedings and to take such other action as may appear conducive to an orderly, prompt, and economical disposition of the matters involved.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall give notice of the aforesaid hearing by mailing copies of this notice and order by certified mail to Middle South, Ark-Mo, the Federal Power Commission, the Arkansas Public Service Commission, the Missouri Public Service Commission, the Louisiana Public Service Commission, the Mississippi Public Service Commission, and the U.S. Department of Justice, and that Middle South shall mail copies of this notice and order, not later than 15 days prior to the date of the hearing herein, to the stockholders of record of Ark-Mo; and that notice to all other interested persons shall be given by a general release of the Commission and by publication of this notice and order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

KANSAS INTRASTATE FREIGHT RATES AND CHARGES, 1969

JUNE 20, 1969.

Notice is herbey given that 10 common carriers by railroad operating in interstate commerce within and through the State of Kansas, as well as in intrastate commerce in that State, have filed a joint petition herein under sections 3, 13, and 15a of the Interstate Commerce Act, seeking authorization from the Interstate Commerce Commission to apply on intrastate freight rates and charges the increases approved by the Commission on corresponding interstate commerce in 1960 in Ex Parte 223 (311 I.C.C. 373), in 1967 and 1968 in Ex Parte 256 (329 I.C.C. 854 and 332 I.C.C. 280), and in 1968 and 1969 in Ex Parte 259 (332 I.C.C. 590 and 332 I.C.C. 714). The petitioners are: The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Co.; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Co.; Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Co.; The Garden City Western Railway Co.; The Kansas City Southern Railway Co., Kansas City Terminal Railway Co.; Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad Co.; Missouri Pacific Railroad Co.; St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Co.; and Union Pacific Co.

In support of the petition, said petitioners represent that beginning in 1960 they have sought authority from the Kansas Corporation Commission to apply both the Ex Parte 223 and 256 increases and received permission to apply only the Ex Parte 223 increase in part; and that as a result such a situation causes undue preference in favor of shipments moving in intrastate commerce and, correspondingly, undue prejudice against interstate commerce in or through the State of Kansas. Wherefore, petitioners pray that this Commission will institute an investigation for the purpose of removing such undue preference and prejudice by approving and prescribing for application on intrastate commerce in the State of Kansas the same interstate increases in their entirety reflected in the indicated Ex Parte Dockets Nos. 253, 256, and 259.

Any persons interested in or affected by the aforesaid matters raised by the instant petition, may, on or before 30 days from the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, file replies to the said petition in support thereof or in opposition to the determination sought. An original and 15 copies of such replies must be filed with the Commission and replicants must also show evidence of service of two copies of replies on each of the following eight attorneys representing the various petitioners herein, namely: Mr. Phillip S. Brown (114 West 11th Street, Kansas City, Mo. 64105); Mr. John J. Burchell (1416 Dodge Street, Omaha, Nebr. 68102); Mr. W. Bruce Kopper (906 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo. 63101); Mr. Don McDevitt (139 West Van Buren Street, Chicago, Ill. 60605); Mr. Richard J. Schreider (657 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Ill. 60606); Mr. Robert H. Stahlheber (210 North 13th Street, St. Louis, Mo. 63103); Mr. William A. Thie (Katy Building, Dallas, Tex. 75602); and Mr. Harvey Huston (80 East Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Ill. 60604). Thereafter, the Commission will proceed to render its decision in this matter, including the observance of any additional requirements that appear warranted to assure due process of law.

Notice, pursuant to statutory requirements, of the filing of this petition will be given by publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

[SEAL] H. NEIL GARSON,
Secretary.

[Grapefruit Reg. 35, Amdt. 5]

PART 909—GRAPEFRUIT GROWN IN ARIZONA; IN IMPERIAL COUNTY, CALIF.; AND IN THAT PART OF RIVERSIDE COUNTY, CALIF., SITUATED SOUTH AND EAST OF WHITE WATER, CALIF.

Limitation of Shipments

Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 909, as amended (7 CFR Part 909), regulating the handling of grapefruit grown in the State of Arizozna; in Imperial County, Calif.; and in that part of Riverside County, Calif., situated south and east of White Water, Calif., effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), and upon the basis of the recommendation of the Administrative Committee (established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order), and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of grapefruit, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this amendment until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this amendment is based became available and the time when this amendment must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and this amendment relieves restrictions on the handling of grapefruit grown in Arizona and the designated part of California.

Order. In § 909.335 (Grapefruit Reg. 35; 33 F.R. 15295; 34 F.R. 810, 5907, 7283, 8895) paragraph (a)(1) preceding (a)(1)(i) is amended, a new paragraph (a)(3) is added, and paragraph (b) is amended, to read as follows:

§ 909.335 Grapefruit Regulation 35.

(a) Order. (1) Except as otherwise provided in subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph, during the period June 29, through August 30, 1969, no handler shall handle from the State of California or the State of Arizona to any point outside thereof:

* * * * *

(3) Subject to the requirements of subparagraph (1)(i) of this paragraph, any handler may, but only as the initial handler thereof, handle grapefruit smaller than $3^{11}/_{16}$ inches but not smaller than $3^{6}/_{16}$ inches in diameter directly to a destination in Zone 1: Provided, That a tolerance of 5 percent, by count, of grapefruit smaller than $3^{6}/_{16}$ inches in diameter shall be permitted, which tolerance shall be applied in accordance with the aforesaid provisions for the application of tolerances and, in determining the percentage of grapefruit in any lot which are smaller than $3^{6}/_{16}$ inches in diameter, such percentage shall be based only on the grapefruit in such lot which are $3^{13}/_{16}$ inches in diameter and smaller.

(b) As used herein, "handler," "grapefruit," "handle," "Zone 1," "Zone 2," "Zone 3," and "Zone 4" shall have the same meaning as when used in said amended marketing agreement and order; the terms "U.S. No. 2" and "well colored" shall have the same meaning as when used in the aforesaid revised U.S. Standards for Grapefruit; and "diameter" shall mean the greatest dimension measured at right angles to a line from the stem to blossom end of the fruit.

Dated, June 27, 1969, to become effective June 29, 1969.

PAUL A. NICHOLSON,
Deputy Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Consumer and Marketing Service.

[Grapefruit Reg. 10, Amdt. 3]

PART 944—FRUIT; IMPORT REGULATIONS

Grapefruit

Pursuant to the provisions of section 8e of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), the provisions of paragraph (a) of Grapefruit Regulation 10 (§ 944.106, 33 F.R. 14365, 17895; 34 F.R. 7898) are hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 944.106 Grapefruit Regulation 10.

(a) On and after July 7, 1969, the importation into the United States of any grapefruit is prohibited unless such grapefruit is inspected and meets the following requirements:

(1) Seeded grapefruit shall grade at least U.S. No. 2 Russet and be of a size not smaller than $3^{15}/_{16}$ inches in diameter except that a tolerance of 10 percent, by count, of seeded grapefruit smaller than such minimum size shall be permitted which tolerance shall be applied in accordance with the provisions for the application of tolerances specified in the U.S. Standards for Florida Grapefruit;

(2) Seedless grapefruit shall grade at least U.S. No. 2 Russet and be of a size not smaller than $3^{7}/_{16}$ inches in diameter except that a tolerance of 10 percent, by count, of seedless grapefruit smaller than such minimum size shall be permitted which tolerance shall be applied in accordance with the provisions for the application of tolerances specified in the U.S. Standards for Florida Grapefruit.

* * * * *

It is hereby found that it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective time of this amendment beyond that hereinafter specified (5 U.S.C. 553) in that (a) the requirements of this amended import regulation are imposed pursuant to section 8e of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), which makes such regulation mandatory; (b) such regulation imposes the same restrictions on imports of all grapefruit as the grade and size restrictions being made applicable to the shipment of all grapefruit grown in Florida under amended Grapefruit Regulation 67 (§ 905.506); (c) compliance with this amended import regulation will not require any special preparation which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof; and (d) this amendment relieves restrictions on the importation of grapefruit.

Dated, June 26, 1969, to become effective July 7, 1969.

PART 947—IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN MODOC AND SISKIYOU COUNTIES IN CALIFORNIA AND IN ALL COUNTIES IN OREGON EXCEPT MALHEUR COUNTY

Limitation of Shipments

Findings. (a) Pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 114 and Order No. 947, both as amended (7 CFR Part 947), regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in the production area defined therein, effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of recommendations and information submitted by the Oregon-California Potato Committee, established pursuant to the said marketing agreement and order, and other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments hereinafter set forth, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(b) The recommendations of the committee reflect its appraisal of the composition of the 1969 crop of Oregon-Northern California potatoes and the marketing prospects for this season. Harvesting is expected to begin on or about July 7 and the regulation should become effective on that date.

The grade, size, cleanliness, and maturity requirements provided herein are necessary to prevent immature potatoes, and those that are of undesirable sizes, or below grade from being distributed in fresh market channels. They will also provide consumers with good quality potatoes consistent with the overall quality of the crop, and maximize returns to producers for the preferred quallty and sizes.

The proposed regulations with respect to special purpose shipments for other than fresh market use are designated to meet the different requirements for such outlets.

(c) It is hereby found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice or engage in public rule making procedure, and that good cause exists for not postponing the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553) in that (1) shipments of 1969 crop potatoes grown in the production area will begin on or about the effective date specified herein, (2) to maximize benefits to producers, this regulation should apply to as many shipments as possible during the effective period, (3) producers and handlers have operated under the said marketing order program since 1948 so special preparation by handlers is not required, (4) information regarding the committee's recommendations relating to the marketing policy and proposed regulations were made available to producers and handlers in the production area on June 16, 1969, (5) the regulations hereinafter set forth are similar to those recommended and contained in the initial regulation made effective at the beginning of last season, (6) the committee's recommendations as to the regulation hereinafter set forth were submitted promptly to the Department (after a telephone vote relaxed the 6-ounce minimum size for U.S. No. 2 grade initially recommended) and were received on June 23, 1969, and (7) compliance with these regulations will not require special preparation by handlers which cannot be completed by the effective date.

§ 947.328 Limitation of shipments.

During the period July 7, 1969, through October 14, 1970, no person shall handle any lot of potatoes unless such potatoes meet the requirements of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, or unless such potatoes are handled in accordance with paragraphs (c), (d), (e), (f), and (g) of this section.

(a) Grade, size and cleanliness requirements—(1) Grade. All varieties—U.S. No. 2, or better grade.

(2) Size. All varieties—2 inches minimum diameter or 4 ounces minimum weight.

(3) Cleanliness. All varieties—"Generally fairly clean."

(b) Maturity (skinning) requirements. (1) All varieties—"Moderately skinned" through September 30, 1969, and "slightly skinned" thereafter.

(2) Not to exceed a total of 100 hundredweight of any variety of a lot of potatoes may be handled for any producer any 7 consecutive days without regard to the aforesaid maturity requirements. Prior to each shipment of potatoes exempt from the above maturity requirements, the handler thereof shall report to the committee the name and address of the producer of such potatoes, and each such shipment shall be handled as an identifiable entity.

(c) Special purpose shipments. The minimum grade, size, cleanliness, and maturity requirements set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section shall not be applicable to shipments of potatoes for any of the following purposes:

(1) Certified seed.

(2) Grading and storing, planting, or livestock feed: Provided, That potatoes may not be shipped for such purposes outside of the district where grown except that: (i) Potatoes grown in District No. 2 or District No. 4 may be shipped for grading and storing, for planting, or for livestock feed within, or to, such districts for such purposes; (ii) potatoes grown in any one district may be shipped to a receiver in any other district within the production area for grading if such receiver is substantiated and recognized by the committee as a processor of canned, frozen, dehydrated, or prepeeled products, potato chips, or potato sticks.

(3) Charity.

(4) Starch.

(5) Export.

(6) Canning or freezing.

(7) Dehydration.

(8) Prepeeling.

(9) Potato chipping.

(10) Potato sticks (French fried shoestring potatoes). Provided, That all varieties of potatoes handled pursuant to subparagraphs (7) through (10) of this paragraph shall be of "U.S. No. 2 Potatoes for Processing" grade or better, 1½ inches minimum diameter.

(d) Safeguards. (1) Each handler making shipments of certified seed, except those lots with a maximum size of 2 inches in diameter which are handled for planting within the district where grown or between District No. 2 and District No. 4, pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section shall pay assessments on such shipments and shall furnish the committee with either a copy of the applicable certified seed inspection certificate or shall apply for and obtain a certificate of privilege and, upon request of the committee, furnish reports of each shipment made pursuant to each certificate of privilege.

(2) Each handler making shipments of potatoes pursuant to subparagraphs (5) through (10) of paragraph (c) of this section and each receiver receiving potatoes pursuant to subparagraph (2), (ii) of paragraph (c) of this section, shall:

(i) First, apply to the committee for and obtain a certificate of privilege to make such shipments.

(ii) Prepare, on forms furnished by the committee, a diversion report in quadruplicate on each individual shipment diverted from fresh market channels to the authorized outlets specified in this subparagraph.

(iii) Forward one copy of such diversion report to the committee office and forward two copies to the receiver with instructions to the receiver that he sign and return one copy to the committee office. The handler and receiver may each keep one copy for their files. Failure of handler or receiver to report such shipments by promptly signing and returning the applicable diversion report to the committee office shall be cause for cancellation of such handler's certificate of privilege and/or the receiver's eligibility to receive further shipments pursuant to any certificate of privilege. Upon the cancellation of any such certificate of privilege the handler may appeal to the committee for reconsideration. Such appeal shall be in writing.

(e) Minimum quantity exception. Each handler may ship up to but not to exceed 5 hundredweight of potatoes any day without regard to the inspection and assessment requirements of this part, but this exception shall not apply to any shipment that exceeds 5 hundredweight of potatoes.

(f) Inspection. For the purpose of operation under this part, unless exempted from inspection by the provisions of this section, or unless handled for potato chipping or prepeeling in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section, each required inspection certificate is hereby determined, pursuant to § 947.60(c), to be valid for a period of not to exceed 14 days following completion of inspection as shown on the certificate. The validity period of an inspection certificate covering inspected and certified potatoes that are stored in refrigerated storage within 14 days of the inspection shall be the entire period such potatoes remain in such storage.

(g) Any lot of potatoes previously inspected pursuant to § 947.60(a) is not required to have additional inspection under § 947.60(b) after regrading, resorting, or repacking such potatoes, if the inspection certificate is valid at the time of handling such regraded, resorted, or repacked potatoes.

(h) Definitions. (1) The terms "U.S. No. 1," "U.S. No. 2," "moderately skinned," and "slightly skinned," shall have the same meaning as when used in the U.S. Standards for Potatoes (§§ 51.1540–51.1556 of this title), including the tolerances set forth therein.

(2) The term "generally fairly clean" means that at least 90 percent of the potatoes in a given lot are "fairly clean."

(3) The term "U.S. No. 2 Potatoes for Processing" shall have the same meaning as when used in the U.S. Standards for Grades of Potatoes for Processing (§§ 51.3410–51.3424 of this title), including the tolerances set forth therein.

(4) The term "prepeeling" means potatoes which are clean, sound, fresh tubers prepared commercially in a prepeeling plant by washing, removing the outer skin or peel, trimming, and sorting preparatory to sale in one or more of the styles of peeled potatoes described in § 52.2422 U.S. Standards for Grades of Peeled Potatoes (§§ 52.2421–52.2433 of this title).

(5) Other terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as when used in Marketing Agreement No. 114, as amended, and this part.

(Secs. 1–19, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 601–674)

Dated June 27, 1969, to become effective July 7, 1969, at 12:01 a.m. at which time § 947.327 Limitation of Shipments (33 F.R. 15296; 34 F.R. 1228) shall terminate.

Deputy Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Consumer and Marketing Service.

Title 14—AERONAUTICS AND SPACE

Chapter I—Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation

SUBCHAPTER C—AIRCRAFT

[Docket No. 9676; Amdt. 39–792]

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

Vickers Viscount Models 745D and 810 Series Aircraft

There have been fatigue cracks detected on the spar booms of the Vickers Viscount Models 745D and 810 Series Aircraft. In view of the serious consequences of a spar boom failure and since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other aircraft of the same type design, an airworthiness directive (AD) is being issued to require replacement of the spar booms before they exceed 90 percent of the retirement life approved prior to April 1, 1969.

Since a situation exists that requires immediate adoption of this regulation, it is found that notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable and good cause exists for making this amendment effective in less than 30 days.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (14 CFR 11.89), § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

VICKERS VISCOUNT. Applies to Viscount Model 745D and 810 Series Aircraft.

Compliance required as indicated unless already accomplished.

To prevent fatigue damage to the inner section and center section lower wing spar booms accomplish the following:

(a) Replace the center section lower spar boom and the inner section lower spar boom with new booms of the same part number before they have exceeded 90 percent of the approved retirement time specified in the last applicable Viscount Instruction Manual, Chapter 3, Overhaul Schedule Section, dated before April 1, 1969, or within the next 250 landings whichever occurs later, after the effective date of this AD.

(b) All new center section and inner section lower wing spar booms that are installed in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (a) of this AD must be replaced before the accumulation of the revised retirement times as specified in the latest amendment to the Viscount Instruction Manual, Chapter 3, Overhaul Schedule Section, dated after April 1, 1969.

(c) For the purpose of complying with this AD, subject to acceptance by the assigned FAA maintenance inspector, the number of landings may be determined by dividing each airplane's hours' time in service by the operator's fleet average time from takeoff to landing for the airplane type.

This amendment becomes effective July 7, 1969.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 25, 1969.

R. S. SLIFF,
Acting Director, Flight Standards Service.

SUBCHAPTER F—AIR TRAFFIC AND GENERAL OPERATING RULES

[Reg. Docket No. 9674; Amdt. 95–181]

PART 95—IFR ALTITUDES

Miscellaneous Amendments

The purpose of this amendment to Part 95 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is to make changes in the IFR altitudes at which all aircraft shall be flown over a specified route or portion thereof. These altitudes, when used in conjunction with the current changeover points for the routes or portions thereof, also assure navigational coverage that is adequate and free of frequency interference for that route or portion thereof.

As a situation exists which demands immediate action in the interest of safety, I find that compliance with the notice and procedure provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act is impracticable and that good cause exists for making this amendment effective within less than 30 days from publication.

In consideration of the foregoing and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (24 F.R. 5662), Part 95 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended, effective 24 July 1969, as follows:

Title 16—COMMERCIAL PRACTICES

Chapter I—Federal Trade Commission

SUBCHAPTER A—PROCEDURES AND RULES OF PRACTICE

PART 15—ADMINISTRATIVE OPINIONS AND RULINGS

Disclosure of Origin of Imported Components Used in Fork Lift Trucks

§ 15.349 Disclosure of origin of imported components used in fork lift trucks.

(a) In response to a request for an advisory opinion, the Commission advised a company that one of its statements would not be proper but that it would not object to its other proposed statement. The company had requested an opinion in regard to the proper marking and advertising of fork lift trucks made partly of imported components with specific reference to the following two statements:

(1) "Assembled in U.S.A."

(2) "Assembled in U.S.A. of components of USA & Imports".

(b) The trucks will be sold to industrial users through various sales agencies throughout the United States, and the agencies will have on display at least one or two models to show to prospective purchasers. It is anticipated that parts imported from Bulgaria will represent approximately 40 percent of total production costs, parts, and labor assembly costs in the United States will represent 30 percent and the remaining 30 percent will represent parts imported from one of the following five countries: West Germany, France, England, Denmark, and Japan. Thus approximately 70 percent of total production costs will consist of imported components.

(c) In the opinion which was rendered, the Commission concluded that it could not accept the first proposed statement as being in conformity with section 5 of the FTC Act. However, the Commission said, it would interpose no objection to the use of the second proposed disclosure—"Assembled in U.S.A. of components of USA & Imports."

PART 15—ADMINISTRATIVE OPINIONS AND RULINGS

Accreditation Program for Producers of Concrete and Concrete Products

§ 15.350 Accreditation program for producers of concrete and concrete products.

(a) The Commission rendered an advisory opinion involving a proposed accreditation program in the construction industry, including the award of a certificate of accreditation. The program is designed to upgrade and maintain the quality of a building material.

(b) Under the proposed program, the sole criterion for accreditation and the award of a certificate of accreditation of established firms will be provable ability to function effectively in the field of concrete construction, and any applicant who has a satisfactory record of accomplishment as certified by the architect or engineer for whom concrete work was done will be accredited. Certificates will be renewed annually solely on the basis of satisfactory performance during the preceding year. The failure to maintain satisfactory performance standards could result in deaccreditation and withdrawal of the right to use the certificate. General supervision of the proposed program of accreditations will be vested in a Board of Directors, no member of which will have any financial interest in the product as might affect his impartiality under the program. The Board will have the responsibility, among other matters, for insuring nondiscriminatory administration of and free access to the program.

(c) There will be no requirement for any applicant as to the length of time in business, his capital, or size of operation. Applicant firms with no previous experience in the industry but having personnel of sufficient background and experience in concrete construction or related fields and which express a desire to engage in quality concrete constructions will be accredited. All present and future applicants will have free, unrestricted and nondiscriminatory access to the program, whether or not they are a member of any sponsoring organization. All nonmember applicants will be accorded an equal opportunity for accreditation at a cost no greater than and under conditions no more onerous than those imposed upon comparably situated organization members for whom comparable services may be rendered. A uniform certificate of accreditation will be awarded to all who qualify.

(d) The Commission advised that it would not proceed against the practices so long as they are implemented in the manner described. The requesting party was advised further that in giving its approval to this request the Commission is expressing no opinion with respect to product standards which may be or are now established and that the approval will be of no force and effect should the proposed program of accreditation be implemented in contravention of Commission-administered law. The Commission added that should the proposed program be adopted the Commission may, from time to time, wish to assure itself that it is being used for the limited purposes intended.

SUBCHAPTER C—REGULATIONS UNDER SPECIFIC ACTS OF CONGRESS

[File No. 206–9–1]

PART 303—RULES AND REGULATIONS UNDER THE TEXTILE FIBER PRODUCTS IDENTIFICATION ACT

Fiber Content of Special Types of Products

On March 27, 1969, the Commission issued a notice of amendment of § 303.10 (Rule 10) of Part 303, rules and regulations under the Textile Fiber Products Identification Act, "Fiber Content of Special Types of Products" so as to add a new paragraph thereto designated as paragraph (c), and to provide for the manner and form of disclosing the required fiber content information of textile fibers which contain components combined at or prior to the time of initial extrusion which if separately extruded would fall within existing definitions of textile fibers as set forth in § 303.7 (Rule 7) of the regulations under the aforesaid Act. Such notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 28, 1969 at 34 F.R. 5836.

The notice of amendment provided that paragraph (c) of § 303.10 (Rule 10) would become effective 45 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. It was further provided that interested parties could submit written comments within 20 days of the publication of paragraph (c) of § 303.10 (Rule 10) in the FEDERAL REGISTER but this should not affect the effective date unless the Commission should so order.

Upon the indication of certain interested parties of a desire for a further period for comments, the time for the submission of written views and comments in the matter was extended to May 15, 1969 by notice dated April 18, 1969 and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 23, 1969. The effective date of paragraph (c) of § 303.10 (Rule 10) of the rules and regulations under the Textile Fiber Products Identification Act was deferred until June 30, 1969.

In order to fully consider the necessity of making certain clarifying revisions in paragraph (c) of § 303.10 (Rule 10), the effective date of the aforesaid paragraph (c) of § 303.10 (Rule 10) of the rules and regulations under the Textile Fiber Products Identification Act is deferred until July 30, 1969.

Issued: June 27, 1969.

Title 41—PUBLIC CONTRACTS AND PROPERTY MANAGEMENT

Chapter 5—General Services Administration

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS TO CHAPTER

This amendment of the General Services Administration Procurement Regulations prescribes policies and procedures which implement and supplement Subpart 1–3.8, Price Negotiation Policies and Techniques, of the Federal Procurement Regulations. The amendment expands Subpart 5–53.3, Audit of Contractors' Records, in the areas of contract audit and the processing of contractors' invoices or vouchers requesting payment under GSA contracts.

PART 5–3—PROCUREMENT BY NEGOTIATION

The table of contents for Part 5–3 is amended to include the following revised entry:

5–3.809 Contract audit as a pricing aid.

Subpart 5–3.8—Price Negotiation Policies and Techniques

Section 5–3.809 is revised to read as follows:

§ 5–3.809 Contract audit as a pricing aid.

The Contract Audits Division, Office of Audits and Compliance, and the Area Audits and Compliance Offices perform contract audits as a pricing aid upon request of a contracting officer pursuant to §§ 1–3.801, 1–3.809, and Subpart 5–53.3. Such requests shall be in writing and shall be directed to the appropriate audits and compliance office. In addition, they shall describe the problem, specify the purpose to be served by the audit, and identify any areas for particular pricing (or other) effort or emphasis, such as to review the contractor's accounting or estimating system.

PART 5–53—CONTRACT ADMINISTRATION

The table of contents for Part 5–53 is amended to include the following revised and new entries:

Sec.

5–53.303 Types of contracts subject to audit.
5–53.305 Payments under contracts subject to audit.
5–53.305–1 General.
5–53.305–2 Submission and processing of invoices or vouchers.
5–53.305–3 Action upon receipt of an audit report.
5–53.305–4 Suspensions and disapprovals of amounts claimed.
5–53.306 Additional internal controls.
5–53.307 Deviation.

Subpart 5–53.3—Audit of Contractors' Records

Subpart 5–53.3 is revised to read as follows:

§ 5–53.301 General.

The Contract Audits Division, Office of Audits and Compliance, and the Area Audits and Compliance Offices conduct contract audits (i.e., examinations) of contractors' records to the extent that such audits are required by law, regulation, or sound business judgment. Such audits include the conduct of periodic or requested audits of contractors as are warranted by such matters as the financial condition, integrity, and reliability of the contractor and prior audit experience, adequacy of the accounting system, and the amount of unaudited claims (see also § 5–3.809). In order that the Government can benefit to the maximum extent from such audits, a coordinated and cooperative effort shall be made by contracting officers, technical specialists, and finance and audit personnel (see §§ 1–3.801 and 5–53.102). It is the responsibility of the contracting officer to have an audit clause inserted in all contracts subject to audit pursuant to § 5–53.303.

§ 5–53.302 Purpose of audit.

In addition to the provisions of § 1–3.809, Contract audit as a pricing aid, audits are conducted to advise and make recommendations to the contracting officer concerning the:

(a) Propriety of amounts paid, or to be paid, by GSA to contractors where such amounts are based on a cost or time determination or on variable features related to the results of contractors' operations;

(b) Adequacy of measures taken by contractors regarding the use and safeguarding of Government assets under their custody or control;

(c) Compliance by contractors with contractual provisions having financial implications, such as progress payments, advance payments, guaranteed loans, cash return provisions, and price adjustments. The adequacy of a contractor's accounting system and controls shall be evaluated by contract audit (see § 1–3.809 (a)(1)) before inclusion of a Progress Payments clause in a contract, as provided in §§ 1–30.506 and 5–30.550(b)(3). A similar evaluation shall be made prior to the making of any advance payments or guaranteed loans pursuant to Parts 1–30 and 5–30;

(d) Reasonableness of contractors' settlement proposals in termination of contracts (see § 1–8.207);

(e) Compliance with contract provisions; and

(f) Contractors' financial condition and ability to perform or to continue to perform under Government contracts.

§ 5–53.303 Types of contracts subject to audit.

(a) The following types of contracts in excess of $2,500 shall include the Examination of Records by GSA clause (§ 5–53.304):

(1) Cost-reimbursement type contracts (see §§ 1–3.405 and 1–3.814–2(e));

(2) Advertised or negotiated contracts invblving the use or disposition of Government-furnished property (see § 5–53.102(b));

(3) Where advance payments progress payments based on costs, or guaranteed loans are to be made (see § 5–53.302(c));

(4) Contracts for supplies or services containing a price warranty or price reductions clause;

(5) Contracts or leases involving income to the Government where the income is based on operations that are under the control of the contractor or lessee;

(6) Fixed-price contracts with escalation (see §§ 1–2.104–3 and 1–3.404–3), incentives (see §§ 1–3.404–4 and 1–3.407), and redetermination (see §§ 1–3.404–5 and 1–3.404–7);

(7) Requirements and indefinite quantity (call-type) contracts (see §§ 1–2.104–4 and 1–3.409; see also § 5–53.306 for additional internal controls);

(8) Time and materials and labor-hour contracts (see §§ 1–3.406–1 and 1–3.406–2; see also § 5–53.306 for additional internal controls); and

(9) Leases (i) where the rental is subject to adjustment (such as for a change in real estate taxes or service costs) or (ii) where the rental is dependent upon actual costs.

(b) In some of the contracts listed in paragraph (a) of this § 5–53.303, it may be appropriate to contractually define the scope or extent of any audit, such as with respect to (1) the use or disposition of Government-furnished property or (2) variable or other special features of the contract, e.g., price escalation, and compliance with the price warranty or price reductions clauses. In such cases, the contract clause in § 5–53.304 may be appropriately modified with the concurrence of the (1) Office of General Counsel or Regional Counsel and (2) Contract Audits Division or the Area Audits and Compliance Office, as appropriate.

(c) Inclusion of the contract clause in § 5–53.304 (whether or not modified) in contracts does not affect in any way the requirements for (1) use of the Examination of Records clause permitting review of contractor books and records by the Comptroller General (see § 1–3.814–2(e)) or (2) the clauses on Audit and Records pertaining to the verification of cost or pricing data (see § 1–3.814–2).

(d) A copy of each contract, or modification, of the types described in § 5–53.305–1(a) subject to audit shall be furnished promptly after execution to the Contract Audits Division, Office of Audits and Compliance, General Services Administration, Washington, D.C. 20405, or to the Area Audits and Compliance Office, as appropriate.

§ 5–53.304 Contract clause.

The following contract clause is prescribed for use as provided in § 5–53.303:

EXAMINATION OF RECORDS BY GSA

The Contractor agrees that the Administrator of General Services or any of his duly authorized representatives shall, until the expiration of 3 years after final payment under this contract, or of the time periods for the particular records specified in Part 1–20 of the Federal Procurement Regulations (41 CFR Part 1–20), whichever expires earlier, have access to and the right to examine any books, documents, papers, and records of the Contractor involving transactions related to this contract or compliance with any clauses thereunder.

The Contractor further agrees to include in all his subcontracts hereunder a provision to the effect that the subcontractor agrees that the Administrator of General Services or any of his duly authorized representatives shall, until the expiration of 3 years after final payment under the subcontract, or of the time periods for the particular records specified in Part 1–20 of the Federal Procurement Regulations (41 CFR Part 1–20), whichever expires earlier, have access to and the right to examine any books, documents, papers, and records of such subcontractor, involving transactions related to the subcontract or compliance with any clauses thereunder. The term "subcontract" as used in this clause excludes (a) purchase orders not exceeding $2,500 and (b) subcontracts or purchase orders for public utility services at rates established for uniform applicability to the general public.

§ 5–53.305 Payments under contracts subject to audit.

§ 5–53.305–1 General.

(a) The contracting officer shall not approve the initial payment invoice or voucher until he has consulted with the Contract Audits Division or the Area Audits and Compliance Office, where the invoices or vouchers are under:

(1) Cost-reimbursement type contracts;

(2) The cost-reimbursement portion of fixed-price type contracts;

(3) Time and materials or labor-hour contracts; or

(4) Fixed-price contracts providing for (i) progress payments based on costs, (ii) advance payments, (iii) guaranteed loans, or (iv) incentives or redetermination.

(b) The contracting officer shall not approve the final payment (completion) invoice or voucher for such contracts, nor for the final payment or settlement of other contracts subject to audit (see § 5–53.303) prior to the (1) receipt and review of the contract audit report or (2) consultation with the Contract Audits Division or the Area Audits and Compliance Office if no audit is to be conducted; provided, that this paragraph (b) shall not apply to fixed-price contracts with escalation where no price revision (upward or downward) is to be made.

§ 5–53.305–2 Submission and processing of invoices or vouchers.

(a) Contractors shall be required to submit the invoices or vouchers described in § 5–53.305–1 directly to the contracting officer. The processing of invoices or vouchers prior to payment for work or services rendered shall include a review by the contracting officer, or his designated representative, to determine that the nature of items and amounts claimed are in consonance with the contract terms, represent prudent business transactions, and are within any stipulated contractual limitations (see § 5–53.102). The contracting officer must insure that these payments are commensurate with physical and technical progress under the contract. If the contractor has not deducted from his claim amounts which are questionable or which are required to be withheld, the contracting officer shall make the required deduction, except as provided in § 5–53.305–3.

(b) Subject to the provisions of § 5–53.305–1, approval by the contracting officer of any payment, including any specific approval as to the nature or amount of a cost, shall be noted on (or attached to) the invoice or voucher (see, for example, § 1–15.107 regarding advance understandings on particular cost items). The invoice or voucher shall be forwarded to the appropriate accounting center and retained therein after certification and scheduling for payment to a disbursing office.

§ 5–53.305–3 Action upon receipt of an audit report.

Audit reports shall be furnished to the contracting officer, with a copy to the appropriate accounting center. Upon receipt of an audit report, the contracting officer shall, pursuant to contract terms and the guidelines of § 5–53.102, determine the allowability of all costs covered by audit, giving full consideration to the auditor's recommendations. Where the contracting officer is in doubt or questions the recommendations of the auditor, deductions need not be made from invoices or vouchers for provisional payments. The contracting officer in such cases, however, shall confer with the auditor and other appropriate Government personnel (such as a price specialist or legal counsel) to determine what further action should be taken regarding the items of cost in question. If the contracting officer disagrees with the auditor's recommendations, the contracting officer shall prepare a statement for the contract file to support and justify his decision and shall furnish the auditor with a copy of such statement (see also § 1–3.811).

§ 5–53.305–4 Suspensions and disapprovals of amounts claimed.

The contracting officer shall notify the appropriate accounting center in writing when amounts claimed for payment are (a) suspended tentatively, (b) disapproved as not being allowable according to contract terms, or (c) not reasonably incident or allocable to performance of the contract. Such notice by the contracting officer shall be the basis for the issuance by the accounting center of GSA Form 533, Administrative Difference Statement. A copy of GSA Form 533 shall be attached to each copy of the invoice or voucher from which the deduction has been made, including an explanation of the deduction. Control over the issuance of GSA Form 533 shall be maintained by the accounting center.

§ 5–53.306 Additional internal controls.

As a supplement to the contractual right to audit (see § 5–53.303) contractor records in time and materials, labor-hour, requirements, and indefinite quantity (call-type) contracts, the contracting officer (with the assistance of the Contract Audits Division or the Area Audits and Compliance Office) shall establish appropriate internal controls or procedures prior to the performance of those contracts with respect to any flexible or variable features. For example, if a time and materials, or labor-hour contract is performed (on a Government facility or elsewhere) subject to observation or overall supervision by Government personnel (see § 1–3.406–1(b)), approval of time records may be provided for as incidental to the Government supervision. Any reasonable and reliable method or procedure may be established, to account for such matters as the time spent on the job, and materials or supplies received, which will assist the contract auditor and the contracting officer to determine the correctness of the charges to the contract.

§ 5–53.307 Deviation.

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this § 5–53.307, approval of any deviation (see § 5–1.108(b)(1)) in individual cases from the contract audit requirements of the Federal Procurement Regulations or General Services Administration Procurement Regulations shall be made by the Head of the appropriate Central Office Service or Staff Office only after consultation with the Deputy Director, Office of Audits and Compliance (Audits).

(b) The contracting officer and the Deputy Director, Office of Audits and Compliance (Audits), or the Area Audits and Compliance Office may agree to limit the application of specific contract audit requirements in individual cases, such as where the possible cost-benefits of the audit do not warrant the assignment of audit resources or where audit resources are unavailable; provided, that the stated urgency of a proposed procurement or other contract action shall not alone be adequate justification for such a waiver (see § 1–3.801–3 with respect to the avoidance of requirements issued on an urgent basis and § 1–3.809(b)(2) with respect to the allowance of as much time as possible for the audit work).

Effective date. This amendment is effective June 24, 1969.

Title 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

[FCC 69-700]

PART 0—COMMISSION ORGANIZATION

Authority Delegated

1. The Commission has before it a number of informal requests from standard broadcast stations looking toward on-the-air identification with a community other than the community of license. These requests fall short of the principal city signal criteria required by § 0.281 (kk) of the Commission's rules and regulations.

2. Five requests of this nature are currently pending, as follows:

a. WINE(AM) (940 kHz, 1 kw, D), Brookfield, Conn., requesting a Brookfield-Danbury identification. Although the station's 5 mv/m contour encompasses Danbury, its 25 mv/m signal does not reach the city.

b. WAAM(AM) (1600 kHz, 1 kw, 5 kw, DA-2, LS, U), Ann Arbor, Mich., requesting an Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti identification. Ypsilanti is totally encompassed by the station's 5 mv/m contour, day and night. However, the 25 mv/m signal, although covering the main business district by day, falls to 8 mv/m at night.

c. WVOL(AM) (1470 kHz, 1 kw, 5 kw-LS, DA-2, U), Berry Hill, Tenn., requesting a Berry Hill-Nashville identification. The station's 5 mv/m and 25 mv/m contours cover the entire city of Nashville during the day. At night, the 5 mv/m signal covers Nashville with some interference at the edges; a 10 mv/m interference-free contour covers 75.5 percent of the city.

d. WDAE(AM) (1250 kHz, 5 kw, DA-1, U), Tampa, Fla., requesting a Tampa-St. Petersburg identification. The entire city of St. Petersburg receives a signal intensity of 8 mv/m both day and night, and the business area receives a signal of about 15 mv/m, both day and night.

e. KIKO(AM) (1340 kHz, 250 W, 1 kw-LS, U), Miami, Ariz., requesting a Miami-Globe identification. The station's 5 mv/m and 25 mv/m contours cover the entire city of Globe during the day. However, the 25 mv/m signal, although covering the main business district by day, falls short at night.

3. By memorandum opinion and order of October 25, 1967 (10 FCC 2d 527), the Commission delegated to the Chief, Broadcast Bureau—section 0.281(kk)—authority to waive the AM and FM station identification requirements (§§ 73.117 and 73.287 of the rules, respectively) so as to permit stations to identify with all communities lying within their principal city contours as defined in §§ 73.188(b) for AM and 73.315(a) for FM. Only strict compliance with this standard was viewed as justifying multiple-city identification.

4. We find no sound basis for deviating from this determination. In conventional application processing, principal city coverage is generally considered essential to insure the necessary premium grade of service to the principal community or communities served. A fortiori, no less should be required for multiple-city identification purposes. Arguments based on similarity of program needs as a means of justifying dual-city requests must be rejected because of the transitory nature of programing judgments.

5. Moreover, it cannot be demonstrated to our satisfaction that strict compliance with the principal city coverage requirement will result in measurable hardship to the stations affected. Commission policy already permits a station which falls short of such coverage to identify "promotionally" with communities lying within its lesser coverage area (after recitation of call letters and station location). In our public notice adopted October 11, 1967, examples of permissible promotional-identification announcements were cited—See 10 FCC 2d 407, Example 3. For instance, a station assigned to the hypothetical city Millville which puts a less than principal city signal over the hypothetical city of Clarkston could identify as follows: "Station XXXX, Millville, serving Millville and Clarkston." Clearly, insofar as the listening public is concerned, promotional announcements of this character serve essentially the same purpose as do hyphenated identifications granted under § 0.281(kk):

6. The amendment herein ordered is intended to implement the foregoing determination by delegating to the Chief, Broadcast Bureau, authority to dismiss requests for multiple-city identification which do not show strict compliance with principal city coverage requirements. Since the amendment relates to internal Commission practice, the prior notice and effective date provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 553) need not be observed. Authority for the adoption of this amendment is contained in sections 4(i), 303(p), and 303 (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

7. Accordingly, it is ordered, Effective July 3, 1969, that the above-referenced requests for multicity station identification are dismissed, and § 0.281(kk) of the Commission's rules and regulations is amended as set forth below.

(Secs. 4, 303, 48 Stat., as amended, 1066, 1082; 47 U.S.C. 154, 303)

Adopted: June 25, 1969.

Released: June 27, 1969.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,[1]
[SEAL] BEN F. WAPLE,
Secretary.

In Part 0 of Chapter 1 of Title 47, Code of Federal Regulations, § 0.281(kk) is amended to read as follows:

§ 0.281 Authority delegated.

* * * * *

(kk) For waiver of the provisions of §§ 73.117 and 73.287 of this chapter to permit multiple-city identification, where the additional community or communities with which identification is sought are provided with the minimum principal city signal intensity specified in §§ 73.188(b) and 73.315(a) of this chapter for AM and FM broadcast stations, respectively; and to dismiss requests for multiple-city identification which do not meet principal city coverage requirements.

[Docket No. 18541 etc.; FCC 69-701]

PART 73—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

Table of Assignments in Carthage, Miss. et al.

In the matter of amendment of § 73.202, Table of assignments, FM Broadcast Stations (Carthage, Miss., Mifflinburg, Pa., Forest City, Iowa, Hampton, S.C., Tylertown, Miss., French Lick, Ind., New Boston, Tex., Breckenridge, Minn., Minocqua, Wis., Charleston, Miss., and Southampton, N.Y.); Docket No. 18541, RM-1396, RM-1398, RM-1401, RM-1410, RM-1411, RM-1412, RM-1415, RM-1419, RM-1421, RM-1430, RM-1433.

1. The Commission has under consideration its notice of proposed rule making issued on May 5, 1969 (FCC 69-475, 34 F.R. 7446), inviting comments on a number of changes in the FM Table of Assignments as advanced by various interested parties. All comments and data filed in response to the notice were considered in making the following determinations. There were no opposing comments filed. Except as noted, the population figures were taken from the 1960 U.S. Census. The following decision disposes of all subject petitions, except RM-1433, Southampton, N.Y., which will be included in a subsequent order.

[1] Commissioner Bartley absent.

2. RM–1396, Carthage, Miss. (Meredith Colon Johnston); RM–1398, Mifflinburg, Pa. (Wireline Radio, Inc.); RM–1401, Forest City, Iowa (Marvin L. Hull); RM–1410, Hampton, S.C. (Hampton County Broadcasters, Inc.); RM–1411, Tylertown, Miss. (Tylertown Broadcasting Co.); RM–1412, French Lick, Ind. (Wireless of Indiana); RM–1415, New Boston, Tex. (Bowie County Broadcasting Co., Inc.); RM–1421 Minocqua, Wis. (Tomahawk Broadcasting Co.); RM–1430, Charleston, Miss. (Dixie Broadcasting Co., Inc.). In the above cases interested parties seek the assignment of a first Class A channel in a community without requiring any other changes in the Table.[1] The communities range in size from 1,532 persons for Tylertown, Miss., to 2,930 persons for Forest City, Iowa. None of the communities are a part of an urbanized area (1960 Census) and each appears to warrant the proposed assignment. We are of the view that adoption of each proposal would serve the public interest and are therefore making the following additions to the FM Table of Assignments:

City	Channel No.
French Lick, Ind	261A
Forest City, Iowa	272A
Carthage, Miss	252A
Charleston, Miss	272A
Tylertown, Miss	249A
Mifflinburg, Pa	252A
Hampton, S.C	276A
New Boston, Tex	240A
Minocqua, Wis	240A

3. RM–1419, Breckenridge, Minn. On February 22, 1969, Interstate Broadcasting Corp., permittee of Station KKWB–FM, Channel 269A, Breckenridge, Minn., filed a petition seeking substitution of Channel 285A for 269A at Breckenridge, and modification of the KKWB–FM authorization to specify operation on Channel 285A.

4. In support of its petition, Interstate states that during equipment test operation on Channel 269A it received numerous complaints of interference being caused to reception of television Station KTHI–TV, Channel 11, Fargo, N. Dak., in the Breckenridge, Minn.-Wahpeton, N. Dak. area. As a result of the interference, regular program operation was only attempted for 2 hours over a 2-day period. The station has been silent since December 1968. A meeting during equipment tests was held with the area TV servicemen for the purpose of providing recommendations by the KKWB–FM engineers for eliminating the interference. The public was similarly informed through a release in the local newspaper. Petitioner notes that the majority of complaints appeared to be caused by overloading of TV receivers by the primary signal of KKWB–FM, which caused the receivers, in turn, to generate a second harmonic within themselves, the latter resulting in direct interference to the reception of the relatively weak signal of Channel 11. It is the opinion of the petitioner that a majority of the complaints could be eliminated by filters applied at the TV receivers and tuned to the KKWB–FM fundamental frequency. However, claiming that many complainants are reluctant to go to the expense of a corrective filter installation, it is urged that it would be in the public interest to permit the proposed channel change for KKWB–FM in order to avoid the TV interference experienced.

5. As we noted in the notice, by virtue of the general availability of other channels in the area, it does not appear that any community having a probable future need would be deprived of a channel by the proposed change, nor does it appear that the problem would be transferred to another area. The proposal therefore conforms with our announced policy concerning FM channel changes to avoid television interference. See public notice: Policy to Govern the Change in FM Channels to Avoid Interference to Television Reception, released February 3, 1966, FCC 66–106, 6 RR 2d 672. There were no comments filed in opposition to the proposal. We are therefore of the opinion that substitution of Channel 285A for 269A, at Breckenridge, Minn., is warranted and that modification of the KKWB–FM authorization accordingly would serve the public interest.

6. Authority for the adoption of the amendments contained herein is contained in sections 4(i), 303, 307(b), and 316 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

7. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That effective August 4, 1969, section 73.202 of the Commission's rules, the FM Table of Assignments, is amended to read, with respect to the communities listed below, as follows:

City	Channel No.
Indiana:
French Lick	261A
Iowa:
Forest City	272A
Minnesota:
Breckenridge	285A
Mississippi:

REGULATIONS AND STANDARDS FOR INSPECTION AND CERTIFICATION OF CERTAIN AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES AND PRODUCTS THEREOF

Notice of Proposed Rule Making

Pursuant to the administrative procedure provisions of 5 U.S.C. 553, notice is hereby given that the U.S. Department of Agriculture is proposing a revision of the Part 68 regulations (7 CFR Part 68) under authority contained in sections 203 and 205 of the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946, 60 Stat. 1087 and 1090, as amended (7 U.S.C. 1622 and 1624).

Statement of considerations. On June 5, 1969, a postponement of effective dates for revision of Part 68 regulations (7 CFR Part 68) was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (34 F.R. 8963) to allow adequate consideration to comments and views submitted by the rice industry. As a result of subsequent meetings with the rice industry, the following amendments are proposed:

1. Section 68.16a would be amended to read:

§ 68.16a Issuance of corrected certificate.

(a) If any error is made in an inspection, a corrected inspection certificate may be issued in accordance with instructions issued by the Director. The term "error" shall be deemed to include any error of commission or error of omission.

(b) The original and copies of the corrected certificate shall be issued as promptly as possible to the same interested persons as received the incorrect certificate.

(c) The corrected certificate shall supersede the incorrect inspection certificate previously issued. The corrected certificate shall clearly identify by certificate number and date the incorrect certificate which it supersedes.

(d) The issuing inspector shall obtain the original and all copies of the superseded incorrect certificate if possible. If the inspector is unable to obtain the original and all copies of the superseded certificate, he shall, to the extent possible, notify all parties to the transaction, to prevent misuse of the superseded certificate.

2. Section 68.21 would be amended to read:

§ 68.21 How to obtain an appeal inspection.

(a) An application for appeal inspection may be made by any interested party who is dissatisfied with the results of an inspection.

(b) The application shall be made in writing or by telegraph and shall be filed in the office of a Supervising Inspector.

(c) The inspection certificate for the inspection appealed from shall be submitted with the application or as soon thereafter as possible.

(d) This paragraph is applicable to rice inspection only: Except as may be agreed upon by the interested parties, the application shall be filed before the rice has left the place where the inspection appealed from was made and not later than the close of business on the second business day following the date of the inspection appealed from, which time of filing may be extended by the Supervising Inspector for good cause shown.

(e) Subject to the limitations in paragraphs (f) and (g) of this section, an appellant may request that an appeal lot inspection be based on the official file sample, or based on a new sample if the lot can be positively identified by the Supervising Inspector as the lot which was previously inspected and the entire lot is available for sampling and examination. However, only one appeal inspection may be obtained from any original inspection.

(f) Subject to the limitations in paragraph (g) of this section, at the option of the Supervising Inspector, an appeal lot inspection shall be based on the sample or samples which are considered most representative of the lot.

(g) An appeal inspection shall be limited to a review of the sampling procedure and an analysis of the official file sample when, as a result of the original inspection, the commodity was found to be contaminated with filth or to contain a deleterious substance. If it is determined that the sampling procedures were improper, a new sample shall be obtained if the lot can be positively identified by the Supervising Inspector as the lot which was previously inspected and the entire lot is available for sampling and examination.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments in connection with the aforesaid proposals should file same in duplicate with the Hearing Clerk, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Room 112, Administration Building, Washington, D.C. 20250, not later than the 30th day after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. All written submissions made pursuant to this notice will be made available for public inspection at the office of the Hearing Clerk during regular business hours (7 CFR 1.27(b)).

Done at Washington, D.C., this 26th day of June 1969.

Deputy Administrator,

milk solids in dry milk solids or condensed milk or skim milk products used for the fortification of, or as an additive to, Class I Fluid Milk products.

Proposal No. 4. Amend § 1133.40 by deleting in its entirety the following sentence: "If any of the water contained in the milk from which a product is made is removed before the product is utilized or disposed of by a handler, the pounds of skim milk used or disposed of in such product shall be considered to be an amount equivalent to the nonfat milk solids contained in such product, plus all the water originally associated with such solids."

Proposal No. 5. Amend § 1133.41(a) to provide that Fluid Milk Products concentrated and disposed of in packaged form shall be Class I in an amount equal to the skim milk and butterfat used to produce the quantity of such products disposed of.

[Docket No. 69-7; Notice No. 1]

INFLATABLE OCCUPANT RESTRAINT SYSTEMS

Advance Notice of Proposed Rule Making

The Administrator is considering the issuance of a Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard requiring the installation of, and specifying performance requirements for, inflatable occupant restraint systems or other passive occupant restraint systems which provide comparable protection in passenger cars, multipurpose passenger vehicles, trucks, and buses.

Effective restraint of occupants during motor vehicle crashes is a fundamental goal of the Administration's motor vehicle safety program. The value of safety belts, which are required by existing motor vehicle safety standards, in reducing deaths and injuries has been proven. Nevertheless, the Administrator has concluded that safety belts alone do not represent the optimum solution to the problem of preventing deaths and reducing the severity of injuries caused primarily by the "second collision" that occurs when the occupant is hurled against the vehicle's interior. The principal disadvantage of safety belts is that only a very low percentage of the motoring population, as reported in the President's recent Report on the Administration of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1966 (at pages 16-18), presently takes advantage of the life-saving restraint protection they afford.

For these reasons, the interests of motor vehicle safety demand the prompt development and installation of passive restraint systems. One very promising system, now in its final development stages, is commonly referred to as the "air bag," a device which, in the event of potentially injurious deceleration, automatically inflates in front of the occupant within a few hundredths of a second after the initial crash contact.

A device such as the air bag has enormous advantages over traditional restraint systems. It is automatic. It distributes the heavy loads generated in motor vehicle crashes over a large area of the body enabling occupants to experience much higher crash forces without injury. It cushions occupants during the crash.

Many leading safety authorities have endorsed the concept of providing air bags or other passive occupant restraint systems which provide comparable protection in motor vehicles. The National Motor Vehicle Safety Advisory Council, established by Public Law 89-563 to consult with the Secretary of Transportation on motor vehicle safety standards, in a formal recommendation to the Secretary recently urged an accelerated effort in implementing inflatable passive restraint system developmental efforts, including appropriate administrative actions to assist in the early installation of such a system in motor vehicles.

For these reasons, the Administrator has under consideration a motor vehicle safety standard that would require manufacturers to install some type of passive occupant restraint system in new motor vehicles. Because of the protection such a restraint system would provide, it is desirable that the system be provided in new motor vehicles as soon as possible, and not later than January 1, 1972.

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, or arguments pertaining to this advance notice. Comments must identify the docket number and must be submitted in 10 copies to the Docket Section, Federal Highway Administration, Room 512, 400 Sixth Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20591. All comments received before the close of business 90 days after the date this notice is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered by the Administrator. All comments will be available in the Rules Docket for examination both before and after the closing date for comments.

The Administrator requests the submission of information, including test results, test methods, test procedures, and other data concerning inflatable or other passive occupant restraint systems which provide comparable protection now under development or being considered. He particularly invites such information with respect to the following:

(1) Crash conditions under which the system should and should not deploy, e.g., deceleration levels and directions of impact.

(2) Deployment and deflation times and positioning of the system components, when inflated, in relation to the vehicle interior and vehicle occupants.

(3) Performance of the system in relation to the biomechanical characteristics of vehicle occupants, including recommended loads on the various portions of the human body, recommended noise and pressure levels, and other factors.

(4) The extent to which existing Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards dealing with impact protection and occupant restraint should be changed to reflect the issuance of a standard requiring installation of passive restraint systems.

(5) Design considerations such as reliability, maintenance, serviceability, environmental and other factors relating to the performance of such a system.

(6) Cost consequences of a standard requiring such a system, and the earliest practicable dates on which motor vehicles can be equipped with inflatable or other passive occupant restraint systems.

This advance notice of proposed rule making is issued under the authority of sections 103 and 119 of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1966 (15 U.S.C. 1392, 1407) and the delegation of authority at 49 CFR 1.4(c).

Issued on June 26, 1969.

F. C. TURNER,
Federal Highway Administrator.

[Docket No. 18588; FCC 69-707]

LICENSE TERMS

Notice of Proposed Rule Making

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter.

2. Public Law 87-439, 76 Stat. 58, approved April 27, 1962, amended section 307(e) of the Communications Act to remove the restriction against granting a license renewal in the Safety and Special Radio Services more than 30 days prior to the expiration of the license term. As a result, although the rules do not spell out the practice, in most of those services we currently treat applications for modification as applications for both modification and renewal and make grants for full 5-year terms, the maximum allowed under the Act. We hereby propose to amend the rules to reflect this practice.

3. In the Public Safety Radio Services, except in the Special Emergency Radio Service, modifications are normally granted only for the balance of the unexpired term of the license being modified. This is done so that practically all of the Public Safety Radio Services licenses in a particular state will expire on the same day, month, and year. The year of expiration is advanced in 4-year increments. The scheduled expiration dates vary from State to State. Thus, the expiration dates of licenses for State X would successively be July 1, 1969; July 1, 1973; July 1, 1977; for State Y they would be August 1, 1969; August 1, 1973; August 1, 1977; etc. Licenses for new stations are thereafter issued to expire on the State's next scheduled expiration date, except where that would result in less than a 1-year term, in which event the State's next succeeding expiration date is used. The same procedure is used to compute the term of a modified license issued during the last 12 months of the original license term. In the Special Emergency Radio Service we follow the practice, described in paragraph 2, of issuing licenses, modifications, and renewals for full 5-year terms.

4. To maintain the expiration schedule for Public Safety radio stations necessitates a sizable amount of work on the part of the Commission. The practice of issuing modifications for full 5-year terms would greatly reduce the number of renewal applications which we now have to process in the Public Safety Radio Services. We have found that about one-fourth of all Public Safety licenses are modified each year. If each were treated as a renewal, it would mean that over a 4-year period we would reduce significantly the number of applications filed solely for renewal. The renewal applications filed would be for only those station licenses not modified during the license term. Even as to those, there should be at least a 20 percent reduction in renewal processing workload inasmuch as those licenses would be renewed only every 5 years, instead of every 4 years as under the existing expiration schedule. It follows that there would also result a savings in processing time to the licensees, who would have fewer applications to be concerned with.

5. The current rule concerning license terms in the Disaster Communications Service, § 99.15, was adopted in contemplation of the use of an expiration schedule like that used in the Public Safety Radio Services. However, such a schedule is not used in the Disaster Communications Service. Accordingly, we propose to amend that section to reflect the actual practice followed, which conforms to the practice in the other Safety and Special Services.

6. In the Amateur Radio Service there are special operating time and code speed requirements which must be satisfied prior to a renewal grant. Therefore, a modification application is not routinely granted for a full license term, but only for the balance of the unexpired term, unless accompanied by a specific request for renewal and a statement concerning satisfaction of the renewal requirements. We contemplate no change in this practice and, therefore, propose no change in the Amateur Radio Service rules.

7. Accordingly, we propose to amend the rules in Parts 81, 83, 85, 87, 89, 91, 93, 95, and 99 as set forth in the attached appendix, so that they will reflect our current licensing practices and will conform the licensing practices in the Public Safety Radio Services to those of the other Safety and Special Radio Services.

8. Certain kinds of applications for radio stations (specified in section 309 of the Communications Act and § 1.962 of our rules) may not be granted earlier than 30 days following the issuance of a public notice. Generally, the public notice is required for new and renewal applications and also for applications for modification of licenses involving substantial changes. An application for minor modification of license of a 309(b) station will be granted, if in order, only for the remainder of the license term and, as provided by section 309(c) of the Act and § 1.962(b) of our rules, will not be put on public notice. However, when such an applicant requests a new full term in an application for a minor modification, we will treat the application as one for modification and renewal and will issue a public notice as required by the Act and our rules.

9. The proposed amendments of the rules are issued pursuant to authority contained in sections 4(i) and 303(r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

10. Pursuant to applicable procedures set forth in § 1.415 of the Commission's rules, interested persons may file comments on or before August 4, 1969, and reply comments on or before August 14, 1969. All relevant and timely comments and reply comments will be considered by the Commission before final action is taken in this proceeding. In reaching its decision in this proceeding, the Commission may also take into account other relevant information before it, in addition to the specific comments invited by this notice.

11. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.419 of the Commission's rules, an original and 14 copies of all statements, briefs, or comments filed shall be furnished the Commission.

[Docket No. 18589; FCC 69-708]

USE OF FREQUENCIES ALLOCATED FOR LAND MOBILE OPERATIONS ON AIRPORTS

Notice of Proposed Rule Making

1. In the second report and order in Docket No. 13847 (FCC 68-128, 33 F.R. 3114), released February 9, 1968, the Commission made available 10 frequency pairs in the Business Radio Service for use in connection with the servicing and supplying of aircraft at airports serving urbanized areas of 200,000 or more population. The new rules provide for the use of two-frequency communication systems at air terminals with a maximum permissible power of 20 watts output for the base-mobile frequencies and 3 watts input for the mobile only frequencies. Subject to certain antenna limitations, mobile stations may also be used to provide the function of a base station on the mobile only frequencies. The rule making also established criteria by which other users in the Business Radio Service could, on a geographic basis, share these frequencies. In or near urbanized areas of 200,000 or more population, low-power in-plant, yard area type Business Radio systems are permitted to use these frequencies to within 5 miles of the boundaries of established airports serving these areas.

2. A petition for rule making seeking to amend the Commission's rules governing the use of aviation terminal frequencies was filed by Aeronautical Radio, Inc. (ARINC), on May 31, 1968. In its petition, ARINC asked that § 91.554 of the rules be changed to allow base station operation on the mobile only frequencies with a maximum power output of 3 watts because the present limitation of 3 watts input provides neither the flexibility of use nor protection they believe desirable for this service. The petitioner requests that operation of low power stations near airports by other Business users be placed on a secondary noninterference basis to air terminal operations. In addition, ARINC asks for rule changes that would require frequency coordination between air terminal users and other Business users operating low power installations near the protected airports. These changes are requested because air terminal users are not, in ARINC's opinion, afforded adequate protection under the present rules.

3. ARINC believes that the present rule provisions will result in serious derogation of the air terminal use. They maintain that 3-watt mobile stations used as base stations, located 5 miles from an airport boundary and transmitting over a nonobstructed path, would override signals from hand held portable equipment on the airport. Even on a coordinated basis, ARINC feels that such operations could cause harmful interference to, and may impair, airport operations to an extent that will render them useless and ineffectual. In view of the fact that many of the subject channels will be shared by several airline users, they request that we provide an additional safeguard by adding the following conditions to rules governing their use: "Such operation will be on a secondary noninterference basis to Air Terminal use in protected areas. Prior coordination is required with the Air Terminal users in the associated area."

4. The provision for use of air terminal frequencies by other Business users at locations 5 miles or more from the boundaries of established airports serving the 87 largest urbanized areas is designed to permit more efficient use of these frequencies outside of aviation terminal locations. Power limitations and mileage separations established in Docket 13847 are believed to be adequate to prevent interference to air terminal operations. No new facts have been presented that would indicate that these provisions are not adequate. During the short time this geographic sharing provision has been in effect, we have had no reported cases of interference. We do not believe that sufficient operating experience has been accumulated under the new rule provisions to warrant modification at this time, and the request to place other Business use on a secondary noninterference basis will be denied.

5. The Commission recently adopted a memorandum opinion and order and notice of proposed rule making in Docket No. 18406, released December 18, 1968, which deals with possible changes in the rules to require frequency coordination for certain specific frequencies in the Business Radio Service including those made available for use at air terminals. In view of this, ARINC's request that we require frequency coordination for shared use of aviation terminal frequencies will not be considered in this proceeding.

6. We propose to grant the request for an increase in permissible power to 5 watts input on aviation terminal mobile frequencies. Other Business users sharing these frequencies at distances between 5 and 75 miles of the boundaries of airports serving urbanized areas of 200,000 or more population would, however, continue to be limited to a maximum of 3 watts input power. The increase in maximum power should permit the desired flexibility sought by the petitioner. Although petitioner asked for an increase in the permissible output power, to maintain consistency with other provisions of the rules, power will be specified in terms of input power to the final radio frequency stage.

7. The petitioner also requests that a few footnote be added to the rules governing use of the air terminal frequencies to provide for single-frequency simplex operation on either base or mobile frequencies on a secondary noninterference basis to, and with no protection from, normal two-frequency operations on the same frequencies. Simplex operation on base station frequencies is permitted under the present rules (limitation (35) of § 91.554(b)), and licensees of such systems are afforded no protection from interference from base stations of two-frequency systems. In addition, a mobile unit transmitting on a mobile only frequency may be used to provide the functions of a base station; however, the separation between the control point and antenna may not exceed 25 feet. In view of these provisions, we do not believe any further rule making looking towards base station use of mobile only frequencies is warranted. To provide the greater flexibility desired by the petitioner, we proposed to modify the 25-foot limitation to permit a greater horizontal separation between the antenna site and the control point. The modified rule will limit only the vertical separation to 25 feet, and the control point may be placed anywhere it may be needed on the air terminal site.

8. The proposed amendments, as set forth below are issued pursuant to the authority contained in sections 4(i) and 303 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

9. Pursuant to applicable procedures set forth in section 1.415 of the Commission's rules, interested persons may file comments on or before August 4, 1969, and reply comments on or before August 14, 1969. All relevant and timely comments and reply comments will be considered by the Commission before final action is taken in this proceeding. In reaching its decision, the Commission may also take into account other relevant information before it, in addition to the specific comments invited by this notice.

10. In accordance with the provisions of section 1.419 of the Commision's Rules, an original and 14 copies of all statements, briefs, or comments filed shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: June 25, 1969.

Released: June 27, 1969.

[Marketing Agreement 146]

PEANUTS; 1969 CROP

Incoming and Outgoing Quality Regulations and Indemnification

Pursuant to the provisions of sections 5, 31, 32, 34, and 36 of the marketing agreement regulating the quality of domestically produced peanuts heretofore entered into between the Secretary of Agriculture and various handlers of peanuts (30 F.R. 9402) and upon recommendation of the Peanut Administrative Committee established pursuant to such agreement and other information it is hereby found that the appended "Incoming Quality Regulation—1969 Crop Peanuts", "Outgoing Quality Regulation—1969 Crop Peanuts" and the "Terms and Conditions of Indemnification—1969 Crop Peanuts", which modify or are in addition to the provisions of sections 5, 31, 32, and 36 of said agreement will tend to effectuate the objectives of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and of such agreement and should be issued.

The Peanut Administrative Committee has recommended that the appended "Incoming Quality Regulation—1969 Crop Peanuts", "Outgoing Quality Regulation—1969 Crop Peanuts" and the "Terms and Conditions of Indemnification—1969 Crop Peanuts" be issued so as to implement and effectuate the provisions of the aforementioned sections of the marketing agreement. The 1969 peanut crop year begins July 1 and procedures and regulations for operations under the agreement should be established thereby affording handlers maximum time to plan their operations accordingly. The handlers of peanuts who will be affected hereby have signed the marketing agreement authorizing the issuance hereof, they are represented on the Committee which has prepared and recommended these quality regulations and terms and conditions of indemnification for approval.

Upon consideration of the Committee recommendation and other available information the appended "Incoming Quality Regulation—1969 Crop Peanuts", "Outgoing Quality Regulation—1969 Crop Peanuts" and the "Terms and Conditions of Indemnification—1969 Crop Peanuts" are hereby approved this 27th day of June, 1969.

Dated: June 27, 1969.

FLOYD F. HEDLUND,
Director,
Fruit and Vegetable Division.

INCOMING QUALITY REGULATION—1969 CROP PEANUTS

The following modify section 5 of the peanut marketing agreement and modify or are in addition to the restrictions of section 31 on handler receipts or acquisitions of 1969 crop peanuts:

(a) Modification of section 5, paragraphs (b), (c), and (d). Paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) of section 5 of the peanut marketing agreement are modified as to 1969 crop farmers stock peanuts to read respectively as follows:

(b) Segregation 1. "Segregation 1 peanuts" means farmers stock peanuts with not more than 2 percent damaged kernels nor more than 1 percent concealed damage caused by rancidity, mold, or decay and which are free from visible Aspergillus flavus.

(c) Segregation 2. "Segregation 2 peanuts" means farmers stock peanuts with more than 2 percent damaged kernels or more than 1 percent concealed damage caused by rancidity, mold, or decay and which are free from visible Aspergillus flavus.

(d) Segregation 3. "Segregation 3 peanuts" means farmers stock peanuts with visible Aspergillus flavus.

(b) Moisture. Except as provided under paragraph (e) Seed peanuts, no handler shall receive or acquire peanuts containing more than 10 percent moisture: Provided, That peanuts of a higher moisture content may be received and dried to not more than 10 percent moisture prior to storing or milling. On farmers stock, such moisture determinations shall be rounded to the nearest whole number; on shelled peanuts, the determinations shall be carried to the hundredths place and shall not be rounded to the nearest whole number.

(c) Damage. For the purpose of determining damage, other than concealed damage, on farmers stock peanuts, all percentage determinations shall be rounded to the nearest whole number.

(d) Loose shelled kernels. Handlers may separate from the loose shelled kernels received with farmers stock peanuts, those sizes of whole kernels which ride screens with the following slot openings: Runner—$^{16}/_{64}$- x $^{3}/_{4}$-inch; Spanish and Valencia—$^{15}/_{64}$- x $^{3}/_{4}$-inch; Virginia—$^{15}/_{64}$- x 1-inch. If so separated, those loose shelled kernels which do not ride such screens, shall be removed from the farmers stock peanuts and shall be held separate and apart from other peanuts and disposed of as oil stock. If the whole kernels are not separated, the entire amount of loose shelled kernels shall be removed from farmers stock peanuts and shall be so held and so delivered or disposed of. The whole kernels which ride the screens may be included with shelled peanuts prepared by the handler for inspection and sale for human consumption. For the purpose of this regulation, the term "loose shelled kernels" means peanut kernels or portions of kernels completely free of their hulls and found in deliveries of farmers stock peanuts.

(e) Seed peanuts. A handler may acquire and deliver for seed purposes farmers stock peanuts which meet the requirements of Segregation 1 peanuts. If the seed peanuts are produced under the auspices of a State agency which regulates or controls the production of seed peanuts, such peanuts may contain up to 3 percent damaged kernels and Virginia type peanuts so produced and which are not stacked at harvest may contain up to 12 percent moisture. In the Southeastern Area and Virginia-Carolina Area, seed peanuts, other than the foregoing Virginia type, may contain up to 11 percent moisture and in the Southwestern Area up to 10 percent moisture. Seed peanuts may have visible Aspergillus flavus. However, any such seed peanuts with visible Aspergillus flavus shall be stored and shelled separate from other peanuts and any residual not used for seed, shall not be used or disposed of for human consumption unless it is determined to be wholesome by chemical assay for aflatoxin. Peanuts residual from those shelled and disposed of for seed purposes may be acquired by handlers if the seed sheller has signed the marketing agreement. If such peanuts have been shelled by a producer or seed sheller who has not signed the marketing agreement, the peanuts may be acquired only upon the condition that they are held and milled separate and apart from other receipts or acquisitions of the handler until inspected and certified (without having been washed, blanched, or cleaned with plastic pellets) as meeting the Outgoing Quality Regulation for the 1969 crop, as being either U.S. No. 1 peanuts or U.S. Splits of the U.S. standards for grades of shelled peanuts, and as being wholesome as determined by a chemical assay for aflatoxin. All chemical assays shall be by a Committee approved laboratory. If the peanuts fail any requirement they shall be disposed of by sale to the Commodity Credit Corporation, by sale for oil stock or by crushing.

(f) Oil stock. Handlers who are crushers may acquire as oil stock, peanuts of a lower quality than Segregation 1 or grades or sizes of shelled peanuts or cleaned inshell peanuts which fail to meet the requirements for human consumption. The provision of section 31 of the marketing agreement restricting such acquisitions to handlers who are crushers is hereby modified to authorize all handlers to act as accumulators and acquire Segregation 2 or 3 farmers stock peanuts for the sole purpose of delivery to crushers: Provided, That all such acquisitions shall be held separate and apart from Segregation 1 peanuts acquired for milling or from edible grades of shelled or milled peanuts and shall be disposed of only by crushing or by delivery to crushers and the consequent production of oil and meal.

(g) Segregation 3 control. To assure the removal from edible outlets of any lot of peanuts determined by the Federal or Federal-State Inspection Service to be Segregation 3, each handler shall inform each employee, country buyer, commission buyer, or like person through whom he receives peanuts, of the need to receive and withhold all lots of Segregation 3 peanuts from milling for edible use. If any lot of Segregation 3 farmers stock peanuts is not withheld but returned to the producer, the handler shall cause the Inspection Service to forward immediately a copy of the inspection certificate on the lot to the designated office of the handler and a copy to the Committee.

OUTGOING QUALITY REGULATION—1969 CROP PEANUTS

The following modify or are in addition to the peanut marketing agreement restrictions of section 32 on handler disposition of 1969 crop peanuts for human consumption:

(a) Shelled peanuts. No handler shall ship or otherwise dispose of shelled peanuts for human consumption with respect to which appropriate samples for pretesting have not been drawn in accordance with subparagraph (c) of this regulation, or which if of a category not eligible for indemnification are not certified "negative" as to aflatoxin, or which contain more than (1) 1.25 percent damaged kernels, other than minor defects; (2) 2 percent damage and minor defects combined; (3) 9 percent moisture in the Southeastern and Southwestern areas, or 10 percent moisture in the Virginia-Carolina area; or (4) 0.10 percent foreign material in peanuts of U.S. grade, other than U.S. splits, or 0.20 percent foreign material in U.S. splits and edible quality peanuts not of U.S. grade. Fall through in such peanuts shall not exceed 4 percent except that fall through consisting of either split and broken kernels or whole kernels shall not exceed 3 percent and fall through of whole kernels in Runners, Spanish or Virginia "with splits" shall not exceed 2 percent. The term "fall through" as used herein, shall mean sound split and broken kernels and whole kernels which pass through specified screens. Screens used for determining fall through in peanuts covered by this subparagraph (a) shall be as follows:

Grade and type	Screen openings
	Split and broken kernels	Whole kernels
Virginia	$^{17}/_{64}$-inch round	$^{15}/_{64}$ x 1-inch slot.
Runners	$^{17}/_{64}$-inch round	$^{15}/_{64}$ x $^{3}/_{4}$-inch slot.
Spanish and Valencia	$^{15}/_{64}$-inch round	$^{15}/_{64}$ x $^{3}/_{4}$-inch slot.

(Runners, Spanish or Virginia "with splits" means shelled peanuts which do not contain more than (a) 15 percent splits, (b) for Runners or Spanish 2 percent whole kernels which will pass through $^{15}/_{64}$ x $^{3}/_{4}$ slot screen and for Virginias a $^{15}/_{64}$ x 1 slot screen, and (c) otherwise meet the specifications of U.S. No. 1 grade).

(b) Cleaned inshell peanuts. No handler shall ship or otherwise dispose of cleaned inshell peanuts for human consumption: (1) with more than 1 percent kernels with mold present unless a sample of such peanuts, drawn by an inspector of the Federal or Federal-State Inspection Service, was analyzed chemically by laboratories approved by the Committee or by a Consumer and Marketing Service laboratory (hereinafter referred to as "C&MS laboratory") and found to be wholesome relative to aflatoxin; (2) with more than 2 percent peanuts with damaged kernels; (3) with more than 10 percent moisture; or (4) with more than 0.50 percent foreign material.

(c) Pretesting shelled peanuts. Each handler shall cause appropriate samples of each lot of shelled peanuts to be drawn by an inspector of the Federal or Federal-State Inspection Service and sent as requested by the handler or buyer, for aflatoxin assay to a C&MS laboratory or a laboratory listed on the most recent Committee list of approved laboratories. The gross amount of peanuts drawn shall be large enough to provide for a grade analysis, for a grading check sample, for an original 12-pound, "A" sample for aflatoxin assay and for two 12-pound, "B" and "C", aflatoxin assay check samples. Upon the Committee finding, on the basis of original assays, that climatic conditions in any Production Area or State thereof were not conducive to the growth of Aspergillus flavus, it may suspend with the approval of the Secretary the drawing of "B" and "C" check samples on peanuts from such origins. All "B" and "C" check samples shall be analyzed in C&MS or designated laboratories. Additional 12-pound samples, "D" and "E" and so on, may be drawn when requested by the buyer and he accepts the costs. If the Federal or Federal-State inspector has access to a "sub-sampling mill", approved by the Peanut Administrative Committee, the sample may be ground in such mill, and the inspector shall forward an appropriate subsample to the laboratory, specified by the handler or buyer, for assay. Each "A" sample, or each "A" subsample, shall be accompanied by a notice of sampling, signed by the inspector, containing, at least, identifying information as to the handler (shipper), the buyer (receiver) if known, and the positive lot identification of the shelled peanuts. A copy of such notice on each lot shall be sent to the Committee office. All assay samples shall be positive lot identified and the "B" and "C" samples held by the Service for 30 days, after delivery of the "A" sample, and delivered for assay upon call of the laboratory or the Committee and at the Committee expense. The cost of drawing the "A", "B" and "C" samples and postage for mailing the "A" sample or subsample shall be borne by the handler. When the "A" sample has not been analyzed within 30 days from date of delivery of the "A" sample, and a second set of "B" and "C" samples must be drawn, the cost of drawing and mailing such samples shall be for the account of the holder of the peanuts. Cost of the assay on the "A" sample shall be for the account of the buyer of the lot and of the "B" and "C" samples for Committee account. If the handler elects to pay for the assay of the "A" sample, he shall charge the buyer when he invoices the peanuts and, if more than one buyer, on a pro rata basis. The results of each assay shall be reported to the buyer listed in the notice of sampling and, if the handler desires, to the handler. If the buyer is not listed in the notice, the results of the assay shall be reported to the handler who shall promptly give notice, or cause notice to be given, to the buyer of the contents thereof.

(d) Identification. Each lot of shelled or cleaned inshell peanuts shipped or otherwise disposed of for human consumption shall be identified by positive lot identification procedures. For the purpose of this regulation, "positive lot identification" of a lot of shelled or inshell peanuts is a means of relating the inspection certificate to the lot covered so that there can be no doubt that the peanuts delivered are the same ones described on the inspection certificate. Such procedure on bagged peanuts shall consist of attaching a lot numbered tag bearing the official stamp of the Federal or Federal-State Inspection Service to each filled bag in the lot. The tag shall be sewed (machine sewed if shelled peanuts) into the closure of the bag except that in plastic bags the tag shall be inserted prior to sealing so that the official stamp is visible. Any peanuts moved in bulk or bulk bins shall have their lot identity maintained by sealing the conveyance and if in other containers by other means acceptable to the Federal or Federal-State inspectors and to the Committee. All lots of shelled or cleaned inshell peanuts shall be handled, stored, and shipped under positive lot identification procedures.

(e) Reinspection. Whenever the Committee has reason to believe that peanuts may have been damaged or deteriorated while in storage, the Committee may reject the then effective inspection certificate and may require the owner of the peanuts to have a reinspection to establish whether or not such peanuts may be disposed of for human consumption.

(f) Interplant transfer. Until such time as procedures permitting interplant or cold storage movement are established by the Committee, no handler shall so move, beyond the surveillance of the on-premises Federal-State inspector, cleaned inshell or shelled peanuts which have been bagged and tagged for handling under positive lot identification, unless such peanuts have been inspected and certified as meeting the outgoing quality regulation. However, any handler may transfer peanuts not so prepared from one plant owned by him to another of his plants or to commercial storage, without having such peanuts inspected and certified as meeting quality requirements, but such transfer shall be only to points within the same production area and ownership shall have been retained by the handler. Upon any transferred peanuts being disposed of for human consumption, they shall meet all the requirements applicable to such peanuts.

(g) Loose shelled kernels, fall through and pickouts. (1) Loose shelled kernels which do not ride screens with the following slot openings: Runner—$^{16}/_{64}$- x $^{3}/_{4}$-inch; Spanish and Valencia—$^{15}/_{64}$- x $^{3}/_{4}$-inch; Virginia—$^{15}/_{64}$- x 1-inch; shall be disposed of only by sale as oil stock or by crushing. Fall through may be sold, as to qualities acceptable to it, to the Commodity Credit Corporation and the balance shall be sold as oil stock or crushed. Pickouts shall be sold as oil stock or crushed. For the purpose of this regulation: the term "non-edible quality peanuts described in paragraph (g) (1)" means loose shelled kernels, fall through, and pickouts; the term "loose shelled kernels" means peanut kernels or portions of kernels completely free of their hulls, either as found in deliveries of farmers stock peanuts or those which fail to ride the screens (U.S. No. 1 screens) in removing whole kernels; the term "fall through" has the same meaning as in paragraph (a) of this regulation; and the term "pickouts" means those peanuts removed at the picking table, by electronic equipment, or otherwise during the milling process.

(2) All loose shelled kernels, fall-through and pickouts shall be kept separate and apart from other milled peanuts that are to be shipped into edible channels or delivered to the Commodity Credit Corporation. Each such category of peanuts shall be bagged separately in suitable new or clean, sound, used bags or placed in bulk containers acceptable to the Committee. Such peanuts shall be inspected by Federal or Federal-State inspectors in lots of not more than 100,000 pounds and a certification made as to moisture and foreign material content.

(3) Each category of nonedible quality peanuts described in paragraph (g) (1) shall be identified by positive lot identification procedures set forth in paragraph (d) but using a red tag. Such peanuts may be disposed of only by crushing into oil and meal or destroyed, unless other disposition is authorized by the Committee and all dispositions shall be reported to the Committee on such forms and at such times as it prescribes. Such peanuts shall be deemed to be "restricted" peanuts and the meal produced therefrom shall be used or disposed of as fertilizer or other nonfeed use. To prevent use of restricted meal for feed, handlers shall either denature it or restrict its sale to licensed or registered U.S. fertilizer manufacturers or firms engaged in exporting who will export such meal for nonfeed use or sell it to the aforesaid fertilizer manufacturers. However, peanuts other than pickouts and meal from peanuts other than pickouts in specifically identified lots of not more than 50 tons each, may be sampled by Federal or Federal-State inspectors, or by the area association if authorized by the Committee, and tested for aflatoxin by laboratories approved by the Committee or operated by Consumer and Marketing Service, at handler's or crusher's expense, and if such meet Committee standards, the meal may be disposed of for feed use.

(4) Notwithstanding any other provision of this regulation or of the Incoming Quality Regulation applicable to 1969 crop peanuts, a handler may transfer such "restricted" peanuts to another plant within his own organization or transfer or sell such peanuts to another handler or crusher for crushing. Sales or transfer of restricted peanuts to persons not handlers under the agreement shall be made only on the condition that they agree to comply with the terms of this paragraph (g) including the reporting requirements.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF INDEMNIFICATION—1969 CROP PEANUTS

For the purpose of paying indemnities on a uniform basis pursuant to section 36 of the peanut marketing agreement effective July 12, 1965, each handler shall promptly notify, or arrange for the buyer to notify, the Manager, Peanut Administrative Committee of any lot of cleaned inshell or shelled peanuts, milled to the outgoing quality requirements and into one of the categories listed in the final paragraph of these terms and conditions, on which the handler has withheld shipment or storage or the buyer, including the user division of a handler, has withheld usage due to a finding as to aflatoxin content as shown by the results of chemical assay. To be eligible for indemnification, such a lot of peanuts shall have been inspected and certified as meeting the quality requirements of the agreement, shall have met all other applicable regulations issued pursuant thereto, including the pretesting requirements in (a) and (c) of the "Outgoing Quality Regulation—1969 Crop Peanuts", and the lot identification shall have been maintained. If the Committee concludes, based on assays to date or further assays, that the lot is so high in aflatoxin that it should be handled pursuant to these terms and conditions and such is concurred in by the Consumer and Marketing Service, the lot shall be accepted for indemnification. If the lot is covered by a sales contract, the lot may be rejected to the handler.

In an effort to make such eligible peanuts suitable for human consumption, and to minimize indemnification costs, the Committee and the Consumer and Marketing Service shall, prior to disposition for crushing, cause all suitable lots to be remilled or custom blanched or both.

"Custom blanching" means the process which involves blanching peanuts, and the subsequent removal of damaged peanuts for the purpose of eliminating aflatoxin from the lot. The process may be applied to either an original lot or the new lot which results from remilling. Custom blanching shall be performed only by those firms determined by the Committee to have the capability to remove the aflatoxin and who agree to such terms, conditions, and rates of payment as the Committee may find to be acceptable.

If the Committee and the Consumer and Marketing Service conclude that such lot is not suitable for remilling or custom blanching, the lot shall be declared to crushing and shall be disposed of by delivery to the Committee at such point as it may designate. The indemnification payment for peanuts in such a lot shall be the indemnification value of the peanuts, as hereinafter provided, plus actual costs of any necessary temporary storage and of transportation (excluding demurrage) from the handler's plant or storage to the point within the continental United States where the rejection occurred and from such point to a delivery point specified by the Committee. Payment shall be made to the handler as soon as practicable after delivery of the peanuts to the Committee. The salvage value for peanuts declared for crushing shall be paid to, and retained by, the Committee to offset indemnification expenses.

If it is concluded that the lot should be remilled or custom blanched, expenses shall be paid by the Committee on those lots which, on the basis of the inspection occurring prior to shipment, contained not more than 1 percent damaged kernels other than minor defects. Lots with damage in excess of 1 percent on such inspection shall be remilled without reimbursement from the Committee for milling, freight, or temporary storage and handling but otherwise shall be indemnifiable the same as lots with not more than 1 percent damage.

The indemnification value of peanuts delivered to the Committee for idemnification shall be the sales contract (including transfer) price established to the satisfaction of, and acceptable to, the Committee or if the lot is unsold the applicable market price determined by the Committee based on quotations in the most recent "Peanut Market News" report published by C&MS.

The indemnification payment on peanuts declared for remilling, and which contain not more than 1 percent damaged kernels other than minor defects, shall be the indemnification value referable to the weights of peanuts lost in the remilling process and not cleared for human consumption, plus temporary storage and transportation costs from origin to destination and return to point of remilling, except as hereinafter restricted, plus an allowance for remilling of one cent per pound on the original weight, less 1½ percent of the foregoing contract or market price multiplied by the original weight. On lots on which the remilling is not successful in making the lot wholesome as to aflatoxin, the indemnification payment shall be reduced by an additional 4 percent of the foregoing contract or market price multiplied by the original weight. If such peanuts are declared for custom blanching after remilling, the indemnification payment shall be the blanching cost, plus any temporary storage, the transportation costs from origin (whether handler or buyer premises) to point of blanching and on unsold lots from point of blanching to handler's premises and the value of the weight of reject peanuts removed from the lot. On lots which are custom blanched without remilling, the indemnification payment shall be determined in the same manner but it shall be reduced by 1½ percent of the foregoing contract or market price multiplied by the original weight. Moreover, blanching payments to each handler shall cover any loss sustained on all of his blanched lots of the crop caused by the market value obtained from sale of the blanched product being less than the computed indemnification payments for the original red skin lots.

Payment shall be made to the handler claiming indemnification or receiving the rejected lot as soon as practicable after receipt by the Committee of such evidence of remilling or custom blanching and clearance of the lot for human consumption as the Committee may require and the delivery of the peanuts not cleared for human consumption to the delivery point designated by the Committee. If a suitable reduction in the aflatoxin content is not achieved on any lot which is remilled or custom blanched or both, the Committee shall declare the entire lot for indemnification. However, the Committee shall refuse to pay indemnification on any lot(s) where it has reason to believe that the rejection of the peanuts arises from failure of the handler to use reasonable measures to receive and withhold from milling for edible use those Segregation 3 peanuts tendered to him either directly by a producer or by a country buyer, commission buyer or other like person.

Remilling may occur on the premises of any handler signatory to the marketing agreement or at such other plant as the Committee may determine. However, if the Committee orders remilling of a lot which has been found to contain aflatoxin prior to shipment from the locality of original milling, the Committee shall not pay freight costs should the handler move said lot to another locality for remilling. Where a lot has been shipped and the Committee orders remilling, the Committee will pay actual freight charges to the place of remilling but not in excess of the return freight from destination to the origin of the shipment.

Claims for indemnification on peanuts of the 1969 crop shall be filed with the Committee at least 30 days prior to December 31, 1970.

Each handler shall include, directly or by reference, in his sales contract the following provisions:

Should buyer find peanuts subject to indemnification under this contract to be so high in aflatoxin as to provide possible cause for rejection, he shall promptly notify the seller and the Manager, Peanut Administrative Committee, Atlanta, Ga. Upon a determination of the Peanut Administrative Committee, confirmed by the Consumer and Marketing Service, authorizing rejection, such peanuts, and title thereto, if passed to the buyer, shall be returned to the seller. Seller shall not be precluded from replacing such peanuts if he so elects.

Seller shall, prior to shipment of a lot of shelled peanuts covered by this sales contract, cause appropriate samples to be drawn by the Federal or Federal-State Inspection Service from such lot, shall cause the sample(s) to be sent to a C&MS laboratory or if designated by the buyer, a laboratory listed on the most recent Committee list of approved laboratories to conduct such assay, for an aflatoxin assay and cause the laboratory, of other than the buyer's, to send one copy of the results of the assay to the buyer. The laboratory costs shall be for the account of the buyer and buyer agrees to pay them when invoiced by the laboratory or, in the event the seller has paid them, by the seller.

Any handler who fails to include such provisions in his sales contract shall be ineligible for indemnification payments with respect to any claim filed with the Committee on 1969 crop peanuts covered by the sales contract.

In addition, should any handler enter into any oral or written sales contract which fixes the level of aflatoxin at which rejection may be made and hence conflicts with these terms and conditions, the handler doing so will not be eligible for indemnification payments with respect to any claim filed with the Committee on 1969 crop peanuts on or after the filing date of a claim under such contract, except upon the Committee's finding that acceptance of such contract was inadvertent; and for purposes of this provision a claim shall be deemed to be filed when notice of possible rejection is first given to the Committee.

Categories eligible for indemnification are the following:

Cleaned inshell peanuts.

(1) U.S. Jumbos.
(2) U.S. Fancy Handpicks.
(3) Valencia—Roasting Stock.[1]

U.S. Grade shelled peanuts.

(1) U.S. No. 1.

[Marketing Agreement 146]

BUDGET OF EXPENSES OF ADMINISTRATIVE COMMITTEE AND RATE OF ASSESSMENT FOR THE 1969 CROP YEAR

Pursuant to Marketing Agreement 146, regulating the quality of domestically produced peanuts (30 F.R. 9402), and upon recommendation of the Peanut Administrative Committee established pursuant to such agreement and other information, it is hereby found and determined that the expenses of said Committee and the rate of assessment applicable to peanuts produced in 1969 and for the crop year beginning July 1, 1969, shall be as follows:

(a) Administrative expenses. The budget of expenses for the Committee for the crop year beginning July 1, 1969, shall be in the total amount of $250,000, such amount being reasonable and likely to be incurred for the maintenance and functioning of the Committee, and for such purposes as the Secretary may, pursuant to the provisions of the marketing agreement, determine to be appropriate.

(b) Indemnification expenses. Expenses of the Committee for indemnification payments, pursuant to the Terms and Conditions of Indemnification Applicable to 1969 Crop Peanuts, effective July 1, 1969, are estimated at, but may exceed $3 million, such amount being reasonable and likely to be incurred.

(c) Rate of assessment. Each handler shall pay to the Peanut Administrative Committee, in accordance with section 48 of the marketing agreement, an assessment at the rate of $3.25 per net ton of farmers stock peanuts received or acquired other than those described in section 31 (c) and (d) ($0.25 for administrative expenses and $3 for indemnification expenses).

(d) Indemnification reserve. Monetary additions to the indemnification reserve, established in the 1965 crop year pursuant to section 48 of the marketing agreement, shall continue. That portion of the total assessment funds accrued from the $3 rate and not expended in providing indemnification on 1969 crop peanuts shall be placed in such reserve and shall be available to pay indemnification expenses on subsequent crops.

The expenses and rate of assessment are, under the agreement, on a crop year basis and will automatically be applicable to all assessable peanuts from the beginning of such crop year. The handlers of peanuts who will be affected hereby have signed the marketing agreement authorizing approval of expenses that may be incurred and the imposition of assessments, they are represented on the Committee which has submitted the recommendation with respect to such expenses and assessment for approval; and handlers have had knowledge of the foregoing in their recent industry-wide discussions and will be afforded maximum time to plan their operations accordingly.

NATIONAL DRUG CODE SYSTEM

Notice Requesting Drug Firms To Apply for Labeler Identity Code Designations

The Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, acting on the recommendations of the Task Force on Prescription Drugs, has directed the Commissioner of Food and Drugs to establish a National Drug Code System.

The National Drug Code System will provide an identification system in computer language to permit automated processing of drug data by Government agencies, drug manufacturers and distributors, hospitals, and insurance companies.

The system has been developed with Government-industry agreement and will consist of a nine-character National Drug Code (NDC). The first three characters are the Labeler Identity Code and will be assigned by the Food and Drug Administration. The next four characters are the Drug Product Identity Code and the last two characters are the Trade Package Identity Code and these will be assigned by the drug firms within parameters defined by FDA.

When codes have been assigned, a National Drug Code Directory will be published by the Government to provide a complete listing of drugs and their code designations.

The Commissioner of Food and Drugs therefore requests all firms which manufacture and label or which repackage and label drugs to apply for Labeler Identity Code designations. Initially, a code designation cannot be assigned to a person whose only connection with drugs is that of a retailer, wholesaler, jobber, or distributor, even though his name appears on the label as such. It is preferable that such applications be submitted within 30 days of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Applications should be addressed to the Director, Science Information Facility (CS-30), Food and Drug Administration, 200 C Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20204.

Along with their Labeler Identity Codes, all firms will be sent an instruction package outlining how product and trade package codes should be assigned, how drug product information should be returned to FDA for incorporation in the National Drug Code Directory, and how the code should be used in labeling.

Dated: June 24, 1969.

Notice of Proposed Issuance of Facility License

The Atomic Energy Commission ("the Commission") is considering the issuance of a facility license, substantially in the form set forth below, to the University of Illinois which would authorize the operation of an Advanced TRIGA nuclear reactor facility at steady-state power levels up to 1,500 kilowatts (thermal) on its campus in Urbana, Ill. Construction of the reactor was authorized by Construction Permit No. CPRR–105 issued August 9, 1968.

Prior to issuance of the license, the facility will be inspected by representatives of the Commission to determine whether it has been constructed in accordance with the provisions of Construction Permit No. CPRR–105. Also, the University of Illinois will be required to execute an indemnity agreement as required by section 170 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, and 10 CFR Part 140 of the Commission's regulations.

Within fifteen (15) days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, the applicant may file a request for a hearing, and any person whose interest may be affected by the issuance of this facility license may file a petition for leave to intervene. Requests for a hearing and petitions to intervene shall be filed in accordance with the provisions of the Commission's "Rules of Practice", 10 CFR Part 2. If a request for a hearing or a petition for leave to intervene is filed within the time prescribed in this notice, the Commission will issue a notice of hearing or an appropriate order.

For further details with respect to this proposed license, see (1) the application dated August 28, 1967, and supplements thereto, (2) a related Safety Evaluation prepared by the Division of Reactor Licensing, and (3) the proposed Technical Specifications, all of which are available for public inspection in the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. A copy of the Safety Evaluation may be obtained at the Commission's Public Document Room or upon request addressed to the Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D.C. 20545, Attention: Director, Division of Reactor Licensing.

NATIONAL AERONAUTICS AND SPACE ADMINISTRATION

Notice of Proposed Issuance of Construction Permit and Amended Facility License

The Atomic Energy Commission (hereinafter "the Commission") is considering the issuance of a construction permit, substantially as set forth below, to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) of Cleveland, Ohio. The permit would authorize NASA to make alterations to its Zero Power Reactor II (ZPR–II) which is located on NASA's Lewis Research Center site in Cleveland. The ZPR–II was operated at 10 watts (thermal) under Facility License No. CX–21 using a 30-inch core tank. On February 17, 1969, the Commission issued Amendment No. 1 to Facility License No. CX–21 which authorized NASA to partially disassemble the ZPR–II in preparation for installation of a 10-inch core tank and other minor alterations.

As the application is complete enough to permit all evaluations, upon completion of the alterations to ZPR–II in compliance with the terms and conditions of the application and the construction permit, and in the absence of good cause to the contrary, the Commission will issue to NASA without further prior notice an amended facility license. The amended license, substantially as set forth below, would authorize NASA to operate the modified ZPR–II at increased power levels up to 100 watts (thermal) and to receive, possess and use up to a 5-curie plutonium-beryllium neutron source in connection with operation of the reactor.

Within fifteen (15) days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, the applicant may file a request for a hearing, and any person whose interest may be affected by the issuance of this construction permit and amended facility license may file a petition for leave to intervene. A request for a hearing and petitions to intervene shall be filed in accordance with the provisions of the Commission's "Rules of Practice", 10 CFR Part 2. If a request for a hearing or a petition for leave to intervene is filed within the time prescribed in this notice, the Commission will issue a notice of hearing or an appropriate order.

For further details with respect to these proposed issuances, see (1) the application dated April 25, 1969, and supplement thereto dated June 5, 1969, (2) the related Safety Evaluation prepared by the Division of Reactor Licensing, and (3) the Technical Specifications, all of which are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. A copy of the Safety Evaluation may be obtained at the Commission's Document Room or upon request addressed to the Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D.C. 20545, Attention: Director, Division of Reactor Licensing.

FEDERAL MARITIME COMMISSION

[Docket No. 69-33]

ATLANTIC & GULF/WEST COAST OF SOUTH AMERICA CONFERENCE AGREEMENT NO. 2744-30, ET AL.

Order Instituting Proceeding

Nine conferences of carriers that operate between the United States and Central and South America have filed modifications of their basic agreements for approval in accordance with the provisions of section 15 of the Shipping Act,

[1] This item was not filed with the Office of the Federal Register but is available for inspection in the Public Document Room of the Atomic Energy Commission.

1916. The modifications have been assigned agreement numbers as follows:

Conference name	Agreement No.
Atlantic & Gulf/West Coast of Central America and Mexico Conference	8300–8
Atlantic & Gulf/West Coast of South America Conference	2744–30
East Coast Colombia Conference	7590–16
Leeward & Windward Islands & Guianas Conference	7540–18
United States Atlantic & Gulf-Haiti Conference	8120–8
United States Atlantic & Gulf-Jamaica Conference	4610–13
United States Atlantic & Gulf-Venezuela and Netherlands Antilles Conference	6190–23
United States Atlantic & Gulf-Venezuela and Netherlands Antilles Conference—oil Companies Contract Agreement (Proprietary Cargo)	6870–11
West Coast South America Northbound Conference	7890–5

Each such modification adds the following paragraph to the existing agreement:

No provision of this Agreement shall be deemed to prohibit the Conference from agreeing to, and establishing, through rates by arrangement with other modes of transportation; or to prohibit the publication and filing of through rates by the Conference, in conformity with any such rate agreement; or to prohibit the issuance by the member lines of through bills of lading pursuant to a published Conference tariff embodying through rates or the adoption by the member lines of any uniform through bill of lading which may be agreed upon, and formally adopted, by the Conference. However, no member line, either individually or in concert with any other member line or lines or any nonmember line or lines, may negotiate, establish, publish, file, or operate under any through intermodal transportation rates or issue any through bills of lading otherwise than pursuant to the formal action and authorization of the Conference.

Each agreement has also been modified to delete any language that would conflict with implementation of the new provision. The conferences state that they ask for authority to establish through rates between points in the United States and points in the countries they serve by arrangements with carriers of other modes of transportation and to permit each conference to adopt a uniform through bill of lading. Individual member lines are precluded from offering through service outside the conference mechanism.

By letter dated February 7, 1969, Mr. N. I. Bass, Attorney, Advisor, Section of Opinions of the ICC, stated that the subject agreements appear to be an attempt by the applicants to indirectly secure antitrust relief for rate-making activities among carriers of different classes which they cannot lawfully obtain directly under present statutory law. Since each of the carrier classes is subject to the jurisdiction of different regulatory agencies, Mr. Bass believes that neither the FMC nor the ICC has exclusive jurisdiction over the activities of all the carrier parties so as to confer the antitrust immunity sought by the conference. Mr. Bass further advised that the foregoing reflects his opinion and was not an official expression of the views of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

A request for an investigation and hearing was received from Mr. R. J. Riddick, Executive Secretary of the Freight Forwarders Institute, Washington, D.C. The Institute is a voluntary association of common carriers holding permits under Part IV of the Interstate Commerce Act. The protestants allege that the conference is attempting to assert jurisdiction over inland cargo movements in the United States and would presume to afford legal rights concerning such movements to its members which neither it nor the Federal Maritime Commission can legally give. Mr. Riddick states that, "If it is intended that the members of the Conference would perform functions set forth in section 402 of the Interstate Commerce Act, 49 U.S.C. § 1002, the performance of such functions would result in violations of that Act." (Section 402 entitled "Definitions and Exemptions" defines the functions of a freight forwarder.)

It is further alleged that the proposed expansion of ocean common carrier operations into the interstate commerce of the United States would result in confusion to the shipping public and would be detrimental to commerce and contrary to the public interest.

The last allegation is not supported in any way in the protest, and no reason appears why such effects will, or are likely to, occur. However, it is the Commission's view that Mr. Bass' letter and the arguments of the protestants, viewed in the light of the great interest in the establishment of through intermodal rates and services, raise timely questions not heretofore specifically ruled upon by the Commission.

It is therefore ordered, That a proceeding be instituted, pursuant to sections 15, 18(b), and 22 of the Shipping Act, 1916, to develop the issues raised by the protestants (except that allegation disposed of above), by Mr. Bass, and by the conferences' responses thereto, so as to assist the Commission in determining whether the nine pending agreements should be approved, disapproved or modified; and

It is therefore ordered, That such proceedings be limited to the filing of briefs and an oral argument on the following issues:

1. Whether the concerted activities stated in the new paragraph to be added to each agreement are approvable in the form requested by the conferences.

2. The extent to which the Commission has jurisdiction to approve such agreements.

3. The extent to which the Commission may accept for filing under section 18(b) of the Shipping Act, 1916, the through rate tariffs and through bills of lading that appear to be contemplated by the agreements.

4. The extent of the antitrust immunity that would stem from approval of the agreements.

It is further ordered, That notice of this proceeding be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Persons having a direct interest in the matter, other than respondents, protestant, and Hearing Counsel may file petitions to intervene on or before July 11, 1969, with copies to all parties, in accordance with § 502.72 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Affidavits of fact and memoranda of law shall be filed on or before July 22, 1969. Replies thereto shall be filed on or before August 6, 1969. An original and 15 copies must be filed with the Secretary, Federal Maritime Commission, Washington, D.C. 20573, with copies to all parties. Oral argument will be heard at a date to be announced later.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

[Docket No. 69–32]

[Agreement 9772]

NETHERLANDS-BELGIUM/U.S. NORTH ATLANTIC TRADE

Order of Investigation and Hearing Regarding Rate Agreement

The Commission has before it an application for approval of a rate agreement, pursuant to section 15 of the Shipping Act, 1916, between the Continental North Atlantic Westbound Freight Conference (Agreement 8210, as amended),

Hamburg-Amerika Linie, Meyer Line and Norddeutscher Lloyd in the trade from The Netherlands and Belgium to the U.S. North Atlantic. The agreement has been designated Federal Maritime Commission Agreement No. 9772. In pertinent part the agreement provides as follows:

That said parties, consistent with their obligations, if any, under any conference or other agreement in the trade covered by this Agreement, intend, by one or more representatives, to confer with each other and discuss together from time to time the matter of rates, charges, classifications, practices, and tariff matters appropriate and conformably with law and the interests of the foreign commerce between the United States and the continental ports of Europe in the Antwerp/Hamburg range to be charged or observed by them in the trade with such ports as indicated above covered by their services; and to agree on various rates, charges, classifications, practices, and related tariff matters, to be charged or observed by them respectively. Any rate, charge classification, practice, or related tariff matter of any party may be altered upon first giving the other parties at least 48 hours' advance notice thereof.

A number of questions concerning the approvability of this agreement are raised by the above language. The Commission's staff has been advised orally that any agreement as to rates is limited to the trade from The Netherlands and Belgium to the U.S. North Atlantic. Also, it is stated that the agreement authorizes any two or more parties to the agreement separately to confer, discuss, and fix rates. Such interpretations may not be apparent from a normal reading of the above language, hence, there is at the outset a question whether the agreement should be modified so as to state clearly its intended operation.

Futhermore, the scope of the agreement extends to the trade "between the United States and the continental ports of Europe in the Antwerp/Hamburg range," which includes trades covered by other approved rate agreements. Some of the parties to Agreement 9772 are also parties to the other approved agreements. It is not clear how this agreement is to operate in those trades in which some other agreement has rate authority or the effect of such dual operations.

Moreover, if Agreement 9772 is approved, it is not clear what the operation of the Continental North Atlantic Westbound Freight Conference will be once it becomes a single party to the agreement or whether its continued operation within a larger group of carriers is desirable.

The parties to the agreement submitted statements purporting to demonstrate a transportation need. In essence, the purported need is that without the said agreement there is a possibility or even likelihood of serious rate competition which would disrupt the trade in the future. There is no allegation, and available facts would seem to indicate otherwise, that any serious disruptive rate competition has occurred to date. This, plus the fact that one rate agreement for this trade is already approved and in existence, suggests that an investigation should be held to receive further evidence with respect to the alleged transportation need for Agreement No. 9772.

All of the parties to this agreement separately filed general rate increases to become effective on March 3, 1969. At present it appears that the rates of all parties are nearly identical. This raises a question whether the parties have acted in concert with respect to rates prior to receiving approval of their agreement.

Therefore, it is ordered, That pursuant to sections 15 and 22 of the Shipping Act, 1916, the Commission institute an investigation to determine (1) whether Agreement No. 9772 would be unjustly discriminatory or unfair as between carriers, shippers, or ports, or between exporters from the United States and their foreign competitors, detrimental to the commerce of the United States, contrary to the public interest, or in violation of the Shipping Act, 1916, and on the basis of the findings, to determine whether Agreement No. 9772 should be approved, disapproved, or modified; and (2) whether the parties have carried out this agreement prior to approval in violation of section 15;

It is further ordered, That the parties listed in the appendix attached hereto be made respondents in this proceeding;

It is further ordered, That this matter be assigned for public hearing before an examiner of the Commission's Office of Hearing Examiners and that the hearing be held at a date and place to be determined and announced by the presiding examiner;

It is further ordered, That notice of this order be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and that a copy thereof and notice of hearing be served upon respondents;

It is further ordered, That any person, other than respondents, who desires to become a party to this proceeding and participate therein, shall file a petition to intervene in accordance with Rule 5(1), 46 CFR 502.72 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure;

And it is further ordered, That all future notices issued by or on behalf of the Commission in this proceeding, including notice of time and place of hearing or prehearing conference, shall be mailed directly to all parties of record.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

JUNE 25, 1969.

Notice is hereby given that American Electric Power Co., Inc. ("AEP"), 2 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10004, a registered holding company, has filed a declaration and an amendment thereto with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act"), designating sections 6 and 7 of the Act and Rule 50 promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transaction. All interested persons are referred to the declaration, as amended, which is summarized below, for a complete statement of the proposed transaction.

AEP proposes to issue and sell, through an underwritten public offering, 2,540,097 additional shares of its authorized but unissued common stock, par value $6.50 per share. The terms of the proposed sale will be determined by negotiations with investment bankers. AEP believes that, under present conditions, a procedure involving competitive bids for an offering of AEP's common stock of between $80-$90 million would result in a lower price and a greater cost to AEP than the procedure herein proposed. As a result, AEP hereby requests the Commission to take appropriate action, pursuant to Rule 50(a)(5), to exempt the issue and sale of the additional common stock from compliance with the competitive bidding requirements of that rule so as to authorize AEP to enter into negotiations with investment bankers, under circumstances where competitive conditions are maintained, to establish the terms and conditions under which the additional common stock is to be issued and sold.

AEP proposes to use the proceeds of the sale of the common stock to pay and retire AEP's short-term debt, consisting of commercial paper and notes to banks, which is estimated not to exceed $85 million. Any excess proceeds will be used by AEP for other corporate purposes, including a cash capital contribution or contributions prior to December 31, 1969, to one or more of its public-utility subsidiary companies.

The declaration states that no State commission and no Federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transaction. Fees and expenses incident to the proposed transaction are to be filed by amendment.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than July 8, 1969, request in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by said declaration which he desires to controvert; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of such request should be served personally or by mail (airmail if the person being served is located more than 500 miles from the point of mailing) upon AEP at the above-stated address, and proof of service (by affidavit or, in case of an attorney at law, by certificate) should be filed with the request. At any time after said date, the declaration, as amended or as it may be further amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule 23 of the general rules and regulations promulgated under the Act, or the Commission may grant exemption from such rules as provided in Rules 20(a) and 100 thereof or take such other action as it may deem appropriate. Persons who request a hearing or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered will receive notice of further developments in this matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements thereof.

By the Commission.

METROPOLITAN EDISON CO.

Notice of Proposed Issue and Sale of Bonds at Competitive Bidding

JUNE 26, 1969.

Notice is hereby given that Metropolitan Edison Co. ("Met-Ed"), 2800 Pottsville Pike, Muhlenberg Township, Berks County, Pa. 19605, an electric utility subsidiary company of General Public Utilities Corp. ("GPU"), a registered holding company, has filed an application with this Commission, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act"), designating section 6(b) of the Act and Rule 50 promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transaction. All interested persons are referred to the application, which is summarized below, for a complete statement of the proposed transaction.

Met-Ed proposes to issue and sell, subject to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule 50 promulgated under the Act, $25 million principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, _____ percent Series, due August 1, 1999. The interest rate of the bonds (which shall be a multiple of one-eighth of 1 percent) and the price to be paid to Met-Ed (which shall not be less than 100 percent nor more than 102.75 percent of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest from August 1, 1969, to the date of delivery) will be determined by the competitive bidding. The bonds will be issued under an indenture dated as of November 1, 1944, between Met-Ed and Guaranty Trust Company of New York (now Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York), trustee, as heretofore supplemented, and as to be further supplemented by a supplemental indenture to be dated August 1, 1969.

The filing states that the proceeds (other than premium, if any, and accrued interest) from the sale of the bonds will be deposited with the trustee under the indenture and withdrawn from time to time against bondable value of property additions. It is estimated that at the issue date of the bonds approximately $19 million of such proceeds will be withdrawn. Such proceeds, together with funds made available from operations and cash contributions to Met-Ed by GPU will be used for the purpose of financing Met-Ed's business as a public-utility company, including reimbursement of Met-Ed's treasury for expenditures therefrom for construction purposes (including interest charged to construction) and to pay bank loans outstanding at the time of the sale of the bonds which loans are expected to aggregate $23 million. Any premium realized from the sale of the bonds will be utilized for the financing of Met-Ed's business including the payment of the expense of this financing. The balance of the proceeds from the sale of the bonds will be withdrawn from time to time during a period expected to be less than 1 year as bondable value of property additions permits. The cost of Met-Ed's 1969 construction program is estimated at approximately $102,100,000 and such costs and other cash requirements will be met from funds derived from operations, funds made available from cash capital contributions, funds from the issue and sale of the bonds, and funds from short-term bank loans, which bank loans are expected to aggregate $34 million at the end of 1969.

It is stated that the fees and expenses incident to the proposed transaction are estimated at $84,000, including counsel fees of $27,000 and accounting fees of $5,300. The fees and disbursements of counsel for the underwriters, to be paid by the successful bidders, will be supplied by amendment.

It is further stated that the issue and sale of the bonds is subject to the jurisdiction of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, the State commission of the State in which Met-Ed is organized and doing business. It is further stated that no other State commission and no Federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transaction.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than July 18, 1969, request in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by said application which he desires to controvert; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of such request should be served personally or by mail (airmail if the person being served is located more than 500 miles from the point of mailing) upon the applicant at the above-stated address, and proof of service (by affidavit or, in case of an attorney at law, by certificate) should be filed with the request. At any time after said date, the application, as filed or as it may be amended, may be granted as provided in Rule 23 of the general rules and regulations promulgated under the Act, or the Commission may grant exemption from such rules as provided in Rules 20(a) and 100 thereof or take such other action as it may deem appropriate. Persons who request a hearing, or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered, will receive notice of further developments in this matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements thereof.

For the Commission (pursuant to delegated authority).

WHITEHALL MANAGEMENT CORP. ET AL.

Notice of and Order for Hearing on Application for Exemption From Certain Provisions

JUNE 25, 1969.

Notice is hereby given that Pinestock Associates, Inc. ("Pinestock"), Fiduciary Equity Associates, Inc. ("FEA"), and Quasar Associates, Inc. ("Quasar"), 140 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10005 (collectively the "Funds"), all open-end investment companies registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("Act"), and Whitehall Management Corp. ("Whitehall"), a Delaware corporation which acts as investment adviser to the Funds, have applied pursuant to section 6(c) of the Act for an order exempting them from Rule 22c-1 of the rules and regulations under the Act, to the extent necessary to permit the shares of Funds to be priced for sale semimonthly. All interested persons are referred to the application on file with the Commission for a statement of the representations therein which are summarized below.

The Funds were organized to serve as investment vehicles for customers of Donaldson, Lufkin & Jenrette, Inc. ("DLJ"), an investment banking firm and member of the New York Stock Exchange which is the holder of all the outstanding shares of Whitehall.

All sales of shares of the Funds are made through DLJ and are made without the imposition of a sales charge. A minimum initial investment is required of $10,000 for Pinestock and FEA and $100,000 for Quasar. Each of the Funds has reserved the right to decline to accept subscriptions. Under the investment advisory agreements presently in effect, the computation of net asset values for each of the Funds is performed by Whitehall.

On March 31, Pinestock had net assets of $26,693,800 and 522 stockholders, FEA had net assets of $17,407,100 and 92 stockholders, and Quasar had net assets of $3,236,100 and 60 stockholders.

Rule 22c–1 provides, in part, that redeemable securities of registered investment companies must be sold, redeemed, or repurchased at a price based on the current net asset value (computed on each day during which the New York Stock Exchange is open for trading, not less frequently than once daily as of the time of the close of trading on such exchange) which is next computed after receipt of a tender of such security for redemption or of an order to purchase or sell such security.

Whitehall and the Funds propose to price shares for sale at the net asset value as of the close of trading on the New York Stock Exchange on the 15th day (or the first business day thereafter if the 15th day is not a business day) and on the last business day of each month. Subscriptions received prior to the close of the New York Stock Exchange on those days are to be priced at net asset value per share as of such close of business.

Subscriptions submitted prior to the two monthly dates on which sales will be made will not be accepted until such dates and will be revocable at the option of the subscriber at any time prior thereto. Redemption of shares by all three funds will be made daily, and any shares tendered for redemption and received prior to the close of the New York Stock Exchange on any day will be valued as of such close of business.

Shares of Pinestock and FEA are currently being offered on the semimonthly basis described above. Shares of Quasar are currently offered on a daily basis.

Whitehall represents that unless this application is granted, the amount of employee and supervisory time and payroll devoted to determining the net asset values of the Funds will have to be substantially increased.

In the case of each of the Funds, the investment advisory fee paid to Whitehall is based on performance but is never less than certain costs assumed by Whitehall, including the cost of determining net asset value. In any year in which such costs are greater than the performance fee, the difference, including the cost of determining net asset value on a daily basis, would be borne by shareholders of the Funds. In a year in which the performance fee is greater than the certain costs, the increased cost due to daily net asset determination might lead Whitehall to submit to shareholders of the fund concerned an amendment to the investment advisory contract to increase the performance fee.

In a 6-month period from October of 1968, through March of 1969, 112 sales (exclusive of dividend reinvestment) and 88 redemptions were made in Pinestock, and 66 sales (exclusive of dividend reinvestment) and 15 redemptions were made in FEA. Since sales were made only semimonthly, prices for shares of Pinestock and FEA were computed at other dates only when requests for redemptions were made. During the 6-month period, requests for redemptions were received and prices on shares computed on days other than the normal semimonthly pricing days, 26 times for Pinestock and one time for FEA.

Applicants represent that the proposed pricing method, under which shares are prospectively valued, is consistent with the objective of Rule 22c–1 to prevent dilution in the value of shares and short-term speculation resulting from sale of shares at a previously determined price.

Section 6(c) of the Act provides, in part, that the Commission may conditionally or unconditionally exempt any person, security or transaction, or any class or classes of persons, securities, or transactions from any provision of the Act or of any rule or regulation under the Act, if and to the extent that such exemption is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and consistent with the protection of investors and the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of the Act.

It appears to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors that a hearing be held with respect to the said application.

It is ordered, Pursuant to section 40(a) of the Act, that a hearing on the aforesaid application under the applicable provisions of the Act and the rules of the Commission thereunder be held on the 29th day of July 1969 at 10 a.m. in the offices of the Commission, 500 North Capitol Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20549. At such time the Hearing Room Clerk will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held. Any person, other than the Applicants, desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in the proceeding is directed to file with the Secretary of the Commission, on or before the 25th day of July 1969, his application pursuant to Rule 9(c) of the Commission's rules of practice. A copy of such request shall be served personally or by mail (airmail if the person being served is located more than 500 miles from the point of mailing) upon Applicants at the address noted above, and proof of service (by affidavit, or, in the case of an attorney at law by certificate) shall be filed contemporaneously with the request. Persons filing an application to participate or be heard will receive notice of any adjournment of the hearing as well as other actions of the Commission involving the subject matter of these proceedings.

It is further ordered, That any officer or officers of the Commission to be designated by it for that purpose shall preside at said hearing. The officer so designated is hereby authorized to exercise all the powers granted to the Commission under sections 41 and 42(b) of the Act, and to a hearing officer under the Commission's rules of practice.

The Division of Corporate Regulation has advised the Commission that it has made a preliminary examination of the application, and that upon the basis thereof the following matters are presented for consideration without prejudice to its specifying additional matters upon further examination:

(1) Whether the proposed manner of pricing complies with Rule 22c–1.

(2) Whether the exemption requested is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and consistent with the protection of investors and the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of the Act.

It is further ordered, That at the aforesaid hearing attention be given to the foregoing matters.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall give notice of the aforesaid hearing by mailing copies of this order by certified mail to the Applicants and that notice to all persons shall be given by publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER; and that a general release of the Commission in respect of this order be distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases.

By the Commission.

[No. 11761]

ILLINOIS CENTRAL RAILROAD CO.

Iowa Passenger Fares and Charges

JUNE 20, 1969.

Notice is hereby given that the Illinois Central Railroad Co., through its attorneys named below, has filed a petition with the Interstate Commerce Commission, praying that the Commission modify its outstanding orders in this proceeding to allow the petitioner to increase its intrastate passenger fares within the State of Iowa by eliminating a 10 percent discount on round-trip passenger fares.

The petitioner points out that effective June 15, 1969, new interstate round-trip fares were established at strictly double the one-way fare on the respective class of service (thereby eliminating the 10 percent discount on interstate fares); that interstate and intrastate passengers are transported on the same trains under the same conditions; that, therefore, intrastate passenger fares maintained at a lower level than the prevailing level of interstate passenger fares would cause difficulties; and that since maximum intrastate passenger fares are fixed by State statute (fares in excess thereof, which would result from the sought increases herein, not being subject to the jurisdiction of the regulatory body of that State, namely, the Iowa State Commerce Commission), modifications producing fares in excess of the State statutory limits are solely within the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission, if required because of the burdensome effect of the intrastate fares and practices on interstate commerce, pursuant to section 13 of the Interstate Commerce Act.

Any persons interested in any of the matters in the petition may, on or before 30 days from the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, file replies to the petition supporting or opposing the determination sought. An original and 15 copies of such replies must be filed with the Commission and must show service of two copies upon either J. W. Foster or Kenneth L. Novander, 135 East 11th Place, Chicago, Ill. 60605. Thereafter, the Commission will proceed to render its decision in this matter, including the observance of any additional requirements that appear warranted to assure due process of law.

Notice of the filing of this petition will be given by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

ATCHISON, TOPEKA, AND SANTA FE RAILWAY CO. ET AL.

Texas Intrastate Passenger Coach Fares

JUNE 20, 1969.

Notice is hereby given that the common carriers by railroad shown below have, through their attorneys, filed a petition with the Interstate Commerce Commission for modification of the outstandings orders of the Commission in these proceedings.

The petitioners point out that effective June 15, 1969, the basic interstate one-way and round-trip coach fares will be increased by 5 percent; that the maximum intrastate passenger fares are fixed by statute of the Legislature of the State of Texas, fares in excess thereof not being subject to the jurisdiction of the regulatory body of that State (Railroad Commission); and that interstate and intrastate passengers are transported on the same trains, the transportation conditions of the one being no more favorable than those in respect to the other. Wherefore, the petitioners pray that this Commission modify the outstanding orders in these proceedings to the extent necessary to enable them to establish and maintain the sought 5 percent increase in passenger fares applicable on intrastate movements within the State of Texas.

The petitioners are: The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Co.; The Kansas City Southern Railway Co.; Missouri Pacific Railroad Co.; Southern Pacific Co.; and The Texas and Pacific Railway Co.;

Any persons interested in any of the matters in the petition may, on or before 30 days from the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, file replies to the petition supporting or opposing the determination sought. An original and 15 copies of such replies must be filed with the Commission and must show service of two copies upon either J. D. Feeney or James W. Nisbet, 280 Union Station Building, Chicago, Ill. 60606. Thereafter, the Commission will proceed to render its decision in this matter, including the observance of any additional requirements that may appear warranted to assure due process of law.

[1] Embraces also: No. 28846, Increases in Texas Rates, Fares and Charges, and No. 33683 Texas Intrastate Passenger Coach fares.

Notice of the filing of this petition will be given by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Chapter IX—Consumer and Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders; Fruits, Vegetables, Nuts), Department of Agriculture

[Valencia Orange Reg. 283]

PART 908—VALENCIA ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

Limitation of Handling

§ 908.583 Valencia Orange Regulation 283.

(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 908, as amended (7 CFR Part 908), regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674), and upon the basis of the recommendations and information submitted by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such Valencia oranges, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. The committee held an open meeting during the current week, after giving due notice thereof, to consider supply and market conditions for Valencia oranges and the need for regulation; interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein were promptly submitted to the Department after such meeting was held; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such Valencia oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period herein specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject hereto which cannot be completed on or before the effective date hereof. Such committee meeting was held on July 1, 1969.

(b) Order. (1) The respective quantities of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California which may be handled during the period July 4, 1969, through July 10, 1969, are hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: 140,000 cartons;

(ii) District 2: 212,000 cartons;

(iii) District 3: 48,000 cartons.

(2) As used in this section, "handler," "District 1," "District 2," "District 3," and "carton" have the same meaning as when used in said amended marketing agreement and order.

Dated: July 2, 1969.

Title 14—AERONAUTICS AND SPACE

Chapter I—Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation

SUBCHAPTER E—AIRSPACE

[Airspace Docket No. 69-WA-23]

PART 71—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS, CONTROLLED AIRSPACE, AND REPORTING POINTS

Alteration of Control Zone, Transition Area, and Additional Control Areas

The purpose of these amendments to Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is to increase the effective hours of controlled airspace near Point Barrow, Alaska.

The Point Barrow Flight Service Station (FSS) has been operating on a part-time basis (0600-2200 Monday-Friday and 0600-1800 Saturday-Sunday) and since the FSS provides the necessary communication link for air traffic control service, the effective hours of the associated controlled airspace has coincided with the operational hours of the FSS. Beginning July 24, 1969, the Point Barrow FSS will operate continuously and air traffic control service will be available on a continuous basis. Therefore, for the safety of aircraft conducting instrument flight rule operations, it is necessary to increase the effective hours of controlled airspace in the Point Barrow area.

Air Traffic in the North Slope area of Alaska continues to increase rapidly as a result of oil discoveries in the Prudhoe Bay area. The hours of operation of the Point Barrow FSS were recently increased from 70 to 104 hours per week. Prior to the increase, the average number of aircraft handled by the FSS was 717 per week. Since the increase in hours of operation, the average has been 1717 per week. A corresponding increase is expected when the flight service station commences 24 hour operation.

Since this action involves, in part, the use of navigable airspace outside the United States, the Administrator has consulted with the Secretary of State and Secretary of Defense in accordance with the provisions of Executive Order 10854.

Since these amendments are in the interest of safety, the Administrator has determined that notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable.

In consideration of the foregoing, Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended, effective 0901 G.m.t., July 24, 1969, as hereinafter set forth.

1. Section 71.163 (34 F.R. 5449) is amended as follows:

a. In Bettles, Alaska, "This additional control area is effective during the specific dates and times established in advance by a Notice to Airmen and continuously published in the Alaska Airman's Guide and Chart Supplement." is deleted.

b. In Umiat/Point Barrow, Alaska, all after "Point Barrow, Alaska, RBN." is deleted.

c. In Point Barrow/Barter Island, Alaska, all after "Barter Island, Alaska, RBN." is deleted.

2. In § 71.171 (34 F.R. 4557) Point Barrow, Alaska, is amended by deleting all after "8 miles west of the RBN."

3. In § 71.181 (34 F.R. 4637) Point Barrow, Alaska, is amended by deleting all after "longitude 156° 43'00" W."

Issued in Washington, D.C., on June 27, 1969.

T. MCCORMACK,
Acting Chief, Airspace, and Air Traffic Rules Division.

SUBCHAPTER F—AIR TRAFFIC AND GENERAL OPERATING RULES

[Reg. Docket No. 9664; Amdt. 656]

PART 97—STANDARD INSTRUMENT APPROACH PROCEDURES

Miscellaneous Amendments

The amendments to the standard instrument approach procedures contained herein are adopted to become effective when indicated in order to promote safety. The amended procedures supersede the existing procedures of the same classification now in effect for the airports specified therein. For the convenience of the users, the complete procedure is republished in this amendment indicating the changes to the existing procedures.

As a situation exists which demands immediate action in the interests of safety in air commerce, I find that compliance with the notice and procedure provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act is impracticable and that good cause exists for making this amendment effective within less than 30 days from publication.

In view of the foregoing and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (24 F.R. 5662), Part 97 (14 CFR Part 97) is amended as follows:

1. By amending § 97.11 of Subpart B to amend low or medium frequency range (L/MF), automatic direction finding (ADF) and very high frequency omnirange (VOR) procedures as follows:

STANDARD INSTRUMENT APPROACH PROCEDURE—TYPE NDB (ADF)

Bearings, headings, courses and radials are magnetic. Elevations and altitudes are in feet MSL. Ceilings are in feet above airport elevation. Distances are in nautical miles unless otherwise indicated, except visibilities which are in statute miles.

If an instrument approach procedure of the above type is conducted at the below named airport, it shall be in accordance with the following instrument approach procedure, unless an approach is conducted in accordance with a different procedure for such airport authorized by the Administrator. Initial approaches shall be made over specified routes. Minimum altitudes shall correspond with those established for en route operation in the particular area or as set forth below.

Chapter II—Civil Aeronautics Board

SUBCHAPTER A—ECONOMIC REGULATIONS

[Reg. ER-585, Amdt. 6]

PART 225—TARIFFS OF CERTAIN CERTIFICATED CARRIERS; TRADE AGREEMENTS

Increased Authorization for Larger Intra-Alaskan Carriers

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 30th day of June 1969.

By circulation of EDR-158 (Docket 20725), dated April 10, 1969, and publication at 34 F.R. 6489, the Board gave notice that it had under consideration amendment to Part 225 to increase the trade agreement authorization to $50,000 for the two larger subsidized certificated carriers with intra-Alaskan routes. Comments were submitted by Wien Consolidated Airlines, an Alaskan air carrier, and Roy H. Smith, an Alaskan air taxi operator.

Although Wien Consolidated had sought at least $60,000 as a minimum authorization, it supports the $50,000 maximum and urges that the rule be made effective as soon as possible because trade agreements must become effective on or before January 1, 1970. The air taxi operator opposes any increase on the grounds that trade agreements will result in unfair competition with air taxi operators and will not benefit the taxpayer. These objections apparently arise from a misconception of the nature and purpose of the Board's permitting subsidized certificated carriers to exchange transportation for advertising. Part 225 exempts certain certificated carriers from the provisions of section 403(b) of the Act against bartering transportation within monetary limits, and is primarily designed to help subsidized carriers in a poor cash position to increase traffic through advertising and thereby reduce subsidy needs. Part 298, on the other hand, exempts air taxi operators from section 403 (except for tariffs for through rates filed jointly with certificated air carriers), and therefore air taxi operators are free to exchange air transportation for advertising in any amount.

After consideration of the comments received, we have determined to adopt the rule as proposed. The tentative findings set forth in EDR-158 are incorporated herein by reference and made final.

Accordingly, the Board hereby amends § 225.6 of Part 225 of the Economic Regulations (14 CFR 225.6), effective August 4, 1969, by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 225.6 Limitation on total value of trade agreements.

* * * * *

(b) $20,000 in the aggregate each year for airlines having gross transport operating revenues less than $2 million in the prior year and $50,000 in the aggregate each year for airlines having gross transport operating revenues of $2 million or more in the prior year, for the airlines identified under § 225.1(a)(4).

SUBCHAPTER A—PROCEDURES AND RULES OF PRACTICE

PART 15—ADMINISTRATIVE OPINIONS AND RULINGS

Use of Symbols and Names Having Fur-Bearing Animal Connotations in Labeling Textile Fiber Products

§ 15.351 Use of symbols and names having fur-bearing animal connotations in labeling textile fiber products.

(a) The Commission was requested to render an opinion with respect to the labeling of textile fiber products manufactured so as to simulate a fur or fur product.

(b) The requesting party proposed to use a word closely resembling the name of a fur-bearing animal, the fur from which is commonly used in the manufacture of garments, in association with a fabric simulating that fur.

(c) In the Commission's view, the use of the proposed term to describe such a fabric would probably violate the Textile Fiber Products Identification Act and/or that part of section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act which makes deceptive acts or practices in commerce unlawful.

PART 15—ADMINISTRATIVE OPINIONS AND RULINGS

Stereo Tape Cartridge Club; Consumer Credit Regulations Will Apply

§ 15.352 Stereo tape cartridge club; consumer credit regulations will apply.

(a) The Commission issued an advisory opinion in response to an application from a businessman who proposed to organize a stereo tape cartridge club.

(b) The Commission wrote the applicant:

(1) "You state that the idea of the club is to allow club members to exchange ten tape cartridges per month. A membership will cost $480, to be paid in 30 monthly installments of $16 each. That meets the definition of consumer credit which is credit offered or extended to a person primarily for personal, family, household, or agricultural purposes and for which a finance charge is imposed or which is repayable in more than four installments.

(2) "Enclosed for your guidance is a copy of the Federal Reserve press release of February 7, 1969, containing Regulation Z issued under the Truth In Lending Act. With some exceptions, the Federal Trade Commission has the principal enforcement duties. The Commission points out that all relevant provisions must be complied with by anyone extending or arranging for consumer credit. A potential club member in your program is entitled to full disclosure of all financial arrangements, including the fact that a third party may hold the promissory note for collection.

(3) "In addition to your straight retail memberships, you contemplate a 'cooperative' membership to be offered in return for certain promotional cooperation. The Commission invites your attention to the enclosed copy of the Commission's Guides Against Deceptive Pricing, effective since January 8, 1964. SUBCHAPTER E—RULES, REGULATIONS, STATEMENTS OF GENERAL POLICY OR INTERPRETATION, AND EXEMPTIONS UNDER THE FAIR PACKAGING AND LABELING ACT

PART 503—STATEMENTS OF GENERAL POLICY OR INTERPRETATION

Manufacturer of Consumer Commodities

The Federal Trade Commission promulgated an interpretation relevant to § 500.5 of the Fair Packaging and Labeling Act regulations on March 7, 1969. This interpretation appeared as § 503.3 of the regulations, in the FEDERAL REGISTER, Volume 34, No. 45. Subsequent to publication, a new question was submitted on behalf of an industrial firm, which requires further interpretation of § 500.5.

Basically, the question is whether, in the case of a parent corporation which wholly owns a subsidiary corporation, each of which has separate corporate identity, the requirement of § 500.5 of the regulations is met when the consumer commodities manufactured by the subsidiary are labeled to reflect the parent corporation as the manufacturer.

Since this question may have significance to industry in general, the Commission feels it appropriate to promulgate its interpretation of § 500.5 as it relates to the status of a parent corporation which wholly owns a manufacturing subsidiary retaining its own corporate identity.

Accordingly, pursuant to the provisions of the Fair Packaging and Labeling Act (sections 4, 6, 10, 80 Stat. 1297, 1299, 1300, 1301; 15 U.S.C. 1453, 1455, 1456) Subchapter E, Part 503 is amended by adding to § 503.3 a new paragraph (d) as follows:

§ 503.3 Name and place of business of manufacturer, packer, or distributor.

* * * * *

(d) A corporation which wholly owns a manufacturing subsidiary which retains its separate corporate identity, is not the manufacturer of the consumer commodities manufactured by the wholly owned subsidiary, but must qualify its name if it elects to use its name on the label. Such qualification may be "Manufactured for ----------", "Distributed by ----------", or "Manufactured by ---------- (XYZ, Inc., City, State, Zip Code, a subsidiary of ABC, Inc.)".

Issued: June 30, 1969.

By direction of the Commission.

Title 18—CONSERVATION OF POWER AND WATER RESOURCES

Chapter I—Federal Power Commission

[Docket No. R-362]

PART 2—GENERAL POLICY AND INTERPRETATIONS

Reliability and Adequacy of Electric Service

JUNE 25, 1969.

The Federal Power Commission is charged under section 202(a) of the Federal Power Act with the promotion and encouragement of the voluntary interconnection and coordination of the power systems of this nation in the interests of "assuring an abundant supply of electric energy throughout the United States with the greatest possible economy and with regard to the proper utilization and conservation of natural resources". Achievement of these goals requires coordinated efforts on an industrywide basis, at both the regional and national levels, to enhance reliability and adequacy of service.

Utilities in five regions of the country [1] have joined together to establish regional coordinating groups or councils, and these regional bodies have, in turn, recently joined with seven other individual utility systems, pools and planning groups to form a National Electric Reliability Council. These developments are encouraging.

This Statement of Policy defines two areas in which these voluntary efforts can be improved. First, we believe that actual participation on a nonvoting basis by the staff of the Commission and the State regulatory agencies in the regional council deliberations, and the deliberations of committees or working groups is needed to promote the cooperative efforts of the electric utility industry to coordinate its activities regionally in the interests of reliability and adequacy of electric service. Second, a major impediment to regional and and national planning for and evaluation of industry planning efforts to assure reliability and short- and long-range adequacy of electric power service lies in the unavailability of much of the basic data upon which such efforts necessarily depend. We are therefore establishing a system for reporting to the Commission and the State regulatory agencies, long and intermediate range system data on an annual basis by all segments of the electric power industry coordinated by and reported through the regional reliability organizations (where they exist) and the National Electric Reliability Council.

[1] Northeast Power Coordinating Council, East Central Area Reliability Coordination Agreement, Texas Interconnected System, Western Systems Coordinating Council, and Mid-Atlantic Area Coordination Agreement. The makeup, structure, staffing and authority of these groups differ.

The Commission finds:

(1) The notice and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U.S.C. 553, do not apply with respect to the amendment here adopted.

(2) It is appropriate and in the public interest in administering Part II of the Federal Power Act to promulgate Commission policy on participation of regulatory personnel in the deliberations of voluntary regional councils, and for the collection of data relating to reliability and adequacy of electric service.

The Commission orders:

A. Part 2, General Policy and Interpretations, Subchapter A, Chapter I of Title 18 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended by adding a new § 2.11, entitled "Reliability and Adequacy of Electric Service," as follows:

§ 2.11 Reliability and adequacy of electric service.

(a) Participation of Federal personnel in regional reliability councils. The Federal Power Commission's responsibilities under section 202(a) of the Federal Power Act, to promote and encourage voluntary efforts by the various segments of the electric utility industry to coordinate their activities, can best be carried out if the regional reliability councils or organizations of the utilities in various parts of the country permit participation by staff personnel of the Federal Power Commission. Participation on a nonvoting basis will not inhibit appropriate discussion, planning or review by the members of the regional councils. Accordingly, the regional reliability or coordination councils and any other systems or groups engaging in similar activities are requested promptly to permit nonvoting participation by FPC staff personnel.

(b) Participation of State personnel in regional reliability councils. It is the policy of the Commission that staff personnel of the State regulatory agencies of the particular region be permitted to participate in the regional reliability or coordination councils on the same basis as Commission personnel.

(c) Informational reporting. (1) Comprehensive data from all segments of the industry, including those operated by the Federal or State governments or political subdivisions, agencies or instrumentalities thereof, and cooperatively owned associations, will assist in accurate forecasting of the demand for power, and in planning generation and transmission facilities necessary to meet such demands.

(2) To this end we establish a system for the reporting on an annual basis of long- and intermediate-range system data by all components of the electric power industry reported through and coordinated by the regional reliability organizations and the National Electric Reliability Council. We ask that the data requested be furnished to the FPC and to the appropriate State regulatory agencies.

(3) In view of the need for flexibility in the development and operation of any such program, we believe it inadvisable to incorporate the specific information to be reported into a policy statement which, as part of the Commission's rules and regulations, can only be modified by formal procedures. Instead, we delegate authority to the Commission's Chief, Bureau of Power, subject to the general supervision of the Commission, to prepare, after appropriate consultation with interested parties, including the existing national and regional reliability organizations, the individual State commissions and their national association, the National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners, a list of requested data, together with the reporting specifications. The list and specifications will be maintained on a current basis as an appendix to the rules in this section, and will be supplied to each electric company, pool, or regional organization, the State regulatory commissions, and other interested parties.

(4) Upon receipt and evaluation of the requested data, the Chief of the Commission's Bureau of Power may, as conditions warrant, convene technical meetings of utilities or groups of utilities to explore in greater depth any problems raised by the reports, or call upon regional councils, or the National Electric Reliability Council, to conduct further studies on particular matters.

B. The specific information, which is proposed for inclusion in the initial information request, is set forth in Appendix A to this order. Interested parties having comments or proposals for modification thereof should make them in writing (if possible in triplicate) to the Commission's Chief, Bureau of Power, within 30 days from the issuance of this notice, since it is contemplated that the initial list of requested information and reporting specifications will be made final and released by September 1, 1969. It is also contemplated that initial reporting will be for the period 1970–79, inclusive, and that reporting will be made to the Commission and the State regulatory agencies not later than April 1 of the base year of the data reporting period.

C. The amendments prescribed herein will be effective upon the issuance of this order.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] GORDON M. GRANT, Secretary.

APPENDIX A

INFORMATION TO BE REPORTED ON COORDINATED REGIONAL BULK POWER SUPPLY PROGRAMS

Information to be reported annually should include:

1. Estimates of monthly peak loads and energy requirements for the first 5 years of the projection; and estimates of summer and winter peak loads for the remaining 5 years of the projection.

2. Estimates of reserve requirements, including a statement of criteria and techniques used to determine reserve.

3. For the first 7 years of the projection: itemization of all resources to meet the projected energy and capacity requirements of (1) and (2), including generating units, plants, and plant locations, types of generation, facility ownership, scheduled in-service dates of new units, and scheduled or estimated purchases from or deliveries to others. For the remaining 3 years: itemization of power supply resources planned, including the general location, type, and scheduled in-service date for each new facility and an estimate of purchases and deliveries of power coincident with summer and winter peak load demands.

4. For each steam generating unit having a capacity of 300 mw. or more, and for which construction is scheduled to begin within 2 years from the date of reporting, furnish information on the type of cooling system, basis of assurances that thermal discharge will fall within the limits of State and Federal standards or a description and status of studies designed to provide this assurance, the type of fuel to be used, and if fossil in nature, assurances that stack discharges will fall within limits acceptable under local or regional air pollution criteria, or description and status of studies designed to demonstrate compatibility with such criteria.

5. A plan of the transmission network of the region depicting all facilities of 110 kv. or higher which are in service at the time of reporting those projected for service within 7 years and those projected for service within 10 years. For facilities to be installed within 7 years, include a tabular summary of segments of the transmission network, including substations and interconnections between systems to be operated at a voltage of 110 kv. or higher, the tabulation to include ownership, voltage, number of circuits, number and size of conductors and dates of starting and completing construction.

6. Results of load flow studies on the network as it exists substantially at the time of reporting and as projected between 4 and 6 years in the future which would demonstrate the capability of the network to transmit peak loads and withstand the contingency considerations evaluated in accordance with an accompanying statement of system security criteria. These criteria should discuss consideration given to loss of, or delay in availability of, generation and transmission elements of the system and their internal effect upon the subject system, together with their external effect upon surrounding systems.

7. The results of regional and interregional network stability studies, including a description of the general criteria being followed and the particular contingencies assumed in each study; include also a description, preliminary results and schedules for completion of stability studies in progress. Where unusual stability problems are encountered, outline possible solutions being considered and actions being taken for resolution.

8. A functional plan and description of regional communication and control facilities, including satellite facilities for monitoring, display, and warning of important network operating conditions and characteristics; facilities for economic loading; and facilities for rapid analysis of the effect of losing selected system elements on network loading.

9. For each transmission facility designed to operate at a voltage of 200 kv. or higher and for which construction is scheduled to begin within 2 years from date of filing, include information on line routing, alternatives considered, consultations with local and State planning authorities and commissions, configuration of structures, location and type of principal substations and information depicting the relation of principal structures to their environments.

10. In format to be furnished by the Commission, provide information on the following:

a. Coordinated regional load shedding programs, including estimated steps of load reduction at various steps in frequency decline.

b. Emergency power and shutdown facilities to prevent damage to equipment if station loses system power.

c. Power facilities available for unit start-up in the event of total loss of system power.

d. Availability of continuous power independent of system sources for communication and control facilities.

e. Provisions for sustaining the operation of generating units on local loads.

f. Programs for training operating personnel concerned with system security.

g. Summary statement of step-by-step emergency procedures in force for restoration of system power and interconnected system power.

h. Maintenance practices relating to bulk power equipment and controls.

Title 20—EMPLOYEES' BENEFITS

Chapter III—Social Security Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

[Regs. No. 5, further amended]

PART 405—FEDERAL HEALTH INSURANCE FOR THE AGED (1965——)

Subpart A—Hospital Insurance Benefits

On November 15, 1968, there was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (33 F.R. 16657) a notice of proposed rule making with proposed amendments to the Hospital Insurance Benefits regulations designed to implement the pertinent sections of the Social Security Amendments of 1967 (Public Law 90-248), to provide guidelines for determining the accessibility requirement in emergency hospital cases, and to make editorial and technical modifications of a clarifying or conforming nature. Interested persons were given the opportunity to submit data, views, or arguments with regard to the proposed regulations. After consideration of all such relevant matter as was presented by interested persons, the amendments as so proposed are hereby adopted without substantive change and are set forth below.

Effective date. These amendments shall be effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Dated: May 27, 1969.

ROBERT M. BALL,
Commissioner of Social Security.

Approved: June 18, 1969.

JOHN G. VENEMAN,
Acting Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Subpart A of Part 405 of Chapter III of Title 20 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended as indicated in paragraphs 1 through 24 below.

1. The table of sections for Subpart A, appearing at page 31 F.R. 10116, July 27, 1966, is modified as follows:

Sec.
405.111 Inpatient hospital services; benefit limitation during first spell of illness—inpatient of participating tuberculosis or psychiatric hospital.
405.112 Inpatient hospital services; services considered for purposes of benefit limitations.
405.152 Payment for services furnished; nonparticipating hospital furnishing emergency services.
405.156 Payment to entitled individual for services furnished by a nonparticipating hospital; inpatient admission before January 1, 1968.
405.157 Payment to entitled individual for emergency services furnished after 1967.
405.158 Payment to entitled individual; determination of amount payable for services furnished by a nonparticipating hospital.
405.160 Payment to participating hospital for inpatient hospital services; conditions for payment.

2. Sections 405.101—405.102 are revised to read as follows:

§ 405.101 Hospital insurance benefits; general.

(a) An individual who meets the conditions for entitlement to hospital insurance benefits provided under Part A of title XVIII of the Act is eligible to have payment made on his behalf, or to him (for certain hospital services) subject to the conditions and limitations set out in this Part 405 and in the Act, for:

(1) Inpatient hospital services, posthospital extended care services, and posthospital home health services furnished to him during any month for which he meets such conditions for entitlement to hospital insurance benefits; and

(2) Outpatient hospital diagnostic services furnished to him during any month before April 1968, for which he meets such conditions for entitlement to hospital insurance benefits. Effective with services furnished on or after April 1, 1968, coverage of outpatient hospital diagnostic services is transferred from this Subpart A to the supplementary medical insurance benefits plan described in Subpart B of this Part 405.

(b) Except where payment may be made to the individual for certain hospital services (see §§ 405.156 and 405.157), payment for the services covered under the hospital insurance benefits program is made to the institution or agency eligible to receive payment rather than to the individual to whom the services are furnished.

§ 405.102 Conditions for entitlement to hospital insurance benefits.

An individual is entitled to hospital insurance benefits under the provisions described in this Subpart A if such individual has attained age 65 and:

(a) Is entitled to monthly insurance benefits under section 202 of the Act as described in Subpart D of Part 404 of this chapter, or

(b) Is a qualified railroad retirement beneficiary as defined in § 404.368 of Part 404 of this chapter, or

(c) Is deemed entitled to monthly insurance benefits under section 202 of the Act, solely for purposes of entitlement to hospital insurance benefits, as described in § 404.370 of Part 404 of this chapter.

3. In § 405.103, paragraph (a) is revised to read as follows:

§ 405.103 Duration of entitlement to hospital insurance benefits.

(a) An individual is entitled to hospital insurance benefits beginning with the first day of the first month after June 1966, for which he meets the conditions described in § 405.102; except that no payment may be made under this Subpart A for:

(1) Posthospital extended care services furnished before January 1, 1967;

(2) Posthospital extended care services or posthospital home health services unless the discharge from the hospital required to qualify such services for payment under this Subpart A occurred after June 30, 1966, or, on or after the first day of the month in which he attains age 65, whichever is later; and

(3) Outpatient hospital diagnostic services furnished on or after April 1, 1968. (With respect to outpatient hospital diagnostic services furnished on or after such date—see Subpart B of this part.)

* * * * *

4. Sections 405.110–405.113 are revised to read as follows:

§ 405.110 Inpatient hospital services; scope of benefits.

(a) Benefits. An individual who meets the requirements set forth in § 405.102 is eligible to have payment made on his behalf to a participating hospital (see Subpart J of this Part 405 and § 405.150), subject to the conditions and limitations contained in this Part 405 and title XVIII of the Act, for:

(1) Inpatient hospital services (see § 405.115) furnished to him for up to 90 days during a spell of illness; plus (with respect to inpatient hospital services furnished after December 31, 1967, during such spell of illness):

(2) An additional 60 days—less one day for each day of inpatient hospital services in excess of 90 days received during any preceding spell of illness. The individual has the option of electing by a signed statement not to have payment made for such additional days of inpatient hospital services furnished him after he has received benefits for 90 days of such services in a spell of illness. Payment may be made for such additional days unless the provider furnishing such services has on record the individual's signed election not to have payment made for such services.

(b) Deductible and coinsurance amounts. Payments for inpatient hospital services furnished during any spell of illness is reduced by the amount of the applicable deductibles (see §§ 405.113 and 405.114) and, in addition, by any applicable coinsurance amount (see § 405.115).

(c) Benefit limitation for spell of illness. (1) No payment under this section for inpatient hospital services furnished an individual during a spell of illness which ends on or before December 31, 1967, may be made for any such services furnished to him after the 90th day such services have been furnished to him during such spell of illness (see § 405.161 for exception); and

(2) No payment under this section for inpatient hospital services furnished an individual during a spell of illness which begins, or is continuing after December 31, 1967, may be made for any such services furnished to him after the 150th day (less 1 day for each day of inpatient hospital services in excess of 90 days received during any preceding spell of illness) that such services have been furnished to him during such spell of illness (see § 405.161 for exception).

(d) Lifetime maximum on inpatient psychiatric hospital services. Notwithstanding the preceding provisions of this section, no payment for inpatient psychiatric hospital services (see Subpart J of this part) may be made for any such services furnished an individual after the 190th day such services have been furnished to him during his lifetime (see § 405.161 for exception).

§ 405.111 Inpatient hospital services; benefit limitation during first spell of illness—inpatient of participating tuberculosis or psychiatric hospital.

Subject to the provision that the benefit limitation described in this section shall not apply with respect to inpatient tuberculosis hospital services furnished to an individual after December 31, 1967:

(a) Date of entitlement on or after January 1, 1968; inpatient of psychiatric hospital on first day of entitlement. If an individual is an inpatient of a participating psychiatric hospital on the first day for which he is entitled to hospital insurance benefits (see § 405.103) and becomes entitled to such benefits on or after January 1, 1968, the days (not necessarily consecutive) on which he was an inpatient of a psychiatric hospital in the 150-day period immediately before such first day are deducted from the 150 days of inpatient hospital services for which he is otherwise entitled to have payment made during his first spell of illness, where such services are furnished to him in a psychiatric hospital or in a hospital (other than a tuberculosis hospital) in which the individual was an inpatient primarily for the diagnosis or treatment of mental illness. Thus, the benefit limitation described in this paragraph will not apply to inpatient hospital services furnished in a tuberculosis hospital or to such services furnished in a hospital (other than a psychiatric hospital) that are not primarily for the diagnosis or treatment of mental illness.

(b)(1) Date of entitlement prior to 1968; inpatient of psychiatric or tuberculosis hospital on first day of entitlement. Subject to the provisions of the succeeding subparagraphs of this paragraph, if an individual was an inpatient of a participating tuberculosis or psychiatric hospital on the first day for which he is entitled to hospital insurance benefits and was entitled to such benefits before January 1, 1968, the days (not necessarily consecutive) on which he was an inpatient of a psychiatric or tuberculosis hospital in the 90-day period immediately before such first day are deducted from the 90 days of inpatient hospital services for which he is otherwise entitled to have payment made during his first spell of illness.

(2) First spell of illness is continuing after December 31, 1967; inpatient of participating tuberculosis hospital upon entitlement. An individual who after December 31, 1967, is still in his first spell of illness and was subject to a reduction in benefit days prior to 1968 under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph because he was in a participating tuberculosis hospital at the time of entitlement to hospital insurance benefits will have those days restored for any inpatient hospital services furnished to him after December 31, 1967. The benefit limitation will not apply to services furnished after 1967, to an individual who at the time of entitlement was an inpatient of a participating tuberculosis hospital. Thus, such an individual is eligible on January 1, 1968, for up to 150 days of any inpatient hospital services in his first spell of illness.

(3) First spell of illness is continuing after December 31, 1967; inpatient of a psychiatric hospital upon entitlement. An individual who after December 31, 1967, is still in his first spell of illness and was subject to a reduction in benefit days prior to 1968 under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph because he was in a participating psychiatric hospital at the time of entitlement to hospital insurance benefits may be entitled to additional benefit days for inpatient hospital services furnished on or after January 1, 1968:

(i) On January 1, 1968, such individual becomes eligible for 60 additional days of inpatient hospital services (see § 405.110). Before these days can be used to pay for inpatient hospital services furnished to such individual by a psychiatric hospital, or for such services furnished by a hospital (other than a psychiatric or tuberculosis hospital) which are primarily for the diagnosis or treatment of mental illness, those days on which he was an inpatient of a psychiatric hospital from the 91st to the 150th day of the 150-day period preceding the first day for which he became entitled to hospital insurance benefits will be subtracted from the 60 additional days available for use in such first spell of illness. For inpatient hospital services furnished prior to 1968, the number of benefit days available to such individual during his first spell of illness was determined on the basis of the 90-day period immediately preceding the first day of entitlement to hospital insurance benefits in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph. Payment for inpatient hospital services furnished to the individual on or after January 1, 1968, by a hospital (other than a tuberculosis hospital) for such services which are primarily for the treatment or diagnosis of mental illness, or for such services furnished by a psychiatric hospital, will be made for any days still payable under such prior determination and then for any of the 60 additional days available as determined in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph. (However, a new determination for the 90-day preentitlement period will be required if tuberculosis hospital days were included in the prior determination. See subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph);

(ii) Payment for inpatient hospital services furnished on or after January 1, 1968, to such individual by a hospital (other than a psychiatric hospital) for such services which are primarily for the diagnosis or treatment of a condition other than mental illness, or for such services furnished by a tuberculosis hospital in his first spell of illness, may be made for any unused benefit days: Plus, the number of days for which the beneficiary's eligibility was previously reduced; plus, the 60 additional days available under § 405.110; and

(iii) Days spent by such individual in a tuberculosis hospital in the preentitlement period do not count as reduction days for inpatient hospital services received after 1967, and such days are restored. This applies not only for an individual who was in a tuberculosis hospital when he became entitled but also for an individual who was in a psychiatric hospital at the time of entitlement after having spent some of his preentitlement days in a tuberculosis hospital.

(c) Charging deduction days. In reducing the number of days for which an individual is entitled to have payment made for inpatient hospital services, days subject to deduction (as determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section) are charged in the following order:

(1) Those days after the 90th and before the 150th days for which such individual is entitled to have payment made during such spell of illness;

(2) Those days after the 60th day and before the 91st day for which such individual is entitled to have payment made for such services during such spell of illness; and

(3) Those days before the 61st day for which such individual is entitled to have payment made for such services during such spell of illness.

(d) Limitation on application of deduction. Notwithstanding the preceding provisions of this section, days preceding the first day for which an individual is entitled to hospital insurance benefits (see § 405.103), are not counted in determining the 190-day lifetime limit on inpatient psychiatric hospital services (see § 405.110(d)), and are not counted in determining the first day for which the coinsurance amount is deducted from payment for inpatient hospital services (see § 405.115).

EXAMPLE 1: B is an inpatient of a participating psychiatric hospital on July 1, 1966, the first day for which he is entitled to hospital insurance benefits, and has been an inpatient of such hospital for the 2 years immediately preceding July 1, 1966. If B's first spell of illness ends on or before December 31, 1967, no payment will be made for inpatient hospital services furnished to B during that spell of illness. However, if B's first spell of illness is continuing after December 31, 1967, he will be eligible, with respect to services furnished after such date, to have payment made for up to 150 days of inpatient hospital services during such spell of illness if the services are furnished to him by a tuberculosis hospital (see § 405.111(b)) or, if furnished to him by a hospital other than a psychiatric or tuberculosis hospital, are not primarily for the diagnosis or treatment of a mental illness.

EXAMPLE 2: C entered a participating tuberculosis hospital on August 12, 1966, and is still an inpatient of such hospital 50 days later on October 1, 1966, the first day for which he is entitled to hospital insurance benefits. Payment may be made for up to 40 days of inpatient hospital services since C had been an inpatient of the tuberculosis hospital for 50 days preceding the first day for which he was entitled to hospital insurance benefits. However, the 50 days preceding October 1, 1966, is not counted in determining the 60 days of coverage and, therefore, the coinsurance amount (see § 405.115) is not applicable with respect to any payment for the 40 days of services for which C is entitled to have payment made on his behalf with respect to services furnished before 1968. If C's first spell of illness is continuing after December 31, 1967, the 50 days subject to deduction will be restored to him and he will be eligible, with respect to services furnished after such date, to have payment made for up to 110 additional days of inpatient hospital services during such spell of illness (i.e., the restored 50 days plus the 60 additional days of entitlement—see § 405.110(a)). The coinsurance amounts discussed in § 405.115 would, of course, be applicable with respect to such services furnished after the 60th day in this spell of illness (see § 405.111(b).

EXAMPLE 3: D is a patient of an institution that is not a qualified psychiatric hospital on August 1, 1966, the first day for which he is entitled to hospital insurance benefits, and has been a patient of the nonqualifying hospital for the 1 year preceding August 1, 1966. Several days later D is transferred to a participating psychiatric hospital. Payment may be made (with respect to services furnished before 1968) for up to 90 days of inpatient hospital services after such transfer since inpatient hospital services received in a nonqualifying hospital in the period preceding entitlement are not considered for the purposes of determining the spell of illness limitation. If D's first spell of illness is continuing after December 31, 1967, he will be eligible, with respect to services furnished after such date, to have payment made for an additional 60 days of inpatient hospital services (including inpatient psychiatric hospital services) during such spell of illness (see § 405.110).

§ 405.112 Inpatient hospital services; services considered for purposes of benefit limitations.

(a) For purposes of determining the 90-day or 150-day benefit limitation described in § 405.110(c), or § 405.111, or the 190-day benefit limitation described in § 405.110(d), inpatient hospital services are taken into account only if one or more of the following conditions apply to such services:

(1) Payment is made with respect to such services;

(2) Payment would be made for such services except for failure to comply with the request and certification requirements described in § 405.152 or § 405.160; or

(3) Payment cannot be made for such services because of the deductible or coinsurance requirements described in §§ 405.113 and 405.115.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, days after the 90th day on which an individual is furnished inpatient hospital services during a spell of illness are not taken into account in determining the benefit limitation discussed in this section, if the individual has elected not to have payment made for such days (see § 405.110(a)(2)) or the daily charge for such days is equal to or less than the applicable coinsurance amount (see § 405.115(a)(2)).

§ 405.113 Inpatient hospital services; deductible.

(a) Spell of illness beginning prior to 1969. The amount payable for inpatient hospital services (see §§ 405.150, 405.151, and 405.158) furnished to an individual during any spell of illness beginning prior to 1969 is reduced (but not below zero) by an amount equal to the lesser of:

(1) $40; or

(2) The charges imposed with respect to such services or the customary charges for such services, whichever is greater.

(b) Spell of illness beginning after 1968. Between July 1 and October 1 of 1968, and of each year thereafter, the Secretary shall determine the amount of the inpatient hospital deductible which shall be applicable in the case of any spell of illness beginning during the succeeding calendar year.

5. Section 405.115 is revised to read as follows:

§ 405.115 Inpatient hospital services; coinsurance amount.

(a) In any case in which an individual is furnished inpatient hospital services for more than 60 days during a spell of illness beginning before 1969, the amount payable (see §§ 405.150, 405.151, and 405.158), for the inpatient hospital services furnished after such 60th day during such spell of illness, is reduced by a coinsurance amount equal to:

(1) $10 for each day (or the actual charge when charges are less than $10 a day), after the 60th day and before the 91st day, on which he is furnished such services; plus (with respect to such services furnished after December 1967, during such spell of illness):

(2) $20 for each day after the 90th day and before the 151st day on which he is furnished such services.

(b) Since the inpatient hospital services coinsurance amount is set by law at one-fourth (for days after the 60th day and before the 91st day) and one-half (for entitlement days after the 90th day) of the inpatient hospital services deductible, the coinsurance amount applicable for spells of illness beginning after 1968 will reflect any adjustment made in the deductible (see § 405.113(b)).

6. In § 405.116, paragraphs (b), (d), and (e) are revised to read as follows:

§ 405.116 Inpatient hospital services; defined.

* * * * *

(b) Bed and board. The reasonable costs are payable in full for hospital room and board furnished an individual in accommodations containing from two to four beds, or in hospitals in which all accommodations are on a ward basis and charges are not related to the number of beds in a room. The reasonable cost of private accommodations is covered in full only where their use is medically indicated, ordinarily only when a patient's condition requires him to be isolated or when an individual (in need of immediate inpatient hospital care but not requiring isolation) is admitted to a hospital which has no semiprivate or ward accommodations, or at a time when such accommodations are occupied. The reasonable cost of private accommodations will be paid in such cases until the individual's condition does not require him to be isolated or, in the case of the individual not requiring isolation, semiprivate accommodations are available. Where private accommodations are furnished for a patient's comfort, the amount payable under this Subpart A may not exceed the reasonable cost of accommodations containing from two to four beds. Where accommodations less expensive than available accommodations containing from two to four beds are furnished a patient and the use of these accommodations was neither at the request of the patient nor for a reason consistent with the purposes of the Act, the amount payable for bed and board is whichever is less, the reasonable cost of such accommodations, or the reasonable cost of two to four bed accommodations minus the difference between the customary charges for such accommodations and the customary charges for the accommodations furnished.

* * * * *

(d)(1) Drugs and biologicals. Drugs and biologicals are included as inpatient hospital services only if they:

(i) Represent a cost to the hospital in rendering such services;

(ii) Are furnished to an inpatient for use in the hospital or, with respect to a limited supply required until the patient can obtain a continuing supply, are deemed medically necessary to permit or facilitate the patient's departure from the hospital; and

(iii) Are ordinarily furnished by such hospital for the care and treatment of inpatients.

(2) Supplies, appliances, and equipment. Supplies, appliances, and equipment are included as inpatient hospital services only:

(i) If ordinarily furnished by such hospital for the care and treatment of inpatients, and;

(ii) If furnished to an inpatient for use in the hospital, except in the case of a temporary or disposable item provided to an inpatient for use beyond his hospital stay which is medically necessary to permit or facilitate the patient's departure from the hospital and which is required until such time as the patient can obtain a continuing supply, or in cases where it would be unreasonable or impossible from a medical standpoint to discontinue the patient's use of the item at the time of termination of his stay as an inpatient. (For example, tracheostomy or draining tubes, or cardiac valves and cardiac pacemakers.)

(e) Diagnostic or therapeutic items or services. Diagnostic or therapeutic items or services other than those provided for in paragraphs (c), (d), and (f) of this section, are considered as inpatient hospital services if furnished by the hospital, or by others under arrangements made by the hospital under which the billing for such services is made through such hospital and if such services are of a kind ordinarily furnished to inpatients either by such hospital or by others under such arrangements.

* * * * *

7. In § 405.120, paragraphs (a), (b)(2), and (d) are revised to read as follows:

§ 405.120 Posthospital extended care services; scope of benefits.

(a) Benefits and conditions for entitlement. (1) An individual who meets the requirements described in § 405.102, is eligible to have payment made on his behalf to a participating extended care facility (see § 405.150) for up to 100 days of extended care services (§ 405.124) furnished to him in a spell of illness if he is admitted to such extended care facility within 14 days (as defined in paragraph (d) of this section) after his discharge from a hospital in which he was an inpatient for not less than 3 consecutive calendar days (as defined in paragraph (c) of this section) and such discharge occurred on or after the first day of the month in which the individual attained age 65, or after June 30, 1966, whichever is later.

(2) For purposes of this section the term "hospital," with respect to hospital discharges occurring on or before December 31, 1967, means a hospital (including a psychiatric or tuberculosis hospital) which meets the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), (3), (4), (5), and (7) of section 1861(e) of the Act, whether or not it meets the requirements of paragraphs (6) and (8) thereof (see § 405.1001). A nonparticipating psychiatric or tuberculosis hospital need not meet the special requirements which apply to psychiatric and tuberculosis hospitals (see §§ 405.1036–405.1040). With respect to hospital discharges occurring on or after January 1, 1968, such term shall mean a hospital (including a psychiatric or tuberculosis hospital) which meets the requirements described in § 405.152(a)(1).

(b) Services for which payment is not made. * * *

(2) Where an individual who has been furnished posthospital extended care services is discharged from the extended care facility, no payment may be made for any subsequent extended care services furnished during such spell of illness unless he is again hospitalized for at least 3 consecutive days and the other conditions in paragraph (a) of this section are met; however, for purposes of this subparagraph, an individual is not deemed to have been discharged from an extended care facility in which he has been receiving posthospital extended care services, if, within 14 days (as defined in paragraph (d) of this section) after discharge therefrom, he is readmitted to the same, or any other, participating extended care facility.

* * * * *

(d) Fourteen-day period; defined. For the purposes of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, "within 14 days" means the period of 14 consecutive calendar days (including Saturdays, Sundays, legal holidays, and days, all or part of which are declared to be a nonworkday for Federal employees by statute or Executive order) beginning with the calendar day following the day of discharge from the hospital or extended care facility, as appropriate.

* * * * *

8. Section 405.122 is revised to read as follows:

§ 405.122 Posthospital extended care services; services considered for purposes of limitation on days of coverage.

For purposes of the limitation on days of coverage (see §§ 405.120(b) and 405.121), extended care services furnished an individual are taken into account only if one or more of the following conditions apply to such services:

(a) Payment is made with respect to such services;

(b) Payment would be made except for failure to comply with the request for payment and certification requirements described in § 405.165; or

(c) Payment cannot be made for such services because of coinsurance requirements described in § 405.124.

9. In § 405.124, paragraph (a) is revised to read as follows:

§ 405.124 Posthospital extended care services; coinsurance amount.

(a) Spell of illness beginning before 1969. In any case in which an individual is furnished posthospital extended care services for more than 20 days during a spell of illness beginning before 1969, the amount payable for posthospital extended care services furnished after such 20th day is reduced by a coinsurance amount equal to $5 for each day (or the actual charge when charges are less than $5 a day) such services are furnished after the 20th day and before the 101st day on which he is furnished such services during such spell of illness.

* * * * *

10. In § 405.125, paragraphs (a)(6), (a)(7), (c), (d), (e), and (f) are revised to read as follows:

§ 405.125 Extended care services; defined.

(a) Items and services included. * * *

(6) Medical services provided by an intern or resident-in-training;

(7) Diagnostic or therapeutic services; and

* * * * *

(c) Bed and board. Posthospital extended care facility bed and board is covered in full in accommodations containing two to four beds and in extended care facilities in which all accommodations are on a ward basis and charges are not related to the number of beds in a room. Private accommodations are covered in full only where their use is medically indicated, ordinarily when the patient's condition requires him to be isolated. Where private accommodations are furnished for the patient's comfort and their use is not medically indicated, only the reasonable cost of accommodations containing two to four beds is payable under this Subpart A. Where accommodations less expensive than accommodations containing two to four beds are furnished a patient and the use of these accommodations was neither at the request of the patient nor for a reason consistent with the purposes of the Act, the amount payable for bed and board (not to exceed the reasonable cost of such accommodations) is the reasonable cost of two to four bed accommodations minus the difference between the customary charges for such accommodations and the customary charges for the accommodations furnished.

(d) Physical, occupational or speech therapy. Physical, occupational or speech therapy services are considered as extended care services if furnished by the extended care facility or if furnished by others under arrangements with them made by the facility under which the billing for such services is through such extended care facility.

(e)(1) Drugs and biologicals. Drugs and biologicals are included as extended care services only if they:

(i) Represent a cost to the extended care facility in rendering such services;

(ii) Are furnished to an inpatient for use in the extended care facility or, with respect to a limited supply required until the patient can obtain a continuing supply, are deemed medically necessary to permit or facilitate the patient's departure from the extended care facility; and

(iii) Are ordinarily furnished by such extended care facility for the care and treatment of inpatients.

(2) Supplies, appliances, and equipment. Supplies, appliances, and equipment are included as extended care services only;

(i) If ordinarily furnished by such extended care facility for the care and treatment of inpatients, and;

(ii) If furnished to an inpatient for use in the extended care facility except in the case of a temporary or disposable item provided to an inpatient for use beyond his stay which is medically necessary to permit or facilitate the patient's departure from the extended care facility and which is required until such time as the patient can obtain a continuing supply, or in cases where it would be unreasonable or impossible from a medical standpoint to discontinue the patient's use of the item at the time of termination of his stay as an inpatient. (For example, a brace temporarily attached to the patient's body while he is receiving treatment as an inpatient and which is needed to facilitate departure from the extended care facility.)

(f) Medical services provided by an intern or resident-in-training. Medical services provided by an intern or resident-in-training are included as extended care services if provided by an intern or resident-in-training of a hospital with which the extended care facility has in effect an agreement for the transfer of patients and exchange of medical records (see § 405.1133), and under a teaching program of such hospital approved in accordance with the provisions described in § 405.116(f).

* * * * *

11. In § 405.131, paragraphs (a), (c), and (d) are revised to read as follows:

§ 405.131 Posthospital home health services; benefits provided.

* * * * *

(a) To an individual who is under the care of a physician (other than a doctor of podiatry or surgical chiropody);

* * * * *

(c) Within the 1-year period after the individual's most recent discharge from a hospital (as defined in § 405.120(a)(2)) in which he was an inpatient for at least 3 consecutive days (see § 405.120(c)), or, if later, after his most recent discharge from an extended care facility in which he was an inpatient and entitled to have payment made for services furnished therein;

(d) Under a plan of treatment, established and periodically reviewed by a physician (other than a doctor of podiatry or surgical chiropody), which was established within 14 days after the date of the individual's discharge specified in paragraph (c) of this section; and

* * * * *

12. Sections 405.141—405.142 are revised to read as follows:

§ 405.141 Outpatient hospital diagnostic services; conditions.

(a) An individual who meets the requirements set forth in § 405.102, is eligible to have payment made on his behalf to a participating hospital (or under the conditions described in §§ 405.152, 405.153, or 405.157) for outpatient hospital diagnostic services (described in § 405.145) furnished to him on or before March 31, 1968, if such items and services:

(1) Are furnished during a diagnostic study (see § 405.144);

(2) Are furnished to him on an outpatient basis;

(3) Are furnished by the hospital or if furnished by others under arrangements made by the hospital, are furnished in the hospital or in other facilities operated by or under the supervision of the hospital or its organized medical staff; and

(4) Are of the type ordinarily furnished by the hospital (or by others under such arrangement described in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph) to the hospital's outpatients for the purposes of diagnostic study.

(b) Diagnostic tests and services furnished on or before March 31, 1968, may also be covered as "medical and other health services" under the supplementary medical insurance benefits plan (see Subpart B of this part if they could not be covered under this Subpart A.

§ 405.142 Outpatient hospital diagnostic services; deductibles.

Any payment under this Subpart A for outpatient hospital diagnostic services furnished during a diagnostic study (see § 405.144) beginning before April 1, 1968, is reduced by:

(a) $20; plus

(b) 20 percent of the reasonable cost for such services in excess of $20.

13. Sections 405.144–405.145 are revised to read as follows:

§ 405.144 Outpatient hospital diagnostic services; diagnostic study defined.

(a) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section, a "diagnostic study" for purposes of §§ 405.141 and 405.142 consists of the outpatient hospital diagnostic services provided by (or under arrangements made by) the same hospital during the 20-day period beginning on the first day (not included in a previous diagnostic study) on which the individual meets the requirements described in § 405.102 and on which he is furnished outpatient hospital diagnostic services. The tests and procedures furnished for the purpose of a diagnostic study need not be related to a single illness or condition.

(b) All diagnostic study periods beginning on or after March 12, 1968, and before April 1, 1968, will end as of March 31, 1968, subject to the applicable deductible described in § 405.142.

§ 405.145 Outpatient hospital diagnostic services; defined.

(a) The term "outpatient hospital diagnostic services" includes diagnostic services if furnished under the conditions described in § 405.141. Services of a physician (except services of interns and residents under approved teaching programs—see § 405.522) are excluded. Also excluded are any items or services which would not be included as an "inpatient hospital service" as enumerated in § 405.116 if furnished to an inpatient of a hospital.

(b) Effective with services furnished on or after April 1, 1968, coverage of outpatient hospital diagnostic services is transferred from this Subpart A to the supplementary medical insurance benefits plan described in Subpart B of this part.

14. Sections 405.150–405.152 are revised to read as follows:

§ 405.150 Payment for services furnished; general.

Amounts payable under the provisions described in this Subpart A for inpatient hospital services, posthospital extended care services, posthospital home health services or outpatient hospital diagnostic services furnished to an individual are payable, except as provided in §§ 405.152, 405.153, 405.156, and 405.157, only to a participating provider of services, that is, a provider which has entered into an agreement with the Secretary under the conditions described in Subpart F of this Part 405.

§ 405.151 Payment for services furnished; determination of amount payable based on reasonable cost.

The amount payable to any provider (and under the provisions described in §§ 405.152 and 405.153) with respect to services for which payment may be made under this Subpart A is, subject to the provisions for reducing such payment (see §§ 405.113, 405.114, 405.115, 405.123, 405.124, and 405.142), based on the reasonable cost of such services. The method of determining "reasonable cost" is discussed in Subpart D of this Part 405.

§ 405.152 Payment for services furnished; nonparticipating hospital furnishing emergency services.

(a) Payment (in amounts as determined in accordance with § 405.151) may be made to a hospital even though the hospital is not a participating provider (i.e., it has not entered into an agreement with the Secretary, pursuant to section 1866 of the Act—see § 405.606) if:

(1) The hospital meets the requirements of section 1861(e) (5) and (7) of the Act (see § 405.1001(a)), and:

(i) Is primarily engaged in providing under the supervision of a doctor of medicine or osteopathy the services described in section 1861(e)(1); and

(ii) Is not primarily engaged in providing the services described in section 1861(j)(1)(A) (see § 405.1101(a));

(2) The services furnished are emergency services (see paragraph (b) of this section) furnished an individual who meets the requirements of § 405.102;

(3) The services are furnished by the hospital or by others under an arrangement made by the hospital;

(4) The hospital agrees to comply, with respect to the services furnished, with the provisions of Subpart F of this Part 405 regarding the charges for such services which may be imposed on the individual or any other person, and the return of any money incorrectly collected;

(5) The hospital has filed and the Administration has accepted (with respect to services furnished after December 31, 1967), the hospital's election to claim payment from the health insurance program for all emergency services furnished in a calendar year under title XVIII of the Act (see § 405.658);

(6) Written request for payment is filed by, or on behalf of the individual to whom such services were furnished;

(7) Payment for the services would have been made if an agreement under § 405.606 had been in effect with the hospital and the hospital otherwise met the conditions for payment;

(8) The hospital's claim for payment is filed with the Administration and is accompanied (attached thereto or as part thereof) by a physician's statement describing the nature of the emergency and stating that the emergency services rendered were necessary to prevent the death of the individual or the serious impairment of his health. The statement must be sufficiently comprehensive to support a finding (see § 405.191) that an emergency existed. Where the hospital files a second or subsequent claim with respect to such emergency situation, such second or subsequent claim must be accompanied by a physician's statement containing sufficient information to indicate clearly that the emergency situation still existed. When inpatient hospital services are involved, an initial or subsequent physician's statement (as appropriate) must include the date when, in the physician's judgment, the emergency ceased.

(b) For purposes of the hospital insurance benefits program, "emergency services" are those inpatient hospital services (see § 405.116) and outpatient hospital diagnostic services (furnished before April 1968—see § 405.145) which are necessary to prevent the death or serious impairment of the health of the individual, and which, because of the threat to the life or health of the individual, necessitate the use of the most accessible hospital (see § 405.192) available and equipped to furnish such services. (With respect to outpatient hospital services furnished on or after April 1, 1968—see § 405.249.)

15. In § 405.153, paragraph (c) is revised to read as follows:

§ 405.153 Payment for services; hospital outside the United States furnishing emergency services.

* * * * *

(c) The conditions set forth in § 405.152(a) (4) and (7) are met.

16. Sections 405.156–405.158 are added to read as follows:

§ 405.156 Payment to entitled individual for services furnished by a nonparticipating hospital; inpatient admission before January 1, 1968.

(a) Subject to the conditions and limitations in the succeeding paragraphs of this section an individual may, with respect to an inpatient hospital admission before January 1, 1968, receive payment (see § 405.158) on the basis of an itemized hospital bill for inpatient hospital services furnished by (or under arrangements made by) a hospital after June 1966, if at the time such services were furnished:

(1) The individual met the conditions for entitlement to hospital insurance benefits under the provisions described in this Subpart A (see § 405.102);

(2) The hospital did not have an agreement in effect pursuant to the provisions of § 405.606 (relating to provider agreements for participation in the health insurance program) but would have been eligible, subject to the conditions and limitations set out in this Part 405 and title XVIII of the Act, to receive payment with respect to such services if at the time such services were furnished the hospital had such an agreement in effect;

(3) The hospital met the requirements of section 1861(e) (5) and (7) of the Act (see § 405.1001(a)) and (i) was primarily engaged in providing under the supervision of a doctor of medicine or osteopathy the services described in section 1861(e)(1) and (ii) was not primarily engaged in providing the services described in section 1861(j)(1)(A) of the Act (see § 405.1101(a));

(4) The hospital did not meet the requirements that must be met to permit payment to be made to the hospital under the provisions of this Subpart A; and

(5) Written application for payment is filed with the Administration before January 1, 1969, by or on behalf of the individual to whom the services were furnished.

(b) Benefits may be paid to an individual pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section for:

(1) 20 days of inpatient hospital services furnished during a spell of illness, less 1 day for each day in excess of 70 days for which the individual is otherwise entitled to have payment made under this Subpart A during such spell of illness; or

(2) 90 days of inpatient hospital services furnished during a spell of illness, less 1 day for each day for which the individual is otherwise entitled to have payment made under this Subpart A during such spell of illness, but only if the hospital furnishing such services enters into an agreement pursuant to § 405.606 before January 1, 1969, and furnishes to the Administration (with respect to the individual's application for payment) a determination pursuant to the hospital's utilization review plan (see § 405.1035) regarding the need for more than 20 days of inpatient hospital services during such spell of illness.

(c) Benefits may not be paid to an individual pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section for expenses incurred for items or services that are paid for directly, or indirectly, by any governmental entity (e.g., services which have been paid for by a public welfare plan or program, or services furnished by a Federal hospital).

§ 405.157 Payment to entitled individual for emergency services furnished after 1967.

An individual entitled to hospital insurance benefits (see § 405.102) may receive payment on the basis of an itemized hospital bill (see § 405.158) for inpatient hospital services furnished with respect to an admission to the hospital on or after January 1, 1968, and for outpatient hospital diagnostic services furnished on or after January 1, 1968, and before April 1, 1968, if:

(a) The services are furnished by a nonparticipating hospital and would otherwise constitute emergency services for which payment may be made under the provisions of § 405.152, if such hospital had filed, and the Administration had accepted, the hospital's election to claim payment for all such emergency services; and

(b) Written application for payment is filed with the Administration by, or on behalf of, the individual to whom the services were furnished.

§ 405.158 Payment to entitled individual; determination of amount payable for services furnished by a nonparticipating hospital.

(a) Inpatient hospital services. (1) The amount payable to any individual with respect to payment under this Subpart A for inpatient hospital services (including emergency inpatient services) furnished by a nonparticipating hospital (see §§ 405.156 and 405.157) is, subject to the provisions of §§ 405.113 through 405.115 for reducing such payment, equal to 60 percent of the hospital's reasonable charges for routine services furnished in accommodations occupied by the individual, or in accommodations containing from two to four beds, whichever is less; plus

(2) 80 percent of the reasonable charges for ancillary services. If the hospital does not make separate charges for such routine and ancillary services, payment (subject to the applicable deductions) will be equal to two-thirds of the hospital's reasonable charges for the inpatient services received, not to exceed charges based on accommodations containing from two to four beds.

(b) Emergency outpatient hospital diagnostic services. The amount payable to any individual with respect to payment under this Subpart A for emergency outpatient hospital diagnostic services furnished by a nonparticipating hospital on or after January 1, 1968, and before April 1, 1968 (see § 405.157) is, subject to the provisions of § 405.142 for reducing such payment, equal to 80 percent of the hospital's reasonable charge for such services.

(c) Routine and ancillary services; defined. For purposes of this section the term "routine services" means the regular room, dietary and nursing services, minor medical and surgical supplies, and the use of equipment and facilities for which a separate charge is not customarily made. Charges for two to four bed accommodations or the accommodations occupied, whichever is less, will be the basis for the routine charges allowed. The term "ancillary services" means those covered special services for which charges are customarily made over and above those for routine services.

17. In § 405.160, paragraphs (a), (1), (2), (b), (1), (2), (c), (1), and (2) are revised to read as follows:

§ 405.160 Payment to participating hospital for inpatient hospital services; conditions for payment.

(a) Inpatient hospital services. Payment may be made to a participating hospital for inpatient hospital services (other than inpatient psychiatric or tuberculosis hospital services) furnished an individual if:

(1) Written request for payment is filed by, or on behalf of the individual to whom the services were furnished;

(2) When required, a physician (other than a doctor of podiatry or surgical chiropody) certifies and recertifies (see Subpart P of this part) that such inpatient hospital services were required to be given on an inpatient basis for the individual's medical treatment, or that inpatient diagnostic study was medically required and the services were necessary for such purpose; and

* * * * *

(b) Inpatient psychiatric hospital services. Payment may be made to a participating hospital for inpatient psychiatric hospital services furnished an individual if:

(1) Written request for payment is filed by or on behalf of the individual to whom the services were furnished;

(2) When required, a physician (other than a doctor of podiatry or surgical chiropody) certifies and recertifies (see Subpart P of this part) that such inpatient psychiatric hospital services were required to be given on an inpatient basis, by or under the supervision of a physician, for the psychiatric treatment of the individual, and

* * * * *

(c) Inpatient tuberculosis hospital services. Payment may be made to a participating hospital for inpatient tuberculosis hospital services furnished an individual if:

(1) Written request for such payment is filed by or on behalf of the individual to whom the services were furnished;

(2) When required, a physician (other than a doctor of podiatry or surgical chiropody) certifies and recertifies (see Subpart P of this part), that such services were required to be given on an inpatient basis, by or under the supervision of a physician, for the treatment of tuberculosis and such treatment could reasonably be expected to improve the condition or render the condition noncommunicable;

* * * * *

18. In § 405.161, paragraphs (a) and (a)(2) are revised to read as follows:

§ 405.161 Payment for inpatient hospital services; furnished after 90- or 150-day limit or after 190-day limit.

(a) Even though an individual is not entitled to have payment made under this Subpart A for inpatient hospital services because of the 90-day or up to 150-day (as appropriate) benefit limitation for a spell of illness as described in § 405.110(c), or the 190-day lifetime benefit limitation on inpatient psychiatric hospital services see § 405.110(d), payment may be made for the inpatient hospital services furnished after such 90th or 150th day or after such 190th day in the case of inpatient psychiatric hospital services if:

* * * * *

(2) The individual has exhausted the additional 60 days of inpatient hospital services for which he is entitled to have payment made (see § 405.110(a)(2)) and payment is precluded only because of the limitations on days of services discussed in §§ 405.110–405.112 inclusive;

* * * * *

19. Sections 405.162–405.163 are revised to read as follows:

§ 405.162 Prohibition against payment for inpatient hospital services furnished after utilization review finding that further services are not medically necessary.

Where pursuant to a system of utilization review (see § 405.1035), a finding has been made that further inpatient hospital services are not medically necessary, payment may be made only for those inpatient hospital services furnished before the fourth day following the day on which the hospital received notice of such finding.

§ 405.163 Prohibition against payment for inpatient hospital services furnished after 20th consecutive day by a hospital which has failed to make timely utilization review.

Where the Secretary has determined that a hospital has substantially failed to make timely utilization review (see § 405.617) in long stay cases and has imposed the limitation on days of services provided in section 1866(d), no payment may be made under this Subpart A for inpatient hospital insurance services furnished by such hospital to any individual after the 20th consecutive day on which such services have been furnished to him if the individual is admitted after the effective date of such determination.

20. In § 405.165, paragraphs (a), (b), and (b)(1) are revised to read as follows:

§ 405.165 Payment for posthospital extended care services; conditions.

(b) When required, a physician (other than a doctor of podiatry or surgical chiropody) certifies and recertifies (see Subpart P of this part) that such services were required to be given on an inpatient basis because the individual needed skilled nursing care on a continuing basis:

(1) For any of the conditions with respect to which he was receiving inpatient hospital services (or services which would constitute inpatient hospital services if the institution had met the necessary requirements relating respectively to a utilization review plan (see § 405.1035) and such other requirements as the Secretary finds necessary in the interest of health and safety (see § 405.1001 et seq) for qualification as a "hospital") prior to transfer to the extended care facility; or

* * * * *

21. Sections 405.166–405.167 are revised to read as follows:

§ 405.166 Prohibition against payment for posthospital extended care services furnished after a utilization review finding that services are not medically necessary.

Where pursuant to a system of utilization review (see § 405.1137), a finding has been made that further posthospital extended care services are not medically necessary, payment may be made only for those posthospital extended care services furnished before the fourth day following the day on which the extended care facility received notice of such finding.

§ 405.167 Prohibition against payment for services furnished by a facility which fails to make timely utilization review.

Payment may not be made for posthospital extended care services furnished an individual on any day after the 20th consecutive day on which such services have been furnished the individual, if such individual is admitted to the extended care facility after the effective date of the Secretary's determination (which can be effective only after notice to the facility and the hospital or hospitals with which it has a transfer agreement, and to the public) that such facility has substantially failed to make timely utilization review (see § 405.617) of long stay cases, and that payment for posthospital extended care services is to be so limited. For prohibition against payment for inpatient hospital services furnished after failure to make timely utilization review, see § 405.163.

22. In § 405.170, paragraphs (a), (b), (b)(3), and (b)(4) are revised to read as follows:

§ 405.170 Payment for posthospital home health services; conditions.

(b) When required, a physician (other than a doctor of podiatry or surgical chiropody) certifies and recertifies (see Subpart P of this part) that:

* * * * *

(3) A plan for furnishing such services to such individual has been established and is periodically reviewed by a physician (other than a doctor of podiatry or surgical chiropody); and

(4) The services were furnished while the individual was under the care of a physician (other than a doctor of podiatry or surgical chiropody).

23. Section 405.175 is revised to read as follows:

§ 405.175 Payment to participating hospital for outpatient hospital diagnostic services; conditions.

Payment may be made to a participating hospital for outpatient hospital diagnostic services furnished before April 1968 (see §§ 405.141–405.145), only if:

(a) Written request for such payment is filed by or on behalf of the individual to whom such services were furnished: and (in the case of such services furnished before January 3, 1968);

(b) A physician (other than a doctor of podiatry or surgical chiropody) certifies (see Subpart P of this part) that such services were required for diagnostic study.

24. Sections 405.191 and 405.192 are added to read as follows:

§ 405.191 Emergency services; finding that an emergency existed and/or has ceased.

(a) General. Payment to a nonparticipating hospital for emergency services (as defined in § 405.152(b)) can be made only for the period during which the emergency exists.

(b) Objective. The objective of paragraph (a) of this section is to limit reimbursement for emergency inpatient hospital services only to periods during which the patient's state of injury or disease is such that a health or life-endangering emergency existed and continued to exist, requiring immediate care which could only be provided in a hospital.

(1) The finding that an emergency existed and/or has ceased will ordinarily be supported by medical evidence including the attending physician's supporting statement (see § 405.152(a)(8)) and, when appropriate, information furnished by the hospital. However, a statement by the physician or hospital that an emergency existed, in the absence of sufficient medical information to establish the actual emergency, will not constitute sufficient evidence of the existence of an emergency.

(2) An emergency no longer exists when it becomes safe from a medical standpoint to move the individual to a participating hospital or other institution, or to discharge him.

(3) Existence of medical necessity for emergency services is based on the physician's assessment of the patient prior to admission to the hospital. Therefore, conditions developing after a nonemergent admission are not considered emergency services for purposes of this subparagraph.

(4) Death of the patient during hospitalization will not necessarily establish the existence of an emergency, as some chronically ill patients, while requiring long terminal hospitalization, are not in need of immediate hospitalization, so that care in a participating hospital can be planned. Similarly, lack of adequate care at home does not necessarily establish need for emergency services.

(5) Lack of transportation to a participating hospital does not constitute a reason for emergency hospital admission, unless there is also an immediate threat to the life and health of the patient.

§ 405.192 Emergency services; finding of accessibility.

(a) General. Services, to be emergency services (as defined in § 405.152(b)), must be furnished by the most accessible hospital available and equipped to furnish such services.

(b) Objectives. The objective of the requirement in paragraph (a) of this section is to limit reimbursement for emergency inpatient hospital services provided by nonparticipating hospitals to situations where transport of the patient to a participating hospital would have been medically inadvisable, e.g., the participating hospital would have taken longer to reach and the patient's condition necessitated immediate admission for hospital services; and for so long as that condition precluded the patient's discharge or removal to a participating hospital.

(1) In emergency situations, time is a crucial factor and the patient must ordinarily receive hospital care as soon as possible. Under such circumstances, all factors must be considered which bear on whether or not the required care could be provided sooner in the nonparticipating hospital than in a participating hospital in the general area. The determination must take account of such matters as relative distances of the participating and nonparticipating hospitals, the transportation facilities available to these hospitals, the quality of the roads to each hospital, the availability of beds at each hospital, and any other relevant factors. All of these factors are pertinent to a determination of whether a hospital is "the nearest," or "further away," or "closer to" the place where the emergency occurred.

(2) The considerations referred to in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph are generally applicable to rural areas, where hospitals are likely to be spaced far apart. In urban and suburban areas, where both participating and nonparticipating hospitals are similarly available, it will be presumed that the services could have been provided in a participating hospital. This presumption can be overcome only by clear and convincing evidence showing the medical or practical necessity in each individual case for taking the patient to a nonparticipating hospital instead of a similarly available participating hospital.

(3) There are some situations requiring prompt removal of a patient to a hospital but in which there was no immediate need, of the kind described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, to rush the patient to a hospital, i.e., his condition, while requiring prompt attention in a hospital, indicated there was some time available to get him to one. In such cases the services provided in a nonparticipating hospital are not covered as emergency inpatient hospital services if there was a participating hospital in the same general area but further away from the place where the emergency occurred, provided that professional judgment confirms that the additional time required to take the patient to the participating hospital would not have been hazardous to the patient.

(4) The determination whether the nonparticipating hospital which claims reimbursement is the most "accessible" hospital will be made on the basis of the considerations set forth in paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section; interpreted in accordance with the statement of objectives in this paragraph (b). The personal preference of a patient, or of his physician, or of members of his family, or others, in the selection of a hospital, will not be considered a factor in determining whether services were furnished by the most accessible hospital. Nor will the nonavailability of staff privileges to the attending physician in a participating hospital which is available and most accessible to the patient, or the location of previous medical records, be considered a factor in the determination of accessibility.

(c) Conditions under which the accessibility requirement will be met. Where an individual must be taken to a hospital immediately for required diagnosis or medical treatment, the accessibility requirement will be met, except as provided in paragraph (d) of this section, if it is established to the satisfaction of the Administration that:

(1) The nonparticipating hospital which furnished the emergency services is the nearest hospital to the point at which the emergency occurred (subject to the presumption contained in paragraph (b)(2) of this section); and, if there is a similarly available participating hospital, the evidence shows the medical or practical necessity for taking the patient to a nonparticipating hospital; or

(2) One or both of the following reasons apply:

(i) No closer participating hospital has a bed available or will accept the individual; or

(ii) The nonparticipating hospital is the nearest one equipped medically to deal with the type of emergency involved; or it is the nearest hospital which is equipped to handle the emergency which had a bed available when the emergency occurred.

(d) Conditions under which the accessibility requirement will not be met. The accessibility requirement will not be met if:

(1)(i) The diagnosis in the emergency claim or other evidence indicates there was some time for getting the individual to a hospital, and no immediate need to rush him to one; and

(ii) There is a participating hospital in the area which is further away from the point at which the emergency occurred than the nonparticipating hospital, but is equipped to handle such an emergency; and

(iii) The additional time it would have required to take the individual to the participating hospital would not have been hazardous to the patient; or

(2) There is a participating hospital, equipped to handle the emergency with a bed available, closer to where the emergency occurred than the nonparticipating hospital in which the beneficiary received emergency services; and neither of the reasons described in paragraph (c)(2) of this section apply.

Title 41—PUBLIC CONTRACTS AND PROPERTY MANAGEMENT

Chapter 101—Federal Property Management Regulations

SUBCHAPTER H—UTILIZATION AND DISPOSAL

PART 101-47—UTILIZATION AND DISPOSAL OF REAL PROPERTY

Notification to Public Agencies of Surplus Property for Zoning and Acquisition Purposes

NOTE: Due to inadvertent errors, this document which formerly appeared in the issue for Thursday, June 26, 1969, at page 9858, is being republished.

The Intergovernmental Cooperation Act of 1968, 82 Stat. 1098, among other things, amended the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended, to add a new title VIII thereto entitled "Urban Land Utilization." Section 803 thereof, requires that the unit of general local government having jurisdiction over zoning and land use regulations be notified prior to offering for sale real property situated in an urban area to afford that local governmental unit the opportunity of such zoning for the use of the land in accordance with local comprehensive planning. It also provides that prospective purchasers be furnished with such zoning information and advice as availability of streets, sidewalks, water, street lights, and other service facilities. This amendment to Part 101-47 implements section 803 of the Federal Property Act, and makes other incidental revisions in the regulations. The requirement to give the local governmental unit the opportunity to zone in accordance with local comprehensive planning prior to offering for sale supersedes the previous practice of soliciting comprehensive and coordinated plans from the local public agencies for the use and procurement of surplus real property.

The table of contents for Part 101-47 is amended by adding three entries, as follows:

Sec.

101-47.303-2a	Notice for zoning purposes.
101-47.4906a	Attachment to notice sent to zoning authority.
101-47.4906b	Paragraph to be added to letter sent to zoning authority.

Subpart 101-47.3—Surplus Real Property Disposal

1. Section 101-47.303-2 is amended as follows:

§ 101-47.303-2 Disposals to public agencies.

Citations of the statutes authorizing the disposal of property to public agencies, the type of property the public agencies may procure under each statute, and the public agencies eligible to procure such property are given in § 101-47.4905.

* * * * *

(f) If the disposal agency is not informed within the 20-calendar-day period provided in the notice of the desire of a public agency to acquire the property under the provisions of the statutes listed in § 101-47.4905, or is not notified by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare of a potential educational or public health requirement, it shall be assumed that no public agency or nonprofit institution desires to procure the property.

(g) The disposal agency shall promptly review each response of a public agency to the notice given pursuant to § 101-47.303-2(b). The disposal agency shall determine what constitutes a reasonable period of time to allow the public agency to develop and submit a formal application for the property. When making such determination, the disposal agency shall give consideration to the potential suitability of the property for the use proposed, the length of time the public agency has stated it will require to develop and submit a formal application, the protection and maintenance costs to the Government during such length of time, and any other relevant facts and circumstances. The disposal agency shall coordinate such review and determination with the proper regional office of any interested Federal agencies listed below:

(1) Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, Department of the Interior;

(2) Department of Health, Education, and Welfare;

(3) Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation;

(4) Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior; and

(5) Federal Highway Administration, Department of Transportation.

(h) When the disposal agency has made a determination as to what constitutes a reasonable period of time to develop and submit a formal application, the public agency shall be so notified. The public agency shall be advised of the information required in connection with an application to procure the property.

(i) Upon receipt of the formal application for the property, the disposal agency shall consider and act upon it in accordance with the provisions of the statute and applicable regulations.

2. New § 101-47.303-2a is added as follows:

§ 101-47.303-2a Notice for zoning purposes.

(a) Where the surplus land is located in an urban area as defined in section 806 of the Act, that copy of the notice to public agencies required under § 101-47.303-2(b) which is sent to the head of the local governmental unit having jurisdiction over zoning and land use regulation in the area shall be accompanied by a copy of section 803 of the Act (see § 101-47.4906a) and the transmittal letter in such instances shall include an additional paragraph requesting information concerning zoning as set forth in § 101.47.4906b.

(b) Information which is furnished by the unit of general local government pursuant to the action taken in paragraph (a) of this section shall be included in Invitations for Bid in advertised sales. In negotiated sales, this information shall be presented to prospective purchasers during the course of the negotiations and shall be included in the sales agreements. In either instance, this information shall be followed by a written statement, substantially as follows:

The above information was obtained from _____ and is furnished pursuant to section 803 of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended. The Government does not guarantee that the information is necessarily accurate or will remain unchanged. Any inaccuracies or changes in the above information shall not be cause for adjustment or rescission of any contract resulting from this Invitation for Bid or Sales Agreement.

(c) If no response to a request for such zoning information is received, the property may be offered for sale without furnishing such information to prospective purchasers. If the unit of general local government notifies the disposal agency of its desire to zone the property, it shall be afforded a 30-calendar-day period (in addition to the 20-calendar days afforded in the notice of surplus determination) to issue such zoning regulations. If the zoning cannot be accomplished within this time frame, the sale may proceed but the prospective purchasers shall be advised of the pending zoning of the property.

Proposed Rule Making

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Consumer and Marketing Service

[7 CFR Part 967]

CELERY GROWN IN FLORIDA

Marketable Quantity for 1969–70 Season; Uniform Percentage; and Limitation on Handling

Notice is hereby given that the Secretary of Agriculture is considering the approval of a limitation of shipments regulation, hereinafter set forth, which was recommended by the Florida Celery Committee, established pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 149 and Order No. 967, both as amended (7 CFR Part 967; 33 F.R. 17845), regulating the handling of celery grown in Florida. This program is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.).

All persons who desire to submit written data, views or arguments in connection with this proposal should file the same, in four copies, with the Hearing Clerk, Room 112–A, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, not later than the 15th day after the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. All written submissions made pursuant to this notice will be made available for public inspection at the office of the Hearing Clerk during regular business hours (7 CFR 1.27(b)).

The annual production from the acreage planted recently in Florida and California has readily exceeded the demand capacity of the United States, Canada, and the export market without some type of weather difficulty.

The amount of Florida celery marketed during the last three seasons has been 7,702,000 crates, 7,248,000 crates, and 7,600,000 crates respectively. During these same 3 years approximately the following acres have been abandoned for economic reasons alone—1,400, 745, and 200.

It is estimated Florida celery producers will plant 13,000 acres in 1969–70, 9 percent above last season's acreage. With an average yield of 670 crates per acre there would be a potential supply of 8,710,000 crates. Under normal conditions Florida cannot reasonably expect to market such an amount economically.

For these and other reasons contained in the Committee's Marketing Policy Statement it is believed that these regulations are necessary to maintain orderly marketing.

The proposal is as follows:

§ 967.305 Marketable quantity for 1969–70 season; uniform percentage; and limitation on handling.

(a) The Marketable Quantity for the 1969–70 season is established, pursuant to § 967.36(a), as 7,887,375 crates.

(b) As provided in § 967.38(a), the Uniform Percentage for the 1969–70 season is determined as 84.312 percent.

(c) During the season August 1, 1969, through July 31, 1970, no handler may handle, as provided in § 967.36(b)(1), any harvested celery unless it is within the Marketable Allotment for the producer of such celery.

(d) No reserve for Base Quantities for the 1969–70 season is established.

(e) Terms used herein shall have the same meaning as when used in the said amended marketing agreement and order.

Dated: June 27, 1969.

PAUL A. NICHOLSON,
Deputy Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Consumer and Marketing Service.

[Docket No. AO–286–A14]

MILK IN SOUTHEASTERN FLORIDA MARKETING AREA

Decision and Order To Terminate Proceeding on Proposed Amendments to Tentative Marketing Agreement and to Order

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., on January 9–11, 1968, pursuant to notice thereof issued on December 29, 1967 (33 F.R. 78).

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof, the Deputy Administrator, Regulatory Programs, on April 25, 1969 (34 F.R. 7173; F.R. Doc. 69–5190) filed with the Hearing Clerk, U.S. Department of Agriculture, his recommended decision containing notice of the opportunity to file written exceptions thereto.

The material issue, findings and conclusions and rulings of the recommended decision (34 F.R. 7173; F.R. Doc. 69–5190) are hereby approved and adopted and are set forth in full herein.

The material issue on the record of the hearing relates to the adoption of a Class I base plan.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions on the material issue are based on evidence presented at the hearing and the record thereof:

The Southeastern Florida order should not be amended to provide for a Class I base plan.

The order now provides for the distribution of total returns from producer milk through the payment of a uniform price, which is the same for each producer for all his milk. Independent Dairy Farmers' Association (IDFA) proposes that such returns be distributed through a Class I base plan under which producers would receive approximately the Class I price for their "base" deliveries and approximately the Class III price for deliveries in excess of their base. Under their plan, a producer's base would reflect his proportionate share of the Class I sales in the market based on his deliveries relative to the total producer milk pooled during a representative period.

IDFA represents 74 of the 88 producers under the order and markets 75 to 80 percent of the total producer milk. As the marketing agent for its members, IDFA assumes the role of balancing milk supplies, both on a seasonal and day-to-day basis, with the fluid milk requirements of handlers. This entails importing milk into the market when local supplies are short and disposing of supplies that are in excess of handlers' needs.

Since 1961, IDFA has operated a type of Class I base plan outside the order to encourage members to adjust their production to the needs of the market. The institution of their plan followed the removal from the order of a seasonal base-excess plan, which was considered to have stimulated excessive production because of a "race for base" by producers. IDFA claims that its plan places members at an economic disadvantage compared to other producers on the market, since the plan applies only to its members.

It points out that the other producers, being outside the plan, receive for all their milk the order uniform price, which in 1968 averaged $6.96.[1] When these producers increase their production, they receive the uniform price on the additional milk also. Its members, IDFA indicates, do not. Although IDFA receives for its members the order uniform price for all their milk, these returns are redistributed to the members through their Class I base plan. Members receive approximately the Class I price for base milk and approximately the Class III price for milk exceeding their base, IDFA stated. Under the order, Class I and Class III prices averaged $7.31 and $4.32, respectively, in 1968. IDFA stresses that any additional production by a member already producing his base returns to him only the lower price. It is this difference—approximately $2.64 in 1968—in returns to members and to other producers for additional milk production,

[1] Official notice is taken of the Southeastern Florida order monthly statistical releases issued after the close of the hearing which provide market data for 1967 and 1968 that were not available at the time of the hearing.

IDFA argues, that results in the economic disadvantage to members.

IDFA states that if a Class I base plan is not incorporated in the order it may be forced to abandon its present base plan. It considers the use of a Class I base plan essential, however, to the orderly balancing of milk supplies with demand in this market and urges the adoption of such a plan under the order.

The 14 producers in the market who are not IDFA members oppose a Class I base plan. Of these 14 producers, 10 are members of Home Milk Producers Association (HMPA), a cooperative which bottles milk and manufactures cottage cheese and ice cream at its own plant. The four remaining Southeastern Florida producers are corporate farms owned and operated by the same person. He and an HMPA member testified concerning their operations.

Production in December 1964 through March 1965 of the HMPA member who testified was 4.4 million pounds. In 1967, he expanded his production facilities by an investment of $160,000 in additional land and cows. He estimated that due primarily to the expansion, his December 1967–March 1968 production would be about 5.7 million pounds, an increase of 30 percent over the comparable 1964–65 period. The increase in production by all Southeastern Florida producers during this period was 11 percent.

The owner of the four corporate farms relocated one farm operation in June 1967, involving an investment of more than $900,000 in land, new buildings and equipment, and 450 additional cows. With the new facility in operation, total production on the four farms in October 1967 was 5 million pounds, 35 percent more than their October 1965 production of 3.7 million pounds. Total production of all other Southeastern Florida producers increased 8 percent in the same 2-year period.

Production increases such as these have been of particular concern to IDFA which points out that although it represents 74 of the 88 producers on the market it has, nevertheless, no control over the production of the other 14 Southeastern Florida producers. It argues that the efforts of its members, in operating under a base plan to tailor production to the market's Class I requirements, can be substantially nullified by the increased production of the other producers.

Handlers oppose a Class I base plan for the order. They argue that the basic purpose of such plans is to reduce surpluses and that the Southeastern Florida market has no surplus. The handlers note that the market's Class I utilization of producer milk, which averaged 87 percent for the past 6 years, is among the highest in the country; and that another 5 to 8 percent of the producer milk is used in Class II products. Moreover, handlers argue, a reserve supply of milk—IDFA recommended an amount equal to 12 percent of the Class I sales in the market—is necessary to assure an adequate milk supply for handlers at all times.

Producer receipts under the order in 1968 were 571 million pounds, 13 percent more than the 507 million pounds in 1963. Producer milk used in Class I, which increased 12 percent during this 6-year period, totaled 496 million pounds in 1968, compared with 442 million pounds in 1963. The Class I utilization of producer milk during the past 6 years has approximated 87 percent annually, as shown in the following table.

Year	Producer receipts	Producer milk in Class I	Percentage of producer milk in Class I
	(Million pounds)	(Million pounds)	(Percent)
1963	507	442	87.3
1964	511	445	87.2
1965	530	462	87.2
1966	535	468	87.5
1967	568	491	86.4
1968	571	496	86.9

Although milk production for the Southeastern Florida market has increased, Class I sales have likewise increased. Despite relatively large production increases by some producers, there has been no significant change in the relationship between production for the market and Class I sales. In the past 6 years, the market reserve averaged only 13 percent of producer deliveries. Such a reserve, as the proponent cooperative indicates, is, in fact, needed to assure handlers of an adequate supply of milk for Class I use.

Historically, deliveries of Southeastern Florida producers have not always been adequate to meet the market's Class I needs and milk must be obtained from outside sources. In September through December 1968, handlers imported 6 million pounds of milk. Total imports in 1968 were 8.9 million pounds. In 1967, 1.6 million pounds were imported.

The Food and Agriculture Act of 1965 provided the authority to include Class I base plans in Federal orders. The proposal for a Class I base plan must be considered in relation to the basic purposes of the authorizing statute. The statement of purposes in the statute and the legislative history of the Class I base plan provisions in the statute make it abundantly clear that a principal purpose of the 1965 Act is to reduce surplus milk production. We conclude that there is no milk surplus in the Southeastern Florida market beyond the normal requirement of any market for a minimum reserve to meet daily and weekly fluctuations in sales. Accordingly, the inclusion of a Class I base plan in the Southeastern Florida order is denied at this time.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Briefs and proposed findings and conclusions were filed on behalf of certain interested parties. These briefs, proposed findings and conclusions and the evidence in the record were considered in making the findings and conclusions set forth above. To the extent that the suggested findings and conclusions filed by interested parties are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions set forth herein, the requests to make such findings or reach such conclusions are denied for the reasons previously stated in this decision.

In accordance with § 900.9(b) of the general regulations with respect to marketing agreements and orders (7 CFR Part 900), an interested party requested in his brief a reversal of the Presiding Officer's denial of a motion for a continuance of the hearing. The party contended that although the legal requirements for notice were met the notice of hearing provided insufficient time to prepare evidence for the hearing. A continuance of the hearing was asked so that certain statistical data could be prepared and presented for inclusion in the record.

The notice for this hearing, which convened on January 9, 1968, was published on January 4, 1968. This provided more than the minimum 3-day notice required by § 900.4(a) of the general regulations. Such notice is considered to be reasonable in the circumstances. The Presiding Officer's ruling on this motion is affirmed.

Rulings on exceptions. In arriving at the findings and conclusions of this decision, each of the exceptions received was carefully and fully considered in conjunction with the record evidence pertaining thereto. To the extent that the findings and conclusions of this decision are at variance with any of the exceptions, such exceptions are hereby overruled for the reasons previously stated in this decision.

Termination order. It is hereby found and determined, on the basis of the findings and conclusions and rulings with respect to the material issue of this proceeding, that the proceeding with respect to proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order is hereby terminated.

Signed at Washington, D.C., on June 30, 1969.

RICHARD E. LYNG,
Assistant Secretary.

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

[12 CFR Parts 204, 213]

[Regs. D, M]

RESERVES OF MEMBER BANKS; FOREIGN ACTIVITIES OF NATIONAL BANKS [1]

Reserves Against Certain Foreign Transactions

The Board of Governors is considering amending Parts 204 and 213 to impose reserve requirements against certain transactions usually involving so-called "Euro-dollars"—deposits of U.S. dollars with banks located outside the United States, including overseas branches of U.S. banks.

[1] Despite the title of Part 213, the conditions, limitations, and restrictions therein are applicable to foreign activities of State-chartered member banks as well as national banks (12 U.S.C. 321, 601).

The proposed amendments are designed to remove a special advantage to member banks of using Euro-dollars for adjustment to domestic credit restraint. The increasing magnitude of this practice has had a distorting influence on credit flows in the United States and abroad.

Specifically, the proposed amendments would:

(1) Establish a 10 percent reserve requirement against (a) borrowings by domestic offices of member banks from their foreign branches and (b) assets of foreign branches acquired from domestic offices of its parent member bank, to the extent that such borrowings and assets exceed the daily average amounts outstanding in the 4 weeks ending May 28, 1969.

(2) Establish a 10 percent reserve requirement against credit extended by a foreign branch of a member bank to U.S. residents, to the extent such credits exceed those in a base period defined as either (a) the amount outstanding on June 25, 1969, or (b) the daily average amount outstanding in the 4 weeks ending May 28, 1969.

(3) Establish a 10 percent reserve requirement on borrowings by member banks from banks abroad that are not denominated as deposits.

Each of the reserve requirements would be maintained by member bank head offices in a manner similar to that applicable to their deposit liabilities generally.

The first two of the proposed requirements would be accomplished by adding a new section to Part 213, as follows:

§ 213.7 Marginal reserve requirements.

(a) Member bank transactions with foreign branches. During each week of the 4-week period beginning [the seventh Thursday after the effective date of this paragraph] and each week of each successive 4-week ("maintenance") period, a member bank having one or more foreign branches shall, in addition to the requirements of Part 204 of this chapter (Regulation D), keep on deposit with the Reserve Bank of its district a daily average balance equal to 10 percent of the amount by which the daily average net total of (1) outstanding assets held by its foreign branches which were purchased from its domestic offices and (2) balances due from its domestic offices to its foreign branches, for the 4-week ("computation") period ending on the Wednesday 15 days before the beginning of each maintenance period, exceeds the greater of either (i) the corresponding daily average total for either the 4-week period ending May 28, 1969 or any computation period beginning on or after [the effective date of this paragraph], whichever is least, or (ii) 3 percent of the member bank's average total deposits subject to reserve requirements during the computation period.

(b) Credit extended by foreign branches to U.S. residents. During each week of the 4-week period beginning (the seventh Thursday after the effective date of this paragraph) and each week of each successive 4-week maintenance period, a member bank having one or more foreign branches shall, in addition to the requirements of Part 204 of this chapter (Regulation D) and of the preceding paragraph, keep on deposit with the Reserve Bank of its district a daily average balance equal to 10 percent of the amount by which daily average credit outstanding from its foreign branches to U.S. residents (other than assets purchased and balances due from its domestic offices) for the 4-week computation period ending on the Wednesday 15 days before the beginning of each maintenance period exceeds either the corresponding daily average total during the 4-week period ending May 28, 1969 or the total outstanding on June 25, 1969: Provided, That this paragraph does not apply with respect to any foreign branch which did not have credit outstanding to U.S. residents exceeding $5 million on any day during the relevant computation period.

The third of the proposed requirements would be accomplished:

§ 204.1 [Amended]

(1) By amending the exemption enumerated (1) in § 204.1(f) (relating to certain promissory notes as deposits) by changing "that is issued to another bank" to read "that is issued to a domestic office of another bank";

§ 204.5 [Amended]

(2) By amending § 204.5(a) by changing "subject to paragraph (b)" to read "subject to paragraphs (b) and (c)"; and

(3) By adding to § 204.5 the following new paragraph:

(c) Reserve percentage against certain deposits of foreign banks. Deposits represented by promissory notes, acknowledgments of advance, due bills, or similar obligations of the kind described in § 204.1(f) that are issued to, or undertaken with respect to, a foreign office of another bank shall not be subject to the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section, but a member bank shall maintain on deposit with the Reserve Bank of its district a balance equal to 10 percent of such deposits.

This notice is published pursuant to section 553(b) of title 5, United States Code, and § 262.2(a) of the rules of procedure of the Board of Governors.

To aid in the consideration of this matter by the Board, interested persons are invited to submit relevant data, views, or arguments. Any such material should be submitted in writing to the Secretary, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C. 20551, to be received not later than July 28, 1969.

Dated at Washington, D.C., this 26th day of June 1969.

By order of the Board of Governors.

[SEAL] ROBERT P. FORRESTAL,
Assistant Secretary.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Commodity Credit Corporation

SALES OF CERTAIN COMMODITIES

July Sales List

Notice to buyers. Pursuant to the policy of Commodity Credit Corporation issued October 12, 1954 (19 F.R. 6669), and subject to the conditions stated therein as well as herein, the commodities listed below are available for sale and, where noted, for redemption of payment-in-kind certificates on the price basis set forth.

1. The U.S. Department of Agriculture announced the price at which Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) commodity holdings are available for sale, beginning at 3 p.m., e.d.t., on June 27, 1969, and, subject to amendment, continuing until superseded by the August Monthly Sales List.

The following commodities are available: Cotton (upland and extra long staple), wheat, corn, oats, barley, flaxseed, rye, rice, grain sorghum, peanuts, tung oil, cottonseed meal, butter, and nonfat dry milk.

With the 1969-crop marketing year beginning July 1 for wheat, barley, oats, rye, and flaxseed, the July list includes formula minimum pricing for these commodities based on 1969 price-support loan rates.

Export listings of grain sorghum, barley, oats, and rye at 115 percent of the loan rate have been deleted inasmuch as prices under the unrestricted use schedules apply.

Information on the availability of commodities stored in CCC bin sites may be obtained from Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service State offices shown at the end of the sales list; and for commodities stored at other locations, the information may be attained from ASCS commodity and grain offices also shown at the end of the list.

Corn, oats, barley, or grain sorghum, as determined by CCC, will be sold for unrestricted use for "Dealers' Certificates" issued under the emergency livestock feed program. Grain delivered against such certificates will be sold at the applicable current market price, determined by CCC.

2. In the following listing of Commodities and sales prices or method of sales, "unrestricted use" applies to sales which permit either domestic or export use and "export" applies to sales which require export only. CCC reserves the right to determine the class, grade, quality, and available quantity of commodities listed for sale.

The CCC Monthly Sales List, which varies from month to month as additional commodities become available or commodities formerly available are dropped, is designed to aid in moving CCC's inventories into domestic or export use through regular commercial channels.

If it becomes necessary during the month to amend this list in any material way—such as by the removal or addition of a commodity in which there is general interest or by a significant change in price or method of sale—an announcement of the change will be sent to all persons currently receiving the list by mail from Washington. To be put on this mailing list, address: Director, Commodity Operations Division, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

3. Interest rates per annum under the CCC Export Credit Sales Program (Announcement GSM–4) for July 1969 are 6⅜ percent for U.S. bank obligations and 7⅜ percent for foreign bank obligations. Commodities now eligible for financing under the CCC Export Credit Sales Program include oats, wheat, wheat flour, barley, corn, cornmeal, grain sorghum, upland and extra long staple cotton, milled and brown rice, tobacco, cottonseed oil, raisins, soybean oil, dairy products, tallow, lard, breeding cattle, and rye. Commodities purchased from CCC may be financed for export as private stocks under Announcement GSM–4.

Information on the CCC Export Credit Sales Program and on commodities available under Title I, Public Law 480, private trade agreements, and current information on interest rates and other phases of these programs may be obtained from the Office of the General Sales Manager, Export Marketing Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

4. The following commodities are currently available for new and existing barter contracts: Upland cotton and tobacco. In addition, private stocks of corn, grain sorghum, barley (other than malting barley), oats, wheat, and wheat flour, and milled and brown rice, under Announcement PS–1, as amended; tobacco under Announcement PS–3; cottonseed oil and soybean oil under Announcement PS–2; and upland and extra long staple cotton under Announcement PS–4; and inedible tallow and grease under Announcement PS–5; are eligible for programing in connection with barter contracts covering procurement for Federal agencies that will reimburse CCC. (However, Hard Red Winter 13 percent protein or higher, Hard Red Spring 14 percent protein or higher, Durum wheats, and flour produced from these wheats may not be exported under barter through west coast ports.) Further information on private-stock commodities may be obtained from the Office of the Assistant Sales Manager, Barter, Export Marketing Service, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250.

5. The CCC will entertain offers from responsible buyers for the purchase of any commodity on the current list. Offers accepted by CCC will be subject to the terms and conditions prescribed by the Corporation. These terms include payment by cash or irrevocable letter of credit before delivery of the commodity and the conditions require removal of the commodity from CCC stocks within a reasonable period of time. Where sales are for export, proof of exportation is also required, and the buyer is responsible for obtaining any required U.S. Government export permit or license. Purchase from CCC shall not constitute any assurance that any such permit or license will be granted by the issuing authority.

Applicable announcements containing all terms and conditions of sale will be furnished upon request. For easy reference a number of these announcements are identified by code number in following list. Interested persons are invited to communicate with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250, with respect to all commodities—for specified commodities—with the designated ASCS commodity office.

6. Commodity Credit Corporation reserves the right to amend from time to time, any of its announcements. Such amendments shall be applicable to and be made a part of the sale contracts thereafter entered into.

CCC reserves the right to reject any or all offers placed with it for the purchase of commodities pursuant to such announcements.

CCC reserves the right to refuse to consider an offer, if CCC does not have adequate information of financial responsibility of the offerer to meet contract obligations of the type contemplated in this announcement. If a prospective offerer is in doubt as to whether CCC has adequate information with respect to his financial responsibility, he should either submit a financial statement to the office named in the invitation prior to making an offer, or communicate with such office to determine whether such a statement is desired in his case. When satisfactory financial responsibility has not been established, CCC reserves the right to consider an offer only upon submission by offerer of a certified or cashier's check, a bid bond, or other security, acceptable to CCC, assuring that if the offer is accepted, the offerer will comply with any provisions of the contract with respect to payment for the commodity and the furnishing of performance bond or other security acceptable to CCC.

Disposals and other handling of inventory items often result in small quantities at given locations or in qualities not up to specifications. These lots are offered by the appropriate ASCS office promptly upon appearance and therefore, generally, they do not appear in the Monthly Sales List.

7. On sales for which the buyer is required to submit proof to CCC of exportation, the buyer shall be regularly engaged in the business of buying or selling commodities and for this purpose shall maintain a bona fide business office in the United States, its territories or possessions and have a person, principal, or resident agent upon whom service of judicial process may be had.

Prospective buyers for export should note that generally, sales to U.S. Government agencies, with only minor exceptions, will constitute domestic unrestricted use of the commodity.

Commodity Credit Corporation reserves the right, before making any sales, to define or limit export areas.

Exports to certain countries are regulated under the Export Control Act of 1949. These restrictions also apply to any commodities purchased from the Commodity Credit Corporation whether sold for restricted or unrestricted use. Countries and commodities are specifically listed in the U.S. Department of Commerce Comprehensive Export Schedule. Additional information is available from the Bureau of International Commerce or from the field offices of the Department of Commerce.

MEAT IMPORT LIMITATIONS

Quarterly Estimates

Public Law 88-482, approved August 22, 1964 (hereinafter referred to as the Act), provides for limiting the quantity of fresh, chilled, or frozen cattle meat (TSUS 106.10) and fresh, chilled, or frozen meat of goats and sheep, except lamb (TSUS 106.20), which may be imported into the United States in any calendar year. Such limitations are to be imposed when it is estimated by the Secretary of Agriculture that imports of such articles, in the absence of limitations during such calendar year, would equal or exceed 110 percent of the estimated quantity of such articles prescribed by section 2(a) of the Act.

In accordance with the requirements of the Act the following third quarterly estimates are published:

1. The estimated aggregate quantity of such articles which would, in the absence of limitations under the Act be imported during calendar year 1969 is 1,035 million pounds.

2. The estimated quantity of such articles prescribed by section 2(a) of the Act during the calendar year 1969 is 988 million pounds.

Since the estimated quantity of imports does not equal or exceed 110 percent of the estimated quantity prescribed by section 2(a) of the Act, limitations for the calendar year 1969 on the importation of fresh, chilled, or frozen cattle meat (TSUS 106.10) and fresh, chilled, or frozen meat of goats and sheep (TSUS 106.20), are not authorized to be imposed pursuant to Public Law 88-482 at this time.

Done at Washington, D.C., this 27th day of June 1969.

CLIFFORD M. HARDIN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Notice of Decision on Application for Duty-Free Entry of Scientific Article

The following is a decision on an application for duty-free entry of a scientific article pursuant to section 6(c) of the Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Materials Importation Act of 1966 (Public Law 89-651, 80 Stat. 897) and the regulations issued thereunder (32 F.R. 2433 et seq.).

A copy of the record pertaining to this decision is available for public review during ordinary business hours of the Department of Commerce, at the Scientific Instrument Evaluation Division, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C.

Docket No. 69-00356-33-40500. Applicant: The Trustees of University of Pennsylvania, 3400 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 19104. Article: Rapid scanning ultramicrointerferometer, Model IMI 600. Manufacturer: Incentive Research and Development AB, Sweden. Intended use of article: The article will be used for dry mass (weight) determinations of spermatozoa being analyzed in projects concerning quantitative cytochemical research. Comments: No comments have been received with respect to this application. Decision: Application approved. No instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for the purposes for which such article is intended to be used, is being manufactured in the United States. Reasons: For the purposes for which the foreign article is intended to be used the applicant requires an instrument that can measure the dry mass of a cell. The dry mass per unit surface of a biological object can be determined by measuring the optical path difference of the area with an interference microscope. However, the cell to be investigated by the applicant is not homogeneous enough to permit a simple and rapid determination of its dry mass with the interference microscope alone. The foreign article combines the capabilities of the interference microscope with a system that is capable of scanning an object and electronically integrating the data obtained to yield the dry mass of the entire object as a digital readout. We are advised by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in a memorandum dated April 8, 1969, it knows of no instrument or apparatus being manufactured in the United States, which provides these capabilities.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[Docket No. 20373 etc.; Order 69-6-164]

AIR WEST, INC., ET AL.

Joint Applications for Approval of Route Transfer and for Amendment of Certificates, and for Approval of Wet-Lease Agreements

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 27th day of June 1969.

Joint applications of Air West, Inc., and United Air Lines, Inc., for approval of route transfer and for amendment of certificates, and for approval of wet-lease agreement, docket Nos. 20373 and 20686; Reno-Portland/Seattle Nonstop Service Investigation, Docket No. 21136.

On October 16, 1968, in Docket 20373, Air West, Inc. (Air West), and United Air Lines, Inc. (United), filed a joint application seeking approval of an agreement by which United would transfer its authority to serve Elko and Ely, Nev., to Air West, and requesting amendments to the certificates of each carrier to accomplish the transfer and to make certain other changes in the certificates of each carrier upon which the proposed route transfer is to be contingent.[1]

On October 17, 1968, Air West filed a motion for expedited hearing of its joint application in Docket 20373, alleging, inter alia, that the proposed route transfer would permit it to achieve a substantial reduction in subsidy need and would afford it needed strengthening without serious diversion from other carriers. Air West noted that its agreement with United might be terminated by either party after March 31, 1969, unless Board approval were granted prior to that time.[2]

Numerous answers supporting or opposing, or supporting in part, the joint application and Air West's motion for expedition have been submitted.[3] In addition, the Air Line Pilots Association (ALPA) filed a request for an evidentiary hearing on the joint application and a petition for leave to intervene.[4] The city of Klamath Falls, Oreg., filed a motion to consolidate its own application for improved service to Portland and Reno in Docket 20497, and Air West has filed an answer in opposition to Klamath Falls' request.[5]

On January 29, 1969, in Docket 20686, Air West and United filed a separate joint application for approval of a wet-lease agreement and grant of exemption authority pursuant to which Air West would provide one daily round trip over United's route between Salt Lake City and San Francisco, via the intermediate points Ely, Elko, Reno, and Oakland, for which it would receive payment from United of $90,488 per month. The wet-lease agreement is designed to permit interim operation of the proposed service pending final Board action with respect to the route transfer application in Docket 20373.[6]

Upon consideration of the foregoing pleadings and other relevant facts, we have decided to deny Air West's motion for expeditious hearing of its joint application, with United, in Docket 20373. On the basis of our conclusions with respect to the joint route transfer application, we also find that approval of the proposed interim wet-lease agreement in Docket 20686 is not in the public interest, and, accordingly, should be denied. However, we have further decided to institute an investigation into the need for new nonstop service in two of the markets included in the joint application, Reno-Portland and Reno-Seattle.

The heart of the joint application by Air West and United in Docket 20373 is

[1] In addition to the deletion of these two points from United's certificate for route 1 and the addition of the two points to Air West's certificate for route 76 as intermediate points on a new segment between the terminal points Reno, Nev., and Salt Lake City, Utah, the applicants have requested the following certificate amendments: (1) Amendment of Air West's certificate to permit nonstop authority between Reno, on the one hand, and San Francisco/Oakland, Salt Lake City, Portland, and Seattle, on the other; (2) deletion of Air West's condition (7) which requires a stop at Portland on certain flights over segment 4 (now segment 1) and the substitution of a new restriction requiring only one intermediate stop on flights between Seattle and San Francisco, Oakland, or Sacramento; (3) modification of Air West's condition 4(a) to designate Reno as the only intermediate point to be served on flights between Salt Lake City and Portland or Seattle; and (4) amendment of United's certificate to make operations in the Salt Lake City-Reno market subject to a long-haul restriction.

[2] We have not been advised that either party has sought to terminate the subject agreement to date.

[3] Answers in support were filed by the Seattle Traffic Association (in part), the Greater Reno Chamber of Commerce, the Las Vegas parties, the Elko parties, and the city of Sparks, Nev. Answers in opposition have been filed by Western Air Lines (in part), the city of Ely, Nev., White Pine County, Nev., and the Utah Agencies.

[4] ALPA has subsequently submitted a series of filings related to its request, the net effect of which is to withdraw from further participation in this proceeding.

[5] In view of the action taken herein with respect to Air West's motion for expeditious consideration, we find it unnecessary to rule upon the Klamath Falls motion for consolidation at this time.

[6] ALPA also filed a request for hearing with respect to the wet-lease application, but has subsequently requested permission to withdraw from participation.

the portion by which United seeks relief from its certificate obligation to serve Ely and Elko through transfer of this authority to Air West. This east-west portion of the proposal includes nonstop authoirty for Air West in the Salt Lake City-Reno and Reno-San Francisco markets.[7]

With respect to the east-west portion of their application, the applicants have failed to demonstrate that an expedited hearing is warranted. United has not shown that its service to Ely and Elko [8] constitutes an economic burden upon it, nor has it alleged that such service creates insurmountable operational difficulties.[9] More importantly, neither applicant has convincingly demonstrated that transfer of the points in question will afford significant benefits to Elko and Ely, or to Air West itself. Indeed, our analysis indicates that Air West's proposed east-west service to Ely and Elko (including Reno-Salt Lake City-San Francisco) would produce an operating loss and a subsidy need. Moreover, both the Ely and White Pine County parties have objected to the proposed east-west route transfer.

In these circumstances we are unable to conclude that grant of Air West's motion for expedited hearing of the route transfer application is in the public interest.[10] In light of our conclusions with respect to the route transfer application, we see no basis for approval of the proposed interim wet-lease operation, inasmuch as the latter request is clearly aimed at permitting temporary operations pending an early resolution of the route transfer application.

Upon consideration of matters raised in connection with the joint application of Air West and United in Docket 20373, we believe that institution of an investigation into the need for competitive nonstop service in the Reno-Portland/Seattle markets is warranted at this time.[11] Air West has forecast that the Reno-Portland and Reno-Seattle markets will reach 62,835 and 81,135 passengers, respectively, in 1969, and we believe that traffic flows of this magnitude, even without allowance for incremental growth to the forecast year 1970 or 1971, are sufficiently high to warrant consideration of the need for additional nonstop service in the markets.

Accordingly, we have determined to institute an investigation into the need for additional unrestricted nonstop service between Reno, on the one hand, and Portland and Seattle, on the other hand, subject to a pretrial restriction prohibiting turn-around service between Portland and Seattle. Interested applicants are invited to file applications consistent with scope of this investigation, as well as motions pertaining to the scope of the investigation, within the time limits established hereinafter.

Accordingly, it is ordered:

1. That the motion of Air West, Inc., for expedited consideration of its joint application with United Air Lines, Inc., in Docket 20373, seeking the transfer of certain route authority and other relief, be and it hereby is denied;

2. That the joint application filed by Air West and United Air Lines for approval of a wet-lease agreement and exemption authority in Docket 20686 be and it hereby is denied;

3. That an investigation into the need for additional unrestricted nonstop authority in the Reno-Portland and Reno-Seattle markets be and it hereby is instituted in Docket 21136 pursuant to sections 204(a) and 401(g) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended, and that such investigation be designated as the Reno-Portland/Seattle Nonstop Service Investigation;

4. That said investigation shall be subject to the following conditions:

(a) Any authority awarded in this proceeding to a carrier not now holding on-segment authority shall be in the form of a separate segment or segments, and shall be granted without eligibility for subsidy; and

(b) Any services operated pursuant to an award in this proceeding shall be subject to a restriction prohibiting turnaround flights between Seattle and Portland.

5. That motions to consolidate applications, and motions or petitions seeking modification or reconsideration, shall be filed not later than twenty (20) days after the date of service of this order and that answers to such pleadings shall be filed not later than ten (10) days thereafter;

6. That the investigation hereby instituted be set down for hearing before an Examiner of the Board at a time and place hereafter designated; and

7. That a copy of this order shall be served upon Air West, Inc., United Air Lines, Inc., Western Air Lines, Inc., Braniff Airways, Inc., Continental Air Lines, Inc., Northwest Airlines, Inc., Eastern Air Lines, Inc., Air Line Pilots Association, International, Seattle Traffic Association, Attorney General, State of Utah; Greater Reno Chamber of Commerce; Chairman, Board of Commissioners, White Pine County (Nev.); the cities of Elko, Ely, Salt Lake City, Reno, Portland, Seattle, San Francisco, Las Vegas, Klamath Falls, Sparks, Governors of Nevada, Oregon, Washington, California, and Utah.

This order shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

[SEAL] MABEL MCCART,
Acting Secretary.

[F.R. Doc. 69-7882; Filed, July 2, 1969; 8:49 a.m.]

[7] The remainder of the proposal involves north-south authority between Portland/Seattle, on the one hand, and Reno/Las Vegas, on the other.

[8] As of May 1, 1969, United served both Elko and Ely with one DC-6 round trip daily to Reno and Salt Lake City, OAG, QRE, May 1, 1969.

[9] United has urged that deletion of these points will permit it to retire the propeller aircraft with which it now provides service, but has not shown that retention of the nonjet aircraft will constitute a hardship to it.

[10] The Board has previously considered United's desire to delete the identical Reno-Elko-Ely-Salt Lake City segment in the Pacific Northwest Local Service Case, 29 CAB 660, 680-84 (1959), and determined at that time that transfer of the route to a subsidized local service carrier would be contrary to the public interest on the basis, inter alia, of the increased subsidy cost which such transfer would involve. We believe that the evidence adduced by Air West and United herein demonstrates no substantial improvement in the economic prospects for service to Elko and Ely by a local service carrier during the 10-year interval since United's request was last denied.

[11] Only United now holds nonstop authority in these markets, and presently provides three daily nonstop round trips to Portland, and three daily one-stop round trips to Seattle. OAG, QRE, May 1, 1969.

INTERNATIONAL AIR TRANSPORT ASSOCIATION

Order Regarding Carriage of Live Animals

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 26th day of June 1969.

Agreement adopted by the Traffic Conferences of the International Air Transport Association relating to the carriage of live animals.

By Order 69-5-60, dated May 14, 1969, action was deferred, with a view toward approval, on an agreement adopted by the International Air Transport Association (IATA) establishing a recommended practice relating to acceptance and handling of live animals. The recommended practice was set forth in a publication entitled "IATA Manual for the Carriage of Live Animals by Air." The order allowed 10 days for interested persons to file petitions in support of or in opposition to the proposed action.

The United Pet Dealers Association, Inc., and Allied-American Bird Co. filed timely petitions requesting that certain conditions be attached to the Board's approval of the agreement. Both petitions requested the Board to condition the agreement so that (1) procedures would be established and set forth in the manual whereby new packaging methods could be submitted to the IATA Study Group on Live Animals for evaluation; (2) upon evaluation and approval of new packaging standards, publication of such would be made to interested shippers and airlines, and (3) "* * * there be incorporated into the manual specific wordage outlining its specific legal value in areas such as shipment acceptance, claim liability and its legal status as to deviation from the packaging specification contained therein."

The first two contentions may have some merit, but we cannot find that conditioning the agreement and requiring revisions to the manual, as requested, is required in the public interest. The manual, which is comprised of recommended practices, is not a binding IATA agreement. We understand that the manual was developed through the joint efforts of the carriers, shippers, and interested persons, and there is no reason to believe that the carriers will not continue to solicit and welcome comments. In this regard, the carriers in due course might well want to consider procedures for the evaluation of animal containers similar to the IATA procedures which have been established for the evaluation of unit load devices under Resolution 520 (Containers Board).

The third request of the petitioners that the manual include language as to its legal implications does not seem warranted. As indicated, material in the manual consists of recommended practices and procedures which the carriers need not adhere to. The Board will, however, condition the agreement so as to provide that approval of the agreement in no way constitutes a waiver of the economic regulations governing the filing and publication of tariffs. In this respect, some of the material contained in the manual, if followed by the carriers, would appear to constitute tariff material.

Finally, the petition of the United Pet Dealers Association, Inc., makes note that the manual does not mention that the contents are recommended practices and not binding upon the carriers or shippers. The manual does not purport to be mandatory in its application, and we do not find that the public interest requires revision to the published manual. However, it would be well if the manual specifically noted that its application is not required, and we will expect this fact to be mentioned in the manual's next publication.

Accordingly, pursuant to the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, particularly sections 102, 204(a), and 412 thereof:

It is ordered, That:

1. Agreement CAB 20886 be and hereby is approved, provided that approval of the agreement shall not constitute a waiver of the Board's economic regulations governing the publication and filing of tariffs; and

2. The petitions of United Pet Dealers Association, Inc., and Allied-American Bird Co. be and hereby are dismissed.

This order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

MOHAWK AIRLINES, INC., AND UNITED AIR LINES, INC.

Order Setting Application for Hearing

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 26th day of June 1969.

Application of Mohawk Airlines, Inc. for amendment of its certificate of public convenience and necessity, docket No. 20486; application of United Air Lines, Inc. for amendment of its certificate of public convenience and necessity, docket No. 20670.

By Order 68-12-132, dated December 24, 1968, the Board set for further proceedings, pursuant to Rules 1306-1310 of the Board's procedural regulations, the application of Mohawk Airlines, Inc. (Mohawk), for amendment of its certificate of public convenience and necessity for Route 94 so as to permit it to provide, without subsidy eligibility, nonstop service between Rochester, N.Y., and Pittsburgh, Pa.

United Air Lines, Inc. (United), filed an answer in opposition to the application. Allegheny Airlines, Inc. (Allegheny), filed an answer stating that it does not oppose Mohawk's application provided that a restriction is imposed preventing one-stop Pittsburgh-Toronto operations by Mohawk. The Rochester Chamber of Commerce filed an answer in support of the application. Mohawk filed a reply to the answers of Allegheny and United.

United filed a motion to consolidate its application in docket No. 20670 for Rochester-Pittsburgh nonstop authority on a separate segment of Route 51. Mohawk filed an answer to United's motion to consolidate and United filed a reply to that answer.

Upon consideration of the pleadings and all the relevant facts, the Board has determined that there is a sufficient basis for setting Mohawk's application, Docket 20486, for hearing. We shall also consolidate United's application, Docket 20670.[1]

Accordingly, it is ordered, That:

1. This application of Mohawk Airlines, Inc., Docket 20486, be and it hereby is set for hearing before an examiner of the Board at a time and place to be hereafter designated; and

2. The application of United Air Lines, Inc., Docket 20670, be and it is hereby consolidated for hearing with Docket 20486.

This order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

[Docket No. 21137; Order 69-6-172]

NATIONAL AIRLINES, INC.

Order of Investigation and Suspension

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 30th day of June 1969.

Applicability of night coach fares to a Miami-New York flight departing at 8 p.m., proposed by National Airlines, Inc., docket 21137.

By tariff revisions marked to become effective July 3, 1969,[1] National Airlines, Inc. (National), proposes that its jet night coach fares apply on a northbound flight departing Miami at 8 p.m. during the period of July 31, through September 30, 1969. Presently night coach fares in the Miami-Northeast markets apply between the hours of 10 p.m. and 3:59 a.m. The proposal is marked to expire with September 30, 1969.

In support of its filing, the carrier states that the proposal stems from the special circumstances surrounding a particular flight (Flight 608), which presently departs Miami at 10 p.m. and arrives La Guardia at 12:20 a.m.; it departs La Guardia at 12:45 a.m. and terminates in Providence at 1:26 a.m. National has been advised that, effective August 1, 1969, La Guardia Airport will be closed for a minimum of 60 days, 6 days a week, between the hours of 12:01 a.m. and 7 a.m. for the purpose of repaving runways. Accordingly, the carrier believes it is necessary that this flight depart Miami 2 hours earlier in order to insure a La Guardia departure prior to 12:01 a.m., considering the possibility of airport delays.

Eastern Air Lines, Inc. (Eastern), and Northeast Airlines, Inc. (Northeast), have filed complaints requesting suspension of National's proposed 8 p.m. departure time. Eastern asserts that advancing this flight departure by 2 hours would result in an unfair competitive advantage for National in relation to the other two carriers operating in the market. Eastern believes the proposal would cause considerable diversion from other northbound departures during the prime evening hours. Northeast, on the other hand, contends that National's justification does not meet the criteria traditionally employed by the Board when testing the lawfulness of night coach and off-peak fares. Both carriers contend that it is not necessary for National to roll back the departure time of its Flight 608 to 8 p.m. at Miami in order to depart La Guardia prior to the 12 p.m. curfew.[2] Finally, Eastern and Northeast submit that, should National feel that a departure time at 9 p.m. or after entails a certain degree of risk, the carrier is always free to operate its night coach flights through Kennedy or Newark Airport.[3]

Upon consideration of all relevant matters, the Board finds that National's proposal may be unjust, unreasonable, unjustly discriminatory, unduly preferential, unduly prejudicial, or otherwise unlawful, and should be suspended pending investigation.

Except for the indication that La Guardia Airport will be closed for repairs from midnight to 7 a.m. during the months of August and September, National has not demonstrated the need to advance the departure time of its Flight 608 by a full 2 hours. As pointed out by the complainants, there are presently a number of late afternoon and early evening regular-fare flights departing Miami for New York, as well as several nonstop or one-stop night coach flights departing at 10 p.m. or shortly thereafter. It appears, therefore, that National's proposal would cause significant diversion of traffic from other night coach flights, and dilute the normal-fare revenues of all three carriers operating in the market. However, the Board would consider a departure time of 9 p.m. for National's Flight 608.

Accordingly, pursuant to the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, and particularly sections 204(a) and 1002 thereof:

It is ordered, That:

1. An investigation be instituted to determine whether the provisions of paragraph (1)(b) of "Application:" on 10th Revised Page 223 of Airline Tariff Publishers, Inc., Agent's CAB No. 101, and rules, regulations, and practices affecting such provisions, are or will be unjust or unreasonable, unjustly discriminatory, unduly preferential, unduly prejudicial, or otherwise unlawful, and if found to be unlawful, to determine and prescribe the lawful provisions, and rules, regulations, or practices affecting such provisions;

2. Pending hearing and decision by the Board, the provisions of paragraph (1)(b) of "application:" on 10th Revised Page 223 of Airline Tariff Publishers, Inc., Agent's CAB No. 101 are suspended and their use deferred to and including September 30, 1969, unless otherwise ordered by the Board, and that no changes be made therein during the period of suspension except by order or special permission of the Board;

3. Except to the extent granted herein, the complaints of Eastern Air Lines, Inc., in Docket 21091, and Northeast Airlines, Inc., in Docket 21089, are hereby dismissed;

4. This investigation be assigned for hearing before an examiner of the Board at a time and place hereafter to be designated; and

5. A copy of this order be filed with the aforesaid tariff and be served on Eastern Air Lines, Inc., National Airlines, Inc., and Northeast Airlines, Inc., which are made parties to this proceeding.

This order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

[Docket No. 20593; Order 69-6-153]

UNITED AIR LINES, INC.

Order To Show Cause for Amendment of Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 26th day of June 1969.

Application of United Airlines, Inc., for amendment of its certificate of public convenience and necessity, Docket No. 20593.

On December 24, 1968, United Airlines, Inc. (United), filed an application in Docket 20593 to add Rochester, N.Y., as a coterminal point with Buffalo on segment 4 of Route 51.[1]

On February 17, 1969, the city of Rochester, the county of Monroe, and the Rochester Chamber of Commerce (Rochester parties) filed a petition for immediate hearing on United's application. On May 15, 1969, United filed a motion for immediate hearing on its application. On June 2, 1969, Mohawk Airlines, Inc. (Mohawk), filed an answer to United's motion insofar as it seeks improved Rochester-Pittsburgh authority, together with a motion to file an otherwise unauthorized document.[2]

Upon consideration of the pleadings and other relevant facts, we have decided to issue an order to show cause proposing to award the authority requested by United. We tentatively find and conclude that the public convenience and necessity require the amendment of United's certificate for Route 51 so as to add Rochester as a coterminal point with Buffalo on segment 4, subject to conditions requiring an intermediate stop between Rochester and Pittsburgh and prohibiting single-plane service between Rochester and Cleveland.

In support of our ultimate finding, we tentatively find and conclude as follows: That the grant of United's application, subject to the conditions mentioned above, will give United nonstop authority between Rochester and 14 cities on segment 4;[3] that United is the only carrier certificated to provide service between Rochester and the Route 51 points in question, and is the dominant carrier in these 14 markets;[4] that the proposed award of nonstop authority will make possible improved service to the public and increased operational flexibility for United; and that grant of the requested

[1] Segment 4, which incorporates by reference part of segment 1, is as follows:

Between the terminal point Buffalo, N.Y., the intermediate points Cleveland, Akron-Canton, and Youngstown, Ohio, Pittsburgh, Pa., Charleston, W. Va., Bristol, Tenn.-Va. and (a) beyond Bristol, the intermediate points Asheville, N.C., Atlanta, Ga., and (1) beyond Atlanta, Ga., the intermediate points Birmingham and Mobile, Ala., and the terminal point New Orleans, La., and (11) beyond Atlanta, Ga., the intermediate points Jacksonville, Tampa-St. Petersburg-Clearwater, and West Palm Beach, Fla., and the coterminal points Fort Lauderdale and Miami, Fla., and (b) beyond Bristol, the intermediate points Knoxville and Chattanooga, Tenn., Birmingham and Mobile, Ala., and the terminal point New Orleans, La.

[2] We will grant Mohawk's motion.

[3] The largest of these markets, Rochester-Miami, had 31,680 O&D and connecting passengers in 1967. United proposes initially to provide one Rochester-Miami nonstop round trip.

[4] United's participation in these markets ranges from 54 percent in the Rochester-New Orleans market to over 90 percent in the Rochester-Akron-Canton/Atlanta/Birmingham / Charleston / Miami / Mobile / Tampa/West Palm Beach/Youngstown markets. 1967 O&D and connecting traffic.

authority will have no significant competitive impact on any other carrier.[5]

We tentatively find that United should be precluded from providing nonstop Rochester-Pittsburgh service and from providing single-plane service between Rochester and Cleveland. Rochester-Pittsburgh authority is at issue in Docket 20486, Mohawk's Subpart M application for nonstop Rochester-Pittsburgh authority, which was set for hearing in Order 69-6-152. United's application for Rochester-Pittsburgh nonstop authority in Docket 20670 was consolidated in that proceeding and United will therefore have the opportunity to litigate such authority in that case.

In the Rochester-Cleveland market American Airlines has nonstop authority. A restriction on United's authority in that market should avoid complication of this proceeding by introduction of issues of competitive authority. Moreover, United has not proposed service between Rochester and Cleveland or shown any need for competitive service.

Interested persons will be given twenty (20) days following service of this order to show cause why the tentative findings and conclusions set forth herein should not be made final. We expect such persons to direct their objections, if any, to specific markets and to support such objections with detailed answers, specifically setting forth the tentative findings and conclusions to which objection is taken. Such objections should be accompanied by arguments of fact or law and should be supported by legal precedent or detailed economic analysis. If an evidentiary hearing is requested, the objector should state in detail why such a hearing is considered necessary and what relevant and material facts he would expect to establish through such a hearing. General, vague, or unsupported objections will not be entertained.

Accordingly, It is ordered, That:

1. All interested persons are directed to show cause why the Board should not issue an order amending the certificate of public convenience and necessity of United Air Lines, Inc., for Route 51 so as to add Rochester, N.Y., as a coterminal point with Buffalo on segment 4, subject to conditions requiring an intermediate stop between Rochester and Pittsburgh and prohibiting single-plane service between Rochester and Cleveland;

2. Any interested persons having objections to the issuance of an order making final the proposed findings, conclusions, and certificate amendments set forth herein shall, within twenty (20) days after service of a copy of this order, file with the Board and serve upon all persons made parties to this proceeding a statement of objections, together with a summary of testimony, statistical data, and other evidence expected to be relied on to support the stated objections;[6]

3. If timely and properly supported objections are filed, full consideration will be accorded the matters or issues raised by the objections before further action is taken by the Board;

4. In the event no objections are filed, all further procedural steps will be deemed to have been waived, and the case will be submitted to the Board for final action;

5. The petition of the city of Rochester, the county of Monroe, and the Rochester Chamber of Commerce for an immediate hearing and the motion of United Air Lines, Inc., for an immediate hearing be and they are hereby dismissed;

6. The motion of Mohawk Airlines, Inc., for leave to file an otherwise unauthorized document be and it is hereby granted; and

7. A copy of this order shall be served upon Airlift International, Inc., Allegheny Airlines, Inc., American Airlines, Inc., Delta Air Lines, Inc., Eastern Air Lines, Inc., Mohawk Airlines, Inc., National Airlines, Inc., Northeast Airlines, Inc., Northwest Airlines, Inc., Pan American World Airways, Inc., Piedmont Aviation, Inc., Southern Airways, Inc., Trans World Airlines, Inc., United Air Lines, Inc., and the cities and Chambers of Commerce of Akron, Canton, Cleveland, and Youngstown, Ohio, Asheville, N.C., Atlanta, Ga., Birmingham and Mobile, Ala., Bristol, Chattanooga, and Knoxville, Tenn., Charleston, W. Va., Clearwater, Fort Lauderdale, Jacksonville, Miami, St. Petersburg, and West Palm Beach, Fla., New Orleans, La., Pittsburgh, Pa., and Rochester, N.Y.

This order shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

[Docket No. 19074, etc.; Order 69-6-151]

VARIOUS POST OFFICE NOTICES

Order To Show Cause Regarding Use of Air Taxi Mail Service

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 26th day of June 1969.

In the matter of Various Post Office Notices giving notice pursuant to § 298.24 of the Board's regulations of intent to use air taxi mail service, dockets Nos. 19074, 19075, 19790, 19783, 19787, 19880, 19793, 20101, 20274, 20275, 20276, 20380, 20199, 20377, 20379, 20800.

On October 11, 1967, the Board adopted ER-514 (32 F.R. 14320, Oct. 17, 1967) which authorized individual exemptions for air taxi mail service in certain competitive markets and extended the term of the air taxis' authority to carry mail to June 30, 1969.

Since the rule authorizing air taxi mail service in competitive markets was issued, approximately 160 notices of intent under § 298.24 have been filed with the Board by the Post Office Department (POD).[1] Eighteen of these notices of intent have been protested. In the decided protested cases, the Board has found that the proposed air taxi services were required by postal needs in that, in typical situations, the certificated carriers were unable to meet the early morning and late night round trip scheduling essential to Post Office operations.

The protested notices of intent approved by the Board all carry an expiration date of June 30, 1969, due to the fact that at the time the notices were approved, June 30, 1969, was the termination date of all mail authorizations granted to air taxis pursuant to Part 298 of the Board's regulations. By notice of proposed rule making, dated April 25, 1969, EDR-160, Docket 20945, the Board proposed to amend Part 298 to extend the exemption granted air taxi operators to engage in the transportation of mail until June 30, 1974. On June 12, 1969, the Board adopted the proposed amended rule effective July 1, 1969 (Regulation ER-580).

Therefore, as matters presently stand, the basic mail authority of air taxi operators has been extended to June 30, 1974. However, there are currently outstanding various orders authorizing the provision of air taxi mail service between pairs of points in which an air carrier or carriers holds a certificate of public convenience and necessity. Unless extended these authorizations will expire by their terms on June 30, 1969. In this connection, the Post Office Department has submitted to the Board a request that the mail authority of those air taxi operators currently carrying mail and whose authority was granted by the Board pursuant to a protested notice of intent be extended for a period coextensive with the basic Part 298 mail authority.

In the light of the foregoing, the Board tentatively finds and concludes that the public interest requires the extension until June 30, 1974, of the mail

[5] In view of the fact that United is the only incumbent carrier and carries the vast bulk of traffic in the markets involved, we do not intend to consolidate for hearing any other applications even if objections are forthcoming. See Order 68-11-29, dated Nov. 5, 1968.

[6] All motions and/or petitions for reconsideration shall be filed within the period allowed for filing objections and no further such motions, requests, or petitions for reconsideration of this order will be entertained.

[1] Section 298.21 of the Board's economic regulations prohibits an air taxi operator from carrying mail between any pair of points when an air carrier holds a certificate of public convenience and necessity between such pair of points: Provided, That an air taxi operator is not precluded from carrying mail between any pair of points regarding which there is in effect a notice of intent to use air taxi mail service as provided in § 298.24. Section 298.24 provides that an air taxi operator may carry mail between a pair of points named in a notice of intent to use air taxi mail service which is effective pursuant to this section. Only the Post Office Department may file such a notice. But where a protest to the notice has been filed by an interested certificated carrier, the notice shall not be effective unless and until the Board so orders.

authority in the designated markets of those air taxi operators listed in the appendix below. Pending our resolution of the show cause proceeding at hand, we will extend the authorizations set forth in the appendix below.

We note that in petitioning the Board to institute rule-making proceedings to extend the basic air taxi mail authority until June 30, 1974, the Postmaster General represented that he has a continuing need for air taxi mail service in both certificated and noncertificated markets and that the Post Office Department is compelled to continue to seek the services of air taxi operators in those markets in which certificated schedules fulfilling postal requirements cannot be obtained. Each of the authorizations which we tentatively propose to extend until June 30, 1974, represents a situation in which the Board has found that the needs of the postal service require grant of the authorizations in question. The fact that the protested notices of intent were approved for a temporary period was directly related to the fact that the underlying air taxi mail authority contained in Part 298 also expired on June 30, 1969. In the light of the fact that the basic Part 298 air taxi authority has now been extended to June 30, 1974, and that the Post Office Department has indicated a continuing need for the postal services described in the appendix below, we tentatively find and conclude that the authorizations contained in the appendix should be extended for the same period terminating on June 30, 1974.

In granting interested persons the opportunity to show why our tentative findings and conclusions should not be adopted, we expect such persons to direct their objections, if any, to specific markets and to support such objections with detailed answers, specifically setting forth the tentative findings and conclusions to which objection is taken. Such objection should be accompanied by arguments of fact or law and should be supported by legal precedent or detailed economic analysis. General, vague, and unsupported objections will not be entertained.

Accordingly, it is ordered, That:

1. All interested persons are directed to show cause why the Board should not issue an order making final the tentative findings and conclusions stated herein and extending the authorizations described in the attached appendix for a period to terminate on June 30, 1974;

2. The authorizations set forth in the appendix below be and they hereby are continued in effect until final decision on the matters set forth in ordering paragraph 1 herein;

3. Any interested persons having objections to the issuance of an order making final the proposed findings and conclusions set forth herein shall, within 20 days after service of a copy of this order, file with the Board and serve upon all persons made parties to this proceeding a statement of objections together with a summary of testimony, statistical data, and other evidence expected to be relied upon to support the stated objections;

4. If timely and properly supported objections are filed, full consideration will be accorded the matters or issues raised by the objections before further action is taken by the Board; [2] and

5. In the event no objections are filed, all further procedural steps will be deemed to have been waived, and the case will be submitted to the Board for final action.

This order shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

[SEAL] MABEL MCCART,
Acting Secretary.

[2] All motions and/or petitions for reconsideration shall be filed within the period allowed for filing objections and no further such motions, requests, or petitions for reconsideration of this order will be entertained.

COMMON CARRIER SERVICES INFORMATION [1]

Domestic Public Radio Services Applications Accepted for Filing [2]

JUNE 30, 1969.

Pursuant to §§ 1.227(b)(3) and 21.26(b) of the Commission's rules, an application, in order to be considered with any domestic public radio services application appearing on the attached list, must be substantially complete and tendered for filing by whichever date is earlier: (a) The close of business 1 business day preceding the day on which the Commission takes action on the previously filed application; or (b) within 60 days after the date of the public notice listing the first prior filed application (with which subsequent applications are in conflict) as having been accepted for filing. An application which is subsequently amended by a major change will be considered to be a newly filed application. It is to be noted that the cutoff dates are set forth in the alternative—applications will be entitled to consideration with those listed in the appendix if filed by the end of the 60-day period, only if the Commission has not acted upon the application by that time pursuant to the first alternative earlier date. The mutual exclusivity rights of a new application are governed by the earliest action with respect to any one of the earlier filed conflicting applications.

The attention of any party in interest desiring to file pleadings pursuant to section 309 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, concerning any domestic public radio services application accepted for filing, is directed to § 21.27 of the Commission's rules for provisions governing the time for filing and other requirements relating to such pleadings.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,

Secretary.

[1] All applications listed in the appendix are subject to further consideration and review and may be returned and/or dismissed if not found to be in accordance with the Commission's rules, regulations, and other requirements.

[2] The above alternative cutoff rules apply to those applications listed in the appendix as having been accepted in Domestic Public Land Mobile Radio, Rural Radio, Point-to-Point Microwave Radio, and Local Television Transmission Services (Part 21 of the rules).

SUMMIT BROADCASTING ET AL.

Memorandum Opinion and Order Enlarging Issues

In re applications of Richard S. Genetti, Edward F. Genetti, Salvadore Gaudiano, Jr., and James Manganell (a Partnership), doing business as Summit Broadcasting, Freeland, Pa., Docket No. 18489, File No. BP-16986; CBM, Inc., West Hazleton, Pa., Docket No. 18490, File No. BP-17497; Broadcasters 7, Inc., West Hazleton, Pa., Docket No. 18491, File No. BP-17498; for construction permits, 1300 kHz.

1. Involved here are mutually exclusive applications for a new standard broadcast facility; Summit Broadcasting ("Summit") proposes to locate its facility in Freeland, Pa., and CBM, Inc. ("CBM") and Broadcasters 7, Inc. ("Broadcasters") each proposes to locate in West Hazleton, Pa.[1] Now before the Review Board is a petition to enlarge issues, filed April 10, 1969, by Summit seeking a Suburban Community issue[2] against each of the other applicants.[3] Also, before the Board is a joint petition, filed May 15, 1969, by CBM and Broadcasters, seeking the identical issue against Summit.[4]

2. Stated generally, the requests for issues derive from the proximity of the communities specified by each applicant to the city of Hazelton, Pa.; the comparative size of the communities; the location of the respective transmitter sites; the extent of coverage of Hazelton proposed by each applicant; and the asserted inability of the respective specified communities to provide sufficient revenues to sustain the station. Specifically, in support of its petition, Summit points out that West Hazelton, the community specified by both CBM and Broadcasters is adjacent to Hazelton, and that, according to the 1960 Census, Hazelton had a population of 32,056 while West Hazelton's population was 6,278. Summit further observes that, although both CBM and Broadcasters have specified West Hazelton as their principal community, both will place a 5 mv/m signal

[1] The applications were designated for hearing by Commission Order (FCC 69-237, 16 FCC 2d 1002, released March 21, 1969) on issues including a 307(b) issue and a contingent comparative issue.

[2] Policy Statement on section 307(b) Considerations for Standard Broadcast Facilities Involving Suburban Communities, 2 FCC 2d 190, 6 RR 2d 1901 (1965).

[3] Additional pleadings relating to this petition before the Board are: opposition, filed May 7, 1969, by Broadcasters 7, Inc.; Broadcast Bureau comments, filed May 7, 1969; opposition, filed May 7, 1969, by CBM, Inc.; and reply, filed May 21, 1969, by Summit.

[4] Additional pleadings relating to this petition before the Board are: opposition, filed June 4, 1969, by Summit; and Broadcast Bureau comments, filed June 4, 1969. CBM and Broadcasters have not filed a reply and the time therefor has expired.

over the larger city and indeed, CBM will provide a 25 mv/m signal to most of Hazelton and Broadcasters will place that quality signal over the entire city. Summit notes that both applicants' transmitter sites are located extremely close to Hazelton; and that neither applicant could have specified Hazelton as its principal community due to the restrictions of Rule 73.37(a).[5] Summit argues that these facts alone warrant the imposition of the Suburban Community issue against CBM and Broadcasters (citing inter alia, Outer Banks Radio Co., FCC 69-37, 15 FCC 2d 994 (1969)) especially because both such applications were filed "on top" of its application for Freeland. Summit further maintains that West Hazelton is merely a satellite of Hazelton, and is within the SMSA of which Hazelton is the central city. Summit notes that the two communities have a common water and sewage authority; that the telephone book does not contain separate listings for Hazelton and West Hazelton, whereas other neighboring communities are separately listed; that West Hazelton and Hazelton have a common Chamber of Commerce and service clubs; and that the local newspapers do not treat West Hazelton news separately, but report such items together with news for Hazelton. Summit further asserts that a local urban redevelopment program (CAN-DO) encompasses both communities and is administered by representatives drawn from the "Greater Hazelton Area." Finally, Summit claims that neither CBM nor Broadcasters has shown that its advertising revenues will be drawn from its specified community, and, Summit contends, there is a serious question as to whether West Hazelton can generate sufficient revenues to support a station. Summit therefore insists that the circumstances warrant a Suburban Community issue, and an issue to determine whether CBM and Broadcasters, if treated as applicants for Hazelton, comply with Rule 73.37.

3. CBM and Broadcasters, in separate pleadings, oppose addition of Summit's requested issues. They assert that one of the objectives of the Suburban Community Policy Statement, supra, is to encourage placement of broadcast facilities in developing communities, and contend that West Hazleton is such a community. They point out that West Hazleton has an independent governmental system; that despite the recent reorganization of Pennsylvania schools and magistrate courts, West Hazleton still has its own school and court system. Further, assert CBM and Broadcasters, West Hazleton has its own police and fire departments as well as local civic organizations. Finally, CBM and Broadcasters maintain, relying in part upon Pennsylvania tax authorities' figures, that West Hazleton is a vigorous growing community which can readily support a broadcast facility. Each applicant also asserts that its transmitter location has been selected on the basis of financial considerations, and, that since power greatly in excess of that required to serve the principal community is not proposed, the incidental coverage of Hazleton does not warrant the issue. Since, it is claimed, the population disparity is not great, excessive power is not proposed, and the specified community has an independent existence and can support the facility, CBM and Broadcasters contend that Summit has failed to raise a substantial question.[6]

4. On the other hand, CBM and Broadcasters contend, in their joint petition, that a substantial question does exist as to whether Summit will realistically serve its specified community or some larger community. Petitioners acknowledge that their request is not timely filed. They argue, however, that good cause for the petition is present because, if Summit's petition is granted, the issue should be applied "with total equity to all applicants." Alternatively, the joint petitioners assert that the Board should, on its own motion, consider the merits of their petition under the Edgefield-Saluda doctrine.[7] On the merits, the joint petitioners point out that Summit's application specifies the town of Freeland, a community of 5,068 persons located but 4.2 miles from Hazleton; there is, argue the petitioners, a significant population disparity between the two towns. The joint petitioners concede that the 1 kw operation proposed by Summit is not excessive power, but assert that Summit's 5 mv/m contour will cover "nearly all" of Hazleton; that, indeed, under Summit's proposed directional array, the major radiation lobe is aimed toward Hazleton; and that Summit could not have specified Hazleton as its city of license due to the limitations of Rule 73.37. Petitioners argue that this directional pattern was established to provide the strongest possible signal to the larger city. Further, argue petitioners, Freeland does not have sufficient sources of advertising revenues to supply the $60,000 which Summit estimates will be required for its first year of operation. The petitioners note, in this respect, that Freeland has only two significant industrial establishments (employing 359 persons) and that the total number of business establishments has declined in recent years. Finally, citing Outer Banks Radio Co., supra, petitioners contend that it is not necessary to establish the existence of a city-suburb relationship between Hazleton and Freeland; nevertheless, it is asserted, the facts suggest the existence of such a relationship. Thus, argue the petitioners, although Freeland is a separate legal entity,[8] its residents are dependent upon Hazleton for shopping, entertainment and employment, it is treated as part of the Greater Hazleton Area by the Chamber of Commerce and Hazleton newspaper, and, under a plan said to have been adopted by the Pennsylvania school authorities, its high school will be closed and its students bussed to nearby schools. These circumstances, conclude the joint petitioners, warrant the imposition of a Suburban Community issue against Summit.

5. Summit responds that good cause for the late filing of the joint petition has not been shown and that Edgefield-Saluda, supra, is inapposite because the joint petition does not raise a substantial question. On the merits, Summit argues that the joint petition does not show that Summit purposefully proposes to cover Hazleton and fails to establish the existence of a city-suburb relationship between Hazleton and Freeland. As to the former, Summit asserts that its array is directionalized to avoid adjacent and co-channel interference; that the major lobes run on a northeast-southwest axis, and the northeast lobe—away from Hazleton—extends further with higher radiation than the lobe covering Hazleton; and that, as conceded by the petitioners, 1 kw is not excessive power. As to the latter, Summit asserts that, in a study made by Pennsylvania State University at the request of the Hazleton Chamber of Commerce, the definition of the "Greater Hazleton Area" does not include Freeland. Similarly, notes Summit, the U.S. Census does not include Freeland in the Hazleton SMSA. Further, argues Summit, the community has that congery of civic, economic and governmental organizations and services[9] which clearly indicates its existence independent of Hazleton. Indeed, Freeland is resisting the efforts to close its schools, asserts Summit. Finally, Summit insists that with retail sales in excess of $5 million, Freeland is well able to provide sufficient sources of advertising to support its facility and the joint petitioners' assertions to the contrary are wrong and unsubstantiated. For these reasons, concludes Summit, there is no basis for a Suburban Community issue against it, whereas the circumstances do warrant such an issue against the West Hazleton applicants.[10]

6. The Review Board is of the view that a Suburban Community issue is warranted against all three applicants in this proceeding.[11] It is well established

[5] Summit notes that CBM's original application was filed for 1170 kHz, Hazleton; this application was rejected by the Commission.

[6] In reply, Summit maintains that the factual assertions raised by CBM and Broadcasters do not suffice to resolve the substantial question raised by its petition.

[7] 5 FCC 2d 148, 8 RR 2d 611 (1966).

[8] Petitioners also concede that Freeland is not a part of the Hazleton SMSA.

[9] I.e., its own post office, Chamber of Commerce, Redevelopment Corporation, water and sewage authority and YMCA. Also, argues Summit, Freeland phone numbers are separately listed in the telephone directory and the Hazleton paper carries a separate news section covering Freeland.

[10] The Broadcast Bureau urges imposition of the issue against all three applicants, stressing particularly the similarity of the facts of the instant case with those present in Outer Banks, supra.

[11] The CBM-Broadcasters 7 petition is concededly untimely and the joint petitioners' claim of good cause is frivolous. Nevertheless, the petition does raise a public interest question of substantial magnitude and imposition of an issue will not unduly disrupt the proceeding. Consistent with our practice, we will, therefore consider the request on its merits, see WSTE-TV, Inc., 16 FCC 2d 625, 15 RR 2d 697 (1969); Edgefield-Saluda, supra.

that, upon a proper "threshold showing", a Suburban Community issue will be added even though, as here, the circumstances of the case do not fit precisely within the standards which raise the presumption formulated in the Policy Statement, supra. In the cases succeeding the Policy Statement, the Commission has articulated the type of "threshold showing" to be made, see, e.g., Babcom, Inc., 12 FCC 2d 306, 12 RR 2d 998 (1968); Outer Banks Radio Co., Inc., supra; VWB, Inc., supra; and Harry D. Stephenson and Robert E. Stephenson, FCC 68-1144, 15 FCC 2d 335; compare Durgin Associates, Inc., 10 FCC 2d 24, 11 RR 2d 205 (1967). Such a showing has been made against all the applicants here. Thus, while coverage of the larger city with a 5 mv/m signal is not, of itself dispositive, the engineering considerations are relevant to the threshold showing. VWB, Inc., supra. Here all three applicants will place a 5 mv/m signal over all, or nearly all of the larger community; CBM and Broadcasters 7 have positioned their transmitter sites and Summit has directionalized its contour, the pleadings indicate, in such a manner as to place a strong signal over Hazleton. These engineering considerations take on added weight, the Commission has indicated, when the applicant could not have specified the larger community because of prohibited overlap VWB, Inc., supra. Such is the case here as to all three applicants. But the Suburban Community issue will not be added on the basis of engineering considerations alone. The Commission has also concerned itself with the characteristics of the communities involved. Thus, the relative size of the specified community and the larger city is relevant; it is manifest that a significant population disparity exists in the instant case, both as to Hazleton vis-a-vis West Hazleton and Hazleton vis-a-vis Freeland. VWB, supra; Outer Banks, supra. In addition, although the distance of the specified community from the larger town is not itself dispositive, Babcom, Inc., supra, and it need not be established that a classic city-suburb relationship exists, substantial allegations that the specified community lacks an independent existence and depends upon the larger city for its civic, social and economic life are another factor to be considered. Outer Banks, supra. Such properly documented allegations have been made in the instant case. The dearth of industry in both West Hazleton and Freeland raises a substantial question not only as to whether those communities can support a radio station but also as to whether West Hazleton and Freeland are independent of Hazleton. The independence of the two communities is further called into question by the lack of essential civic services—e.g., schools in the case of Freeland—or sharing of such civic and social services, such as the joint sanitary service in the case of Hazleton-West Hazleton. In the last analysis, then, the threshold showing must raise a substantial question as to whether the applicant will realistically serve the community which it has specified. Outer Banks, supra. Such a burden is not light, VWB, supra, but, in our view, the question has been clearly raised in this case, and a Suburban Community issue will be added against all three applicants.[12]

7. It is ordered, That the petition to enlarge issues, filed April 10, 1969, by Summit Broadcasting; and the joint petition to enlarge issues, filed May 15, 1969, by CBM, Inc. and Broadcasters 7, Inc., are granted; and that the issues in this proceeding are enlarged by the addition of the following:

To determine, with respect to CBM, Inc., Broadcasters 7, Inc. and Summit Broadcasting:

(1) Whether each such applicant will realistically provide a local transmission facility for its specified station location or for another larger community, in light of all the relevant evidence, including but not limited to, evidence showing:

(a) The extent to which the specified station location has been ascertained by the applicant to have separate and distinct program needs;

(b) The extent to which needs of the specified station location are being met by existing standard broadcast facilities;

(c) The extent to which the applicant's program proposal will meet the specified unsatisfied needs of the specified station location; and

(d) The extent to which the projected sources of the applicant's advertising revenues within the specified station location are adequate to support its proposal.

(2) If it is concluded pursuant to the foregoing issue (1) that the proposal of the applicant will not realistically provide a local transmission service for its specified community, whether such proposal meets all of the technical provisions of the rules for standard broadcast station assigned to Hazleton, Pa.

8. It is further ordered, That the burdens of proceeding and proof under the issues added herein will be on the applicants for each of their respective proposals.

Adopted: June 25, 1969.

Released: June 27, 1969.

[12] If any applicant fails to meet its burden under both of the issues added herein, its application will be denied. If, however, an applicant fails to meet its burden under Issue (1), but does meet the burdens under Issue (2), it will then be decided whether that applicant should be allowed to remain in hearing status. AREA RATE PROCEEDING

Order Deleting Respondents and Redesignating Respondent

JUNE 26, 1969.

Area Rate Proceeding, Offshore Southern Louisiana, Federal Domain and Disputed Areas, Docket No. AR-69-1.

On April 30, 1969, Mississippi River Corp. filed a request to be deleted as a respondent to this proceeding. A similar request was filed May 26, 1969 on behalf of Consolidated Natural Gas. Co., Consolidated Natural Gas Service Co., and The Peoples Natural Gas Co.

Pursuant to the order instituting this proceeding, issued March 20, 1969, purchasers of offshore leases, natural gas companies having rate schedules on file for sales within the hearing area, and pipelines operating in the area were made respondents. The above companies were named as respondents in Appendix A to the instituting order.

A review of the information on file with the Commission bears out the contention of each of the above companies that it does not meet any of the criteria established by the Commission for determining respondents to this proceeding. Therefore it is appropriate that these companies be deleted as respondents.

The above request for deletion as a respondent of Mississippi River Corp. also served to advise the Commission that the name of Natural Gas ond Oil Corp. has been changed to River Corp. River Corp. is a wholly owned subsidiary of Mississippi River Corp., and was included as a respondent to this proceeding under the name Natural Gas and Oil Corp. The list of respondents should be amended to reflect this change in name.

The Commission orders:

(A) Mississippi River Corp., Consolidated Natural Gas Co., Consolidated Natural Gas Service Co., and The Peoples Natural Gas Co. are hereby deleted as respondents to the proceeding in Docket No. AR69-1.

(B) The respondent to this proceeding designated Natural Gas and Oil Corp. is hereby redesignated River Corp.

By the Commission.

Application has been filed by the U.S. Forest Service for partial vacation of the power withdrawal under the Federal Power Act pertaining to the following described land of the United States:

MOUNT DIABLO MERIDIAN, CALIFORNIA

T. 35 N., R. 7 E.,
Sec. 10, lots 3, 4;
Sec. 14, W½SW¼;
Sec. 15, NW¼NE¼, S½NE¼;
Sec. 22, NE¼NW¼, NW¼SE¼, SE¼SE¼;
Sec. 23, SE¼NW¼, NW¼SE¼;
Sec. 24, W½NE¼, SE¼NW¼, NW¼SE¼;

Sec. 30, W½NE¼, N½NW¼, N½SE¼, SE¼SE¼;
Sec. 31, NE¼NE¼;
Sec. 32, lots 4, 5, 6, 10, 11, 15, 16.

(Approximately 1,414 acres.)

The application was filed to effectuate a land exchange.

The land lies along or near Horse Creek, a tributary of the Pit River, near the community of Little Valley in Lassen County, Calif., and portions of the land are within the Lassen National Forest.

The land is withdrawn pursuant to the filing on May 8, 1928, as supplemented on March 13, 1929, of an application for preliminary permit for proposed Project No. 894, for which the Commission gave notices of land withdrawal to the General Land Office (now Bureau of Land Management) by letters dated May 11, 1928, February 16, 1929, and April 1, 1929, respectively. No application for license for the project was filed because inadequacy of water supply rendered any power development uneconomic. The permit was canceled by Commission order of June 20, 1930 at the permittee's request.

The Commission finds: The withdrawal of the subject land pursuant to the application for Project No. 894 serves no useful purpose and should be vacated.

The Commission orders: The withdrawal of the subject land pursuant to the application for Project No. 894 is hereby vacated in its entirety.

NATURAL GAS PIPELINE COMPANY OF AMERICA

Order Providing for Hearing, Rejecting Proposed Revised Tariff Sheets, and Accepting Proposed Alternative Revised Tariff Sheets

JUNE 26, 1969.

On May 29, 1969, Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America (Natural) tendered for filing proposed changes in its FPC Gas Tariff, Second Revised Volume No. 1, to become effective on July 1, 1969.[1] The proposed rate changes would increase charges for jurisdictional sales and services by $44,471,857 annually, based on sales for the 12-month period ending February 28, 1969, as adjusted. Rates would be increased under all sales rate schedules except Rate Schedules I-1 and I-2 (Rate Schedule I-1 would be subject to adjustment for changes in cost of purchased gas).

Natural's filing consists of two alternative sets of revised tariff sheets, one of which sets contains a proposed new paragraph, to be included in the General Terms and Conditions of the Tariff, providing that Natural would be permitted, or required, to revise its rates periodically to reflect increases or decreases in its cost of purchased gas.[2] Natural requests that, if the Commission finds that the proposed purchased gas adjustment provision is prohibited by § 154.38(d)(3) of the Commission's regulations under the Natural Gas Act and does not waive the terms of that section for purposes of Natural's filing, the Commission accept for filing the alternative set of revised tariff sheets, which does not contain a purchased gas adjustment provision.

[1] The proposed revised tariff sheets (described by Natural as "alternative" sheets) hereinafter accepted for filing and suspended are as follows: Eighth Revised Sheet No. 6, Ninth Revised Sheet No. 9, Second Revised Sheet No. 10-A, Eighth Revised Sheet No. 12, Ninth Revised Sheet No. 13, Second Revised Sheet No. 14-A, Eighth Revised Sheet No. 15, Fourth Revised Sheet No. 17, Eighth Revised Sheet No. 18, Ninth Revised Sheet No. 19-A, Second Revised Sheet No. 19-AA, Eighth Revised Sheet No. 19-B, Sixth Revised Sheet No. 19-C, Third Revised Sheet No. 19-D, First Revised Sheet No. 19-E, Original Sheet No. 19-F, First Revised Sheet No. 25-A, Fourth Revised Sheet No. 25-D, Fourth Revised Sheet No. 25-G, Second Revised Sheet No. 25-L, Third Revised Sheet No. 25-O, and First Revised Sheet No. 38-B.

[2] The revised tariff sheets setting forth Natural's proposed purchased gas adjustment provision are Original Sheets Nos. 38-G through 38-K.

Natural states that the principal reason for the proposed rate increases is an increase in revenue requirements not limited to any category of expense or allowance, but reflecting a general increase in cost levels in the nation and in the natural gas industry. The proposed rates include a claimed 8.5 percent rate of return.

The reasonableness of including a purchased gas adjustment provision in Natural's tariff has not been tested in any evidentiary proceeding. If accepted at this time, this provision would become operative after suspension. The purchased gas adjustment provision raises a number of substantive issues which should be fully explored and resolved before the rates and charges to Natural's customers are subjected to changes by application of this proposed adjustment provision. Accordingly, we deem it inappropriate at this time to waive the provisions of § 154.38(d)(3) of the Commission's regulations under the Natural Gas Act to permit the filing of Natural's set of revised tariff sheets containing a purchased gas adjustment provision. During the pendency of this proceeding, and prior to the determination of this issue, however, Natural will not be precluded from requesting permission to track supplier rate increases which increase the purchased gas costs filed for by Natural in this proceeding.

Review of the rate filing indicates that certain other issues are raised which also require development in evidentiary proceedings. The proposed increased rates and charges have not been shown to be justified and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

We contemplate that some of the issues involved in this proceeding may be susceptible of hearing and decision within the 5 months suspension period or shortly thereafter. In order that the collection and refunding of any possible excess charges may be avoided or limited, we are authorizing the Presiding Examiner to determine which issues, if any, may be tried in an initial phase of the hearing.

Fourteen of Natural's customers have filed petitions for leave to intervene in this proceeding. Petitions to intervene have also been filed by the Administrator of General Services, the city of Chicago, Ill., and a group of municipalities purchasing gas from Natural for resale. Notices of intervention were filed by the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin, and the Iowa State Commerce Commission.

The Commission finds:

(1) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the rates and charges contained in Natural's FPC Gas Tariff, as proposed to be amended herein, and that the proposed tariff sheets listed in footnote (1) above be suspended, and the use thereof be deferred as herein provided.

(2) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the disposition of this proceeding be expedited in accordance with the procedures set forth below.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held commencing on July 8, 1969, at 10 a.m., e.d.s.t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20426, concerning the lawfulness of the rates, charges, classifications, and services contained in Natural's FPC Gas Tariff, as proposed to be amended herein.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, Natural's revised tariff sheets listed in footnote (1) above are hereby suspended and the use thereof is deferred until December 1, 1969, and until such further time as they are made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Natural's revised tariff sheets proposing a purchased gas adjustment provision are hereby rejected for filing. These proposed tariff sheets may be made a part of the record herein, to be considered, along with any modifications thereof or alternative provisions submitted by the parties or the Commission Staff, as a proposed purchased gas adjustment provision to be included in Natural's tariff.

(D) At the hearing on July 8, 1969, Natural's prepared testimony (Statement P) filed and served on June 13, 1969, together with its entire rate filing as submitted and served on May 29, 1969, be admitted to the record as Natural's complete case-in-chief as provided by § 154.63(e)(1) of the Commission's regulations under the Natural Gas Act, and Order No. 254, 28 FPC 495, subject to appropriate motions, if any, by parties to the proceeding.

(E) Following admission of Natural's complete case-in-chief, the parties shall present their views and the Presiding Examiner, in the exercise of his discretion, shall determine which issues, if any, shall be heard in an initial phase hearing; fix dates for service of Staff's and Interveners' evidence on such issues and service of Natural's rebuttal testimony; fix dates for witnesses to appear for adoption of their testimony and to stand cross-examination thereon; and proceed with such hearing as expeditiously as feasible. The Examiner shall thereafter fix dates for service of testimony and cross-examination on all issues not being heard in the first phase hearing.

(F) Presiding Examiner Ernest O. Eisenberg, or any other designated by the Chief Examiner for that purpose (see Delegation of Authority, 18 CFR 3.5(d)), shall preside at the hearing in this proceeding; shall prescribe relevant procedural matters not herein provided, and shall control this proceeding in accordance with the policies expressed in § 2.59 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

FEDERAL OPEN MARKET COMMITTEE

Current Economic Policy Directive of April 1, 1969

In accordance with § 271.5 of its Rules Regarding Availability of Information, there is set forth below the Committee's Current Economic Policy Directive issued at its meeting held on April 1, 1969.[1]

The information reviewed at this meeting suggests that, while expansion in real economic activity has moderated somewhat further, current and prospective activity now appears stronger than earlier projections had indicated. Substantial upward pressures on prices and costs are persisting. Most long-term interest rates have risen further on balance in recent weeks, but movements in short-term rates have been mixed. In the first quarter of the year bank credit changed little on average, as investments contracted while loans expanded further. In March the outstanding volume of large-denomination CD's continued to decline sharply; inflows of other time and savings deposits were moderate; and growth in the money supply remained at a sharply reduced rate. It appears that a sizable deficit reemerged in the U.S. balance of payments on the liquidity basis in the first quarter but that the balance on the official settlements basis remained in surplus as a result of further large inflows of Eurodollars. In this situation, it is the policy of the Federal Open Market Committee to foster financial conditions conducive to the reduction of inflationary pressures, with a view to encouraging a more sustainable rate of economic growth and attaining reasonable equilibrium in the country's balance of payments.

To implement this policy, System open market operations until the next meeting of the Committee shall be conducted with a view to maintaining firm conditions in money and short-term credit markets, taking account of the effects of other possible monetary policy action; provided, however, that operations shall be modified if bank credit appears to be deviating significantly from current projections.

Dated at Washington, D.C., the 26th day of June 1969.

By order of the Federal Open Market Committee.

Deputy Secretary.

FIRST AT ORLANDO CORP.

Notice of Application for Approval of Acquisition of Shares of Bank

Notice is hereby given that application has been made to the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System pursuant to section 3(a) of the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956 (12 U.S.C. 1842 (a)), by First at Orlando Corp., which is a bank holding company located in Orlando, Fla., for the prior approval of the Board of the acquisition by Applicant of at least 80 percent of the voting shares of The Citizens State Bank, St. Cloud, Fla.

Section 3(c) of the Act provides that the Board shall not approve (1) any acquisition or merger or consolidation under this section which would result in a monopoly, of which would be in furtherance of any combination or conspiracy to monopolize or to attempt to monopolize the business of banking in any part of the United States, or (2) any other proposed acquisition or merger or consolidation under this section whose effect in any section of the country may be substantially to lessen competition, or to tend to create a monopoly, or which in any other manner would be in restraint of trade, unless it finds that the anticompetitive effects of the proposed transaction are clearly outweighed in the public interest by the probable effect of the transaction in meeting the convenience and needs of the community to be served.

Section 3(c) further provides that, in every case, the Board shall take into consideration the financial and managerial resources and future prospects of the company or companies and the banks concerned, and the convenience and needs of the community to be served.

Not later than thirty (30) days after the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, comments and views regarding the proposed acquisition may be filed with the Board. Communications should be addressed to the Secretary, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C. 20551. The application may be inspected at the office of the Board of Governors or the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta.

Dated at Washington, D.C., this 24th day of June 1969.

By order of the Board of Governors.

Assistant Secretary.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 812-2532]

ADAMS EXPRESS CO.

Notice of Application for Order Exempting Acquisition of Securities of an Investment Company

JUNE 27, 1969.

Notice is hereby given that The Adams Express Co. ("Adams"), a closed-end, diversified investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("Act") has filed an application pursuant to section 6(c) of the Act for an order exempting from the provisions of section 12(d)(1) of the Act the proposed acquisition by Adams of shares of common stock of Petroleum Corporation of America ("Petroleum"), a registered, closed-end, nondiversified investment company, in connection with the proposed offering by Petroleum to its stockholders of rights to subscribe for additional shares of common stock which is referred to below.

The investment policy of Petroleum is stated to be the concentration of investments in common stocks and other securities of corporations engaged in the oil industry or related industries or in interests in undeveloped or producing oil properties. Adams presently owns 18.72 percent (528,234 shares) of the common stock of Petroleum. On May 5, 1969, Petroleum informed its stockholders that it proposes to offer them transferrable rights, represented by warrants, to subscribe for 564,404 additional shares of its common stock on the basis of one additional share for each five shares held. In addition, each holder of a warrant is entitled to the privilege of subscribing for additional shares of the Petroleum stock, subject to allotment, out of any shares not subscribed for pursuant to the exercise of the primary subscription rights. Such stock offering by Petroleum will not be underwritten and is expected to expire about 21 days after the commencement of its offering.

Adams desires and intends, subject to the granting of the instant application by the Commission, to exercise its rights as a stockholder to purchase shares of Petroleum and to exercise subscription rights under any additional subscription privileges which may be available.

If all stockholders of Petroleum, including Adams, exercise their full rights pursuant to such stock offering the percentage of total outstanding stock of Petroleum owned by applicant will remain the same (18.72 percent). If subscription rights of others are not exercised, however, the additional stock of Petroleum to be acquired by applicant, pursuant to its rights and additional subscription privileges which may be available, could result in the ownership by Adams of more than the 18.72 percent of the outstanding stock of Petroleum it presently holds.

Section 12(d)(1) of the Act, among other things, makes it unlawful for any registered investment company and any company controlled by it to purchase or otherwise acquire any security issued by any other investment company if such registered investment company and any company controlled by it own in the aggregate, or as a result of such purchase will own, more than 5 percent of the total outstanding stock of such other investment company if the policy of such other investment company is the concentration of investments in a particular industry or group of industries.

Adams has agreed that it will take immediate steps to divest itself of such of its shares of Petroleum as may be in excess of 18.72 percent of the total number of shares of capital stock of Petroleum issued and outstanding after completion of the offering of additional shares of Petroleum.

Section 6(c) of the Act provides, among other things, that the Commission, by order upon application, may conditionally or unconditionally exempt any person from any provision or provisions of the Act or of any rule or regulation thereunder, if and to the extent that such exemption is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and consistent with the protection of investors and the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of the Act.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than July 14, 1969, at 5:30 p.m., submit to the Commission in writing a request for a hearing on the matter accompanied by a statement as to the nature of his interest, the reason for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission shall order a hearing thereon. Any such communication should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of such request shall be served personally or by mail (airmail if the persons being served are located more than 500 miles from the point of mailing) upon the Adams at the address stated above. Proof of such service by affidavit (or in case of an attorney at law, by certificate) shall be filed contemporaneously with the request. At any time after said date, as provided by Rule 0-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the Act, an order disposing of the application herein may be issued upon the basis of the information stated in said application, unless an order for hearing upon said application shall be issued upon request or upon the Commission's own motion. Persons who request a hearing, or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered, will receive notice of further developments in the matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements thereof.

For the Commission (pursuant to delegated authority).

AMERICAN ELECTRIC POWER CO., INC.

Notice of Filing Regarding Proposed Acquisition by Registered Holding Company of Common Stock of Public Utility Company and Issuance by Registered Holding Company of Shares of Its Common Stock To Be Used in Payment for Such Acquisition

JUNE 27, 1969.

Notice is hereby given that American Electric Power Co., Inc. ("AEP"), 2 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10004, a registered holding company, has filed an application-declaration and amendments thereto with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act") designating sections 6, 7, 9, and 10 of the Act and Rule 100 promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transactions. All interested persons are referred to the application-declaration, which is summarized below, for a complete statement of the proposed transactions.

AEP proposes to acquire all of the outstanding securities of Sewell Valley Utilities Co. ("Sewell Valley"), an electric utility company incorporated under the laws of West Virginia and distributing electric energy wholly within that State, in exchange for 11,000 shares of AEP's common stock, par value $6.50 per share.

Sewell Valley is a subsidiary company of The Meadow River Lumber Co. ("Meadow River"), a West Virginia corporation, which owns all of the outstanding 500 shares of Sewell Valley common stock, no par value, and all of its outstanding shares of 6 percent cumulative preferred stock. The preferred stock will be redeemed by Sewell Valley on or about June 30, 1969, so that at the time of the proposed acquisition of the common stock by AEP it will constitute all of the outstanding stock of Sewell Valley.

Sewell Valley operates an electric distribution system in and around the town of East Rainelle, W. Va. At December 31, 1968, it served some 780 residential customers, 184 commercial and industrial customers and two public street and highway lighting accounts. The facilities owned by Sewell Valley include approximately 24 pole-miles of distribution line, some 115 transformers and various associated items of other property. The Sewell Valley electric system is an isolated distribution system, not interconnected with any other utility and wholly dependent for its supply of electric energy on the generators owned by its parent, Meadow River, which are operated in conjunction with that company's lumbering operations. However, its territory is entirely surrounded by the operating territory of Appalachian Power Co. ("Appalachian"), a subsidiary company of AEP. After consummation of the proposed transactions, Sewell Valley will purchase its power requirements from Appalachian at a substantial reduction in cost. To establish an interconnection, Appalachian will construct approximately 3 miles of 34.5 kv. transmission line and associated facilities at a cost of approximately $60,000.

Sewell Valley for the year 1968 had operating revenues of $169.480.38, of which $168,683.88 were derived from sales of electric energy. Total operating income for the year 1968 was $2,927.86 and total net income for the same period was $4,-623.09, the difference constituting interest and dividend income earned by the company on temporary cash investments. It is proposed that Sewell Valley will, on or before the closing date, pay a special dividend to its parent, Meadow River, in an amount equal to the excess cash and temporary cash investments remaining after the redemption of the company's preferred stock, such dividend not to exceed $110.000. As of December 31, 1968, Sewell Valley's balance sheet showed utility plant of $137,913.28, depreciation reserves of $64,061.87 and net utility plant of $73,851.41.

AEP proposes, upon consummation of the acquisition, to cause Sewell Valley to file with the West Virginia Public Service Commission rate schedules at a level and with terms and conditions similar to those presently applicable in the State of West Virginia to the customers of Appalachian. The new rates are expected to result in reductions of 6½ percent for residential customers and 5 percent for commercial and industrial customers. Economies of operation under the direction of AEP, particularly the new power purchasing contract with Appalachian, are expected to increase net income of Sewell Valley to approximately $25,000 per year. On this basis, and taking the market value of the AEP common stock as of June 20, 1969 ($33 per share), the consideration to be given ($363.000), for the Sewell Valley common stock is approximately 14.5 times such estimated earnings.

AEP proposes that the issuance of its common stock and its acquisition of the common stock of Sewell Valley will be reported on its books by recording the acquired shares of Sewell Valley at a cost equal to the average of the opening and closing price of AEP common stock on the New York Stock Exchange on the closing date and by recording the 11,000 shares of AEP common stock to be issued in exchange therefor, to the extent of $6.50 per share, as additional par value of common stock and the balance as capital surplus-premium on common stock.

It is stated that no finders, legal or other fees, commissions or expenses are expected to be paid or incurred by AEP or any associate company in connection with the proposed exchange by AEP of its common stock for the outstanding securities of Sewell Valley, except for miscellaneous expenses (local counsel fees, title searches, audits, and the like) estimated at not to exceed $5,000 to be incurred by AEP. It is further stated that no State commission and no Federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than July 21, 1969, request in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by said application-declaration, as amended, which he desires to controvert; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of such request should be served personally or by mail (airmail if the person being served is located more than 500 miles from the point of mailing) upon the applicant-declarant at the above-stated address, and proof of service (by affidavit or, in case of an attorney at law, by certificate) should be filed with the request. At any time after said date, the application-declaration, as amended or as it may be further amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective as provided in Rule 23 of the general rules and regulations promulgated under the Act, or the Commission may grant exemption from such rules as provided in Rules 20(a) and 100 thereof or take such other action as it may deem appropriate. Persons who request a hearing or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered will receive notice of further developments in this matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements thereof.

For the Commission (pursuant to delegated authority).

TRAVELERS INSURANCE CO. AND TRAVELERS FUND FOR VARIABLE ANNUITIES

Notice of Application for Exemption

JUNE 27, 1969.

Notice is hereby given that The Travelers Insurance Co. ("The Travelers"), and The Travelers Fund for Variable Annuities ("Fund"), 1 Tower Square, Hartford, Conn. (hereinafter collectively "Applicants"), have filed an application pursuant to section 6(c) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, 15 U.S.C. section 80a-1 et seq. ("Act"), for an order exempting Applicants from the provisions of section 22(d) of the Act. The Travelers established the Fund as the facility through which The Travelers will set aside and invest assets attributable to variable annuity contracts which qualify for federal tax benefits under section 401 or 403(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended ("Code"). The Fund is on open-end diversified management investment company registered under the Act. All interested persons are referred to the application on file with the Commission for a statement of the representations contained therein which are summarized below.

Section 22(d) provides, in pertinent part, that no registered investment company shall sell any redeemable security issued by it to any person except at a current offering price described in the prospectus. This section has been construed as prohibiting variations in the sales load except on a uniform basis.

In connection with the sale of the variable annuity contracts, charges from payments thereunder will be made to cover sales and administrative expenses and minimum death benefits. The normal rate of such charges will be scaled from 8.75 percent to 1 percent, based upon the aggregate payments made under the contract.

Applicants propose to provide reduced charges in cases where a variable annuity contract is purchased by application of amounts payable by The Travelers as a lump sum cash distribution under an insurance contract issued by The Travelers (e.g., the death benefit under a life policy, the maturity value of an endowment type contract and lump sum cash options available to beneficiaries) which distribution the contract owner or beneficiary elects to apply to a stipulated payment under a variable annuity contract, subject to the limitations of the Code on the amounts which may be so applied. Such reduced charges are also proposed in cases where variable annuity contracts are purchased by the application of payments derived from the surrender or conversion of contracts with The Travelers held by the contract owner or beneficiary under a retirement program qualified under sections 401, 403(a), 403(b), or other provisions of the Code allowing similar tax treatment. The reduced charges will be scaled from 3 percent to 1 percent, based upon the aggregate payments made under the contract.

Applicants assert that from the point of view of equitable treatment of contract owners, no unfair discrimination would exist under the proposed reduced sales charges. In all cases a sales charge on the premiums under the Travelers insurance contracts will have been paid. The purpose of the reduced sales charge is to avoid cumulating sales charges. The reduced sales charges would allow Applicants to take into account the anticipated lower sales expenses in offering the variable annuity contracts to certain investors.

Applicants also assert that such reduced charges are in the interest of investors and the public; that no unfair discrimination between contract owners participating in the Fund would result therefrom; and that the reduction would be consistent with the policies of the Act.

Section 6(c) of the Act provides, among other things, that the Commission, by order upon application, may conditionally or unconditionally exempt any person from any provision or provisions of the Act or of any rule or regulation thereunder, if and to the extent that such exemption is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and consistent with the protection of investors and the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of the Act.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than July 17, 1969 at 5:30 p.m., submit to the Commission in writing a request for a hearing on the matter accompanied by a statement as to the nature of his interest, the reason for such request and the issues of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission shall order a hearing thereon. Any such communication should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of such request shall be served personally or by mail (airmail if the person being served is located more than 500 miles from the point of mailing) upon Applicants at the address stated above. Proof of such service (by affidavit or in case of an attorney at law by certificate) shall be filed contemporaneously with the request. At any time after said date, as provided by Rule 0-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the Act, an order disposing of the application herein may be issued by the Commission upon the basis of the information stated in said application, unless an order for hearing upon said application shall be issued upon request or upon the Commission's own motion. Persons who request a hearing, or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered, will receive notice of further developments in this matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements thereof.

For the Commission (pursuant to delegated authority).

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[Notice 1309]

MOTOR CARRIER, BROKER, WATER CARRIER, AND FREIGHT FORWARDER APPLICATIONS

JUNE 27, 1969.

The following applications are governed by Special Rule 1.247[1] of the Commission's general rules of practice (49 CFR, as amended), published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue of April 20, 1966, effective May 20, 1966. These rules provide, among other things, that a protest to the granting of an application must be filed with the Commission within 30 days after date of notice of filing of the application is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Failure seasonably to file a protest will be construed as a waiver of opposition and participation in the proceeding. A protest under these rules should comply with § 1.247(d)(3) of the rules of practice which requires that it set forth specifically the grounds upon which it is made, contain a detailed statement of protestant's interest in the proceeding (including a copy of the specific portions of its authority which protestant believes to be in conflict with that sought in the application, and describing in detail the method—whether by joinder, interline, or other means—by which protestant would use such authority to provide all or part of the service proposed), and shall specify with particularity the facts, matters, and things relied upon, but shall not include issues or allegations phrased generally. Protests not in reasonable compliance with the requirements of the rules may be rejected. The original and one copy of the protest shall be filed with the Commission, and a copy shall be served concurrently upon applicant's representative, or applicant if no representative is named. If the protest includes a request for oral hearing, such requests shall meet the requirements of § 1.247(d)(4) of the special rules, and shall include the certification required therein.

Section 1.247(f) of the Commission's rules of practice further provides that each applicant shall, if protests to its application have been filed, and within 60 days of the date of this publication, notify the Commission in writing (1) that it is ready to proceed and prosecute the application, or (2) that it wishes to withdraw the application, failure in which the application will be dismissed by the Commission.

Further processing steps (whether modified procedure, oral hearing, or other procedures) will be determined generally in accordance with the Commission's general policy statement concerning motor carrier licensing procedures, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue of May 3, 1966. This assignment will be by Commission order which will be served on each party of record.

The publications hereinafter set forth reflect the scope of the applications as filed by applicants, and may include descriptions, restrictions, or limitations which are not in a form acceptable to the Commission. Authority which ultimately may be granted as a result of the applications here noticed will not necessarily reflect the phraseology set forth in the application as filed, but also will eliminate any restrictions which are not acceptable to the Commission.

Chapter IX—Consumer and Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders; Fruits, Vegetables, Nuts), Department of Agriculture

[Lemon Reg. 381]

PART 910—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

Limitation of Handling

§ 910.681 Lemon Regulation 381.

(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 910, as amended (7 CFR Part 910), regulating the handling of lemons grown in California and Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), and upon the basis of the recommendations and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such lemons, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act by tending to establish and maintain such orderly marketing conditions for such lemons as will provide, in the interest of producers and consumers, an orderly flow of the supply thereof to market throughout the normal marketing season to avoid unreasonable fluctuations in supplies and prices, and is not for the purpose of maintaining prices to farmers above the level which it is declared to be the policy of Congress to establish under the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. The committee held an open meeting during the current week, after giving due notice thereof, to consider supply and market conditions for lemons and the need for regulation; interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein were promptly submitted to the Department after such meeting was held, the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such lemons; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period herein specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject hereto which cannot be completed on or before the effective date hereof. Such committee meeting was held on July 1, 1969.

(b) Order. (1) The respective quantities of lemons grown in California and Arizona which may be handled during the period July 6, 1969, through July 12, 1969, are hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: Unlimited movement;

(ii) District 2: 325,500 cartons;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) As used in this section, "handled," "District 1," "District 2," "District 3," and "carton" have the same meaning as when used in the said amended marketing agreement and order.

[Pear Reg. 1]

PART 917—FRESH PEARS, PLUMS, AND PEACHES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

Limitation of Shipments

Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 917, as amended (7 CFR Part 917), regulating the handling of fresh pears, plums, and peaches grown in California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Pear Commodity Committee, established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of pears, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) The recommendations by the Pear Commodity Committee reflect its appraisal of the 1969 California pear crop and the prospective marketing factors affecting the supply of and demand for pears by grades and sizes thereof. The volume of the developing California pear crop and the size and quality of the fruit are such that the minimum size and grade requirements, hereinafter specified, are necessary to (1) establish and maintain returns to producers consistent with the declared policy of the act by preventing the shipment of less desirable pears to fresh market outlets and (2) provide consumers with pears of the most desirable size and quality. The container marking requirements, included herein, are necessary to assure that containers are properly marked as to variety for inspection identification.

(3) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rulemaking procedure, and postpone the effective date of this regulation until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553) in that, as hereinafter set forth, the time intervening between the date when information upon which this regulation is based became available and the time when this regulation must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than July 5, 1969. A reasonable determination as to the supply of, and the demand for, such pears must await the development of the crop thereof, and adequate information thereon was not available to the Pear Commodity Committee until June 25, 1969, on which date an open meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof, to consider the need for, and the extent of, regulation of shipments of such pears. Interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein were promptly submitted to the Department after such meeting was held; shipments of the current crop of such pears are expected to begin on or about the effective date hereof; this regulation should be applicable to all such shipments in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act; the provisions of this regulation are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee; information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such pears; and compliance with the provisions of this regulation will not require of handlers any preparation therefor which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(a) Order. (1) During the period July 5, 1969, through December 31, 1969, no handler shall ship any box or container of Bartlett, Max-Red (Max-Red Bartlett, Red Bartlett), or Rosired (Rosired Bartlett) varieties of pears unless:

(i) At least 85 percent, by count, of the pears contained in such box or container shall grade at least U.S. No. 1 with the remainder thereof grading not less than U.S. No. 2; and

(ii) Such pears are of a size not smaller than the size known commercially as size 165.

(2) During the effective period of this regulation no handler shall ship any box or other container of pears of any variety unless such box or other container is stamped or otherwise marked, in plain sight and in plain letters, on one outside end with the name of the variety, if known, or when the variety is not known, the words "unknown variety."

(b) Definitions. (1) Terms used in the amended marketing agreement and order shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as is given to the respective term in said amended marketing agreement and order.

(2) "Size known commercially as size 165" means a size Bartlett, Max-Red (Max-Red Bartlett, Red Bartlett), or Rosired (Rosired Bartlett) varieties of pears that will pack a standard pear box, packed in accordance with the specifications of a standard pack, with 165 pears and with the 22 smallest pears weighing not less than five and three-quarter pounds.

(3) "Standard pear box" means the container so designated in section 43599 of the Agricultural Code of California.

(4) "U.S. No. 1," "U.S. No. 2," and "standard pack" shall have the same meaning as when used in the U.S. Standards of Pears (Summer and Fall), 7 CFR 51.1260–51.1280.

Dated: July 2, 1969.

PART 945—IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN CERTAIN DESIGNATED COUNTIES IN IDAHO AND MALHEUR COUNTY, OREGON

Limitation of Shipments

Notice of rule making with respect to a proposed limitation of shipments regulation, to be made effective under Marketing Agreement No. 98 and Order No. 945, both as amended (7 CFR Part 945) regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in designated counties in Idaho and Malheur County, Oreg., was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER June 26, 1969 (34 F.R. 9871). This program is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.).

The notice afforded interested persons an opportunity to file written data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto not later than 5 days after publication. None was filed.

After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposal set forth in the aforesaid notice which was recommended by the Idaho-Eastern Oregon Potato Committee, established pursuant to said market agreement and order, it is hereby found and determined that this limitation of shipments regulation, as hereinafter set forth, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

The recommendations by the Idaho-Eastern Oregon Potato Committee reflect its appraisal of the crop and prospective market conditions. Shipments of potatoes from the production area are expected to begin on or about July 7, 1969. The proposed regulation provided herein is necessary to prevent immature potatoes and potatoes of lower grades and undesirable sizes from being distributed in the channels of commerce to improve the returns to producers for preferred grades and sizes. The specific requirements, hereinafter set forth, regulate the handling of potatoes by grade, size, cleanliness, and maturity so as to (1) promote orderly marketing, (2) standardize the quality of the potatoes shipped from the production area, and (3) maximize returns to the producers pursuant to the declared policy of the Act.

The proposed regulation with respect to special purpose shipments for other than fresh market use is designed to meet the different requirements for such outlets.

It is hereby found that good cause exists for not postponing the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553) in that shipments of potatoes grown in the production area are currently being marketed and the regulation should become effective at the time herein provided to maximize the benefits to producers; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than July 7, 1969. Idaho-Eastern Oregon Potato Committee held an open meeting June 13, 1969, to consider recommendations for a limitation of shipments regulation, after giving due notice of such meeting, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; information regarding the provisions of the recommendation by the committee has been disseminated among the growers and handlers of potatoes in the production area; compliance with this section will not require any special preparation of potato sorting and packing equipment on the part of handlers subject thereto which cannot be completed on or before the effective time hereof.

§ 945.328 Limitation of shipments.

During the period July 7, 1969, through June 30, 1970, no person shall handle any lot of potatoes unless such potatoes meet the requirements of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, or unless such potatoes are handled in accordance with paragraphs (c), (d), and (e) of this section.

(a) Minimum quality requirements—(1) Grade—All varieties. U.S. No. 2, or better grade.

(2) Size—(i) Round red varieties—1⅞ inches minimum diameter.

(ii) All other varieties—2 inches minimum diameter, or 4 ounces minimum weight.

(iii) All varieties—Size B if U.S. No. 1, or better grade.

(iv) When containers of long varieties of potatoes are marked with a count or similar designation they must meet the weight range for the count designation listed below:

Count designation	Weight range

"Moderately skinned" means that not more than 10 percent of the potatoes in any lot may have more than one-half of the skin missing or "feathered."

(2) All other varieties. "Slightly skinned" which means that not more than 10 percent of the potatoes in any lot may have more than one-fourth of the skin missing or "feathered."

(3) Exceptions. (i) Subject to compliance with subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph, any lot of potatoes not exceeding a total of 50 hundredweight of each variety may be handled for any producer without regard to the foregoing maturity requirements.

(ii) If an officially inspected lot of potatoes meets the foregoing maturity requirements, but fails to meet the grade and size requirements, the lot may be regraded. If after regrading, such lot then meets the grade and size requirements but fails to meet the maturity requirements, as indicated by the applicable Federal-State inspection certificate, such lot if not exceeding 100 hundredweight shall be exempt from the foregoing maturity requirements: Provided, That the handler complies with subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph.

(iii) Prior to each shipment of potatoes exempt from the foregoing maturity requirements, the handler thereof shall report to the committee the name and address of the producer of such potatoes, and each such shipment shall be handled as an identifiable entity.

(c) Special purpose shipments. (1) The minimum grade, size, cleanliness, and maturity requirements set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section shall not be applicable to shipments of potatoes for any of the following purposes:

(i) Certified seed;

(ii) Potato chipping or prepeeling including potato sticks (French fried shoestring potatoes): Provided, That potatoes of a size not smaller than 1½ inches in diameter may be shipped if the potatoes grade not less than Idaho Utility or Oregon Utility grade.

(d) Safeguards. Each handler making shipments of potatoes for starch, canning, or freezing, dehydration, experimentation, seed pieces cut from stock eligible for certification, export, potato chipping, or for prepeeling pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section shall:

(2) Upon request by the committee, furnish reports of each shipment pursuant to the applicable Certificate of Privilege;

(3) At the time of applying to the committee for a Certificate of Privilege, or promptly thereafter, furnish the committee with a receiver's or buyer's certification that the potatoes so handled are to be used only for the purpose stated in the application and that such receiver will complete and return to the committee such periodic receiver's reports that the committee may require;

(4) Mail to the office of the committee a copy of the bill of lading for each Certificate of Privilege shipment promptly after the date of shipment;

(5) Bill each shipment directly to the applicable processor or receiver.

(f) Definitions. The terms "U.S. No. 1," "U.S. No. 2," "Size B," "fairly clean," and "slightly dirty" shall have the same meaning as when used in the U.S. Standards for Potatoes (§§ 51.1540–51.1556 of this title), including the tolerances set forth therein. The term "generally fairly clean" means that at least 90 percent of the potatoes in a given lot are "fairly clean." The term "prepeeling" means potatoes which are clean, sound, fresh tubers prepared commercially in a prepeeling plant by washing, removal of the outer skin or peel, trimming, and sorting preparatory to sale in one or more of the styles of peeled potatoes described in § 52.2422 (U.S. Standards for Grades of Peeled Potatoes §§ 52.2421–52.2433 of this title). The terms "Idaho Utility grade" and "Oregon Utility grade" shall have the same meanings as when used in the respective standards for potatoes for the respective States. Other terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as when used in Marketing Agreement No. 98 and Order No. 945, both as amended.

(g) Applicability to imports. Pursuant to § 608e–1 of the act and § 980.1 "Import regulations" (7 CFR 980.1), Irish potatoes of the long varieties imported during the effective period of this section shall meet the grade, size, quality and maturity requirements specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

PART 948—IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN COLORADO

Limitation of Shipments

Notice of rule making with respect to a proposed limitation of shipments regulation to be made effective under Marketing Agreement No. 97 and Order No. 948, both as amended (7 CFR Part 948), regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in Colorado Area No. 3, was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER June 26, 1969 (34 F.R. 9872). This program is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.). Interested persons were afforded an opportunity to file written data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto not later than 5 days after publication. None was filed.

Statement of consideration. The notice was based on the recommendations and information submitted by the Colorado Area No. 3 Potato Committee, established pursuant to the said marketing agreement and order and other available information. The recommendations of the committee reflect its appraisal of the composition of the 1969 potato crop in Area No. 3 and of the marketing prospects for this season.

The grade, size, quality, and pack requirements provided herein are necessary to prevent immature potatoes, or those that are of undesirable sizes, or below grade, or in deceptive packs from being distributed in fresh market channels. They will also provide consumers with good quality potatoes consistent with the overall quality of the crop, and maximize returns to producers for the preferred quality and sizes.

The regulations, with respect to special purpose shipments for other than fresh market use, are designed to meet the different requirements for such outlets.

Findings. After consideration of all relevant matter presented in the aforesaid notice, based upon the recommendations of the Colorado Area No. 3 Potato Committee and other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments regulation, as hereinafter set forth, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Act.

It is hereby further found that good cause exists for making this regulation effective at the time herein provided and for not postponing the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553) in that (1) shipments of 1969 crop potatoes grown in the production area will begin on or about the effective date specified herein, (2) to maximize benefits to producers, this regulation should apply to as many shipments as possible during the effective period, (3) identical regulations have been issued under the State order for intrastate shipments, so producers and handlers are aware of the provisions of this regulation under this Federal program, and (4) compliance with this regulation will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by such effective date.

§ 948.360 Limitation of shipments.

During the period July 7, 1969, through June 30, 1970, no person shall handle any lot of potatoes grown in Area No. 3 unless such potatoes meet the requirements of paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section, or unless such potatoes are handled in accordance with paragraphs (d) through (h) of this section.

(a) Grade and size requirements—(1) Round varieties. U.S. No. 1, or better grade, 2 inches minimum diameter; or U.S. No. 2, or better grade up to but not including U.S. No. 1 grade and not less than 1⅞ inches minimum diameter.

(2) Long varieties. U.S. No. 1, or better grade, 2 inches minimum diameter or 4 ounces minimum weight; or U.S. No. 2, or better grade up to but not including U.S. No. 1 grade and not less than 1⅞ inches minimum diameter or 4 ounces minimum weight.

(3) All varieties. Size B, if U.S. No. 1, or better grade.

(b) Maturity (skinning) requirements—All varieties. For U.S. No. 2 grade, not more than "moderately skinned," and for all other grades, not more than "slightly skinned."

(c) Container requirements. Potatoes may be handled only in containers classified by weight as follows:

(1) 5 pounds;
(2) 10 pounds;
(3) 20 pounds;
(4) 25 pounds;
(5) 50 pounds; or
(6) 100 pounds and larger.

(d) Special purpose shipments—(1) Chipping stock. Potatoes may be handled for chipping if they meet the requirements of U.S. No. 2, or better grade, 1½ inches minimum diameter, if such potatoes are handled in accordance with paragraph (e) of this section.

(2) The quality, maturity and container requirements of paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section and the inspection and assessment requirements of this part shall not be applicable to shipments of potatoes for:

(i) Livestock feed; or
(ii) Charity.

(3) The maturity requirements set forth in paragraph (b) of this section shall not be applicable to shipments of potatoes for:

(i) Chipping; or
(ii) Prepeeling.

(4) The quality, maturity and container requirements of paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section shall not be applicable to shipments of seed potatoes (§ 948.6) but such shipments shall be subject to assessments.

(e) Safeguards. Each handler making shipments of potatoes for chipping or prepeeling pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section shall—

(1) Prior to shipment, apply for and obtain a Certificate of Privilege from the committee;

(2) Furnish the committee such reports and documents as requested, including certification by the buyer or receiver on the use of such potatoes; and

(3) Bill each shipment directly to the applicable processor or receiver.

(f) Shipment by motor vehicle. No handler may transport or cause the transportation by motor vehicle of any shipment of potatoes for which an inspection certificate is required unless each shipment is accompanied by, and made available for examination at any time upon request, a copy of the inspection certificate applicable thereto or such other document as the committee may specify.

(g) Minimum quantity. For purposes of regulation under this part, each person may handle up to but not exceed 1,000 pounds of potatoes without regard to the requirements of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, but this exception shall not apply to any shipment of over 1,000 pounds of potatoes.

(h) Definitions. The terms "U.S. No. 1," "U.S. No. 2," "Size B," "moderately skinned," and "slightly skinned," shall have the same meaning as when used in the U.S. Standards for Potatoes (§§ 51.1540–51.1556 of this title), including the tolerances set forth therein. The term "prepeeling" means potatoes which are clean, sound, fresh tubers prepared commercially in a prepeeling plant by washing, removal of the outer skin or peel, trimming, and sorting preparatory to sale in one or more of the styles of peeled potatoes described in § 52.2422 (U.S. Standards for Grades of Peeled Potatoes, §§ 52.2421–52.2433 of this title). Other terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as when used in Marketing Agreement No. 97, as amended, and this part.

(i) Applicability to imports. Pursuant to § 608e–1 of the act and § 980.1, "Import regulations" (7 CFR 980.1, round white varieties of Irish potatoes, except certified seed potatoes, imported into the United States during the period August 1, 1969, through June 4, 1970, shall meet the grade, size, quality, and maturity requirements specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

SUBCHAPTER A—MEAT INSPECTION REGULATIONS

PART 317—LABELING

PART 318—REINSPECTION AND PREPARATION OF PRODUCTS

Notice of Revocation of Approval for Use of Ionizing Radiation

Pursuant to the authority conferred by section 21 of the Federal Meat Inspection Act, as amended (21 U.S.C. Supp. IV, 621) § 317.9(f) and § 318.19 of the Federal Meat Inspection Regulations (9 CFR 317.9(f) and 318.19) are deleted.

This action terminates the authorization for the use of ionizing radiation in preparing bacon at establishments subject to the Act and is in harmony with action of the Food and Drug Administration in revoking the Food Additive Regulation which provided for use of ionizing radiation of bacon.

This document shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

This action does not affect meat processors or consumers since no products utilizing treatment by ionizing radiation have been produced for commercial consumption. Therefore, it is found upon good cause, under the administrative procedure provisions in 5 U.S.C. 553, that notice and other public procedure with respect to this document are impracticable and unnecessary and good cause is found for making this document effective less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Title 14—AERONAUTICS AND SPACE

Chapter II—Civil Aeronautics Board

SUBCHAPTER D—SPECIAL REGULATIONS

[Special Reg. SPR-31; Amdt. 3]

PART 378—INCLUSIVE TOURS BY SUPPLEMENTAL AIR CARRIERS, CERTAIN FOREIGN AIR CARRIERS, AND TOUR OPERATORS

Inclusive Tour Contracts on Annual Basis

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 1st day of July 1969.

By circulation of SPDR-15 (Docket 20845), dated March 24, 1969, and publication at 34 F.R. 5745, the Board gave notice that it was considering an amendment to Part 378 to provide that where a tour prospectus covers a series of tours pursuant to one charter contract, the elapsed time between the commencement of the first tour and the departure of the last tour shall not exceed 1 year, instead of 180 days between commencement and completion as at present.

Two supplemental air carriers, Universal Airlines, Inc., and Modern Air Transport, Inc., support the proposal; one scheduled air carrier, Pan American World Airways, Inc., opposes it. The supplemental carriers agree it is now the practice of the industry to plan and promote a series of tours for 52 consecutive weekly departures. Pan American, on the other hand, asserts that the 180-day limitation and the filing of a report within 30 days after completion of the series are the only regulations that protect the public against unwarranted cancellation of tours by tour operators. Permitting tour operators to plan an unlimited number of tours spanning a year would, in Pan American's view, "encourage greater abuse" by cancellations and put off for 6 months any means of assuring the ITC's are not provided for the benefit of the tour operator at the expense of the public.

We believe Pan American's fears of abuse of Part 378 by the tour operators are unfounded. Section 378.20(b) requires the supplemental air carrier to give prompt notice of canceled tours, and § 378.18(b) requires amendment of a prospectus where time permits. To date, there have been few complaints about the performance of tour operators and supplemental carriers under Part 378. However, we have decided to require an interim report in § 378.20 at the end of 6 months, as at present, so that the Board may be currently informed of any deviations from a prospectus and the reasons therefor. This interim report will impose little, if any, burden on the supplemental carriers and tour operators since they presently file such reports for a 6-month period. Editorial changes are also made in § 378.20 to delete references to the expired statement of authorization procedures.

Upon consideration of the comments, the Board has decided to adopt the amendment as proposed, and to add an interim posttour reporting requirement as indicated. Accordingly, except as modified herein, the tentative findings set forth in SPDR-15 are hereby made final.

Accordingly, the Board hereby amends Part 378 of the Special Regulations (14 CFR Part 378), effective August 4, 1969, as follows:

1. Amend paragraph (a) of § 378.18 to read as follows:

§ 378.18 Procedure applicable to periods on or after January 1, 1969.

(a) No inclusive tour or series of tours scheduled to commence on or after January 1, 1969, shall be operated, nor shall any tour operator sell or offer to sell, solicit, or advertise such tour or tours, unless there is on file with the Board a tour prospectus satisfying the requirements of § 378.13. If a series of tours is to be operated for one tour operator pursuant to one charter contract, the prospectus may cover the entire series, provided the elapsed time between the commencement of the first tour and the departure of the last tour shall not exceed 1 year. The tour prospectus shall be filed at least 60 days before commencement of the tour or tours. Late filing of the prospectus will not be permitted except for good cause shown.

* * * * *

2. Amend § 378.20 to read as follows:

§ 378.20 Posttour reporting.

(a) Within 30 days after completion of a tour or series of tours, the supplemental air carrier and tour operator shall jointly file with the Board (Supplementary Services Division, Bureau of Operating Rights) a posttour report: Provided, That in the case of a series of tours which exceeds 6 months between commencement of the first tour and departure of the last tour, the supplemental air carrier and tour operator shall file a joint interim report within 30 days after the expiration of 6 months from commencement of the first tour, covering tours completed during such 6 months. The posttour and interim report shall indicate whether or not the tours authorized hereunder were, in fact, performed. To the extent that the operations differed from those described in the prospectus filed under § 378.18, such differences shall be fully detailed including the reasons therefor. However, the making of such an explanation shall not of itself operate as authority for or excuse any such deviation.

(b) The supplemental air carrier shall promptly notify the Board regarding any tours covered by a prospectus filed under § 378.18 that are later canceled.

PART 92—ANCHORAGE AND NAVIGATION REGULATIONS: ST. MARYS RIVER, MICH.

Disestablishment of Lookout Station No. 1

1. The Commander, 9th Coast Guard District, Cleveland, Ohio, by letter dated May 12, 1969, requested the disestablishment of the Coast Guard Lookout Station No. 1 on Johnson Point, Sailors Encampment, Middle Neebish Channel, St. Marys River, Mich. The reason for the request is that modern radiophone communication between vessels and the river traffic controller has made the manned station obsolete. During the 1968 navigation season, Station No. 1 was left unmanned for a trial period. In this time 50 upbound vessel passages were made without incident. A public notice dated March 31, 1969, was issued by the Commander, 9th Coast Guard District, Cleveland, Ohio, describing the proposed changes. All known interested parties were notified and requested to comment on the proposed change. Of the 1,130 persons who received notice of the proposed change, only four filed objections thereto. These objections were based on the discontinuance of the visibility reports furnished by the station rather than the disestablishment of the station as an aid to navigation. It is contemplated that after the station is disestablished the residual services it previously furnished will be provided to mariners by more effective methods. Since the foregoing procedure afforded effective notice to all interested parties, publication of the notice of proposed rule making in the FEDERAL REGISTER is unnecessary. Therefore, the request to disestablish the Coast Guard Lookout Station No. 1 at Johnson Point, Sailors Encampment, Middle Neebish Channel, St. Marys River, Mich., as mentioned in 33 CFR 92.09, 92.15, 92.17, and 92.19 is granted.

2. This document effectuates this request by deleting the references to Lookout Station No. 1 as described in §§ 92.09, 92.15, 92.17, and 92.19.

3. Part 92 is amended by revising §§ 92.09 and 92.15 to read as follows:

§ 92.09 Lookout stations.

Lookout Stations for the St. Marys River Patrol are numbered and located as follows:

No. 3 off Mission Point, Little Rapids Cut.
No. 4 at upper end of Rock Cut, West Neebish Channel.

* * * * *

§ 92.15 Visual signals at lookout stations.

(a) The following signals are hoisted at Lookout Station No. 4 to indicate changes in the conditions of channel passage, and masters of vessels approaching the entrances to the several channels should be on the alert for such signals.

(1) Closure of channel. Indicated by two red balls by day, two red lights by night, hoisted vertically about 6 feet apart.

(2) Channel partially obstructed. Indicated by a red ball over a white ball by day, a red light over a white light by night, hoisted vertically about 6 feet apart.

(b) Boats of the patrol may carry the signal described in paragraph (a)(1) of this section, as required.

§ 92.17 [Revoked]

3. Part 92 is amended by revoking § 92.17.

4. Part 92 is amended by revising § 92.19(a) to read as follows:

§ 92.19 Temporary closure of West Neebish Channel.

(a) In the event the West Neebish Channel is temporarily closed to navigation (due to dredging, grounding of vessels, or other reasons), the resulting two-way navigation will pass through the Middle Neebish, Munuscong, and Sailors Encampment Channels. The closure and obstruction signals shall be shown from Lookout Station No. 4.

Effective date: This amendment shall become effective 30 days following the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Title 46—SHIPPING

Chapter I—Coast Guard, Department of Transportation

SUBCHAPTER I—CARGO AND MISCELLANEOUS VESSELS

[CGFR 69-53]

PART 105—COMMERCIAL FISHING VESSELS DISPENSING PETROLEUM PRODUCTS

Requirements for Inspection, Equipment, Operation and Manning

On December 27, 1968, a notice of proposed rule making regarding an amendment to Subchapter I of Title 46, Code of Federal Regulations by adding a new Part 105 was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (33 F.R. 19847). In accordance with the notice a public hearing regarding the proposed amendment was held on February 12, 1969 in the Customs Court Room, Federal Office Building, 909 First Avenue, Seattle, Wash., under the direction of the Commander, 13th Coast Guard District. Interested parties were given the opportunity of participating in the rule making by submitting written matter in advance of the hearing date and by submitting written and oral matter at the public hearing. After the public hearing, the Commander, 13th Coast Guard District forwarded to the Commandant (CMC), U.S. Coast Guard, Washington, D.C., the public hearing record, including the original written submissions, and his recommendations with respect to the submissions received. On March 25, 1969, in accordance with the provisions of 33 CFR 1.05-30, the Merchant Marine Council, in an executive session, duly considered all the relevant matter submitted. Thereafter, the Merchant Marine Council forwarded to the Commandant, U.S. Coast Guard appropriate recommendations regarding the proposed amendments.

A number of changes are made in the proposed regulations as a result of the oral and written comments received from the interested parties. The effective date of the regulations is changed from July 1, 1969, to December 1, 1969, in view of the fact that the earlier date falls within the fishing season. The proposal to limit the act of dispensing the petroleum products to other vessels only is deleted. The proposed prohibition against galley fires during cargo transfer operations is substantially relaxed. A new paragraph (c), is added to § 105.20-1 providing that plans or sketches of the cargo tanks and piping systems are not required if these installations have previously been accepted by the Coast Guard. Further, in response to the comments received § 105.90-1(b)(1) is amended to permit the continued use on vessels contracted for prior to December 1, 1969, of the associated piping systems of the tanks and containers, if in a satisfactory condition. Section 105.10-20 which defines the term permit is deleted since this term is not used in these regulations. Section 105.10-30 which defines the term tankerman is deleted as unnecessary in view of the provisions of § 105.50-5 Tankerman.

Prior to the enactment of the Act of July 11, 1968, the Coast Guard had instituted an interim voluntary program for inspecting these commercial fishing vessels. Some of the comments received have as their purpose the continuation of the interim requirements developed under this voluntary program. Specifically, it was suggested that the letters of compliance issued by the Coast Guard under the interim requirements be continued in force without further inspection of the vessels until the letters expire. This suggestion cannot be adopted since most of the letters of compliance issued under the interim requirements contained no expiration date. In any event, the subsequent enactment of the statute does not permit the continued validity of the letters of compliance issued under a voluntary program without statutory sanction. It was further suggested that no cargo plans or sketches of the cargo tanks should be required since none were required under the interim requirements. This circumstance is not considered a valid reason for not requiring plans and sketches of installations not previously accepted. With respect to cargo tanks accepted under the voluntary program this comment has been adopted, as previously stated, by providing that plans or sketches of the cargo tanks and piping systems are not required if these installations have been previously accepted by the Coast Guard.

Comments were received that the fire pump pressure of 60 p.s.i. required by § 105.35–5(b)(2) is "too powerful." It is considered that this pressure is not excessive. This pump provides the minimum pressure required for an effective stream for firefighting purposes on these vessels. Finally, it was suggested that the tanks, the piping systems, the electrical installation, pumps, and firefighting equipment in use on these vessels prior to December 1, 1969, be permitted to be continued in use if in a good condition in the opinion of the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection. This suggestion would have the effect of exempting existing vessels from practically all the requirements of these regulations and would in a large measure nullify the congressional intent. This suggestion cannot be accepted in this form. However, in response to this suggestion § 105.90–1(b)(1) is amended to permit the continued use of permanently or temporarily installed tanks or containers and their associated piping systems if in the opinion of the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection they are in a satisfactory condition and are so maintained.

Accordingly, after due consideration of all the relevant matter presented by the interested parties and the recommendations of the Commander, 13th Coast Guard District and of the Merchant Marine Council, the amendment as so proposed in the FEDERAL REGISTER of December 27, 1968 (33 F.R. 19847), is hereby adopted subject to the following changes:

1. In the heading of Part 105 and of § 105.90–1 and in § 105.50–5(a) the words, "to other fishing vessels", are deleted.

Subpart 105.01—Administration

§ 105.01–1 Purpose and authority for regulations.

(a) The purpose of the regulations in this part is to provide adequate safety in the transporting and handling of certain petroleum products on board commercial fishing vessels, as contemplated by section 391a of title 46, United States Code (Tanker Act; R.S. 4417a, as amended), as amended by section 4 of Public Law 90–397 (approved July 11, 1968, 82 Stat. 341). As required by law, the regulations in this part set forth the minimum requirements for those commercial fishing vessels, which include transporting and dispensing certain petroleum products carried on board as an incidental part of their usual occupation (cannery tender, fishing tender or commercial fishing).

(b) The authority for the regulations in this part is in sections 375 and 391a of title 46, United States Code (R.S. 4405, as amended, 4417a, as amended). The authority to prescribe regulations and administer the provisions of laws governing the transportation and handling of flammable or combustible liquid cargoes in bulk in vessels was delegated to the Commandant, U.S. Coast Guard, by the Secretary of Transportation in rules designated 49 CFR 1.4 (a) and (f).

§ 105.01–5 Intent of Public Law 90–397 (approved July 11, 1968, 82 Stat. 341).

(a) Public Law 90–397 was enacted to give certain vessels engaged in the fishing industry of the States of Oregon, Washington, and Alaska certain exemptions from inspection and certification requirements administered by the Coast Guard, and to provide alternate requirements for any such vessel if transporting and dispensing its flammable or combustible liquid products, as incidental to its principal use as a cannery tender, fishing tender, or commercial fishing vessel.

(b) Public Law 90–397 exempts certain vessels engaged in the fishing industry of the States of Oregon, Washington, and Alaska from the requirements of section 88 (load lines), 367 (inspection and certification of seagoing motor vessels), and 404 (inspection of small craft carrying passengers or freight for hire) of title 46, United States Code.

(c) Public Law 90–397, section 4, amends the first paragraph of section 391a of title 46, United States Code (Tanker Act, R.S. 4417a, as amended), by adding at the end thereof the following sentence:

Notwithstanding the first sentence hereof, cannery tenders, fishing tenders, or fishing vessels of not more than 500 gross tons used in the salmon or crab fisheries of the States of Oregon, Washington, and Alaska when engaged exclusively in the fishing industry shall be allowed to have on board inflammable or combustible cargo in bulk to the extent and upon conditions as may be required by regulations promulgated by the Secretary of the department in which the Coast Guard is operating.

(d) Under the provisions of section 391a of title 46, United States Code, the Commandant may grant a permit to a vessel "when engaged exclusively in the fishing industry" of the States of Oregon, Washington, and Alaska as a cannery tender, fishing tender, or commercial fishing vessel to carry and dispense its flammable or combustible liquid products in bulk in limited quantities. A vessel whose primary purpose is to transport inflammable or combustible liquids in bulk shall be inspected and certificated under the applicable requirements in Parts 30 through 40 of Subchapter D (Tank Vessels) of this chapter.

§ 105.01–10 Effective date of regulations.

(a) The regulations in this part are effective on and after December 1, 1969. Amendments, revisions, or additions after that date shall become effective ninety (90) days after the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER unless the Commandant shall fix a different time.

(b) The regulations in this subchapter are not retroactive in effect unless specifically made so at the time the regulations are issued. Changes in specification requirements of articles of equipment or materials used in construction shall not apply to such items which have been passed as satisfactory until replacement shall become necessary, unless a specific finding is made that such equipment or material used is unsafe or hazardous and has to be removed from vessels.

Subpart 105.05—Application

§ 105.05–1 Commercial fishing vessels dispensing petroleum products.

(a) The provisions of this part, with the exception of Subpart 105.90, shall apply to all commercial fishing vessels of not more than 500 gross tons used in the salmon or crab fisheries of Oregon, Washington, and Alaska, the construction of which is contracted for on or after December 1, 1969, which have or propose to have permanently or temporarily installed tanks or containers for dispensing petroleum products, Grades B and lower flammable or combustible liquids, in bulk in limited qauntities.

(b) The provisions of Subpart 105.90 shall apply to all commercial fishing vessels of not more than 500 gross tons used in the salmon or crab fisheries of Oregon, Washington, and Alaska, the construction of which was contracted for prior to December 1, 1969, which have or propose to have permanently or temporarily installed tanks or containers for dispensing petroleum products, Grades B and lower flammable or combustible liquids, in bulk in limited quantities.

CONTROL OF ELECTRONIC PRODUCT RADIATION

Notice of Extension of Comment Period

On June 4, 1969, a notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (34 F.R. 8953) inviting comments regarding the proposed amendments to Part 78 of regulations implementing the Radiation Control for Health and Safety Act of 1968 (42 U.S.C. 263b et seq.). The amendments, in addition to outlining the treatment of imported products subject to the Act, prescribe (1) notification procedures required of manufacturers of any electronic product found to have a defect relating to the safety of its use by reason of electronic product radiation and (2) the procedure and manner in which manufacturers would repair, replace, or refund the cost of a defective product.

The notice stated that consideration would be given all comments received within 30 days after the above publication date, and notice was given to make the amendments effective on the date of their republication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The Bureau of Radiological Health has received a number of requests for an extension of time for submission of comments on the regulations, the first proposed under the Radiation Control for Health and Safety Act of 1968.

I have determined that an extension of time for comment on the regulations would be in the public interest to assure that all interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to study and comment on the proposal. Therefore, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, Consumer Protection and Environmental Health Service, the time within which comments on the proposed regulations will be received is hereby extended to the close of business on August 5, 1969.

Dated: June 30, 1969.

Rules With Regard to Advertisement

The Commission has before it a request by the National Association of Broadcasters (NAB) on June 27, 1969, to extend the time for filing comments from July 7, 1969, to July 17, 1969. In making its request NAB states that meetings of the Radio and Television Code Boards are scheduled for July 8 and 9, 1969, respectively, and that the purpose of these meetings is to consider revisions in those provisions of the Code applicable to cigarettes.

The grant of a 10-day extension is appropriate and will permit the filing of more current comments regarding the question of voluntary action by the broadcast industry. A grant of the requested extension is in the public interest and will not impede the Commission's timely consideration of this proceeding.

Accordingly, it is ordered, That the time for filing comments herein is extended to on or before July 17, 1969, and the time for filing reply comments is extended to on or before August 18, 1969.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[Docket 17167; Order 69–6–180]

CARRIER AGREEMENT ON ACCESSORIAL CARGO SERVICE

Advance Charges

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 30th day of June 1969.

By Order E–24599, dated January 3, 1967, the Board authorized intercarrier discussions of accessorial cargo services. Numerous meetings were held and several carrier agreements were reached, filed with, and with one exception, approved by the Board.[1] The exception, Agreement CAB No. 19848, to which certain air freight forwarders objected, deals with the advancing of funds to shippers. By Order 68–10–105, dated October 18, 1968, the Board stated its tentative decision to disapprove the advance charges agreement, subject to the receipt of comments from interested persons. Subsequently, the air carriers requested and were granted a 60-day deferral in order to develop additional supporting data.

On March 14, 1969, the air carriers filed a supplementary supporting statement to their agreement, setting forth additional factual data showing the dollar volume of funds advanced, to whom advanced and for what services (forwarders, truckers, brokers fees, and customs duties), the percentage relationship of such payments to system freight revenues and number of shipments, and the estimated cost of advancing charges.

No additional protest or response has been received by the Board.

The agreement would continue the present practice of advancing funds without charge to truckers for prior or subsequent surface transportation, or for loading/unloading services performed by other than the air carriers, but would prohibit the advancing of any funds for customs duties or fees,[2] and the advancing of charges to shippers or consignees for any reason. The carriers' agreement would also subject to self-enforcement the industry agreement on advancing charges.[3]

The practice of advancing charges appears to consist of two forms. One concerns the payment of funds by the direct air carriers to their shipper customers or other persons, typically at point of origin and in advance of the performance of any actual air transportation. Such advances may represent charges for trucking, customs duties, brokers fees, and similar nonair services. In addition, airline advances to forwarders have also often represented the actual transportation charges accruing under the forwarder's own tariff, and which would normally be invoiced by the forwarder to the consignee at destination.

The second form of advance charges can be described as a point-of-destination collect-and-remit service, analogous to the existing c.o.d. (Collect-on-Delivery) service of the air carriers.[4] The data submitted by the carriers do not differentiate as between these advance charge practices at point-of-origin and at destination.

The carriers' agreement would prohibit both of the foregoing forms of advancing charges to shippers, i.e., in advance of transportation, as well as collect-and-remit service following delivery. The forwarders protest these prohibitions, as well as the fact that the direct air carriers will continue to advance charges to truckers, but will not reimburse forwarders for funds which the forwarder has advanced to a trucker.

The Board will approve the carriers' agreement, in part. Continuation of the advancement of charges to truckers is consistent with the intermodal partner-

[1] Agreement CAB 19850 concerning Assembly and Distribution services is also pending Board action.

[2] The data indicate that advances for custom duties can run into hundreds of dollars, even on minimum charge shipments.

[3] The Board has previously approved a series of cargo agreements embracing self-enforcement by the carriers (Order 69–1–54, dated Jan. 13, 1969).

[4] In c.o.d. service, an amount usually representing the invoice value of the goods is collected from the consignee at time of delivery. Credit on such amount is not extended by the air carrier. Following delivery and collection, the c.o.d. amount is remitted to the shipper. A nominal fee is assessed for this service which the carrier retains.

ship role of the two modes,[5] and is believed to foster the development of air transportation. In a similar vein, no person has opposed continuation of the advancement of charges for loading or unloading not performed by the carrier. It does not follow, however, that forwarders and shippers generally, who may have enhanced the origin value of the goods by a further investment of funds representing trucking charges, brokers fees, and customs duties, should be financed by the direct air carrier through the medium of advance reimbursement of charges at point-of-origin prior to air transportation. Such advances, as well as the advancement at point-of-origin of the forwarders' own tariff charges appear to represent an unwarranted drain on the working capital of the direct air carriers at a time when air cargo economics are marginal. The Board will therefore approve the agreement insofar as it would prohibit the advancing of any funds to shippers, including brokers fees and customs duties, at point-of-origin in advance of the performance of actual air transportation. No person has opposed the prohibition against advance charges for customs duties and brokers fees, and the Board sees no reason why an air carrier should be expected to advance these charges on behalf of the consignor.

The direct air carriers have not established, however, that there is any significant burden, financial or otherwise, which would warrant the elimination of the practice of advancing charges through the medium of collection at destination, subsequent to delivery, and remittance to the shipper. Moreover, such collection and remittance of funds would not impose the drain on the carriers' capital cited above. This service appears to be important to the forwarding industry, as forwarders cannot maintain offices at every point to which they may ship cargo. The Board will therefore disapprove the agreement insofar as it would preclude this service.

Accordingly, pursuant to the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, and particularly sections 204(a), 412, and 414 thereof:

It is ordered, That:

1. Agreement CAB No. 19848 is approved, except to the extent that it would preclude the carriers, subsequent to the time of actual delivery at destination, from collecting funds on behalf of shippers and to remit such funds to shippers; such provisions of the agreement are disapproved.

This order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

[SEAL] MABEL MCCART,
Acting Secretary.

[F.R. Doc. 69-7933; Filed, July 3, 1969; 8:48 a.m.]

[5] The Board understands that payment of a large portion of the point-of-origin advances to motor carriers is in fact not made at the time of transfer of the goods, but at a later date pursuant to interline agreements between the direct air and surface carriers.

AIR SOUTH, INC.

Establishment of Final and Temporary Service Mail Rates; Order To Show Cause

JUNE 30, 1969.

Air South, Inc. (Air South), is an air taxi operator providing services pursuant to Part 298 of the Board's economic regulations. By Order 69-6-56, June 12, 1969, the Board approved Agreement CAB 20849 between Eastern Air Lines, Inc. (Eastern), and Air South. This agreement contemplates that Air South will discharge Eastern's certificate obligation to serve Waycross, Ga., through the operation of small aircraft between Waycross and Atlanta, Ga.

No service mail rate is currently in effect for this service by Air South. By petition filed June 24, 1969, Air South requested the establishment of final service mail rates for the transportation of priority and nonpriority mail by air between Waycross and Atlanta, Ga. Air South requests that the multielement rates established in Orders E-25610 and E-17255, which provided for payments to Eastern, be made applicable to this route. On June 27, 1969, the Postmaster General filed an answer in support of Air South's petition.[1]

The rate in Order E-25610, August 28, 1967, for the air transportation of priority mail requested by Air South was established by the Board in the Domestic Service Mail Rate Investigation. We propose to establish a service rate for the air transportation of priority mail by Air South at the level established in Order E-25610, as amended, and the terms and provisions of that order also shall be applicable to Air South in the same manner as they were applicable to Eastern in providing mail services betwen Waycross and Atlanta, Ga.

In the case of rates for the air transportation of nonpriority mail, an open-rate situation has existed since April 6, 1967, when the Post Office petitioned for the establishment of new nonpriority mail rates in Docket 18381. The rates currently being paid air carriers (including Eastern) for the transportation of nonpriority mail are those established by Order E-17255, July 31, 1961, in the Nonpriority Mail Rate Case, and these rates are subject to such retroactive adjustment to April 6, 1967, as the final decision in Docket 18381 may provide. Since it is equitable that Air South receive the same compensation as Eastern for the same services, we propose to establish a temporary service rate for nonpriority mail for Air South at the level established in Order E-17255, as amended. We will also make Air South a party to the proceedings in Docket 18381 and the temporary nonpriority mail rate established herein shall be subject to such retroactive adjustment as may be ordered in that proceeding.

Under the circumstances, the Board finds it in the public interest to fix and determine the fair and reasonable rates of compensation to be paid to Air South, Inc., by the Postmaster General for the air transportation of mail, and the facilities used and useful therefor, and the services connected therewith, between Waycross and Atlanta, Ga. Upon consideration of the petition, the answer of the Postmaster General, and other matters officially noticed, the Board proposes to issue an order[2] to include the following findings and conclusions:

1. The fair and reasonable final service mail rate to be paid on and after July 1, 1969, to Air South, Inc., pursuant to section 406 of the Act, for the transportation of priority mail by aircraft, the facilities used and useful therefor, and the services connected therewith between Waycross and Atlanta, Ga., shall be the rate established by the Board in Order E-25610, August 28, 1967, and shall be subject to the other provisions of that order;

2. The fair and reasonable temporary service mail rate to be paid on and after July 1, 1969, to Air South, Inc., pursuant to section 406 of the Act for the transportation of nonpriority mail by aircraft, the facilities used and useful therefor, and the services connected therewith between Waycross and Atlanta, Ga., shall be the rate established by the Board in Order E-17255, July 31, 1961, as amended, subject to such retroactive adjustment as may be made in Docket 18381; and

3. The service mail rates here fixed and determined are to be paid in their entirety by the Postmaster General.

Accordingly, pursuant to the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 and particularly sections 204(a) and 406 thereof, and regulations promulgated in 14 CFR Part 302 and 14 CFR 385.14(f):

It is ordered, That:

1. All interested persons and particularly Air South, Inc., the Postmaster General, and Eastern Air Lines, Inc., are directed to show cause why the Board should not adopt the foregoing proposed findings and conclusions and fix, determine, and publish the final and temporary rates specified above, as the fair and reasonable rates of compensation to be paid to Air South, Inc., for the transportation of priority and nonpriority mail by aircraft, the facilities used and useful therefor, and the services connected therewith as specified above;

2. Further procedures herein shall be in accordance with 14 CFR Part 302, and if there is any objection to the rates or to the other findings and conclusions proposed herein, notice thereof shall be

[1] The present rates are as follows:

Priority mail by air: 24 cents per ton-mile plus 9.36 cents per pound at Waycross and 2.34 cents per pound at Atlanta.

Nonpriority mail by air: 15.115 cents per ton-mile plus 4.98 cents per pound at Waycross and 1.66 cents per pound at Atlanta.

[2] As this order to show cause does not constitute a final action and merely affords interested persons an opportunity to be heard on the matters herein proposed, it is not regarded as subject to the review provisions of Part 385 (14 CFR Part 385). The provisions of that part dealing with petitions for Board review will be applicable to any final action which may be taken by the staff in this matter under authority delegated in § 385.14(g).

filed within 10 days, and if notice is filed, written answer and supporting documents shall be filed within 30 days after the date of service of this order;

3. If notice of objection is not filed within 10 days after service of this order, or if notice is filed and an answer is not filed within 30 days after service of this order, all persons shall be deemed to have waived the right to a hearing and all other procedural steps short of a final decision by the Board, and the Board may enter an order incorporating the findings and conclusions proposed herein and fix and determine the final and temporary rates specified herein;

4. If answer is filed presenting issues for hearing, the issues involved in determining the fair and reasonable final and temporary rates shall be limited to those specifically raised by answer, except insofar as other issues are raised in accordance with Rule 307 of the rules of practice (14 CFR 302.307);

5. Air South, Inc., is hereby made a party in Docket 18381; and

6. This order shall be served upon Air South, Inc., the Postmaster General, and Eastern Air Lines, Inc.

This order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Acting Secretary.

[Docket No. 20246 etc.; Order 69-6-179]

CARIBBEAN-ATLANTIC AIRLINES, INC., AND TRANS CARIBBEAN AIRWAYS, INC.

Mail Rates; Order To Show Cause

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 30th day of June 1969.

Service Mail Rates for Caribbean-Atlantic Airlines, Inc., and Trans Caribbean Airways, Inc., dockets Nos. 20246, 20539; Domestic Service Mail Rate Case, 16349; Nonpriority Mail Rate Case, 18381; Latin American Service Mail Rate for Priority Mail, 20415; Military Ordinary Mail, 18078; Establishment of Service Mail Rates for That Class of Mail Created by Public Law 89-725, 17909.

By petition filed September 17, 1968, the Postmaster General has requested revised service mail rates for Caribbean-Atlantic Airlines, Inc. (Caribair), for the carriage of mail over its entire system. Additionally, Trans Caribbean Airways, Inc. (Trans Caribbean), filed a petition on December 9, 1968, for the establishment of mail rates in connection with the new services it was authorized to operate in the Caribbean pursuant to Order 68-11-120, served November 27, 1968.[1] The latter order also concerned the services performed in the San Juan-Virgin Islands markets by Eastern Air Lines, Inc. (Eastern), and Pan American World Airways, Inc. (Pan American);[2] and therefore it is appropriate to establish revised service mail rates for these carriers in order that uniform service mail rates may prevail in these markets.

I. Caribair—(a) Priority mail. In this petition requesting the establishment of revised service mail rates for Caribair, the Postmaster General states that this carrier is presently transporting priority mail at the rate of $1.38 per ton-mile, pursuant to Order E-10157, dated April 3, 1956.[3] The petition states that Caribair currently utilizes DC-9 aircraft and that, with respect to the carriage of mail in the San Juan-St. Thomas-St. Croix area, the carrier's operations can be compared with those of the local-service carriers. In this regard the Postmaster General states that, if the domestic service mail rate (Order E-25610, dated Aug. 28, 1967) were made applicable to Caribair, the following ton-mile yields per segment would result: San Juan-St. Croix, 73 cents; San Juan-St. Thomas, 91 cents; and St. Croix-St. Thomas, $1.26; which compare with the average yield for fiscal 1968 of 67.9 cents per ton-mile for local-service carriers. On this basis the petitioner states that "inclusion of Caribair within the ambit of Order E-25610, as amended, would insure fair and reasonable compensation to Caribair for the transportation of airmail and air parcel post in priority service."

(b) Nonpriority mail. The Postmaster General states that the nonpriority service performed by Caribair includes, in addition to first-class mail, so-called bulk mail, which mail is moved by rail and highway in the United States and was moved by sea in the Caribbean prior to the inauguration of this service by Caribair.[4] It is alleged that Caribair has been experiencing increasing difficulty in providing the capacity required for the volumes of nonpriority mail over its system, although it has 36 hours after tender within which to enplane such mail. Therefore, the Postmaster General has determined that it would best serve the public interest to reinstitute sea transportation for the bulk mail, but continue to tender to Caribair for nonpriority transportation those classes of mail now subject to the domestic nonpriority rate as set forth in Order E-17255 (34 C.A.B. 143 (1961)), as amended. Since the volume of nonpriority mail carried by Caribair would be significantly decreased by the elimination of the so-called bulk mail, the Postmaster General is of the opinion that the annual rate will no longer be appropriate and that inclusion of Caribair within the ambit of the domestic nonpriority rate will be fair and reasonable compensation for the transportation of nonpriority mail.[5]

II. Trans Caribbean—(a) Priority mail. With respect to its newly acquired authority to serve the Virgin Islands,[6] Trans Caribbean has requested that the domestic priority mail rates established by Order E-25610 be made applicable to the carriage of priority mail between San Juan, P.R., St. Thomas, V.I., and St. Croix, V.I. For the carriage of priority mail between all points on Trans Caribbean's system other than services involving San Juan and the Virgin Islands, the carrier has requested that the rate established by Order E-23753, dated May 31, 1966 (Latin American Service Mail Rate Proceeding) be made applicable, subject to adjustment upon final decision in Docket 20415.[7]

(b) Nonpriority mail. For the carriage of nonpriority mail between the mainland and San Juan and the Virgin Islands, and between San Juan, St. Thomas, and St. Croix, Trans Caribbean requests the rates established by Order E-17255, as amended, be made applicable to this service, subject to adjustment upon final decision in Docket 18381.[8]

(c) Military ordinary mail. For the carriage of military ordinary mail (MOM) over its entire system, Trans Caribbean has requested the rates established by Order 68-9-8, dated September 4, 1968. The carrier states that these rates have been found fair and reasonable for the carriage of mail by other carriers and would be fair and reasonable for the carriage of mail by Trans Caribbean.[9]

The Postmaster General filed an answer in support of the rates requested by Trans Caribbean.

[1] United States-Caribbean-South America Route Investigation (United States-Caribbean Part). Certificates effective Jan. 25, 1969.

[2] Delta Air Lines is also a party to those proceedings, but the action proposed herein will not alter its present service mail rates. Delta serves San Juan, but has no service to the Virgin Islands.

[3] Caribbean-Atlantic Air., Mail Rates, 23 CAB 271 (1956).

[4] Caribair was initially paid an annual rate of $87,750 for this service, which was established by Order E-19329, dated Feb. 8, 1963 (37 C.A.B. 696). The present annual rate of $112,000 was established pursuant to Order E-21340, dated Sept. 30, 1964 (41 C.A.B. 681).

[5] According to the Postmaster General, such a charge would produce the following ton-mile yields: San Juan-St. Croix, 50 cents; San Juan-St. Thomas, 63 cents; and St. Croix-St. Thomas, 87 cents; compared with current yields of 57, 78, and 117 cents per ton-mile, respectively.

[6] By Order 68-11-120, Trans Caribbean's Route 137 was amended by extending the New York/Newark/Washington-San Juan route to Aruba and Curacao via St. Thomas and St. Croix. Also a new segment was added between the coterminal points New York-Newark and Washington, D.C., and the coterminal points Aruba and Curacao, via Port-au-Prince, Haiti.

[7] Latin American service mail rates for priority mail are presently under investigation in Docket 20415. Trans Caribbean is a party to that proceeding.

[8] Nonpriority mail rates are currently under investigation in Docket 18381. Trans Caribbean is also a party to this proceeding.

[9] Although Trans Caribbean feels application of the domestic rate structure for the carriage of airmail between San Juan, St. Croix, and St. Thomas would be adequate compensation for the service, it states that if the lower rate would adversely affect Caribair's participation in the market, the rate should be equalized to Caribair's system rate of $1.38 per ton-mile. This action is not necessary, as the rates proposed herein will enable all carriers to participate in the carriage of mail at competitive rates.

III. Mail rates in effect and proposed for the San Juan and Virgin Islands Market—(a) Priority mail. Pursuant to Order 68–11–120, supra, Eastern Air Lines was also certificated into the Virgin Islands.[10] In addition to mainland-San Juan service, Eastern will now be able to operate between the Virgin Islands.[11] The domestic priority mail rates established by Order E–25610 apply to Eastern for the carriage of this mail over its entire system, and will, of course, apply to the Virgin Islands service. On the other hand, the domestic priority mail rate structure does not apply to Pan American and Trans Caribbean on a system basis but applies in connection with these Caribbean points only between the mainland and San Juan, and between the mainland and the Virgin Islands. Thus, with respect to Eastern, the domestic rate structure applies for all of its services in the San Juan and Virgin Islands markets; whereas, for Pan American and Trans Caribbean, that rate only applies for services to and from the mainland, and the Latin American mail rate applies to Pan American's local Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands service. Caribair's system mail rate is applicable to its Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands service.

Since the domestic priority rate is presently in effect for all service except between Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands and within Puerto Rico, we do not feel it would be realistic to treat these segments as separate ratemaking areas. It would be more appropriate to make the domestic rate structure applicable to this service and to extend such rate to all the carriers serving in the Puerto Rico-Virgin Islands markets. The additional services in these markets warrant the establishment of uniform rates so that each of the carriers now providing service to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands may share in the carriage of mail. In addition, the rates we propose to establish herein would provide reasonable compensation to the carriers for the service. As previously noted by the Postmaster General, application of the domestic rate to this service would result in yields above those experienced by the local-service carriers, whose operations are of a comparable short-haul nature. The yields would also exceed the current Latin American rate. Accordingly, the Board proposes to make the rates provided by Order E–26510 applicable to the carriage of priority mail between Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, between points in Puerto Rico, and between the Virgin Islands. We also propose to make the domestic rate applicable to Caribair's new mainland-San Juan service.

(b) Nonpriority mail. Pursuant to Order E–17255, as amended by Order E–26483, dated March 7, 1968, the domestic nonpriority rate applies between the mainland and San Juan, and between the mainland and the Virgin Islands. In view of the action taken with respect to extending the domestic priority rate to services in the Puerto Rico-Virgin Islands markets, we have also determined to extend the domestic nonpriority rate for the carriage of such mail in those markets and to make this rate applicable to Trans Caribbean and Caribair for the carriage of nonpriority mail in mainland-San Juan-Virgin Islands services. Substantially the same reasons that apply in connection with the establishment of the domestic priority rate in these markets apply equally to the domestic nonpriority rate. That rate is presently under investigation in Docket 18381, and the temporary nonpriority rates established herein will be subject to the final determination in that investigation. Eastern, Pan American, and Trans Caribbean are already parties to that proceeding, and we will make Caribair a party by this order.

IV. Latin American mail rates. As discussed above, Trans Caribbean has requested that the Latin American mail rate established by Order E–23753 be made applicable to the carriage of mail over the remainder of its system, i.e., except for those segments involving interstate or overseas air transportation. With regard to this service, the Postmaster General in the answer filed herein notes that an open-rate situation also exists for Latin American rates since the rates were opened on October 28, 1968, and requests that this rate be made applicable to Trans Caribbean on a temporary basis, subject to whatever adjustment is required by the final service mail rate to be established in Docket 20415. Accordingly, we will make the Latin American rate applicable to Trans Caribbean in connection with its service to foreign points on a temporary basis. Trans Caribbean is a party to the proceeding in Docket 20415 and is therefore subject to the final rates to be established therein.

In light of Caribair's new authority and the action taken with respect to Caribair's other mail rates, we will make that carrier a party to Docket 20415, and make the Latin American rate applicable to its priority mail services, other than in interstate or overseas air transportation, on a temporary basis. This rate presently applies to the other carriers providing services in the Caribbean and South America, which are parties to the proceedings in Docket 20415.[12]

V. Military ordinary mail and space available mail. To the extent that Trans Caribbean will transport military ordinary mail in Latin American Service, it is necessary that the rates established for this class of mail by Order 68–9–8, be made applicable to such service.[13] Finally, to the extent that Caribair may participate in the carriage of that class of mail referred to as SAM mail, the rates and conditions established by Order E–25654, dated September 8, 1967, as amended by Order E–26713, dated April 25, 1968, should be made applicable to Caribair.[14] We propose these amendments herein.

Notice of agreements filed for approval by:

Edward D. Ransom, Esq., Lillick, McHose, Wheat, Adams & Charles, 311 California Street, San Francisco, Calif. 94104.

These modifications would clearly authorize these Conferences to establish Overland Common Point Territory (OCP) rates separate and distinct from "local" rates; and would permit the Conferences to enter into agreements with domestic connecting carriers with respect to the interchange of cargo between them. These modifications have been filed pursuant to the Commission's decision arising out of the proceedings in Docket 65–31, Investigation of Overland/OCP Rates and Absorptions (served Feb. 24, 1969) wherein the Commission directed respondents to "update their basic agreements to reflect the full structure of its ratemaking and the absorptions practiced pursuant thereto."

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket Nos. RI69–835, etc.]

BETA DEVELOPMENT CO. ET AL.

Order Providing for Hearings on and Suspension of Proposed Changes in Rates [1]

JUNE 26, 1969.

The Respondents named herein have filed proposed increased rates and charges of currently effective rate schedules for sales of natural gas under Commission jurisdiction, as set forth in Appendix A hereof.

The proposed changed rates and charges may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is in the public interest and consistent with the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon hearings regarding the lawfulness of the proposed changes, and that the supplements herein be suspended and their use be deferred as ordered below.

The Commission orders:

(A) Under the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15, the regulations pertaining thereto (18 CFR, Ch. I), and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, public hearings shall be held concerning the lawfulness of the proposed changes.

(B) Pending hearings and decisions thereon, the rate supplements herein are suspended and their use deferred until date shown in the "Date Suspended Until" column, and thereafter until made effective as prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Until otherwise ordered by the Commission, neither the suspended supplements, nor the rate schedules sought to be altered, shall be changed until disposition of these proceedings or expiration of the suspension period.

(D) Notices of intervention or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37(f)) on or before August 6, 1969.

[12] Subject to a downward B.t.u. adjustment.

Atlantic Richfield Co. (Operator) et al. (Atlantic), requests waiver of the statutory notice to permit its proposed rate increase to become effective as of June 2, 1969. Beta Development Co. (Beta) requests an effective date of July 1, 1969, for its rate increase. Good cause has not been shown for waiving the 30-day notice requirement provided in section 4(d) of the Natural Gas Act to permit earlier effective dates for Atlantic and Beta's rate filings and such requests are denied.

Atlantic's proposed increased rate of 21 cents per Mcf is for a sale of gas to El Paso Natural Gas Co. from the Aneth Area of Utah where no formal guideline prices have been announced by the Commission for the Aneth Area. Consistent with prior Commission action on rate increases to 21 cents per Mcf in this area, we conclude that Atlantic's proposed rate should be suspended for 5 months from July 3, 1969, the expiration date of the statutory notice.

The basic contract related to the proposed rate increase filed by Koch Development Corp. (Koch) contains a 1 cent per Mcf minimum guarantee for liquids provision but this 1 cent has been excluded from the proposed rate. Koch is advised that a notice of change in rate will be required if it intends to collect the 1 cent minimum guarantee for liquids in the future. See the Commission's order issued December 7, 1967, in Docket No. RI64-491 et al., Union Texas Petroleum, a Division of Allied Chemical Corporation (Operator), et al.

Texaco, Inc. (Texaco), proposes a unilateral or "ex parte" rate increase to 16.6 cents from a present rate of 15.6 cents now being collected subject to refund in Docket No. RI66-333 for gas sold to Tennessee Gas Pipeline Co., a Division of Tenneco Inc. (Tennessee), in Railroad District No. 4. The primary term of Texaco's contract with Tennessee expires on July 21, 1969, and Texaco is invoking its right to file unilaterally upon such expiration. Since Texaco's "ex parte" increase exceeds the 14.6 cents per Mcf increased rate ceiling for rate schedules involved in 2d amendment settlements, we conclude that it should be suspended for 5 months from July 21, 1969, the proposed effective date.

All of the producers' proposed increased rates and charges exceed the applicable area price levels for increased rates as set forth in the Commission's statement of general policy No. 61-1, as amended (18 CFR Ch. I, Part 2, § 2.56), with the exception of the rate increase filed by Atlantic in the Aneth Area for which no formal rate ceiling has been announced by the Commission.

Notice of Applications for "Small Producer" Certificates [1]

JUNE 25, 1969.

Take notice that each of the Applicants listed herein has filed an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act and § 157.40 of the regulations thereunder for a "small producer" certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the sale for resale and delivery of natural gas in interstate commerce from areas for which just and reasonable rates have been established, all as more fully set forth in the applications which are on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said applications should on or before July 23, 1969, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, petitions to intervene or protests in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Persons wishing to become parties to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file petitions to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on all applications in which no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein if the Commission on its own review of the matter believes that a grant of the certificates is required by the public convenience and necessity. Where a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or where the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicants to appear or be represented at the hearing.

GORDON M. GRANT,
Secretary.

PRODUCING ROYALTIES, INC.

Order Providing for Hearing on and Suspension of Proposed Change in Rate, and Allowing Rate Change To Become Effective Subject to Refund

JUNE 26, 1969.

Respondent named herein has filed a proposed change in rate and charge of a currently effective rate schedule for the sale of natural gas under Commission jurisdiction, as set forth in Appendix A hereof.

The proposed changed rate and charge may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is in the public interest and consistent with the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing regarding the lawfulness of the proposed change, and that the supplement herein be suspended and its use be deferred as ordered below.

The Commission orders:

(A) Under the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15, the regulations pertaining thereto (18 CFR Ch. I), and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a public hearing shall be held concerning the lawfulness of the proposed change.

(B) Pending hearing and decision thereon, the rate supplement herein is suspended and its use deferred until date shown in the "Date Suspended Until" column, and thereafter until made effective as prescribed by the Natural Gas

[1] This notice does not provide for consolidation for hearing of the several matters covered herein.

Act: Provided, however, That the supplement to the rate schedule filed by Respondent shall become effective subject to refund on the date and in the manner herein prescribed if within 20 days from the date of the issuance of this order Respondent shall execute and file under its above-designated docket number with the Secretary of the Commission its agreement and undertaking to comply with the refunding and reporting procedure required by the Natural Gas Act and § 154.102 of the regulations thereunder, accompanied by a certificate showing service of a copy thereof upon the purchaser under the rate schedule involved. Unless Respondent is advised to the contrary within 15 days after the filing of its agreement and undertaking, such agreement and undertaking shall be deemed to have been accepted.[1]

[1] If an acceptable general undertaking, as provided in Order No. 377, has previously been filed by a producer, then it will not be necessary for that producer to file an agreement and undertaking as provided herein. In such circumstances the producer's proposed increased rate will become effective as of the expiration of the suspension period without any further action by the producer.

(C) Until otherwise ordered by the Commission, neither the suspended supplement, nor the rate schedule sought to be altered, shall be changed until disposition of this proceeding or expiration of the suspension period.

(D) Notices of intervention or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37(f)) on or before August 6, 1969.

Producing Royalties, Inc. (Royalties), requests a retroactive effective date of January 1, 1969, for its proposed tax reimbursement increase. Good cause has not been shown for waiving the 30-day notice requirement provided in section 4(d) of the Natural Gas Act to permit an earlier effective date for Royalties' rate filing and such request is denied.

Royalties has filed a proposed increase from 13 cents to 13.05085 cents per Mcf which reflects tax reimbursement. Since the proposed rate exceeds the area increased rate ceiling for the San Juan Basin Area as set forth in the Commission's statement of general policy No. 61-1, as amended, by the amount of the tax reimbursement only, we conclude that it should be suspended for 1 day from July 3, 1969, the expiration date of the statutory notice.

[11] "Fractured" rate increase. Contractually entitled to 15.2025 cents (15-cent base plus 0.2025-cent tax reimbursement).

Ross Production Co. (Operator) et al. (Ross), requests that its proposed rate increase be permitted to become effective as of July 1, 1969. Good cause has not been shown for waving the 30-day notice requirement provided in section 4(d) of the Natural Gas Act to permit an earlier effective date for Ross' rate filing and such request is denied.

The contracts related to the rate filings proposed by Ross and Calvert Exploration Co. (Operator) et al. (Calvert), were executed subsequent to September 28, 1960, the date of issuance of the Commission's statement of general policy No. 61–1, as amended, and the proposed increased rates are above the applicable ceilings for increased rates but below the initial service ceilings for the areas involved. We believe, in this situation, Ross' and Calvert's proposed rate filings should be suspended for 1 day from July 3, 1969 (Ross), the expiration date of the statutory notice, and June 26, 1969 (Calvert), the proposed effective date.

Concurrently with the filing of its rate increase, Ross submitted a letter agreement dated May 23, 1969, designated as Supplement No. 1 to Ross' FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1, which provides the basis for Ross' proposed rate increase. We believe that it would be in the public interest to accept for filing Ross' proposed letter agreement to become effective as of July 3, 1969, the expiration date of the statutory notice, but not the proposed rate contained therein which is suspended as hereinafter ordered.

The proposed changed rates and charges may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds:

(1) Good cause has been shown for accepting for filing Ross' contract agreement dated May 23, 1969, designated as Supplement No. 1 to Ross' FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1, and for permitting such supplement to become effective on July 3, 1969, the expiration date of the statutory notice.

(2) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the proposed changes, and that Supplement No. 2 to Ross' FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1 and Supplement No. 2 to Calvert's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 4 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(a) Ross' contract agreement dated May 23, 1969, designated as Supplement No. 1 to Ross' FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1, is accepted for filing and permitted to become effective as of July 3, 1969, the expiration date of the statutory notice.

(B) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR, Ch. I), public hearings shall be held upon dates to be fixed by notices from the Secretary of the Commission concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates and charges contained in Supplement No. 2 to Ross' FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1, and Supplement No. 2 to Calvert's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 4.

(C) Pending hearings and decisions thereon, the rate supplements herein are suspended and their use deferred until the date shown in the "Date Suspended Until" column, and thereafter until made effective as prescribed by the Natural Gas Act: Provided, however, That the supplements to the rate schedules filed by Ross and Calvert, as set forth herein, shall become effective subject to refund on the date and in the manner herein prescribed if within 20 days from the date of the issuance of this order Respondents shall each execute and file under its above-designated docket number with the Secretary of the Commission its agreement and undertaking to comply with the refunding and reporting procedure required by the Natural Gas Act and § 154.102 of the regulations thereunder, accompanied by a certificate showing service of a copy thereof upon the purchasers under the rate schedule involved. Unless Respondents are advised to the contrary within 15 days after the filing of their respective agreements and undertakings, such agreements and undertakings shall be deemed to have been accepted.[12]

(D) Until otherwise ordered by the Commission, neither the supplements, nor the rate schedules sought to be altered, shall be changed until disposition of these proceedings or expiration of the suspension periods.

(E) Notices of intervention or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37(f)) on or before August 6, 1969.

By the Commission.

[12] If an acceptable general undertaking, as provided in Order No. 377, has previously been filed by a producer, then it will not be necessary for that producer to file an agreement and undertaking as provided herein. In such circumstances the producer's proposed increased rate will become effective as of the expiration of the suspension period without any further action by the producer.

INTERAGENCY TEXTILE ADMINISTRATIVE COMMITTEE

CERTAIN COTTON TEXTILES AND COTTON TEXTILE PRODUCTS PRODUCED OR MANUFACTURED IN COLOMBIA

Entry and Withdrawal From Warehouse for Consumption

JULY 1, 1969.

On September 18, 1968, the U.S. Government, in furtherance of the objectives of, and under the terms of, the Long-Term Arrangement Regarding International Trade in Cotton Textiles done at Geneva on February 9, 1962, concluded a new comprehensive bilateral cotton textile agreement with the Government of Columbia concerning exports of cotton textiles and cotton textile products from Colombia to the United States over a 3-year period beginning on July 1, 1968, and extending through June 30, 1971. Among the provisions of the agreement are those establishing an aggregate limit for the 64 categories; within the aggregate limit, group limits on Categories 1–4, 5–27, and 28–64; and within both of the aforesaid limits, specific limits on certain categories for the second agreement year beginning on July 1, 1969. The categories with specific limits are Categories 5/6, 9, 16, 19, 22, and 26, with a sublimit on duck fabric (part of Category 26).

The agreement also contains a provision covering overshipments of cotton textiles from Colombia which occurred during the period beginning on July 1, 1967, and which were exported to the United States through September 30, 1967. This provision provides that these overshipments are to be charged against the aggregate, applicable group, and specific limits during each of the 3 agreement years. Implementing this provision for the second agreement year results in the adjusted levels of restraint set forth in the letter.

Accordingly, there is published below a letter of June 30, 1969, from the Chairman of the President's Cabinet Textile Advisory Committee to the Commissioner of Customs, directing that the amounts of cotton textiles in Categories 1 through 27, produced or manufactured in Colombia, which may be entered or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption in the United States for the 12-month period beginning July 1, 1969, and extending through June 30, 1970, be limited to the designated adjusted levels. The letter does not establish controls on Categories 28–64, but notes that such controls may be established during the present agreement year, i.e., the 12-month period beginning July 1, 1969. The letter published below and the actions pursuant thereto are not designed to implement all of the provisions of the bilateral agreement, but are designed to assist only in the implementation of certain of its provisions.

STANLEY NEHMER,
Chairman, Interagency Textile Administrative Committee, and Deputy Assistant Secretary for Resources.

SECRETARY OF COMMERCE

PRESIDENT'S CABINET TEXTILE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

COMMISSIONER OF CUSTOMS,
Department of the Treasury,
Washington, D.C. 20226.

JUNE 30, 1969.

DEAR MR. COMMISSIONER: Under the terms of the Long-Term Arrangement Regarding International Trade in Cotton Textiles done at Geneva on February 9, 1962, pursuant to the bilateral cotton textile agreement of September 18, 1968, between the Governments of the United States and Colombia, and in accordance with Executive Order 11052 of September 28, 1962, as amended by Executive Order 11214 of April 7, 1965, you are directed to prohibit, effective as soon as possible, and for the 12-month period beginning July 1, 1969, and extending through June 30, 1970, entry into the United States for consumption and withdrawal from warehouse for consumption of cotton textiles in Categories 1 through 27 produced or manufactured in Colombia, in excess of the adjusted levels of restraint set forth below.

The combined adjusted level of restraint for Categories 1 through 4 shall be 3,289,255 pounds.

The overall adjusted level of restraint for Categories 5 through 27 shall be 17,200,874 square yards.

Within the overall adjusted level of restraint for Categories 5 through 27, the following adjusted specific levels of restraint shall apply:

19	1,050,000 square yards.
22	5,738,104 square yards.
26	3,399,465 square yards of which not more than 495,239 square yards shall be in duck fabric.[1]

321.--01 through 04, 06, 08

326.--01 through 04, 06, 08

In carrying out this directive, entries of cotton textiles and cotton textile products in the above categories, produced or manufactured in the Government of Colombia, which have been exported to the United States from the Government of Colombia prior to July 1, 1969, shall, to the extent of any unfilled balances be charged against the level of restraint established for such goods for the 12-month period beginning July 1, 1968, and extending through June 30, 1969. In the event that the level of restraint for the 12-month period ending June 30, 1969, has been exhausted by previous entries, such goods shall be subject to the directives set forth in this letter.

The levels of restraint set forth above are subject to adjustment pursuant to the provisions of the bilateral agreement of September 18, 1968, between the Governments of the United States and Colombia which provides in part that within the aggregate and applicable group limits, limits on certain categories may be exceeded by not more than 5 percent; and for administrative arrangements. Any appropriate adjustments pursuant to the provisions of the bilateral agreement referred to above, will be made to you by letter from the Chairman of the Interagency Textile Administrative Committee.

The bilateral agreement of September 18, 1968, also provides a group limit on Categories 28–64. Import controls on these categories at an overall level of 630,000 square yards equivalent may be established during the current agreement year. In such an event you will be advised in a further directive from me.

A detailed description of the categories in terms of T.S.U.S.A. numbers was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 17, 1968 (33 F.R. 582), and amendments thereto on March 15, 1968 (33 F.R. 4600).

In carrying out the above directions, entry into the United States for consumption shall be construed to include entry for consumption into the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

The actions taken with respect to the Government of Colombia and with respect to imports of cotton textiles and cotton textile products from Colombia have been determined by the President's Cabinet Textile Advisory Committee to involve foreign affairs functions of the United States. Therefore, the directions to the Commissioner of Customs, being necessary to the implementation of such actions, fall within the foreign affairs exception to the notice provisions of 5 U.S.C. 553 (Supp. IV, 1965–68). This letter will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Sincerely yours,

MAURICE H. STANS,
Secretary of Commerce, Chairman, President's Cabinet Textile Advisory Committee.

NATIONAL FUEL GAS CO. ET AL.

Notice of Proposed Issue and Sale of Debentures at Competitive Bidding by Holding Company and Long-Term Notes to Holding Company and Short-Term Notes to Banks by Subsidiary Companies

JUNE 30, 1969.

Notice is hereby given that National Fuel Gas Co. ("National"), 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, N.Y. 10020, a registered holding company, and three of its gas utility subsidiary companies, Iroquois Gas Corp. ("Iroquois"), United Natural Gas Co. ("United"), and Pennsylvania Gas Co. ("Penn"), have filed an application-declaration with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act"), designating sections 6(a), 6(b), 7, 9(a), 10, 12(b), and 12(f) of the Act and Rules 43, 45, and 50 promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transactions. All interested persons are referred to the application-declaration, which is summarized below, for a complete statement of the proposed transactions.

National proposes to issue and sell, subject to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule 50 promulgated under the Act, $20 million principal amount of ------ percent Sinking Fund Debentures, Series due July 1994. The interest rate of the debentures (which shall be a multiple of one-eighth of 1 percent) and the price, exclusive of accrued interest, to be paid to National (which shall be not less than 99 percent nor more than 102 percent of the principal amount thereof) will be determined by the competitive bidding. The debentures will be issued under an indenture dated as of August 15, 1968, between National and Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. as trustee, as heretofore supplemented and as to be further supplemented by a second supplemental indenture, and will be issued only in registered form. The debentures will be redeemable at any time, provided, that none of the debentures may be redeemed prior to July 15, 1974, if such redemption is for the purpose or in anticipation of their refunding through the use, directly or indirectly, of funds borrowed by the company at an effective interest cost of less than the effective interest cost of the debentures.

National proposes to use the net proceeds from the sale of its debentures to acquire for cash $20 million principal amount of long-term notes from its three above-mentioned gas utility subsidiary companies. Concurrently, the subsidiary companies will prepay $4 million of their notes payable to National maturing December 31, 1970, as follows: Iroquois, $2,700,000; United, $700,000; and Penn, $600,000. National will use the proceeds of the subsidiaries' note prepayments to prepay $4 million of its notes payable to The Chase Manhattan Bank (N.A.), maturing December 31, 1970. On the date National receives the proceeds from the sale of its debentures, Iroquois, United, and Penn propose to issue and sell and National proposes to acquire unsecured long-term promissory notes in the total aggregate principal amount of $20 million. Such notes will be issued and sold to National in the respective principal amounts of $12,200,000 by Iroquois, $5,200,000 by United, and $2,600,000 by Penn. The notes will be issued in series with the first note in each series maturing on December 15, 1973, and with each succeeding note in the applicable series maturing on the following December 15. The final note of each series will be payable on July 15, 1994. The notes will bear interest at a rate per annum equal to the effective cost of money incurred by National on its proposed sale of debentures, rounded to the next one-tenth of 1 percent and such interest will be payable semiannually. Such notes will be prepayable at any time without premium. The net proceeds derived from the sale of these long-term notes, together with funds available from current operations, will be used by the subsidiary companies to make additions to utility plant and underground cushion gas storage inventories, to prepay notes to National aggregating $4 million, and to increase and replenish working capital. The total cost of the 1969 plant expansion programs of the three subsidiary companies is estimated at $18,669,000.

Iroquois, United, and Penn also propose to issue and sell from time to time to the banks named below short-term promissory notes in the respective aggregate amounts of $7 million for Iroquois, $5 million for United, and $3,200,000 for Penn. Each such note will be dated as of the date of issue, will mature not later than 9 months thereafter, will bear interest at the prime commercial rate in effect on the issue date, and will be prepayable at any time, in whole or in part, without penalty or premium. Such 9-month notes will aggregate about 5.3 percent of the principal amount and par value of Iroquois' other securities as of March 31, 1969, 10.8 percent in respect of United, and 12.3 percent in respect of Penn. The proceeds derived from the sale of such short-term note borrowings from banks will be used by Iroquois, United, and Penn to finance the cost of gas purchased and stored underground for current inventory purposes, and it is stated that such borrowings are expected to be repaid early in 1970 as gas is withdrawn from storage and sold. The maximum amount to be outstanding from each bank with respect to Iroquois is as follows:

Marine Midland Trust Co. of Western New York, Buffalo, N.Y	$3,290,000

At any time after said date, the application-declaration, as filed or as it may be amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective as provided in Rule 23 of the general rules and regulations promulgated under the Act, or the Commission may grant exemption from such rules as provided in Rules 20(a) and 100 thereof or take such other action as it may deem appropriate. Persons who request a hearing or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered will receive notice of further developments in this matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements thereof.

For the Commission (pursuant to delegated authority).

Title 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter I—Consumer and Marketing Service (Standards, Inspections, Marketing Practices), Department of Agriculture

SUBCHAPTER C—REGULATIONS AND STANDARDS UNDER THE AGRICULTURAL MARKETING ACT OF 1946

PART 55—GRADING AND INSPECTION OF EGG PRODUCTS

Changes in Approved Laboratory Charges

Under authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946, as amended (7 U.S.C. 1621 et seq.), the U.S. Department of Agriculture hereby amends the Regulations Governing the Grading and Inspection of Egg Products (7 CFR Part 55) as set forth below:

Statement of considerations. In the amendments published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (34 F.R. 8229–8233) on May 28, 1969, a new § 55.65 was added to the Regulations Governing the Grading and Inspection of Egg Products (7 CFR Part 55), to provide for an approval charge and an annual renewal charge for non-USDA laboratories performing Salmonella tests. The charges as stated in the amendment are $400 at the time the approval is requested, and a $400 renewal charge each July 1st.

Upon further examination of factors involved in the costs of furnishing supervision to these approved laboratories, it has been determined that a part of the costs could be derived from the administrative charges. This can be achieved without any change being made in supervision or adjustments in other fees or charges. Therefore, based on these determinations, it is found that these charges can be reduced to $200.

The amendment is as follows:

Section 55.65 is amended by deleting the figures $400 where they appear in the text of this section and substituting in lieu thereof the figures $200.

The facts upon which are based the determination as to the level of fees and charges necessary to cover these costs are not available to the industry, but are peculiarly within the knowledge of the Department. Therefore, public rule making would not result in the Department receiving additional information on this matter. Accordingly, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 553 it is found upon good cause that notice and other public procedure with respect to the amendments are impracticable and unnecessary.

Issued at Washington, D.C., this 1st day of July 1969, to become effective on July 1, 1969.

G. R. GRANGE,
Deputy Administrator,
Marketing Services.

[Interpretation 27]

PART 362—REGULATIONS FOR ENFORCEMENT OF FEDERAL INSECTICIDE, FUNGICIDE, AND RODENTICIDE ACT

Labeling Claims Involving Use of Term "Germ Proof" and Related Terms in Labeling of Economic Poisons

There was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 5, 1969 (34 F.R. 5537), a notice of proposed interpretation under the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (7 U.S.C. 135–135k) regarding labeling claims involving the use of the term "Germ Proof" and related terms in labeling of economic poisons.

Forty-five days were permitted for interested persons to submit written data, views, or arguments in connection with this matter. After thorough consideration of all relevant matters, Interpretation 27 is issued to read as follows:

§ 362.125 Interpretation with respect to the term "germ proof" and related terms used in labeling of economic poisons.

For the purposes of the Act, the following terms shall have the meanings stated below:

(a) The terms "germ proof" and "germ proofed", referring to any surfaces, materials or articles, indicate the existence of actively germicidal or self disinfecting properties.

(b) The terms "germ proofs" and "germ proofer" mean that, when applied as directed, the economic poison will provide a germicidal or disinfecting result, and also provide treated surfaces, articles or materials with germ proof or germ proofed properties.

(c) The term "germ proofing" means a process that will, when followed, disinfect and provide germ proof and germ proofed surfaces, materials and articles.

(Sec. 6, 61 Stat. 168, 7 U.S.C. 135d; 29 F.R. 16210, as amended; 7 CFR 362.3)

Effective date. This interpretation shall become effective 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on which date procedures set forth in section 4 of the Act (7 U.S.C. 135b) shall be instituted for cancellation of the registration of any product failing to comply with this interpretation.

Done at Washington, D.C., this 1st day of July 1969.

HARRY W. HAYS,
Director,
Pesticides Regulation Division.

Chapter IX—Consumer and Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders; Fruits, Vegetables, Nuts), Department of Agriculture

[Orange Reg. 62, Amdt. 6]

PART 905—ORANGES, GRAPEFRUIT, TANGERINES, AND TANGELOS GROWN IN FLORIDA

Limitation of Shipments

Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 905, as amended (7 CFR Part 905), regulating the handling of oranges, grapefruit, tangerines, and tangelos grown in Florida, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), and upon the basis of the recommendations of the committees established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of oranges, including Temple and Murcott Honey oranges, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this amendment until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this amendment is based became available and the time when this amendment must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; and this amendment relieves restrictions on the handling of oranges, including Temple and Murcott Honey oranges, grown in Florida.

Order. In § 905.512 (Orange Reg. 62; 33 F.R. 18227; 34 F.R. 246, 925, 5374, 5481, 6277), the provisions of subdivisions (i) through (vi) of paragraph (a)(2) are amended to read as follows:

(a) * * *
(2) * * *

(i) Any oranges, except Temple and Murcott Honey oranges, grown in Regulation Area I, which do not grade at least U.S. No. 2 Russet;

(ii) Any oranges, except Temple and Murcott Honey oranges, grown in Regulation Area II, which do not grade at least U.S. No. 2 Russet;

(iii) Any oranges, except Temple and Murcott Honey oranges, grown in the production area, which are of a size smaller than 2^{16}/$_{16}$ inches in diameter, except that a tolerance of 10 percent, by count, of oranges smaller than such minimum diameter shall be permitted, which tolerance shall be applied in accordance with the provisions for the application of tolerances specified in the U.S. Standards for Florida Oranges and Tangelos: Provided, That in determining the percentage of oranges in any lot which are smaller than 2^{4}/$_{16}$ inches in diameter, such percentage shall be based only on those oranges in such lot which are of a size 2^{10}/$_{16}$ inches in diameter and smaller;

(iv) Any Temple oranges, grown in the production area, which do not grade at least U.S. No. 2 Russet;

(v) Any Temple oranges, grown in the production area, which are of a size smaller than 2^{4}/$_{16}$ inches in diameter, except that a tolerance of 10 percent, by count, of Temple oranges smaller than such minimum diameter shall be permitted, which tolerance shall be applied in accordance with the provisions for the application of tolerances specified in said U.S. Standards for Florida Oranges and Tangelos;

(vi) Any Murcott Honey oranges, grown in the production area, which do not grade at least U.S. No. 2 Russet;

PART 826—GIFTS FROM FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS TO MEMBERS AND CIVILIAN EMPLOYEES OF THE UNITED STATES AIR FORCE

Part 826 is revised as follows:

Sec.
826.0 Purpose.
826.2 Gifts not covered by this part.
826.4 Definitions.
826.6 Constitutional and statutory provisions.
826.8 General policy and procedure.
826.10 Special policy on gifts tendered to members of Military Assistance Programs.

AUTHORITY: The provisions of this Part 826 issued under sec. 8012, 70A Stat. 488; 10 U.S.C. 8012.

SOURCE: AFR 11-27, Mar. 19, 1968.

§ 826.0 Purpose.

This part sets forth the rules relating to the acceptance of gifts from foreign governments by Air Force personnel. It applies to all members and civilian employees of the U.S. Air Force, and to each person who is a member of their family and household.

§ 826.2 Gifts not covered by this part.

This part applies only to gifts from foreign governments to members and civilian employees of the U.S. Air Force and to members of their family and household. It does not apply to:

(a) Gifts to the Department of the Air Force, or gifts for distribution to individual members or employees of the Air Force.

(b) Gifts to nonappropriated fund activities.

(c) Gifts to superiors and gifts which constitute a conflict of interest.

(d) Purely personal gifts from family and friends to Air Force personnel and not specifically prohibited by law or regulation.

(e) Awards and decorations.

§ 826.4 Definitions.

For the purpose of this part, the following apply:

(a) Foreign government. Every foreign government and every official, agent, or representative thereof.

(b) Gift. Any present or thing (other than any decoration, order, device, medal, badge, insignia, or emblem) tendered by or received from a foreign government.

(c) Gift of minimal value. Any present or thing (other than a decoration, order, device, medal, badge, insignia, or emblem) tendered or received from a foreign government which has a retail value not in excess of $50 in the United States.

(d) Member of the United States Air Force. All members of the Air Force on active duty, retired members of the regular component of the Air Force who are entitled to pay, and all members of the reserve components of the Air Force, whether or not on active duty.

(e) Person. Every person who occupies an office or a position in the Department of the Air Force, or is a member of the U.S. Air Force, or is a member of the family and household of any such person. For the purpose of this definition "member of the family and household" means a relative by blood, marriage, or adoption, who is a resident of the household.

§ 826.6 Constitutional and statutory provisions.

(a) Constitutional prohibition. The Constitution of the United States prohibits any person holding any office of profit or trust under the United States from accepting a gift from foreign personages and governments without the consent of Congress (U.S. Const., Art. 1, cl. 8).

(b) Statutory authority to accept gifts from a foreign government. Under Public Law 89-673, October 15, 1966, Congress gave its consent to the acceptance and retention of a gift of minimal value which has been presented to a person by a foreign government as a souvenir or mark of courtesy.

§ 826.8 General policy and procedure.

No person shall request or otherwise encourage the tender of a gift from a foreign government.

(a) Acceptance and retention of gifts of minimal value. Except as provided in § 826.10, a person may physically assume possession of a gift of minimal value presented by a foreign government, but the recipient will ask for approval to retain the gift. The burden of proof is on the recipient, to establish that the retail value of the gift does not exceed $50 in the United States.

(1) Letter requesting approval to retain gift. The letter of request will include the name, grade/title, and the organization to which the recipient is assigned; a description of the gift, and a statement of its U.S. retail value; a summary of the circumstances surrounding the presentation of the gift, including the name, grade/title of the person who presented it; and a statement as to whether the recipient was assigned duties in connection with the Military Assistance Program.

(2) Approval authority. The above letter request must be submitted to the following approval authority:

(i) An active duty member of the U.S. Air Force, or Department of the Air Force civilian, who is assigned/employed in CONUS will send the request to the commander of the major command of assignment/employment.

(ii) An active duty member of the U.S. Air Force, or Department of the Air Force civilian who is assigned/employed outside CONUS, will send the request to the commander of the oversea major command in which the recipient is located.

(iii) Any other member of the U.S. Air Force, or Department of the Air Force civilian, who is not covered by the above procedure will send the request to USAFMPC (AFPMSAM), Randolph AFB TX 78148.

(iv) Any member of the family and household of a member/civilian in subdivision (i), (ii), or (iii) of this subparagraph, will send the request to the same approval authority as is established for the sponsor.

(3) Action by the approval authority. The approval authority, under such procedures as he may prescribe, will review each request for the retention of a gift of minimal value which the recipient has accepted from a foreign government, to insure that its retention is not prohibited under this part or any other Federal policy, directive, or provision of law.

(i) The approval authority will advise the recipient by letter if the request is approved, for retention of the gift item. If he determines that the recipient may not retain the gift, he will notify the recipient by letter that the gift may not be retained, but is to be treated as a gift to the United States. A copy of the letter disapproving the request will be forwarded by the approval authority to USAFMPC (AFPMSAM).

(ii) The recipient will then forward the gift, together with all of the above correspondence, to USAFMPC (AFPMSAM) as explained below.

(b) Disposition of gifts of more than a minimal value. If a gift of more than minimal value is tendered, the donor should be advised that it is contrary to the policy of the U.S. Government for persons in the service thereof to accept substantial gifts. If, however, the refusal of such a gift would be likely to cause offense or embarrassment to the donor, or would adversely affect the foreign relations of the United States, the gift may be accepted and shall become the property of the United States and be deposited with the Air Force for use or disposition.

(1) Action by the recipient. Upon receiving a gift item of more than minimal value from a foreign government, the recipient will forward the gift item to USAFMPC (AFPMSAM) with a letter. This letter will give the recipient's name, grade/title, and organization of assignment; the circumstances under which the gift was tendered, including the date and place of the presentation, the estimated retail value of the gift in the United States; and the name, grade/title of the foreign official making the presentation.

(2) Action by USAFMPC (AFPMSAM). Upon receipt of a gift item which has become the property of the United States, the USAFMPC (AFPMSAM) will dispose of the gift, as prescribed by the DoD (reference: paragraph VI B, DoD Directives 1005.3, September 16, 1967).

§ 826.10 Special policy on gifts tendered to members of Military Assistance Programs.

(a) Prohibition of acceptance of gifts and participation in ceremonies. Any person performing any duty whatsoever in connection with the Military Assistance Program, regardless of assignment, may not accept the tender of any gift from a foreign government for duty of this nature. Accordingly, participation in ceremonies involving such tender is not authorized. In order to avoid embarrassment, the appropriate foreign officials should be acquainted with this prohibition.

(b) Exceptions for gifts whose retail value does not exceed $10 in the United States. The prohibition in paragraph (a) of this section does not apply to the receipt of a table favor, memento, remembrance, souvenir, or mark of courtesy from a foreign government if the retail value of the gift item is not more than $10 in the United States. (In this case, however, the recipient must write a letter, as required by § 826.8 requesting permission to retain the gift.)

(c) Exceptions for certain officials. The prohibition in paragraph (a) of this section does not apply to the receipt of a gift by the Vice Chief of Staff of the Air Force; the Commander-in-Chief of a unified/specified command; the Under Secretary of the Department of the Air Force; the Chief of Staff of the Air Force; or a higher ranking Air Force official.

By order of the Secretary of the Air Force.

ALEXANDER J. PALENSCAR, Jr.,
Colonel, U.S. Air Force, Chief, Special Activities Group, Office of The Judge Advocate General.

Supplemental Notice of Public Hearing Regarding Proposed Quarantine in Certain States

On June 4, 1969, there was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (34 F.R. 8923) a notice of public hearing in accordance with sections 8 and 9 of the Plant Quarantine Act of 1912, as amended, and section 106 of the Federal Plant Pest Act (7 U.S.C. 161, 162, 150ee), to consider quarantining the States of Kentucky, New York, and West Virginia, and regulating, under the cereal leaf beetle quarantine and supplemental regulations (7 CFR 301.84, 301.84–1, et seq.), the interstate movement from these States into or through any other State, territory, or district of the United States of: (1) Small grains, such as barley, oats, and wheat, except grain sorghum; (2) soybeans; (3) ear corn (shelled corn is not regulated); (4) straw and hay, including marsh hay, except pelletized hay; (5) grass sod; (6) grass and forage seed; (7) fodder and plant litter; (8) used harvesting machinery; and (9) any other products, articles, or means of conveyance of any character whatsoever, when it is determined by an inspector that they present a hazard of spread of cereal leaf beetle, and the person in possession thereof has been so notified.

Since publication of this notice, information has been received that the cereal leaf beetle has been discovered in Maryland and Virginia.

Accordingly, the scope of the public hearing is enlarged to include the States of Maryland and Virginia among the States being considered for quarantining as specified in the original notice. Officials of these States have been consulted in the matter and indicate that they can be represented at the hearing.

GRAPEFRUIT (TEXAS AND STATES OTHER THAN FLORIDA, CALIFORNIA, AND ARIZONA)

Standards for Grades [1]

Notice is hereby given that the U.S. Department of Agriculture is considering the revision of U.S. Standards for Grapefruit (Texas and States Other Than Florida, California, and Arizona) (7 CFR 51.620–51.658). These grade standards are issued under authority of the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 1621–1627), which provides for the issuance of official U.S. grades to designate different levels of quality for the voluntary use of producers, buyers and consumers. Official grading services are also provided under this act upon request of any financially interested party and upon payment of a fee to cover the cost of such services.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views or arguments for consideration in connection with the proposal should file the same, in duplicate, not later than July 30, 1969, with the Hearing Clerk, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Room 112, Administration Building, Washington, D.C. 20250, where they will be available for public review during official hours of business (7 CFR 1.27(b)).

Statement of considerations leading to the proposed revision of the grade standards. Trends in marketing practices, over the past few years, have prompted a revision of the U.S. Standards for Grapefruit (Texas and States Other Than Florida, California and Arizona), which have been in effect since 1955.

In proposing this revision, the U.S. Department of Agriculture is introducing a new concept in the application of the grade standards. This concept involves the use of statistical principles and procedures in determining compliance with the standards. This approach was first used successfully in the 1967 revision of the Florida citrus standards.

During the 1968–69 harvest season experimental studies were conducted in a few Texas fresh fruit packinghouses which made use of a quality control master note sheet. This note sheet was developed and used under an inplant continuous inspection operation. The note sheet graphically presents the quality level being packed during any given period in the day. This proposal would involve the use of the quality control aid during the packing process as well as in determining grade on a lot basis. This would bring about more uniformity and better industry understanding of the standards. The Texas citrus industry has requested that this concept be adopted and incorporated in the grade standards which would require the following changes in the presentation of tolerances:

(1) Each sample selected for grade determination would consist of 33 grapefruit. When individual packages contain at least 33 grapefruit, the sample is drawn from one package; when individual packages contain less than 33 grapefruit a sufficient number of adjoining packages would be combined to form a 33 grapefruit sample. The individual sample size would be constant regardless of the size of the container.

(2) Tolerances would be specified as acceptance numbers. The total minimum or maximum number of defective or off-size grapefruit would be specified for the number of samples selected for grade determination.

(3) Individual 33-count samples would be limited to the maximum number of defective, discolored, or off-size grapefruit for all grades except for the Bronze and Russet grades. A minimum number of discolored grapefruit is set for these two grades. This limitation would be in the tolerance tables under the Absolute Limit (AL) heading and would replace the Application of Tolerances section in the existing standards.

A new format is proposed in an effort to arrange in logical order the various requirements for the particular grade. Also a new Classification of Defects Section would be provided which lists limitations for various defects under the injury, damage, serious damage and very serious damage headings. Both would bring about and promote greater uniformity and better understanding of the standards.

Representatives of the U.S. Department of Agriculture will be available upon appointment to discuss and demonstrate the proposed revision to interested persons during the period provided for submitting comments. Requests for such appointments should be made in writing to: Chief, Fresh Products Standardization and Inspection Branch, Fruit and Vegetable Division, C&MS, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

The proposed standards, as revised, are as follows:

SAMPLE FOR GRADE OR SIZE DETERMINATION

§ 51.629 Sample for grade or size determination.

Each sample shall consist of 33 grapefruit. When individual packages contain at least 33 grapefruit, the sample is drawn from one package; when individual packages contain less than 33 grapefruit, a sufficient number of adjoining packages are opened to form a 33-count sample. When practicable, at point of packaging, the sample may be obtained from the grading belt or bins after sorting has been completed.

STANDARD PACK

§ 51.630 Standard pack.

(a) Fruits shall be fairly uniform in size, unless specified as uniform in size. When packed in boxes or cartons, fruit shall be arranged according to the approved and recognized methods.

(b) All packages shall be tightly packed and well filled but the contents shall not show excessive or unnecessary bruising because of overfilled packages. When grapefruits are packed in cartons or in wire-bound boxes, each container shall be at least level full at time of packing.

ORANGES (TEXAS AND STATES OTHER THAN FLORIDA, CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA)

Standards for Grades [1]

Notice is hereby given that the U.S. Department of Agriculture is considering the revision of U.S. Standards for Oranges (Texas and States Other Than Florida, California and Arizona) (7 CFR 51.680–51.712). These grade standards are issued under authority of the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 1621–1627), which provides for the issuance of official U.S. grades to designate different levels of quality for the voluntary use of producers, buyers and consumers. Official grading services are also provided under this act upon request of any financially interested party and upon payment of a fee to cover the cost of such services.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views or arguments for consideration in connection with the proposal should file the same, in duplicate, not later than July 30, 1969, with the Hearing Clerk, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Room 112, Administration Building, Washington, D.C. 20250, where they will be available for public review during official hours of business (7 CFR § 1.27 (b).)

Statement of considerations leading to the proposed revision of the grade standards. Trends in marketing practices, over the past few years, have prompted a revision of the U.S. Standards for Oranges (Texas and States Other Than Florida, California and Arizona), which have been in effect since 1959.

In proposing this revision, the U.S. Department of Agriculture is introducing a new concept in the application of the grade standards. This concept involves the use of statistical principles and procedures in determining compliance with the standards. This approach was first used successfully in the 1967 revision of the Florida citrus standards.

During the 1968–69 harvest season experimental studies were conducted in a few Texas fresh fruit packinghouses which made use of a quality control master note sheet. This note sheet was developed and used under an inplant continuous inspection operation. This note sheet graphically presents the quality level being packed during any given period in the day. This proposal would involve the use of the quality control aid during the packing process as well as in determining grade on a lot basis. This would bring about more uniformity and better industry understanding of the standards. The Texas citrus industry has requested that this concept be adopted and incorporated in the grade standards which would require the following changes in the presentation of tolerances:

(1) Each sample selected for grade determination would consist of 50 oranges. When individual packages contain at least 50 oranges, the sample is drawn from one package; when individual packages contain less than 50 oranges a sufficient number of adjoining packages would be combined to form a 50-fruit sample. The individual sample size would be constant regardless of the size of the container.

(2) Tolerances would be specified as acceptance numbers. The total minimum or maximum number of defective or off-size oranges would be specified for the number of samples selected for grade determination.

(3) Individual 50-count samples would be limited to the maximum number of defective, discolored, or off-size oranges for all grades except for the Bronze and Russet grades. A minimum number of discolored oranges is set for these grades. This limitation would be in the tolerance tables under the Absolute Limit (AL) heading and would replace the Application of Tolerances section in the existing standards.

A new format is proposed in an effort to arrange in logical order the various requirements for the particular grade. Also a new Classification of Defects Section would be provided which lists limitations for various defects under the injury, damage, serious damage and very serious damage headings. Both would bring about and promote greater uniformity and better understanding of the standards.

Representatives of the U.S. Department of Agriculture will be available upon appointment to discuss and demonstrate the proposed revision to interested persons during the period provided for submitting comments. Requests for such appointments should be made in writing to: Chief, Fresh Products Standardization and Inspection Branch, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Consumer and Marketing Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

The proposed standards, as revised, are as follows:

Order[1] Amending the Amended Order Regulating the Handling of Peaches Grown in the County of Mesa, Colo.

§ 919.0 Findings and determinations.

The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations made in connection with the issuance of the order; and all of the said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure effective thereunder (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at the Veterans Memorial Building, Palisade, Colo., on April 10, 1969, upon a proposed amendment of the amended marketing agreement and Order No. 919 (7 CFR Part 919) regulating the handling of peaches grown in the county of Mesa, Colo. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of peaches grown in the county of Mesa, Colo., in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of commercial or industrial activity specified in, the marketing agreement and order upon which a hearing has been held;

(3) The order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, is limited in application to the smallest regional production area which is practicable consistently with carrying out the declared policy of the act, and the issuance of several orders applicable to subdivisions of the production area would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act;

(4) There are no differences in the production and marketing of peaches grown in the county of Mesa, Colo., which make necessary different terms and provisions applicable to different parts of such area.

It is, therefore, ordered, That, on and after the effective date hereof, all handling of peaches grown in the production area shall be in conformity to, and in compliance with, the terms and conditions of this order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, as follows:

1. Section 919.10 Fiscal year is revised to read as follows:

2. Section 919.11 District is revised to read as follows:

§ 919.11 District.

"District" means the applicable one of any of the following described subdivisions of the county of Mesa in the State of Colorado:

(a) "District No. 1" shall include all that portion of Mesa County lying north of the Colorado River and east of 37.3 Road and an extension thereof to the Mesa County line.

(d) "District No. 4" shall be all that portion of Mesa County lying south of the Colorado River bordered on the west by the Gunnison River and bordered on the east by 35 Road, and an extension thereof to the Mesa County line.

(e) "District No. 5" shall be all that portion of Mesa County west of 37.3 Road and an extension thereof to the Mesa County line, north of the Colorado River to the junction of the Colorado River and the Gunnison River, and all the rest of Mesa County west and north of the junction of the Colorado and Gunnison Rivers.

3. Section 919.20 Establishment and membership is amended by revising the third sentence thereof to read as follows:

§ 919.20 Establishment and membership.

* * * The members of the committee and their respective alternates shall be nominated, in accordance with the provisions of §§ 919.21 through 919.24, at least 30 days prior to the beginning of the term of office for which nominations are being made.

§§ 919.21, 919.22 [Amended]

4. The parenthetical phrase "(on or before February 1 of each year)" is deleted from §§ 919.21(a) and 912.22(a).

5. Section 919.23 Nomination and selection of cooperative handler members is amended by deleting from paragraph (a) the words "beginning March 1, 1956" wherever they appear, and revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 919.23 Nomination and selection of cooperative handler members.

* * * * *

(b) Nomination of cooperative members and their respective alternates shall be made by such cooperative associations in such manner as the members of the respective associations may designate.

§ 919.25 [Amended]

6. Section 919.25 Failure to nominate is amended by deleting therefrom "on or before February 15 of any year" and substituting therefor "not later than 15 days prior to the beginning of the term of office."

7. Section 919.27 Term of office is revised to read as follows:

§ 919.27 Term of office.

(a) The term of office of producer members and their alternates shall be for two (2) years: Provided, That, for the term beginning January 1, 1970, the term of office of two producer members and their alternates shall be for 1 year. (Determination of which of the inital producer members and their alternates shall serve for 1 year, or 2 years, shall be by lot.) The term of office of the independent member and cooperative handler members, and of their alternates, shall be one (1) year. The term of office of each member and alternate member shall be for the period beginning on January 1 of 1 year and ending on December 31 of the same year, or the following year in the case of producer members and their alternates, both dates inclusive, or such other period as the committee, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe: Provided, That the term of office which began March 1, 1969, shall end December 31, 1969.

(b) Members and alternates shall serve during the term of office for which they have been selected and have qualified and until their successors are selected and have qualified.

8. Section 919.32 Duties is amended by adding a paragraph (l) to read as follows:

§ 919.32 Duties.

* * * * *

(l) With the approval of the Secretary, to redefine the districts into which the production area is divided and to reapportion the representation of any district on the committee: Provided, That any such changes shall reflect, insofar as practicable, shifts in peach production within the districts and the production area.

9. Section 919.42 Handler accounts is revised to read as follows:

§ 919.42 Accounting.

If, at the end of a fiscal period, the assessments collected are in excess of expenses incurred, the committee, with the approval of the Secretary, may carry over such excess into subsequent fiscal periods as a reserve: Provided, That funds already in the reserve do not exceed approximately two fiscal periods' expenses. Such reserve funds may be used (a) to cover any expenses authorized by this part, and (b) to cover necessary expenses of liquidation in the event of termination of this part. If any such excess is not retained in a reserve, it shall be refunded proportionately, if practicable, to the handlers from whom the excess was collected. Upon termination of this part, any funds not required to defray the necessary expenses of liquidation shall be disposed of in such manner as the Secretary may determine to be appropriate: Provided, That to the extent practical, such funds shall be returned pro rata to the persons from whom such funds were collected.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[18 CFR Part 2]

[Docket No. R-200]

CERTIFICATE APPLICATIONS, RATE FILINGS, PIPELINE QUALITY GAS STANDARDS, DELIVERY CONDITIONS AND CERTAIN PRICE ADJUSTMENTS

Order Terminating Proceeding

JUNE 27, 1969.

The Commission has under consideration in this proceeding a proposed standard for "pipeline quality" gas relating to all certificate and rate proceedings before the Commission which would prescribe the minimum quality, pressure and delivery provisions for determining natural gas to be of pipeline quality as that term is used in our Statement of General Policy No. 61-1, issued September 28, 1960 (18 CFR 2.56) and the price adjustments for natural gas which does not comply with these minimum requirements.

General public notice of the proposed rule making in the above-entitled proceeding was given by publication of notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 26, 1961 (26 F.R. 4614), and by mailing of notice to natural gas pipeline companies, State regulatory commissions, independent producers, Federal agencies and others whom it was considered would have an interest in the matter. In giving notice of the proposed rule making, the Commission invited all interested parties to submit data, views, and comments in writing concerning such rulemaking.[1] In response to such notice, approximately 175 parties representing principally independent producers but including pipeline companies, distributors, various natural gas associations, municipalities, a Federal agency, and seven State commissions filed comments.

While the proposed rule making was pending, we established separate area pipeline quality gas standards in the Permian area rate case, Docket No. AR61-1, and in the South Louisiana area rate case, Docket No. AR61-2. Issues relating to applicable pipeline quality gas standards in other areas will come before us for decision in other area proceedings now in progress. Aside from the foregoing, in view of the staleness of the record, we would not want to decide the matters involved here without giving interested parties further notice and an opportunity to submit comments. We therefore believe it appropriate to terminate this proposed rule-making proceeding.

The Commission finds: For the foregoing reasons, the proceeding in Docket No. R-200 should be terminated.

The Commission orders: The proceeding in Docket No. R-200 is terminated.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] GORDON M. GRANT,
Secretary.

[1] An amendment to the proposed rule making was given by publication of notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 24, 1961 (26 F.R. 5689) to the effect that standards proposed would be applied consistent with and not at variance to applicable conservation orders of State commissions.

[Case 393]

PRODUITS CHIMIQUES INDUSTRIELS ET AGRICOLES S.A. (PROCIDA)

Order Denying Export Privileges

In the matter of Produits Chimiques Industriels et Agricoles S.A. (Procida), 5 Rue Bellini, 92 Puteaux, France, respondent, case no. 393.

On June 28, 1968, a charging letter was issued against the above firm by the Director of the Investigations Division. The charging letter was duly served and the respondent, represented by counsel, filed an answer and also requested a hearing. The hearing was held, one session in New York on February 4, 1969, and another session in Washington, D.C., on February 6, 1969. The respondent submitted additional evidence after the hearing which was received into the record. The respondent filed a brief and the Government filed a brief and a reply brief.

The charging letter alleges in substance that early in 1967 respondent in France obtained U.S.-origin chlordane technical insecticide from a U.S. supplier, mixed 155,000 kilograms of the material with other ingredients and reexported the mixture from France to Cuba without first obtaining U.S. authorization. It is alleged that this was contrary to the prohibitions in the destination control statement on the invoices which respondent received, and also contrary to notice given by a U.S. Government employee to the respondent. It was charged that respondent violated § 381.6 of the Export Regulations in that it reexported U.S.-origin material with knowledge that such reexportation was in violation of said regulations.

The respondent's answer admitted receiving the technical chlordane in question and using the material in conjunction with other ingredients to manufacture an insecticide which it exported to Cuba. The respondent admitted that the destination control statements containing the prohibition against reexportation were on the invoices, but, in effect, claimed that such statements did not come to the attention of individuals in the company who were in charge of reexportation. The respondent denied having received notice from a U.S. Government employee of the reexport restrictions, denied knowledge of the prohibition against reexportation, and also denied any violation of the U.S. Export Regulations.

The respondent also alleged that the destination control statements by their terms did not prohibit use of the material in manufacturing other products and their sale to Cuba. In defense respondent also relies on the fact that a specific statement by the Office of Export Control to avoid misunderstanding as to the use of components, and a regulation relative thereto was not published in the FEDERAL REGISTER until July 8, 1967 (32 F.R. 10078-9) and that its purchase of the material and most of its manufacturing and sale took place before that date and that respondent could not have been sufficiently informed that its conduct would be in violation of the statute and regulations.

The Compliance Commissioner has submitted to the undersigned a report which summarizes the essential evidence, considers the various defenses raised by respondents, and evaluates the mitigating circumstances presented. His report contains findings of fact, conclusions, and recommendation as to sanction.

The Compliance Commissioner found that respondent was not given specific notice by an employee of the U.S. Government that the reexportations would be in violation of the U.S. Export Regulations.

The Compliance Commissioner made the following findings of fact which I adopt and confirm:

1. The respondent, Produits Chimiques Industriels et Agricoles, S.A., known as Procida, is a French corporation with offices in Puteaux, a suburb of Paris, France. The company, a subsidiary of Roussel-Uclaf a prominent French corporation, is engaged in the production and distribution of agricultural pesticides including insecticides, herbicides, and fungicides. The company has factories in Marseilles and close-by Beaucaire.

2. On January 31, 1967, Procida entered into a contract with Quimimport, Havana, Cuba, to sell to said firm approximately 300 metric tons of an insecticide containing 800 grams of chlordane per liter.

3. In January and March 1967 Procida ordered from a U.S. supplier 190 metric tons of chlordane to be used in the insecticide for Cuba. Between February 10, 1967, and April 29, 1967, the U.S. supplier made four exportations of chlordane, totaling 418,610 pounds, from the United States to Procida in Marseilles, France. Each of the invoices from the U.S. supplier to Procida bore a destination control statement in pertinent part as follows: "United States law prohibits distribution of these commodities to Cuba * * * unless otherwise authorized by the United States".

4. Early in February 1967, before any of the chlordane was exported from the United States, the U.S. supplier had reason to question and did question Procida as to the countries of ultimate destination of the chlordane or of the product to be formulated therefrom. The inquiry from the supplier was by cable. The respondent replied, also by cable, that the final destination of the chlordane after formulation would be France and West Africa. The individual who sent this cable was a responsible employee of respondent, acting within the scope of his employment. This individual knew that Cuba was in fact the ultimate destination of the formulated product and he knowingly furnished false information that the countries of ultimate destination were France and West Africa.

5. On arrival of the chlordane in France it was mixed by respondent in its factory at Beaucaire with other ingredients to manufacture the insecticides ordered. Chlordane was the active and principal ingredient of which there was 800 grams per liter. The other ingredients were solvents and also wetting, dispersing, and stabilizing agents. The chlordane represented almost 93 percent of the value of the ingredients.

6. The respondent reexported the chlordane in the above mixture to its customer in Cuba without obtaining authorization from the Office of Export Control or any other branch of the U.S. Government.

7. The destination control statements on the invoices was adequate notice to respondent that U.S. law prohibited reexportation of the chlordane to Cuba. Aside from this notice respondent knew that U.S. law prohibited such reexportation to Cuba.

8. On the situation presented in this case the prohibition against reexportation applied not only to the chlordane as such but also to the chlordane in the formulated product. This was because of the quantity, importance, and relative value of the chlordane in said product.

Based on the foregoing I have concluded that respondent violated § 381.6 of the Export Regulations in that without obtaining authorization from the Office of Export Control or any other branch of the U.S. Government it knowingly reexported to Cuba chlordane received from the United States contrary to the terms of export control documents and to notification of prohibition against such action.

With regard to certain defenses and mitigating circumstances presented by respondent the Compliance Commissioner stated as follows:

By way of defense the respondent claims that Procida did not in fact violate the then existing Export Regulations. In support of this position it points to the statement that was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on July 8, 1967 and to § 370.11 that was added at that time. The respondent concedes that the regulations now cover the type of activity in which Procida engaged "but that was not the case when these purchases were made". Procida is not charged with violations for making purchases but rather with violations for unauthorized reexportations.

In support of this defense respondent relies on section 3 of the Administrative Procedure Act, formerly 5 U.S.C. 1002, now 5 U.S.C. 552. The provisions quoted by respondent were part of the so-called Freedom of Information Act, enacted July 4, 1966 and which became effective on July 4, 1967. See Public Law 89-487, 89th Cong., subsection (h). The provisions relied on, in pertinent part, are to the effect that a statement of policy or interpretation by a Government agency may be relied on, used, or cited as precedent only if it has been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER or the party affected has actual notice thereof.

The statutory provisions relied on by respondent are not applicable to the first three shipments to Cuba inasmuch as those shipments were made prior to the effective date of said provisions. The provisions were in effect at the time of the last shipment to Cuba (Sept. 4, 1967) and the Office of Export Control was in compliance with the provisions since it had published on July 8, 1967, the statement regarding use of materials in foreign made products and § 370.11 of the Export Regulations.

It is to be noted that § 370.11 was not a new policy or a new interpretation of the scope of export controls. This regulation was published as a specific statement "to avoid any misunderstanding of the scope of export controls". It is quite apparent that the individual connected with Procida who gave the false information early in February as to the ultimate destination of the chlordane after formulation was aware of the U.S. restrictions on the use of the material in a formulated product to be reexported to Cuba.

By way of mitigation the respondent alleges that by reason of the organiaztion of Procida and the way these transactions were handled the invoices with their prohibitory clauses did not come to the attention of either the personnel who entered into the contract with Cuba nor those charged with fulfilling the contract.

The invoices from (the U.S. supplier) with the destination control notice came to the attention of the Purchasing Department but the head of this department "never paid any attention" to this notice on the invoices. The invoices were also seen by personnel in the Accounting Department, and here the destination control notices apparently made no impression. While this may explain to some extent how the destination control notices were disregarded it does not excuse such conduct. The fact still remains that the destination control notices were on the invoices and with reasonable care and attention the prohibitions would have come to the attention of responsible individuals.

The respondent asserts that even if the notice had come to the attention of Procida personnel with authority to control the use of the material it would not have been unreasonable for them to conclude that the clause did not apply to newly formulated material. I cannot agree. If the notice had come to the attention of such personnel they would have been aware of the fact that the chlordane was the active and the principal ingredient in the finished product, that the formula called for 800 grams of chlordane per liter, and that the finished product without the chlordane would be worthless. It would have been more reasonable for such personnel to conclude that the prohibition applied not only to the chlordane as such but also to the formulated product.

As to the sanction that should be imposed the Compliance Commissioner said:

In deciding what sanction should be imposed in this case there are a number of factors that should be considered. These include the nature and seriousness of the violation, whether this was an isolated transaction or whether it reflected company policy, the degree of involvement of top officials of the company, the attitude and degree of cooperation of the respondent after the violation was uncovered, and the steps taken by respondent to prevent recurrence of similar violations.

The transaction involved the reexportation of 300 metric tons of an insecticide having a value of $335,000 of which about 93 percent in value represented U.S. origin material. While this was not a commodity to be used for military purposes it was one that could make a significant contribution to the economic potential of Cuba. It does not appear that it was the policy of Procida to reexport U.S.-origin material to Cuba or that top company officials were aware of this violation. It appears that this violation was committed by a responsible employee of the company without the knowledge or approval of high level officials.

Following the first interview with (the General Manager of respondent company) by a representative of the (U.S. Government) he acknowledged that U.S.-origin chlordane had been used in formulating an insecticide that Procida shipped to Cuba. Although he did not furnish documentation * * * he gave information as to three of the four shipments to Cuba. (The General Manager) admitted that an error had been made in his company and gave assurances as to future compliance. He gave verbal instructions to the heads of the various departments in Procida so as to avoid future violations and on November 21, 1967, issued written instructions for this purpose.

At the hearing (the General Manager) demonstrated a cooperative attitude and a desire to have Procida comply with the provisions of the U.S. Export Regulations.

* * * * *

I believe that an appropriate sanction, and one consistent with sanctions imposed in other cases where there were mitigating factors of a similar degree and where respondent was cooperative, would be to deny respondent export privileges for 5 months and thereafter place it on probation for the balance of 5 years and I recommend that an order incorporating such a sanction be issued.

Now, after considering the record in the case and the report and recommendation of the Compliance Commissioner and being of the opinion that his recommendation as to the sanction that should be imposed is fair and just and calculated to achieve effective enforcement of the law: It is hereby ordered:

I. All outstanding validated export licenses in which respondent appears or participates in any manner or capacity are hereby revoked and shall be returned forthwith to the Bureau of International Commerce for cancellation.

II. Except as qualified in Part IV hereof, the respondent for a period of 3 years from the effective date of this order is hereby denied all privileges of participating, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, in any transaction involving commodities or technical data exported from the United States, in whole or in part, or to be exported, or which are otherwise subject to the export regulations. Without limitation of the generality of the foregoing, participation prohibited in any such transaction, either in the United States or abroad, shall include participation: (a) As a party or as a representative of a party to any validated export license application; (b) in the preparation or filing of any export license application or reexportation authorization, or document to be submitted therewith; (c) in the obtaining or using of any validated or general export license or other export control documents; (d) in the carrying on of negotiations with respect to, or in the receiving, ordering, buying, selling, delivering, storing, using, or disposing of any commodities or technical data; (e) in the financing, forwarding, transporting or other servicing of such commodities or technical data.

III. Such denial of export privileges shall extend not only to the respondent, but also to its representatives, agents, and employees, and also to any person, firm, corporation, or other business organization with which it now or hereafter may be related by affiliation, ownership, control position of responsibility, or other connection in the conduct of trade or services connected therewith.

IV. Five months after the effective date hereof, without further order of the Bureau of International Commerce, the respondent shall have its export privileges restored conditionally and thereafter for the remainder of the denial period the respondent shall be on probation. The conditions of probation are that the respondent shall fully comply with all requirements of the Export Control Act of 1949, as amended, and all regulations, licenses, and orders issued thereunder.

V. Upon a finding by the Director, Office of Export Control, or such other official as may be exercising the duties now exercised by him, that the respondent has knowingly failed to comply with the requirements and conditions of this order or with any of the conditions of probation, said official at any time, with or without prior notice to said respondent, by supplemental order, may revoke the probation of said respondent, revoke all outstanding validated export licenses to which said respondent may be a party and deny to said respondent all export privileges for a period up to 3 years. Such order shall not preclude the Bureau of International Commerce from taking further action for any violation as shall be warranted. On the entry of a supplemental order revoking respondent's probation without notice, it may file objections and request that such order be set aside, and may request an oral hearing, as provided in § 382.16 of the Export Regulations, but pending such further proceedings, the order of revocation shall remain in effect.

VI. During the time when the respondent or other persons within the scope of this order are prohibited from engaging in any activity within the scope of Part II hereof, no person, firm, corporation, partnership, or other business organization, whether in the United States or elsewhere, without prior disclosure to and specific authorization from the Bureau of International Commerce, shall do any of the following acts, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, on behalf of or in any association with the respondent or other persons denied export privileges within the scope of this order, or whereby said respondent or such other persons may obtain any benefit therefrom or have any interest or participation therein, directly or indirectly; (a) apply for, obtain, transfer, or use any license, Shipper's Export Declaration, bill of lading, or other export control document relating to any exportation, reexportation, transshipment, or diversion of any commodity or technical data exported or to be exported from the United States, by, to, or for the respondent or other persons denied export privileges within the scope of this order; or (b) order, buy, receive, use, sell, deliver, store, dispose of, forward, transport, finance, or otherwise service or participate in any exportation, reexportation, transshipment, or diversion of any commodity or technical data exported or to be exported from the United States.

This order shall become effective on July 7, 1969.

Dated: June 25, 1969.

Director, Office of Export Control.

[Docket No. S-166 (Reopened)]

AMERICAN EXPORT ISBRANDTSEN LINES, INC.

Notice of Section 605(c) Aspect of Title VI Application for Operating-Differential Subsidy

On April 1, 1964, a notice on the section 605(c) aspect of a Title VI application under the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended (the "Act"), was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (29 F.R. 4686) pertaining to the proposal of American Export Lines, Inc. (which company's name was subsequently changed to American Export Isbrandtsen Lines, Inc., and is herein referred to as "Export"), to inaugurate a subsidized cargo service on Trade Route No. 5-7-8-9 (U.S. North Atlantic/United Kingdom and Continent) with two older cargo vessels then operating on said trade route on a nonsubsidized basis.

In accordance with section 605(c) of the Act, said notice invited any person, firm or corporation having any interest in the matter and desiring a hearing under section 605(c) of the Act to notify the Secretary of the Maritime Subsidy Board (the "Board") in writing, in triplicate, by the close of business on April 15, 1964, and to file a petition for leave to intervene in accordance with the Board's rules of practice and procedure on the statutory issues as follows:

(1) whether the application is one with respect to vessels to be operated on a service, route or line served by citizens of the United States which would be in addition to the existing service, or services, and, if so whether the service already provided by vessels of U.S. registry in such service, route or line is inadequate, and (2) whether in the accomplishment of the purposes and policy of the Act additional vessels should be operated thereon.

The only petition to intervene was that filed by Waterman Steamship Corp., a wholly-owned subsidiary of McLean Industries, Inc. (the parent company of Sea-Land Service, Inc.). The matter was referred for hearing under section 605(c) as docket No. S-166, with the prehearing conference being scheduled for May 21, 1964. Prior thereto, however, on May 18, 1964, Waterman Steamship Corp., withdrew its petition to intervene—thereby obviating the necessity for a hearing on the question of existing adequacy/inadequacy of U.S.-flag cargo service under section 605(c).

On April 7, 1965, Export filed a submission (which was supplemented by letters dated May 5, 1965, and June 2, 1965) proposing that the subsidized cargo service on Trade Route No. 5-7-8-9 which was the subject of the April 1, 1964, notice, be conducted with two containerships instead of the ships originally proposed. Since, for the purposes of section 605(c), such proposed cargo type vessel service was not considered to involve such change as to warrant further publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER and hearings on the question of adequacy/inadequacy of existing U.S.-flag cargo service on Trade Route No. 5-7-8-9, no publication or hearing was ordered by the Board. On August 12, 1965, based upon a finding that inadequate U.S.-flag cargo service obtained on Trade Route No. 5-7-8-9, Operating-Differential Subsidy for a minimum of 18 and a maximum of 26 sailings on Trade Route No. 5-7-8-9 with suitable cargo containerships was awarded to Export by the Board in the exercise of its discretionary authority under other sections of the Act which do not require hearings.

The U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, in its decision rendered on June 4, 1969, in Sea-Land Service, Inc. v. Connor, et al. (No. 22,140), reversed a ruling by the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia and indicated that, in the circumstances of this case, the Board failed to comply with the section 605(c) hearing requirements of the Act, and directed that upon remand the case be returned to the Secretary of Commerce "in order to permit Sea-Land a full and fair opportunity to be heard."

In conformity with the foregoing directive of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, notice is hereby given that a prehearing conference will be held on August 5, 1969, at 10 a.m., in Room 4519, G.A.O. Building, 441 G Street NW., on the section 605(c) aspect of Export's April 7, 1965, title VI application (as supplemented May 5, 1965, and June 2, 1965), pertaining to U.S.-flag cargo service with containerships on Trade Route No. 5–7–8–9 as of April 7, 1965.

In the circumstances of this case, the purpose of this section 605(c) hearing will be to receive evidence relevant to (1) whether said application pertaining to U.S.-flag cargo service with containerships on Trade Route No. 5–7–8–9 was one with respect to vessels to be operated on a service, route or line served by citizens of the United States which would be in addition to the containership cargo service or services existing on April 7, 1965, the date on which the application was filed, and, if so, whether the service already provided at that time by cargo containership vessels of U.S. registry in said geographical area was inadequate, and (2) whether in the accomplishment of the purposes and policy of the Act such additional cargo containership vessels were required to be operated thereon.

Any person, firm, or corporation, including Sea-Land, having any interest in the hearing here ordered should, by the close of business on July 24, 1969, notify the Secretary of the Board in writing, in triplicate, and file a petition for leave to intervene in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure of the Board. If no petition for leave to intervene is received within the specified time, or if the Board determines that petitions for leave to intervene filed within the specified time do not demonstrate sufficient interest to warrant the conduct of a hearing, the Board will take such action as may be deemed appropriate.

Dated: July 7, 1969.

By order of the Maritime Subsidy Board.

JAMES S. DAWSON, Jr.,
Secretary.

FOREWORD

South Carolina is dedicated to the purpose of protecting and improving the lot of its citizens. This dedication is realized, in part, by its full participation in the age of atoms, in due recognition of the many benefits to be derived from the peaceful uses of nuclear energy and its byproducts.

To discharge its responsibility to the citizens of this State to protect them from possible harmful effects of ionizing radiation, the 1967 General Assembly enacted the Atomic Energy and Radiation Control Act, which at one time recognizes the partnership that must exist between the fostering of nuclear enterprise and the protection against potential radiation hazards.

This Act authorizes the Governor to enter into an agreement with the Federal Government whereby certain regulatory functions now exercised by the Federal Government in the licensing and control of byproduct material, source material and special nuclear material in quantities not sufficient to create a critical mass will be transferred to the State.

The Act also designates the South Carolina State Board of Health as the agency which shall be responsible for the control of radiation sources. A complete regulatory program consistent with that conducted by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission is authorized.

The following pages will present a description of past, present, and future activities of the State Board of Health in the field of Radiological Health, including the organization, procedures, and resources which will be brought to bear on the new responsibility assumed as a result of the aforementioned agreement.

History

As early as 1947 the South Carolina State Board of Health became aware of and concerned about the occupational exposure of workers to static eliminators. Over fifty of these devices were located, surveyed, and recommendations for shielding and access control were made. No leak-testing was performed as equipment was not available at the time.

Also at this time a program designed to reduce occupational exposure of shoe salesmen to X-rays from fluoroscopic shoe-fitting machines was instituted. This was later followed by more complete regulations covering all aspects of the use of these devices, and finally they were outlawed altogether. Ninety-six shoe-fitting machines in all were eliminated.

A voluntary X-ray program was begun in 1953, whereby services of the South Carolina State Board of Health were made available for the purpose of inspecting X-ray installations and recommending corrective actions where needed. This program received very good response, and during the period 1953–1966, 965 machines were inspected and 38 percent were found to be deficient in some respect. Eighty percent of these deficiencies were corrected as a result of recommendations and followup inspections. This included 662 dental SurPak examinations, resulting in the installation of 63 aluminum filters and 135 collimators. More recently, during the period in which more comprehensive radiation control regulations were being developed, a program of voluntary registration of X-ray machines was begun. By December 31, 1968, 1,269 X-ray machines were registered.

A radium management program was begun in 1965 when it was discovered that the radium storage facility in a large hospital was contaminated by a leaking source, which the hospital no longer possessed. The services of the South Carolina State Board of Health were offered in this area of concern, and this voluntary service resulted in the registration of 331 radium sources in 23 facilities totaling 2,352 milligrams. Of these sources, 254 have been leak-tested and 29 leaking sources have been detected. All owners of leaking sources of radium voluntarily disposed of the leaking radium sources or had them reencapsulated. The Agency provides assistance to radium users in the proper disposal of unwanted or leaking sources. Inspections were based on recommendations in NBS Handbook 73. A written report with recommendations was left with the users after each inspection. The degree of compliance with recommendations was 90 percent. Followup visits were made when indicated.

Another activity in the area of radioactive materials has been the accompanying of AEC Inspectors on the occasion of inspection visits to South Carolina. Within the last 8 years, South Carolina personnel have accompanied Atomic Energy Commission Inspectors on 75 percent of the inspections within the State. This has served the valuable purpose of familiarizing the staff with the inspection of licenses of radioactive materials, as well as the investigation of incidents involving licensed material.

In 1956, as a result of recommendations made by the Savannah River Advisory Board, the South Carolina Water Pollution Control Authority conservatively entered into an environmental monitoring program to determine the effect, if any, of the Savannah River Plant of the Atomic Energy Commission on the aquatic environment. Initially, this program consisted of one sampling point on the Savannah River below the plant effluent, which was subjected to gross alpha and beta analysis. Continuous paddlewheel samplers were later added at three locations, and more rigorous analytical procedures were employed, including specific isotope analysis and gamma spectroscopy when indicated by gross measurements.

The location of the Carolinas-Virginia Nuclear Power Associates' small power reactor at Parr, S.C., as well as the nuclear submarine repair facility at the Charleston Naval Shipyard prompted considerable expansion and sophistication of the environmental program to include over 150 sampling points, sampling air, water, precipitation, bottom muds and silt, vegetation, and milk. These samples were subjected to gross alpha and beta analysis, specific isotope analysis and gamma scans. Approximately 1,200 analyses per year were performed. The number of sampling points, as well as items sampled and analyzed underwent change as new nuclear installations were announced. Modern, well equipped laboratory facilities were provided for this work.

During the past year the responsibility for the environmental program was transferred to the South Carolina State Board of Health, in close cooperation with the South Carolina Pollution Control Authority.

Also during the past year regulations governing radioactive materials, X-ray machines and particle accelerators were adopted, after several meetings of the Technical Advisory Radiation Control Council, which met to consider in detail proposed regulations, and after public hearings to air the recommendations before the public. The Technical Advisory Radiation Control Council is a committee authorized by the Atomic Energy and Radiation Control Act to advise the State Board of Health on policy matters, including regulations.

Present Program

The present program of the Division of Radiological Health consists of initiating the activities authorized by the Atomic Energy and Radiation Control Act, and continuing environmental monitoring, expanding the scope of this operation to take care of the burgeoning nuclear industries announced for South Carolina.

Licensing of radium is now mandatory. All X-ray machines and particle accelerators were required to be registered by March 31, 1969. The portions of the program dealing with these requirements have begun.

The radium management inspection determines compliance with regulations and terms of the license. Items checked are shielding, storage, access control, posting of signs, records, leak-testing, survey meters, personnel monitoring, and transport equipment. Again, other recommendations of a helpful nature are made.

The environmental program consists of sampling the environment in the vicinity of nuclear installations existing, under construction or announced. Preoperational surveillance activities consist of determining radioactivity levels in environmental samples as a baseline against which to compare those levels found after operations commence. Surveillance around existing facilities is conducted to determine if there is any impact on the environment as a result of release of radioactivity. If gross alpha and beta determinations show an increase, gamma and alpha spectrometry or specific isotope analysis is used to determine the source. An experimental program to determine the efficacy of using thermo-luminescent dosimetry as an environmental monitor is being conducted.

Future Plans

Future plans will include extending the regulatory program to licensing and regulating the use of those radioactive materials presently under the purview of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, dependent upon signing an agreement with the Atomic Energy Commission. Details of the regulatory procedures and policies to be followed are given in a later section.

An in-house formal training program in radiological health will be conducted for new staff personnel on a scheduled basis, and will utilize outside instructors where they are available.

Scope of Problem

There are an estimated 2,000 X-ray units in South Carolina, approximately 600 of these being dental units. The number of Atomic Energy Commission licenses for byproduct material, source material and special nuclear material in quantities not sufficient to form a critical mass currently in effect is 142. There are 331 known radium sources in use at 23 facilities totaling 2,352 milligrams. Numerous particle accelerators exist in this State.

Four large commercial nuclear power reactors are under construction, three of them being at one location. Also under construction is a nuclear fuels fabrication plant. Announcements have been made by two separate companies of their intentions to construct a nuclear fuels reprocessing plant. Other installations which indicate the need for environmental surveillance activities are the Savannah River Plant of the Atomic Energy Commission and the nuclear submarine repair base at Charleston, S.C.

Organization and Staff

Under the provisions of the Atomic Energy and Radiation Control Act, the South Carolina State Board of Health is designated as the agency to exercise regulatory functions in radiological health. The organization of the State Board of Health is shown in Appendix, Chart 1. A Technical Advisory Radiation Control Council, appointed by the Governor, is also established. The purpose of this Council is to advise the State Board of Health on matters pertaining to ionizing radiation including standards, rules and regulations to be adopted, modified, promulgated or repealed by the Agency. Present membership of the Council is given in Table 1 of the appendix.

To assist the State Board of Health and staff in judging applications for nonroutine medical use of radioactive materials a Medical Advisory Committee has been appointed, the membership of which is shown in Table 2 of the appendix.

The functional radiological health program is operated by the Division of Radiological Health which, in turn, is a division of the Bureau of Environmental Engineering. The director of this division is also the director of the Division of Air Pollution Control, and spends his time equally divided between the two divisions. In addition to State Board of Health staff members, experienced technicians are assigned to the Division of Radiological Health from the Bureau of Pollution Control to do work in environmental surveillance.

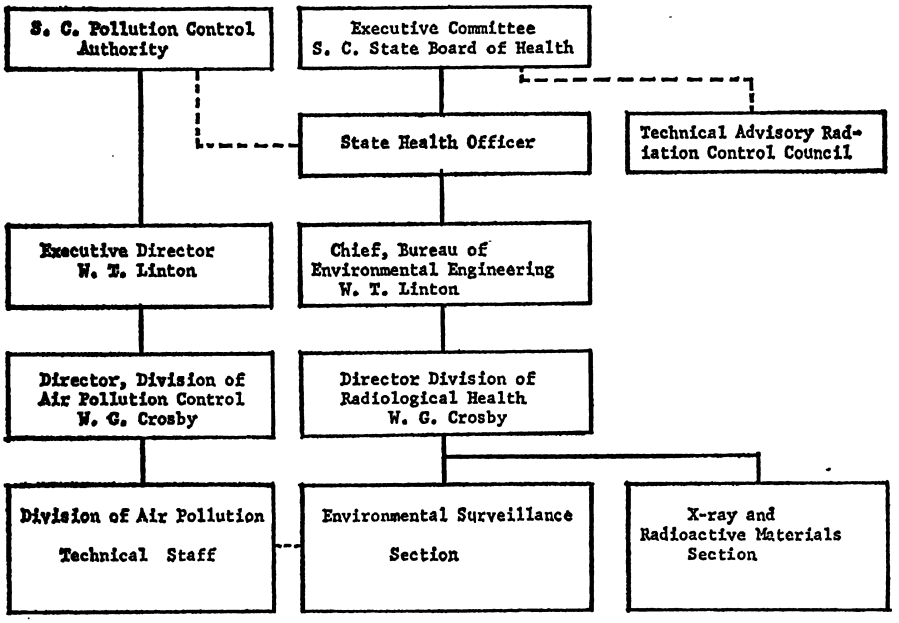
The line of authority and responsibility is shown on the accompanying diagram. The dotted line shown between the State Health Officer and the Pollution Control Authority indicates that he is, ex officio, Chairman of the Pollution Control Authority. There is also the statutory requirement that two additional members of the Authority be appointed from the Executive Committee of the State Board of Health. The dotted line between the Technical Staff of the Division of Air Pollution Control and the Environmental Surveillance Section of the Division of Radiological Health is intended to show the assignment of personnel and technical services by the Pollution Control Authority to the Division of Radiological Health.



REGULATORY PROCEDURES AND POLICY

Licensing and registration. The South Carolina State Board of Health has been designated the State Agency with the responsibility to develop an all-encompassing radiological health program in accordance with sections 1-400.11 through 1-400.16 of the 1962 Code of Laws of South Carolina and supplement thereto, the Atomic Energy and Radiation Control Act of South Carolina. The Division of Radiological Health has the responsibility for the operational phases of this program.

This program will regulate the safe use of all sources of ionizing radiation in the State including radium and accelerator produced nuclides, X-ray producing machines and particle accelerators. Certain small quantities of radionuclides as well as electronic devices which produce X-rays incidental to their operations in intensities insufficient to constitute a health hazard will be exempt. Licensing of all radionuclides including radium, and registration of X-ray machines and particle accelerators are features of this program. All regulations governing these sources are substantially in accord with the suggested State regulations as published by the Council of State Governments in cooperation with the Atomic Energy Commission and the U.S. Public Health Service. Every effort will be made to conduct the program in a fashion that is compatible with those operated by other agreement States and the Atomic Energy Commission.

The licensing program will be patterned after the one established by the Atomic Energy Commission and will use applicable criteria contained in regulations as published by the Atomic Energy Commission. The director and key staff members will evaluate each radioactive material license application, including prelicensing visits if this is indicated. When applications are received for unusual uses, additional advice will be sought. When applications for nonroutine medical uses are received the Medical Advisory Committee will be consulted. When applications for specific licenses are approved, licenses will be signed by the State Health Officer for the South Carolina State Board of Health.

Inspection. Inspection to determine radiation safety and compliance with pertinent regulations, and provisions of license or registration will be conducted as needed by division staff members. These members consist of the Director, the Radiological Health Specialist, Radiological Health Inspector and the Laboratory Technician III, who are or will be qualified by training and experience to conduct the inspections. Inspections will be either by prearrangement or unannounced during reasonable hours.

Licenses will be inspected on a priority basis determined by type of use, quantity of radioactive material, physical and chemical form, training, and experience of user, frequency of use and other factors in keeping with the experience gained by others including the Atomic Energy Commission and other agreement States. The initially planned frequencies are categorized as follows:

Classification of use	Usual inspection frequency
Industrial radiography:
Fixed installations	Once each 12 months.
Mobile operations	Once each 6 months.
Operations involving waste disposal.	Once each 6 months.
Broad licenses—industrial, medical, or academic.	Once each 6-12 months.
Other specific licenses — industrial, medical, or academic.	Once each 12-24 months.

These frequencies are subject to alteration and are presented as a depiction of the general policy at this time. Individual licenses will be judged on the particular circumstances associated with the terms of the license.

Inspections will include the observation of pertinent facilities and equipment; a review of use procedures and radiation safety practices; a review of records of radiation surveys, personnel exposure, and receipt and disposition of licensed materials; and instrument surveys to assess radiation levels incident to the operation—all as appropriate to the scope and conditions of the license and applicable regulations.

At the start and conclusion of an inspection, personal contact will be at management level whenever possible. Following the inspections, results will be discussed with the license management, appropriate tentative recommendations will be made and questions answered.

Investigations will be made of all reported or alleged incidents to determine the conditions and exposures incident thereto and to determine the steps taken for correction, cleanup, and the prevention of similar incidents in the future.

Radiological assistance in the form of monitoring, liaison with appropriate authorities, and recommendations for area security and cleanup will be available from the Agency on the occasion of incidents.

Reports will be prepared covering each inspection or investigation. The reports will be reviewed by a senior staff member and submitted to the Director of the Division of Radiological Health.

All inspectors will keep abreast of changes and developments in the field of radioactive materials by attending training courses, seminars and symposia, as well as in-house training which will be required.

Compliance and enforcement. The status of compliance with regulations, registration, or license conditions will be determined through inspections and evaluations of inspection reports.

Where there are items of noncompliance, the licensee shall be so informed at the time of inspection. When the items are minor and the licensee agrees at the time of inspection to correct them, written notice at the completion of the inspection will list the items of noncompliance, confirm corrections made at the time, and inform the person that a review of other corrective action will be made at the next inspection.

Where items of noncompliance of a more serious nature occur, the licensee will be informed by letter of the items of noncompliance and required to reply within a stated time as to the corrective action taken and the date completed, or expected to be completed. Assurance of corrective action will be determined by a followup inspection or at the time of the next regular inspection.

The terms and conditions of a license, upon request by the licensee, may be amended, consistent with the Act or regulations, to meet changing conditions in operations or to remedy minor items of noncompliance. The Agency may amend, suspend or revoke a license in the event of continuing refusal of the licensee to comply with terms and conditions of the license, the Act, or regulations or failure to take adequate action concerning items of noncompliance. Prior to such action, the Agency shall notify the licensee of its intent to amend, suspend or revoke the license and provide the opportunity for a hearing.

Whenever the Agency finds that an emergency exists requiring immediate action to protect the public health, safety, or general welfare, it may, in accordance with the Act, without notice of hearing, issue a regulation or order reciting the existence of such emergency and require that such action be taken as is necessary to meet the emergency. The Agency, in the event of an emergency, is empowered to impound or order the impounding of sources of ionizing radiation upon findings that the possessor is unable to observe or is not observing the provisions of the Act or regulations issued thereunder. After these actions the licensee still has right to a hearing.

A court order directing a person to comply, or enjoining practices in violation of the Act or regulations, may be sought by the Attorney General in the appropriate court upon request of the Agency, after notice to such persons and ample opportunity to comply has been afforded.

The Agency will use its best efforts to obtain compliance through cooperation and education. Only in instances of repeated noncompliance, willful violation, or where serious potential hazards exist, will the full legal procedures normally be employed.

Effective date of license transfer. Any person who, on the effective date of the agreement with the Atomic Energy Commission, possesses a license issued by the Federal Government shall be deemed to possess a like license issued by the Agency which shall expire either 90 days after the receipt from the Agency of a notice of expiration of such license or on the date of expiration specified in the federal license, whichever is earlier.

Compatibility and reciprocity. In promulgating rules and regulations, the Agency has, insofar as practicable, avoided requiring dual licensing and has provided for reciprocal recognition of other state and federal licenses.

Radiological emergency capability. The Division of Radiological Health has maintained the capability for handling radiological emergencies since 1959. This capability includes training of personnel, proper monitoring instruments, and liaison with other agencies such as State Highway Patrol, Atomic Energy Commission, Savannah River Plant, and U.S. Public Health Service.

As a result of our Radium Management Program, additional capability was formulated in 1965 to handle other radiological emergencies such as lost or damaged radium sources, overexposures, contamination, or transportation incidents. Additional personnel were trained, better instruments purchased and maintained, "emergency kits" put together for immediate use, and a system for telephone communications instituted. Emergency plans of other groups and agencies involving radiological incidents were reviewed by our Division.

Future plans for emergency procedures involve first of all a thorough review of our existing plan in light of the new role as an agreement state. A more formal plan will be instituted delineating the responsibility of each group or agency. Radiological Emergency Assistance Teams will be organized and trained in areas of major radiological activity. The Division of Radiological Health, which will be responsible for the program, will coordinate the new plan so that when and if an emergency does occur a systematic procedure will be followed.

GULF GENERAL ATOMIC, INC.

Notice of Issuance of Amendment to Facility License

The Atomic Energy Commission has issued Amendment No. 17, as set forth below, to Facility License No. R-38. The license authorizes Gulf General Atomic, Inc., to operate its TRIGA nuclear reactor on the company's Torrey Pines Mesa site, San Diego, Calif. This amendment, effective as of the date of issuance, increases the total quantity of uranium-235 which the licensee may receive, possess, and use under this license from 2.6 kilograms to 5.0 kilograms.

By application dated May 23, 1969, as amended June 12, 1969, Gulf General Atomic, Inc., requested authorization to receive, possess, and use additional uranium-235 in the form of TRIGA fuel elements in connection with the operation of the facility. The additional fuel elements will provide recycling capabilities and will be stored in the in-pool storage racks until needed in accordance with procedures which have previously been reviewed and approved by the Commission. Therefore, there is reasonable assurance that the health and safety of the public will not be endangered.

Within fifteen (15) days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, the applicant may file a request for a hearing, and any person whose interest may be affected by this proceeding may file a petition for leave to intervene. A request for a hearing and petitions to intervene shall be filed in accordance with the provisions of the Commission's rules of practice, 10 CFR Part 2. If a request for a hearing or petition for leave to intervene is filed within the time prescribed in this notice, the Commission will issue a notice of hearing or an appropriate order.

For further details with respect to this amendment, see the application dated May 23, 1969, and amendment thereto dated June 12, 1969, which are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C.

Dated at Bethesda, Md., this 26th day of June 1969.

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

DONALD J. SKOVHOLT,
Assistant Director for Reactor Operations, Division of Reactor Licensing.

[License No. R-38, Amdt. 17]

The Atomic Energy Commission has found that:

1. The application for amendment dated May 23, 1969, as amended June 12, 1969, complies with the requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, and the Commission's regulations set forth in Title 10, Chapter I, CFR;

2. Operation of the reactor in accordance with the license, as amended, will not be inimical to the common defense and security or to the health and safety of the public; and

3. Prior public notice of proposed issuance of this amendment is not required since the amendment does not involve significant hazards considerations different from those previously evaluated.

Accordingly, Facility License No. R-38, as amended, is hereby further amended by revising subparagraph 2.B. to read as follows:

B. Pursuant to the Act and Title 10, CFR, Chapter I, Part 70, "Special Nuclear Materials", to receive, possess and use up to 5.0 kilograms of contained uranium-235 in connection with operation of the facility;

This amendment is effective as of the date of issuance.

Date of issuance: June 26, 1969.

[Docket No. 10920, etc.; Order 69-7-12]

NONPRIORITY AND DOMESTIC MAIL RATES

Order To Show Cause

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 2d day of July 1969.

Nonpriority Mail Rate Case, Docket No. 10920; Nonpriority Mail Rate Investigation, Docket No. 18381; Domestic Service Mail Rate Case, Docket No. 16349.

By Order 69-4-141, served April 30, 1969, Seaboard World Airlines, Inc. (Seaboard), was awarded a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing it to engage in the interstate transportation (except as to New York, N.Y.) of property and mail on a subsidy-ineligible basis on flights over route 119 serving a point or points in Europe and the following U.S. points: Los Angeles, San Francisco-Oakland, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Washington-Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York City, and Boston, effective June 28, 1969. No service mail rates are currently in effect for this service by Seaboard. By petition filed May 20, 1969, Seaboard has requested that the service mail rates in effect for the U.S. domestic air carriers be made applicable to its newly authorized interstate operations.

For priority mail, Seaboard requests that the priority service rates and conditions established in the Domestic Service Mail Rate Investigation, Docket 16349, by Order E-25610, August 28, 1967, as that rate may be amended, be made applicable to Seaboard as final rates. With respect to nonpriority mail, due to the open-rate situation that has existed since April 6, 1967, when the Post Office petitioned for establishment of new nonpriority mail rates in Docket 18381, Seaboard requests the service rates and conditions established by Order E-17255, July 31, 1961, in the Nonpriority Mail Rate Case, Docket 10920, subject to such retroactive adjustment to June 28, 1969, as the final decision in Docket 18381 may provide. Seaboard also requests that it be made a party to the proceedings in Docket 18381 in order to be subject to the final nonpriority service mail rates and conditions at issue therein.

By letter dated May 22, 1969, Trans World Airlines, Inc., objected to any action being taken on Seaboard's petition until disposition of petitions then pending for reconsideration of the decision in Docket 18531 which granted the authority set forth in Order 69-4-141. However, by Order 69-6-55, dated June 12, 1969, the Board denied those petitions and the authority awarded by Order 69-4-141 remains effective June 28, 1969.

On June 20, 1969 the Postmaster General was permitted to file a late petition in support of Seaboard's petition. It appears appropriate to the Board that Seaboard's mail rate for the newly certificated service be established at the same level as that applicable to other carriers providing competitive services. The Board therefore proposes to issue an order to include the following findings and conclusions:

1. That on and after June 28, 1969, the fair and reasonable final service mail rates to be paid to Seaboard World Airlines, Inc., pursuant to section 406 of the Act for the transportation of priority mail by aircraft, the facilities used and useful therefor, and the services connected therewith, for the interstate carriage of priority mail under the authority granted by Order 69-4-141 shall be the rates and conditions established by the Board in Order E-25610, August 28, 1967, as amended, and shall be subject to the other provisions of that order;

2. On and after June 28, 1969, the fair and reasonable temporary service mail rates to be paid to Seaboard World Airlines, Inc., pursuant to section 406 of the Act for the transportation of nonpriority mail by aircraft, the facilities used and useful therefor, and the services connected therewith, for the interstate carriage of nonpriority mail under the authority granted by Order 69-4-141 shall be the rates and conditions established by the Board in Order E-17255, July 31, 1961, as amended, and shall be subject to the other provisions of that order and to such retroactive adjustment as may be made in docket 18381;

3. These findings and conclusions shall be implemented by the following amendments to Board orders:

(a) Order E-25610, dated August 28, 1967, as amended, shall be further amended by adding "Seaboard World Airlines, Inc." to the list of carriers appearing at the top of page 2.

(b) Paragraph C of Order E-17255, dated July 31, 1961, as amended, is further amended to include Seaboard World Airlines, Inc., in the list of carriers there appearing.

4. The service mail rates here fixed and determined are to be paid in their entirety by the Postmaster General.

Accordingly, pursuant to the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, and particularly sections 204(a) and 406 thereof, and pursuant to regulations promulgated in 14 CFR Part 302:

It is ordered, That:

1. All interested persons and particularly Seaboard World Airlines, Inc., and the Postmaster General are directed to show cause why the Board should not publish the final and temporary rates specified above as the fair and reasonable rates of compensation to be paid to Seaboard World Airlines, Inc., for the transportaton of mail by aircraft, the facilities used and useful therefor, and the services connected therewith as specified above;

2. Further procedures herein shall be in accordance with 14 CFR Part 302, and if there is any objection to the rates or to the other findings and conclusions proposed herein, notice thereof shall be filed within 10 days, and if notice is filed, written answer and supporting documents shall be filed within 30 days, after the date of service of this order;

3. If notice of objection is not filed within 10 days, or if notice is filed and answer is not filed within 30 days, after service of this order, all persons shall be deemed to have waived the right to a hearing and all other procedural steps short of a final decision by the Board, and the Board may enter an order incorporating the findings and conclusions proposed herein and fix and determine the final rates specified herein;

4. If answer is filed presenting issues for hearing, the issues involved in determining the fair and reasonable rates shall be limited to those specifically raised by the answer, except insofar as other issues are raised in accordance with Rule 307 of the rules of practice (14 CFR 302.307); and

5. Seaboard World Airlines, Inc., is hereby made a party in Docket 18381.

This order shall be served upon Seaboard World Airlines, Inc., and the Postmaster General.

This order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

[Docket No. 21099]

PROFIT BY AIR, INC.

Notice of Proposed Approval

Application of Profit By Air, Inc., for approval under section 408 of the Federal Aviation Act, as amended, with respect to a certain transaction, docket 21099.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the statutory requirements of section 408(b) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended, that the undersigned intends to issue the order set forth below under delegated authority. Interested persons are hereby afforded a period of 15 days from the date of service within which to file comments or request a hearing with respect to the action proposed in the order.

Dated at Washington, D.C., July 1, 1969.

[SEAL] A. M. ANDREWS,
Director,
Bureau of Operating Rights.

ORDER APPROVING CONTROL RELATIONSHIPS

Issued under delegated authority.

Application of Profit By Air, Inc., for approval under section 408 of the Federal Aviation Act, as amended, with respect to a certain transaction, Docket 21099.

By application filed June 18, 1969, Profit By Air, Inc. (PBA), an interstate and international air freight forwarder, requests approval without hearing pursuant to section 408 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended (the Act), of its proposed incorporation in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico of a wholly owned subsidiary to be known as Profit By Air, Inc. (Puerto Rico), for the purpose of operating a pickup and delivery service, by motor vehicle, of outbound and inbound freight forwarded only by PBA. Interlocking relationships involving PBA and Profit By Air, Inc. (Puerto Rico), will result by reason of the holding by Harvey E. Pittluck and Americo J. Focacci of positions as officers and directors of each of the two said companies, while Hector A. Serrano, an officer of both corporations, will be a director only of Profit By Air (Puerto Rico).

The applicant states that it desires to perform its own pickup and delivery service to supplement its air freight forwarding operations, but by reason of the requirements of Puerto Rican law, a Puerto Rican national, individual, or corporation, may alone do so.

No comments relative to the application or requests for a hearing have been received.

Notice of intent to dispose of the application without a hearing has been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and a copy of such notice has been furnished by the Board to the Attorney General not later than 1 day following such publication, both in accordance with section 408(a) of the Act.

Upon consideration of the application, it is concluded that PBA is an air carrier, and that Profit By Air (Puerto Rico) will be a common carrier within the meaning of section 408 of the Act, and the control by PBA of Profit By Air (Puerto Rico) is subject to that section of the Act. However, it has been further concluded that such control relationships do not affect the control of an air carrier directly engaged in the operation of aircraft in air transportation, do not result in creating a monopoly and do not tend to restrain competition. Furthermore, no person disclosing a substantial interest in the proceeding is currently requesting a hearing and it is concluded that the public interest does not require a hearing. The control relationships are similar to others which have been approved by the Board and do not essentially present any new substantive issues.[1] It therefore appears that approval of the control relationships would be consistent with the public interest.

We also find that interlocking relationships within the scope of section 409(a) of the Act will result from the holding by the individual applicants of positions in each corporation. However, we have concluded that such relationships come within the scope of the exemption from the provisions of section 409 afforded by § 287.2 of the Board's economic regulations. Thus, to the extent that the application requests approval of such relationships, it will be dismissed.

Pursuant to authority duly delegated by the Board in the Board's regulations, 14 CFR 385.13, and 385.3, it is found that the foregoing control of relationships should be approved under section 408(b) of the Act, without hearing, and that the application to the extent that it requests approval of the aforementioned interlocking relationships should be dismissed.

Accordingly, it is ordered,

1. That the control by PBA of Profit By Air, Inc. (Puerto Rico), be and it hereby is approved; and

2. That, to the extent that approval of interlocking relationships is sought under section 409 of the Act, the application be and it hereby is dismissed.

Persons entitled to petition the Board for review of this order pursuant to the Board's regulations, 14 CFR 385.50, may file such petitions within 5 days after the date of service of this order.

This order shall be effective and become the action of the Civil Aeronautics Board upon expiration of the above period unless within such period a petition for review is filed, or the Board gives notice that it will review this order on its own motion.

Acting Secretary.

TRANSATLANTIC AND TRANSPACIFIC AND LATIN AMERICAN MAIL RATES

Order To Show Cause

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 2d day of July 1969.

Service Mail Rates for Transatlantic and Transpacific Priority Mail, Docket No. 18078; Latin American Service Mail Rate Proceeding, Docket No. 15381; Latin American Service Mail Rate for Priority Mail, Docket No. 20415.

By Order 69-4-124, dated April 28, 1969, the Board directed all interested parties in the above dockets to show cause why certain proposed revised standard mileages for carriage of U.S. mail by air in the applicable areas should not be adopted.

Communications have been received indicating errors of a technical nature in some of the proposed standard mileages,[1] and that standard mileages were not established for certain new points. With respect to possible errors in calculations of the standard mileages, the Post Office Department and the carriers have discussed each of the affected mileages, and the differences in standard mileages have been resolved by the Department and the respective carriers. These mileages have been corrected in accordance with the governing provisions of the relevant rate orders, and Appendix A[2] has been revised to reflect such modifications. As for establishing standard mileages for new points, any affected carrier may apply to the Board to establish such mileages in accordance with the effective mail rate order.[3] In addition, the Postmaster General in his answer filed herein noted that new or additional mileages are now being developed reflecting new routes or additional services inaugurated since May 1968, and these mileages will be submitted to the Board at the appropriate time.

The technical matters having been disposed of, it now appears that all carriers concerned and the Department of Defense are now in agreement with the Post Office Department on the standard mileages as shown in Appendix A. The time designated for filing notice of objection has elapsed and no notice of objection of a controversial nature has been filed by any party. Under the foregoing circumstances, all parties have waived the right to a hearing and all other procedural steps short of a final decision of the Board fixing standard mileages.

Accordingly, pursuant to the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 and particularly sections 204(a) and 406 thereof:

It is ordered, That:

Effective July 1, 1968:

(1) Order 68-9-9, September 4, 1968, should be amended to delete Appendix A thereto and substitute in lieu thereof a new Appendix A, attached to the instant order, providing revised standard mileages for carriage of U.S. mail by air in transatlantic and transpacific services.

(2) Order 68-9-8, September 4, 1968, should be amended to provide that for military mail transported between San Francisco, Portland, or Seattle and Tokyo, the mail ton-miles shall be computed on the basis of standard mileage of 4,865 in lieu of 4,843.

(3) Order E-23916, July 7, 1966, should be amended to delete Appendix A thereto and substitute in lieu thereof a new Appendix A, attached to the instant order, providing revised standard mileages for carriage of U.S. mail by air in Latin American service.

(4) This order shall be served on all interested parties in Dockets 18078, 15381, and 20415.

This order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

[SEAL] MABEL MCCART,
Acting Secretary.

[F.R. Doc. 69-7978; Filed, July 7, 1969; 8:47 a.m.]

[1] Communications were received from Department of Defense, Northwest Airlines, Pan American World Airways, The Postmaster General, and Trans World Airlines, which were in the form of letters, notices of objection, or answers indicating typographical, mathematical, or computation errors with respect to certain standard mileages.

[2] Appendix A filed as part of the original document.

[3] Trans Caribbean Airways filed a notice of objection and answer which noted that standard mileages were not proposed with respect to Trans Caribbean's authority to transport mail granted in Order 68-11-120, served November 27, 1968 (United States-Caribbean-South America Route Investigation, Docket 12895). Service mail rates for such authority are presently under consideration in Docket 20539, and standard mileages for this service will be established in subsequent proceedings.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

CHARLES W. HURT ET AL.

Memorandum Opinion and Order Designating Applications for Consolidated Hearing on Stated Issues

In re applications of Charles W. Hurt, Charlottesville, Va., Requests: 1400 kc, 250 w, 1 kw-LS, U, Docket No. 18585, File No. BP-17596; Welk, Inc. (WELK), Charlottesville, Va., Has: 1010 kc, 1 kw, Day, Requests: 1400 kc, 250 w, 1 kw-LS, U, Docket No. 18586, File No. BP-17872; WUVA, Charlottesville, Va., Requests: 1400 kc, 250 w, 1 kw-LS, U, Docket No. 18587, File No. BP-17873; for construction permits.

1. The Commission has before it for consideration the above-captioned applications which are mutually exclusive in that they seek cochannel operation in the same community.

2. Based on the data at hand, both WELK and Charles W. Hurt appear to have adequate funds available to meet their respective needs. Since their financial information is not current, however, it will be necessary for them to show in hearing that the funds relied upon are still available.

3. Examination of WUVA's application indicates that $34,350 will be needed to construct and operate for 1 year without revenue. To meet this expense, WUVA has $2,000 in existing capital and a loan from the University of Virginia of $25,000. Since this total of $27,000 falls short of meeting the $34,000 estimate, a financial issue will be required.

4. A Suburban issue will be specified as to the three applicants since they all fail to meet the criteria set forth in the Commission's Public Notice of August 22, 1968, 33 F.R. 12113. Although the applicants listed numerous contacts, their surveys consisted of inquiries into the programing tastes of individuals, rather than consultations designed to elicit specific suggestions as to community needs. See Sioux Empire Broadcasting Co., 16 FCC 2d 995 (1969).

5. WUVA is a nonstock corporation whose members are students attending the University of Virginia. Examination of the application indicates that a number of its officers have worked for local Charlottesville AM stations from time to time. In the past, no question of violation of Commission policy was involved since WUVA was a carrier current operation as distinguished from a broadcast station. In the event of a grant of its present proposal, however, an appropriate condition will be imposed to insure compliance with Commission duopoly policy.

6. It appears that each of the respective nighttime limitation contours of the applicants fail to cover the entire city. Thus, an issue with respect thereto will be included. Moreover, Commission studies indicate that the main business district of Charlottesville may have shifted to an area northwest of its original location near the center of town. Accordingly, we will include an issue to determine (i) the location of the main business district, and (ii) whether the applicants provide 25 mv/m coverage to that district, day and night.

7. Except as indicated by the issues specified below, the applicants are qualified to construct and operate as proposed. However, since the proposals are mutually exclusive, they must be designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding on the issues specified below.

8. Accordingly, it is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309(e) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the applications are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding, at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

(1) To determine the efforts made by the applicants to ascertain the community needs and interests of the area to be served and the means by which the applicants propose to meet those needs and interests.

(2) To determine whether Charles W. Hurt and WELK, Inc., are financially qualified.

(3) To determine, with respect to the application of WUVA:

(a) The manner in which the applicant will obtain additional funds to construct and operate the station for 1 year.

(b) Whether, in the light of evidence adduced pursuant to (a), above, the applicant is financially qualified.

(4) To determine whether the proposed nighttime operations meet the requirements of § 73.30(c) of the rules and, if not, whether circumstances exist which would warrant a waiver of said section.

(5) To determine:

(a) The location of the main business district of Charlottesville.

(b) Whether, in the light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing subissue, the applicants provide 25 mv/m coverage to that district in accordance with § 73.188(b)(1) of the rules.

(c) Whether, assuming (b), above, is answered in the negative, circumstances exist which would warrant a waiver of said section.

(6) To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the proposed operation of Station WELK and the availability of other primary aural service to such areas and populations.

(7) To determine which of the proposals would, on a comparative basis, best serve the public interest.

(8) To determine, in the light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issues which, if any, of the applications should be granted.

9. It is further ordered, That, in the event of a grant of any of the above applications, the construction permit shall contain the following condition: Permittee shall accept such interference as may be imposed by other existing 250-watt Class IV stations in the event they are subsequently authorized to increase power to 1,000 watts.

10. It is further ordered, That, in the event of a grant of the WUVA application, permittee will take definitive steps to insure that its officers and directors, present and future, will not maintain employee relationships with other Charlottesville standard broadcast stations which would in any way tend to diminish arms length competition in the area.

11. It is further ordered, That, to avail themselves of the opportunity to be heard, the applicants herein, pursuant to § 1.221(c) of the Commission's rules, in person or by attorney, shall, within 20 days of the mailing of this order, file with the Commission, in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date fixed for the hearing and present evidence on the issues specified in this order.

12. It is further ordered, That the applicants herein shall, pursuant to section 311(a)(2) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and § 1.594 of the Commission's rules, give notice of the hearing, either individually or, if feasible and consistent with the rules, jointly, within the time and in the manner prescribed in such rule, and shall advise the Commission of the publication of such notice as required by § 1.594(g) of the rules.

Adopted: June 25, 1969.

Released: July 1, 1969.

BRINSFIELD BROADCASTING CO. ET AL.

Order Designating Applications for Consolidated Hearing on Stated Issues

In re Applications of J. Stewart Brinsfield, Sr., and J. Stewart Brinsfield, Jr., doing business as Brinsfield Broadcasting Co., Peoria, Ill., Requests: 105.7 mcs, No. 289; 50 kw; 417 feet, Docket No. 18582, File No. BPH-6519; Peoria Community Broadcasters, Inc., Peoria, Ill., Requests: 105.7 mcs, No. 289; 36 kw(H); 36 kw(V); 571 feet, Docket No. 18583, File No. BPH-6551; Clark Broadcasting Co., Peoria, Ill., Requests: 105.7 mcs; No. 289; 50 kw(H); 50 kw(V); 287 feet, Docket No. 18584, File No. BPH-6695; for construction permits.

1. The Commission has under consideration the above-captioned and described applications which are mutually exclusive in that operation by the applicants as proposed would result in mutually destructive interference.

2. Data submitted by the applicants indicate that there would be a significant difference in the size of the areas and populations which would receive service from the proposals. Consequently, for the purposes of comparison, the areas and populations within the 1 mv/m contours together with the availability of other primary aural services in such areas will be considered under the standard comparative issue, for the purpose of determining whether a comparative preference should accrue to any of the applicants.

3. According to its application, Brinsfield Broadcasting Co. would require $30,000 to construct and operate its proposed station for 1 year without revenues. This figure, however, cannot be accepted because it is premised on utilization of a lease arrangement the availability of which has not been demonstrated. Moreover, applicant's estimate of $11,472 for first-year operational costs does not appear reasonable for the proposed nonduplicated 126-hour-per-week operation. To meet its costs, applicant relies on $62,000 in existing capital, but documentation for this figure appears only on the out-of-date balance sheet for the partnership. Moreover, applicant and its funds are involved in several other pending proposals: Raytown, Mo. (BPH-6329); Oil City, Pa. (BPH-6662); Cory, Pa. (BP-18396); La Plata, Md. (BALH-1144); and Utica, N.Y. (BALH-1176). Accordingly, an issue is required to determine the costs for construction and operation of the proposed station and applicant's ability to meet these costs, taking into account its other pending proposals.

4. According to its application, Peoria Community Broadcasters, Inc., would require $35,811 to construct its proposed station and $45,000 to operate it for 1 year without reliance on revenues. To meet these needs totaling $80,811, applicant has shown the availability of existing capital of $1,000 and a bank loan for $75,000. The total thus available ($76,000) is less than the amount required and an issue will be specified on the availability of the additional amount it requires.

5. According to Clark Broadcasting Co.'s application, a total of $58,025 would be required for construction and first-year operation of its proposed station. To meet this requirement it shows $2,000 in liquid assets. No credit, however, can be given for the stock subscriptions as the stockholders have not shown their ability to meet them nor for a $50,000 loan since the stockholder/lender has not shown his ability to provide it. In addition, the loan does not adequately indicate the terms for repayment. Accordingly, a financial issue will be specified.

6. In Suburban Broadcasters, 30 FCC 1020, 20 RR 951 (1961), and our public notice of August 22, 1968 (FCC 68-847), we indicated that applicants were expected to provide full information on their awareness of and responsiveness to local community needs and interests. Although all applicants appear to have made adequate surveys, none have adequately listed the suggestions it received regarding community needs nor have Peoria Community and Brinsfield Broadcasting adequately listed the programing proposed to meet these needs as evaluated. Thus, we are unable at this time to determine whether any of the applicants are aware of and responsive to the needs of the area. Accordingly, Suburban issues are required.

7. Since no determination has yet been reached on whether the antenna proposed by Clark Broadcasting Co. would constitute a menace to air navigation, an issue regarding this matter is required.

8. Except as indicated below, the applicants are qualified to construct and operate as proposed. However, because of their mutual exclusivity, the Commission is unable to make the statutory finding that a grant of the applications would serve the public interest, convenience, and necessity, and is of the opinion that the applications must be designated for hearing on the issues set forth below.

9. It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309(e) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the applications are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding, at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

(1) To determine the amount reasonably required by Brinsfield Broadcasting Co. to construct and operate its proposed station for 1 year without revenue and whether it has funds available to cover such costs to thus demonstrate its financial qualifications.

(2) To determine whether Peoria Community Broadcasters, Inc., has available to it the additional $4,811 required to construct and operate its proposed station for 1 year without revenues and thus demonstrate its financial qualifications.

(3) To determine whether Clark Broadcasting Co. has available the additional $56,025 required for construction and first-year operation of the proposed station to thus demonstrate its financial qualifications.

(4) To determine the efforts made by Brinsfield Broadcsting Co. to ascertain the community needs and interests of the area to be served and the means by which the applicant proposes to meet those needs and interests.

(5) To determine the efforts made by Peoria Community Broadcasters, Inc., to ascertain the community needs and interests of the area to be served and the means by which the applicant proposes to meet those needs and interests.

(6) To determine the efforts made by Clark Broadcasting Co. to ascertain the community needs and interests of the area to be served and the means by which the applicant proposes to meet those needs and interests.

(7) To determine whether there is a reasonable possibility that the tower height and location proposed by Clark Broadcasting Co. would constitute a menace to air navigation.

(8) To determine which of the proposals would, on a comparative basis, best serve the public interest.

(9) To determine in the light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issue, which, if any, of the applications for construction permit should be granted.

10. It is further ordered, That the Federal Aviation Administration is made a party to the proceeding.

11. It is further ordered, That, to avail themselves of the opportunity to be heard, the applicants and party respondent herein, pursuant to § 1.221(c) of the Commission's rules, in person or by attorney shall, within twenty (20) days of the mailing of this order, file with the Commission in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date fixed for the hearing and present evidence on the issues specified in this order.

12. It is further ordered, That the applicants herein shall, pursuant to section 311(a)(2) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and § 1.594 of the Commission's rules, give notice of the hearing, either individually or, if feasible and consistent with the rules, jointly, within the time and in the manner prescribed in such rule, and shall advise the Commission of the publication of such notice as required by § 1.594(g) of the rules.

[Dockets Nos. 18503, 18504; FCC 69R-283]

UNITED COMMUNITY ENTERPRISES, INC., AND SALUDA BROADCASTING CO., INC.

Memorandum Opinion and Order Enlarging Issues

In re applications of United Community Enterprises, Inc., Greenwood, S.C., Docket No. 18503, File No. BP-17439; Saluda Broadcasting Co., Inc., Saluda, S.C., Docket No. 18504, File No. BP-17529; for construction permits for new Standard Broadcast Stations.

1. The above-captioned mutually exclusive applications were designated for hearing by Commission memorandum opinion and order, FCC 69-280, released April 2, 1969. United Community Enterprises, Inc. (United), seeks a new standard broadcast station on 1090 kHz, 1 kw. power, Day, at Greenwood, S.C.; and Saluda Broadcasting Co., Inc. (Saluda), has requested a new broadcast facility to operate on 1090 kHz with 500 watts power, daytime only, at Saluda, S.C. On April 21, 1969, United filed a petition [1] for enlargement of issues:

To determine whether the application of Saluda Broadcasting Co., Inc., was filed for the principal or incidental purpose of obstructing or delaying the establishment of a standard broadcast facility at Greenwood, S.C., and whether, in light of the facts adduced pursuant to this issue, a grant of the application of Saluda Broadcasting Co., Inc., would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity.

2. In support of the requested issue, United relies upon an affidavit of Wallace A. Mullinax alleging as follows: on September 12, 1966, United's principal stockholders, Wallace A. Mullinax and

[1] The Board also has before it an opposition filed on May 20, 1969, by Saluda Broadcasting Co., Inc.; a comment on petition for enlargement of issues, filed May 22, 1969, by Grenco, Inc.; Broadcast Bureau comments on petition for enlargement of issues, filed May 20, 1969; comments on petition for enlargement, filed May 19, 1969, by Radio Greenwood, Inc.; and a reply filed June 9, 1969, by United Community Enterprises, Inc. Neither Radio Greenwood or Grenco, Inc., are parties to this proceeding. However, since United's position relies on certain alleged conversations with the managers of stations operated by those companies and purports to implicate those companies in an arrangement designed to prevent competition in Greenwood, their comments are accepted for filing and will be considered by the Board.

Mr. John Y. Davenport visited Greenwood to arrange for publication of notice that its application for a new broadcast station in Greenwood had been filed on September 9, 1966; at that time they visited a Mr. Crosland, general manager of WCRS in Greenwood, for the purpose of advising him of their intent to enter the broadcast business in Greenwood; that Crosland advised them he was aware of the fact that an application was about to be filed and that he had discussed the possibility with a Mr. Cook, general manager of WGSW in Greenwood. Crosland further stated that Mr. Cook was very upset about the possibility of additional competition in Greenwood and had suggested that the two existing stations join forces to keep out the competition; that Cook had suggested that one way of keeping competition out would be for a competing applicant to file on 1090 kHz for Saluda, S.C.; and that Crosland had told Cook that Station WCRS would not cooperate in such an endeavor. Mullinax further alleges that thereafter he and Mr. Davenport called upon Mr. George Cook, part-owner and general manager of Station WGSW Greenwood, and advised him of their intention to enter the broadcast business in Greenwood. Mr. Cook indicated that he knew of their intention and inquired concerning how much profit they intended to make from the station in the first few years. Cook then suggested that he could arrange to pay them a sum equal to their expected profits as well as all expenses incurred in filing the application, if they were to withdraw their application. Upon being advised that they were not interested in withdrawing their application, Mr. Cook suggested that he knew people in Greenwood who would be interested in using the frequency at Saluda. Thereafter, Mullinax and Davenport left WGSW. Mullinax further avers that later that day he called Mr. Palmer Greer, his consulting engineer, and told him of his conversations with Crosland and Cook; that Greer advised that Mullinax and Davenport should make notes of the conversations, and that such notes are the basis of the information concerning those conversations contained in his instant affidavit.

3. Mullinax further alleges that on November 16, 1966, Saluda filed its application for a new station in Saluda, S.C., utilizing 1090 kHz, and that shortly thereafter he, Mullinax, requested Mr. Greer to do a frequency study in an attempt to ascertain a suitable alternate frequency for use in Saluda. Greer found such a frequency which could be utilized with a two element directional antenna and, at the request of United, advised Mr. W. J. Holey who was then consulting engineer for Saluda, of its availability but that Holey, by letter dated March 1, 1967, advised Greer that his clients did not wish to change frequencies. Mullinax further alleges that on March 17, 1967, he and Mr. Davenport met with Ted B. Wyndham, president and treasurer of Saluda, and that Davenport had suggested that a hearing before the Commission would be long and expensive and that United would be willing to reimburse Saluda for any expense it had incurred in conjunction with its application for a new station at Saluda. Mullinax further alleges that Wyndham then stated that he had become interested in a new station approximately 1 year before; that he had first considered filing an application for Greenwood but that his friend and professional associate, Mr. Featherstone (sole owner of the licensee for WCRS, Greenwood), had suggested that since Greenwood already had two stations, Saluda, which had none, would be a better place. Wyndham also stated that Mr. James W. Warren who was chief engineer at WGSW, had helped him prepare his application and secure the services of his first engineering consultant and of Mr. Holey who presently advised him on engineering matters. Mullinax then asked Wyndham if he had seriously considered the alternate frequency which Mr. Greer had suggested to Holey. Mullinax alleges that Wyndham stated that Holey had never mentioned an alternate frequency to him or to Mr. Barksdale, the other principal of Saluda, but that Wyndham indicated that he would give serious consideration to using the alternate frequency. Neither Mullinax or Davenport has heard from Wyndham further since that conservation.

4. Mr. Mullinax's affidavit is corroborated by the affidavit of Davenport and insofar as it refers to Mr. Greer and Mr. Greer's frequency search it is corroborated by an affidavit of Palmer A. Greer.

5. United notes further that the city of Greenwood had a 1960 population of 16,644 people and that Greenwood County has a population of 44,346, and that the town of Saluda, which is located approximately 25 miles southeast of Greenwood, had a 1960 population of 2,089; and that Saluda County had a 1960 population of 14,544. Greenwood has two standard broadcast stations, while Saluda has none. United therefore argues that since the managers and owners of the Greenwood stations stand to gain financially if the United application is denied, and since:

Cook and Crosland conferred about the possibility of opposing a third station in Greenwood and the possibility of an application using 1090 kHz at Saluda to accomplish this end;

Cook offered to pay expenses incurred in filing the United application, plus some anticipated profits in exchange for withdrawal of its application;

Cook told Mullinax and Davenport that he knew Greenwood people who were interested in 1090 kHz at Saluda;

Saluda declined to use an alternate frequency for Saluda even though United presented information concerning the availability of such a frequency to the engineering consultant for Saluda;

Wyndham first considered Greenwood but was dissuaded by Featherstone with whom he apparently has a professional relationship and shares adjoining offices; and the chief engineer of WCRS assisted in the preparation of the Saluda application, the requested issue must be included in this proceeding.

6. On May 19, 1969, Radio Greenwood filed its statement concerning the petition to enlarge issues. That statement denies any responsibility on the part of Radio Greenwood for the Saluda application. Moreover, the statement and supporting affidavits explain that James W. Warren had begun conversations with Wyndham looking toward the filing of an application for a new station in which Warren and Wyndham would share ownership without advising Radio Greenwood, and that upon being advised of this matter, the station manager had referred it to Washington counsel who felt that Warren must entirely disassociate himself from the new applicant or give up his employment at Radio Greenwood, and Mr. Cook had so advised Warren; that Warren had chosen to continue his employment at Radio Greenwood and had, in fact, disassociated himself from the Saluda applicant. Mr. George B. Cook in his affidavit states that he has read the affidavit of Mr. Mullinax and that his recollection of his conversation with Messrs. Mullinax and Davenport is to the effect that they did discuss the economics of a third radio station in Greenwood but that at no time did he offer any money or any other compensation to Mullinax and Davenport not to file an application or to withdraw an application which they announced had been filed. He did, however, remember some discussion about the possibility of an application for Saluda, but had no knowledge of the frequency involved. He also states in his affidavit that in October, 1966, upon advice of his Washington counsel he advised his chief engineer, Mr. James Warren, that if he elected to stay with WGSW he must terminate his association with the Saluda applicant. Moreover, he states that neither he nor any of his associates in WGSW have in any way encouraged, financed, planned, or assisted in any application for Saluda. He further states in his affidavit that on or about April 14, 1969, Messrs. Mullinax and Davenport, accompanied by a Mr. Bernard described as an attorney from Washington, D.C., had called at his office and said in effect that they were going to file a request for the addition of a strike issue against the Saluda applicant unless I can convince the Saluda applicant to withdraw. The lawyer mentioned that WGSW was coming up for renewal this year and that my license would be in jeopardy if I were facing a strike issue. I told the gentleman in effect that I had no control over the Saluda applicant and could not direct any action which the Saluda applicant might take.

7. Mr. James W. Warren, in his affidavit, states in essence: That he is the James Warren referred to by Mullinax in paragraph 11 of his affidavit; that as the result of being neighbors and having other mutual interests, he had met Ted Wyndham, a young lawyer in Greenwood; that during the course of the winter of 1965 and 1966, they had discussed the possibility of jointly owning a radio station. By spring of 1966 they had tentatively decided upon Saluda, S.C., and that under date of April 20, 1966, he had written to a Mr. Robert D. Lambert, a registered professional engineer, requesting him to make a frequency search for a suitable frequency to use in Saluda.[2] Under date of May 10, Lambert submitted a report recommending 1090 kHz with 500 watts power, nondirectional, daytime, as the best choice for Saluda, and Warren and Wyndham decided to proceed with the application. Shortly thereafter, Warren advised Mr. Cook of his participation in the preparation of the application and in October, 1966, Cook advised him that he must disassociate himself from the Saluda application or terminate his employment at WGSW.

8. In its opposition to the petition to enlarge, Saluda flatly denies that the existing Greenwood stations in any way influenced its decision to file its application. Furthermore, it points out that its frequency for Saluda was chosen many months before United's application was filed for Greenwood. It states that Wyndham did not meet Mr. Featherstone until more than 6 months after his application for Saluda was filed and that it rejected United's alternate frequency proposal because it involved a directional installation which would require greater initial expenses and more expense in the operation of the station, and since, in a small market, this additional expense did not appear to be warranted. Saluda supports its allegations and arguments by the affidavits of Robert B. Lambert, Jr.; copies of correspondence between Lambert and Warren bearing the dates of April 20, 1966, and May 10, 1966; and the affidavit of William J. Holey in which he reiterates that he made a limited frequency search and concluded that Mr. Lambert's choice of 1090 kHz for Saluda was the best frequency for use at Saluda. Holey also sets forth the circumstances concerning his employment by Saluda and Mr. Warren's withdrawal from the applicant. With respect to this latter point, a copy of a hand-written letter dated October 24 [1966], and signed by James W. Warren is attached; also, Holey's letter of March 1, 1967, to Mr. Palmer Greer declining to accept Greer's suggestion that an alternate frequency might be used.

9. Saluda also attached an affidavit from C. Bruce Barksdale, Jr., vice president and secretary of Saluda Broadcasting Co. in which he denies any discussion concerning his Saluda application with the existing Greenwood, S.C., stations or their principals or managers. Furthermore, he notes that at the time he was invited to join Mr. Wyndham in this application, he thoroughly investigated the matter and concluded that it was a sound business venture.

10. The opposition is also supported by an affidavit by Mr. Ted B. Wyndham who states that upon graduation from the University of South Carolina Law School in 1965, he commenced his law practice in Greenwood, S.C.; that during the initial period of his practice he met Mr. Warren who was employed by WGSW; that the two became friends and discussed the possibility of owning a radio station. They first considered Greenwood but decided against it because it was obvious that Mr. Warren would be required to give up his employment with WGSW and because there were already two stations in that community. In the spring of 1966, they decided that Saluda would be a suitable community. Warren undertook to arrange for a frequency study and Mr. Robert B Lambert was retained to perform this service. The letters from Warren to Lambert and from Lambert to Warren concerning this frequency study are attached. Subsequently, Lambert withdrew because of a conflict of interest, and Warren arranged for the services of Mr. W. J. Holey. During the period while Warren and Wyndham were preparing their application, they concluded that a partner who could provide financing was needed. They then invited Mr. Barksdale to join them. He took considerable time investigating the possibility and thereafter agreed to participate in the enterprise. United filed its application for Greenwood on September 9, 1966, and at about this time or shortly thereafter it was necessary for Warren to withdraw from the Saluda application, or lose his employment at Radio Greenwood. Nevertheless, Saluda decided to continue with its proposal for a new station at Saluda, and its application was filed November 16, 1966. In his affidavit, Wyndham states that Saluda has paid all of the expenses in conjunction with its application except $150 which Warren paid for the initial frequency study and that that sum is offset by legal services which Wyndham rendered to Warren in connection with a divorce action. Wyndham states that he had not met Mr. Featherstone until Featherstone moved his office to the same floor of the same building that Mr. Wynham occupied. This was approximately 6 months after the Saluda application was filed. Moreover, he flatly states that he has never talked to Mr. Crosland or Mr. Cook about the Saluda proposal.

11. On May 22, 1969, Grenco, Inc., the licensee of WCRS and WCRS–FM, filed its comments on the petition to enlarge. It denied any implication on the part of Grenco, Inc., and supports this denial with an affidavit of Mr. Douglas Featherstone, its president and sole stockholder, in which Mr. Featherstone states that he first learned that Mr. Ted B. Wyndham was interested in an application for a station in Saluda, S.C., on or about April 23, 1969, when Dan Crosland, general manager of WCRS and WCRS–FM called his attention to a petition to enlarge issues in this proceeding. He states that he did not meet Mr. Wyndham until he moved his law offices to the Greenwood Savings and Loan Building on May 1, 1967; that he has never been associated in business or professionally with Mr. Wyndham; and that they have never shared offices and that he had never discussed any proposed or pending applications for new radio stations with Mr. Wyndham until after he received the petition to enlarge issues. Furthermore, Featherstone denied that he made any statement at any time to Wyndham concerning the merits of either Greenwood or Saluda as a site for a new radio station.

12. In its reply, United argues that an analysis of correspondence attached to Saluda's opposition supports its contention that 1090 kHz at Saluda was chosen before the frequency study was ordered. Particularly, it notes that in Warren's letter to Lambert, Warren refers to a telephone conversation in which Lambert had stated that "the clearance would be real close", and reasons that, since Lambert had presumably not studied the matter, Warren must have suggested a specific frequency. United further notes that in Lambert's report to Warren, Lambert refers to a telephone conversation in which the frequency 1090 kHz had been discussed. Since the telephone conversation is not further identified, United reasons we must infer that there was only one conversation, and that must have occurred prior to Warren's first letter to Lambert. United thus concludes that 1090 kHz was selected for Saluda without the benefit of a frequency study and the subsequent study was only for the purpose of facilitating Saluda's intention to apply for a new station on 1090 kHz at Saluda. United further argues that since Lambert suggested a number of alternate frequencies, several of which would not be mutually exclusive with United's application (which was filed some months before Saluda's application), Saluda's persistence in applying for 1090 kHz supports United's conclusion that the Saluda application was filed to obstruct United's efforts to obtain a new station in Greenwood. Moreover, United argues (citing Sumiton Broadcasting Co., Inc., 15 FCC 2d 400, 14 RR 2d 1000 (1968)) that the conflicting affidavits, Warren's involvement in the preparation and filing of an application for Saluda which necessitates a hearing, and the availability of alternate frequencies which could have been granted without hearing, require the addition of the requested issue.

13. Upon careful consideration of the foregoing, the Board concludes that the serious implication which flows from the allegations of the petitioner and the apparent conflicts in the statements set forth in the several pleadings and affidavits warrant a complete inquiry into the facts and circumstances with respect to the preparation and filing of the Saluda application. An appropriate issue concerning this matter will therefore be added to this proceeding. Moreover, in view of the potential implication which might flow from this matter with respect to the existing Greenwood stations, Grenco, Inc., and Radio Greenwood, Inc., will be made parties respondent for the limited purpose of resolving this issue. The burden of proceeding with the evidence on these issues will be assigned to United Community Enterprises, Inc., and the burden of proof to Saluda Broadcasting Co., Inc.

14. Accordingly, it is ordered, That the petition to enlarge issues, filed April 21, 1969, by United Community Enterprises, Inc., is granted and the following issues are included in this proceeding:

[2] A copy of Warren's letter to Lambert is attached to the opposition filed by Saluda Broadcasting Co., Inc, on May 20, 1969.

(a) To determine all the facts and circumstances concerning the preparation and filing of Saluda Broadcasting Co., Inc.'s, application for a new standard broadcast station utilizing 1090 kHz with 500 watts power, daytime only, at Saluda, S.C.;

(b) In light of the facts elicited pursuant to (a) above, to assess their effect upon the qualifications of Saluda Broadcasting Co., Inc., to be the licensee of the standard broadcast station for which it has applied.

15. It is further ordered, That Radio Greenwood, Inc., and Grenco, Inc., are made parties to the proceeding for the purpose of resolving the foregoing issues, and

16. It is further ordered, That the burden of proceeding with the evidence on the foregoing issues is upon United Community Enterprises, Inc., and the burden of proof is upon Saluda Broadcasting, Inc.

[28] Settlement rate as approved by Commission order issued June 6, 1967, in Docket No. G-18570.

Lario Oil & Gas Co. request that its proposed rate increase be permitted to become effective as of June 26, 1969. Texaco, Inc. (Operator), et al., and Texaco, Inc., request an effective date of May 29, 1969, for their proposed rate filings. The Stevens County Oil & Gas Co. requests an effective date of July 1, 1969. Edgar W. White requests a retroactive effective date of January 1, 1969, for his proposed rate increase. D. J. Simmons et al., doing business as Farrell & Company of Louisiana (Operator); D. J. Simmons et al.; Global Oils, Inc. (Operator), et al., and Global Oils, Inc., all request an effective date of June 1, 1969, for their proposed rate increases. Reserve Oil and Gas Co. requests waiver of the statutory notice to permit an effective date of May 26, 1969, for its rate increases. Good cause has not been shown for waiving the 30-day notice requirement provided in section 4(d) of the Natural Gas Act to permit earlier effective dates for the aforementioned producers' rate filings and such requests are denied.

Shell Oil Co. (Shell) proposes a rate increase from 7.2 cents to 8.2 cents per Mcf for a sale of gas to Clinton Oil Co. (Clinton) in the Oklahoma "Other" Area. The area increased rate ceiling is 11 cents per Mcf. Clinton processes the gas and resells the residue gas to Cities Service Gas Co. at a rate of 12 cents per Mcf which is in effect subject to refund. Clinton is contractually due a related increase from 12 cents to 13 cents per Mcf but has not as yet filed for same. Although Shell's proposed rate increase to 8.2 cents per Mcf does not exceed the area increased rate ceiling of 11 cents per Mcf for the Oklahoma "Other" Area as announced in the Commission's statement of general policy No. 61-1, as amended, it should be suspended because such ceiling is applicable to Clinton's resale rate, not to Shell's rate. In view of the fact that Clinton's contractually provided rate increase would be suspended, if filed for we conclude that Shell's proposed rate increase should be suspended for 5 months from September 1, 1969, the proposed effective date.

Concurrently with the filing of their rate increases, D. J. Simmons et al., doing business as Farrell & Company of Louisiana (Operator), and D. J. Simmons et al. (both referred to herein as Simmons) filed three contract amendments dated May 23, 1969,[29] which provide the basis for their proposed rate increases. We believe that it would be in the public interest to accept for filing Simmons' contract amendments to become effective on June 28, 1969, the expiration date of the statutory notice, but not the proposed rate contained therein which is suspended as hereinafter ordered.

All of the producers' proposed increased rates and charges exceed the applicable area price levels for increased rates as set forth in the Commission's statement of general policy No. 61-1, as amended (18 CFR 2.56), with the exception of the two rate increases filed by Shell Oil Co. relating to sales in the Permian Basin Area which exceed the just and reasonable rates established by the Commission in Opinion No. 468, as amended, and should be suspended for 5 months as ordered herein.

The proposed changed rates and charges may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds:

(1) Good cause has been shown for accepting for filing Simmons' three contract amendments dated May 23, 1969,[29] and for permitting such supplements to become effective as of June 28, 1969, the expiration date of the statutory notice.

(2) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon hearings concerning the lawfulness of the proposed changes, and that the above-designated supplements be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered (except for the supplements referred to in paragraph (1) above).

The Commission orders:

(A) Supplement No. 16 to Simmons (Operator) FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1, and Supplement Nos. 7 and 8 to Simmons'

[29] Designated as Supplement No. 16 to Simmons (as Operator) FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1, and Supplements Nos. 7 and 8 to Simmons' FPC Gas Rate Schedules Nos. 2 and 3, respectively.

FPC Gas Rate Schedule Nos. 2 and 3, respectively, are accepted for filing and permitted to become effective on June 28, 1969, the expiration date of the statutory notice.

(B) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), public hearings shall be held upon dates to be fixed by notices from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates and charges contained in the above-designated supplements (except the supplements set forth in paragraph (A) above).

(C) Pending hearings and decisions thereon, the above-designated rate supplements are hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until the date indicated in the "Date Suspended Until" column, and thereafter until such further time as they are made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(D) Neither the supplements hereby suspended, nor the rate schedules sought to be altered thereby, shall be changed until these proceedings have been disposed of or until the periods of suspension have expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(E) Notices of intervention or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 137(f)) on or before August 6, 1969.

[Docket No. RI69-785]

TEXACO, INC.

Order Providing for Hearing on and Suspension of Proposed Change in Rate, and Allowing Rate Change To Become Effective Subject to Refund

MAY 29, 1969.

Respondent named herein has filed a proposed change in rate and charge of a currently effective rate schedule for the sale of natural gas under Commission jurisdiction, as set forth in Appendix A hereof.

The proposed changed rate and charge may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is in the public interest and consistent with the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing regarding the lawfulness of the proposed change, and that the supplement herein be suspended and its use be deferred as ordered below.

The Commission orders:

(A) Under the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15, the regulations pertaining thereto (18 CFR Ch. I), and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a public hearing shall be held concerning the lawfulness of the proposed change.

(B) Pending hearing and decision thereon, the rate supplement herein is suspended and its use deferred until date shown in the "Date Suspended Until" column, and thereafter until made effective as prescribed by the Natural Gas Act: Provided, however, That the supplement to the rate schedule filed by Respondent shall become effective subject to refund on the date and in the manner herein prescribed if within 20 days from the date of the issuance of this order Respondent shall execute and file under its above-designated docket number with the Secretary of the Commission its agreement and undertaking to comply with the refunding and reporting procedure required by the Natural Gas Act and § 154.102 of the regulations thereunder, accompanied by a certificate showing service of a copy thereof upon the purchaser under the rate schedule involved. Unless Respondent is advised to the contrary within 15 days after the filing of its agreement and undertaking, such agreement and undertaking shall be deemed to have been accepted.

(C) Until otherwise ordered by the Commission, neither the suspended supplement, nor the rate schedule sought to be altered, shall be changed until disposition of this proceeding or expiration of the suspension period.

(D) Notices of intervention or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37(f)) on or before July 15, 1969.

By the Commission.

Texaco, Inc. (Texaco), requests that its proposed rate increase be permitted to become effective as of May 9, 1969. Good cause has not been shown for waiving the 30-day notice requirement provided in section 4(d) of the Natural Gas Act to permit an earlier effective date for Texaco's rate filing and such request is denied.

The contract related to the rate filing of Texaco was executed subsequent to September 28, 1960, the date of issuance of the Commission's statement of general policy No. 61-1, as amended, and the proposed rate of 17 cents exceeds the area increased rate ceiling of 11 cents for the Oklahoma Panhandle Area, but does not exceed the service ceiling established for the area involved. We believe, in this situation, Texaco's proposed rate increase should be suspended for 1 day from June 9, 1969, the expiration date of the statutory notice.

[Project No. 187]

CALIFORNIA

Order Partially Vacating Withdrawal of Land

JUNE 30, 1969.

Application has been filed by the U.S. Forest Service (Applicant) for vacation of the power withdrawal under section 24 of the Federal Power Act pertaining to the following described lands of the United States:

MOUNT DIABLO MERIDIAN, CALIFORNIA

T. 20 N., R. 10 E.,
Sec. 35, lot 5.

The land lies near the North Yuba River at Downieville, Sierra County, Calif., and is withdrawn pursuant to the filing on March 14, 1921, of an application for preliminary permit for Project No. 187. At the time of the filing of the application extensive development of the Yuba River Basin was proposed but only the Bullards Bar facilities were authorized by the license for Project No. 187. The application for the preliminary permit for the project contemplated development of this reach of the North Yuba River by construction of the proposed Toll Bridge diversion dam to be located about 1 mile downstream from the town of Downieville. An alternate plan which has been studied proposes development of the Goodyears Bar reservoir site. The subject land would not be affected by either of these developments which have been proposed since the subject land is located at a higher elevation than either of the proposed flowages. The town of Downieville also lies at a lower elevation than the subject land and precludes the feasibility of a larger flowage.

The application was filed as part of a proposed land exchange in the Tahoe National Forest.

The Commission finds: Inasmuch as the lands have no significant power value, the withdrawal of the subject lands pursuant to the above mentioned application for Project No. 187 serves no useful purpose and should be vacated.

The Commission orders: The withdrawal of the subject lands pursuant to the application for Project No. 187 is hereby vacated insofar as it affects the subject lands.

By the Commission.

[Dockets Nos. CP69-345, G-8932]

EL PASO NATURAL GAS CO.

Notice of Application and Petition To Amend

JUNE 30, 1969.

Take notice that on June 23, 1969, El Paso Natural Gas Co. (Applicant), Post Office Box 1492, El Paso, Tex. 79999, filed in Docket No. G-8932 a petition to amend the order of the Commission of November 25, 1955, as amended, so as to authorize, pursuant to section 3 of the Natural Gas Act, the importation from Canada at a point near Sumas, Wash., on the international boundary of an additional daily quantity of natural gas up to 150 million cubic feet per day. Applicant also filed, in Docket No. CP69-345, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing construction and operation of certain Northwest Division System facilities and the transportation of an additional 50,000 Mcf per day of natural gas to be imported from Canada and the delivery thereof to existing customers in market areas served by Northwest Division System, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

As regards to the petition to amend in Docket No. G-8932 Applicant states that the purpose of the authorization is to allow Applicant to implement the proposed purchase of such additional daily quantities of gas from Westcoast Transmission Co. Ltd. (Westcoast), and enable Applicant to import a total daily quantity of 575 million cubic feet commencing on or about November 1, 1970, and 650 million cubic feet on November 1, 1971.

Applicant states that it has entered into an agreement with Westcoast dated January 29, 1969, under which the additional 150 million cubic feet of gas per day were to be made available as follows: 75,000 Mcf from November 1, 1970, through October 31, 1971, and 150,000 Mcf from November 1, 1971, through the remaining term of the agreement, the primary term of which ends October 31, 1990. The price at which such gas will be purchased by Applicant will be computed on the basis of the demand and commodity charges set forth in the agreement which will equate, based on 100 percent load factor delivery, to a rate of 31.78 cents per Mcf (at 14.9 p.s.i.a) for all gas purchased from November 1, 1972, throughout the term of the agreement.

Applicant states that the facilities which it proposes to construct and operate, in conjunction with its existing Northwest Division pipeline facilities to permit the acquisition and utilization of the proposed new supply from Westcoast, consist primarily of a new compressor station of 4,000 horsepower and a total of 58.9 miles of 30-inch O.D. mainline loop pipeline. The estimated cost of the project, including overheads, contingencies and filing fees, is $14,889,351. Applicant proposes to finance such cost initially by use of working funds, supplemented by short-term borrowings.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before July 28, 1969, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). NOTES

(a) All certificates of authority expire June 30, and are renewable July 1, annually.

(b) Treasury regulations do not limit the penal sum of bonds which surety companies may execute. The net retention, however, cannot exceed the underwriting limitation and excess risks must be protected by reinsurance, co-insurance, or other methods in accordance with Treasury regulations. When excess risks on bonds in favor of the United States are protected by reinsurance, such reinsurance is to be effected by use of Treasury Form BA 6308 (formerly 369) to be filed with the bond or within 45 days thereafter. Risks in excess of limit fixed herein must be reported for quarter in which they are executed. In protecting such excess, the rating in force on the date of the execution of the risk will govern absolutely. This limit applies until a new rating is established by the Treasury Department.

(c) A surety company must be licensed in the State or other area in which it executes (signs) the bond, but need not be licensed in the State or other area in which the principal resides or where the contract is to be performed (28 Op. Atty. Gen. 127, Dec. 24, 1909; 31 CFR Part 222). The term "other areas" includes the Canal Zone, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

(d) Abbreviated capital letters preceding judicial districts indicate State or other area in which the company is incorporated. Process agents are required in the following districts: Where principal resides; where obligation is to be performed; and where bond is returnable or filed. No process agent required in State or other area wherein company is incorporated. Letters "n, s, e, m, c, and w" preceding name of States indicate respectively the Northern, Southern, Eastern, Middle, Central and Western judicial districts of States indicated. If letters do not precede names of States process agents have been appointed in all judicial districts of such States.

Title 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter I—Consumer and Marketing Service (Standards, Inspections, Marketing Practices), Department of Agriculture

SUBCHAPTER C—REGULATIONS AND STANDARDS UNDER THE AGRICULTURAL MARKETING ACT OF 1946

PART 56—GRADING OF SHELL EGGS AND UNITED STATES STANDARDS, GRADES, AND WEIGHT CLASSES FOR SHELL EGGS

Extension of Time To Use Existing Supplies of Grade Mark

Under authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946, as amended (7 U.S.C. 1621 et seq.), the U.S. Department of Agriculture hereby amends the regulations governing the grading of shell eggs and U.S. Standards, Grades, and Weight Classes for Shell Eggs (7 CFR Part 56), as set forth below:

Statement of considerations. In the amendments to the regulations governing the grading of shell eggs and U.S. Standards, Grades, and Weight Classes for Shell Eggs (7 CFR Part 56), published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (32 F.R. 8229–8234), on June 8, 1967, a new form was established for the official grademark. Time was provided until July 1, 1969, to use existing supplies of the previous grademark on cartons or tape.

It now appears that additional time will be required to use up existing supplies only of cartons or tape bearing the previous grademark.

The amendment is as follows:

In § 56.36 the last sentence of subparagraph (b)(2) is amended to read: "Existing supplies of cartons or tape bearing the grademark may be used until January 1, 1971."

This action is necessary to provide time to use existing supplies of material bearing the grademark. Therefore, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 553, it is found upon good cause that rulemaking and other public procedure with respect to this action are impracticable and unnecessary, and good cause is found for making it effective June 30, 1969.

Issued at Washington, D.C., this 2d day of July, 1969.

G. R. GRANGE,
Deputy Administrator,
Marketing Services.

Title 14—AERONAUTICS AND SPACE

Chapter I—Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation

[Airspace Docket No. 69–EA–74]

PART 71—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS, CONTROLLED AIRSPACE, AND REPORTING POINTS

Alteration of Transition Area

The Federal Aviation Administration is amending § 71.181 of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations so as to alter the Batavia, N.Y. (34 F.R. 4648, 5985), transition area.

The special NDB (ADF) instrument approach procedure for Genesee County Airport, Batavia, N.Y., has been canceled. The 700-foot floor transition area extension based on a 192° true bearing from the airport is no longer required and can be revoked, but will require alteration of the Batavia, N.Y., transition area.

This alteration is a reduction in the controlled airspace and therefore less restrictive. Since it imposes no further burden on any person, notice and public procedure hereon are unnecessary and the amendment may be made effective in less than 30 days.

In view of the foregoing, the Federal Aviation Administration having reviewed the airspace requirements in the terminal airspace of Batavia, N.Y., the amendment is herewith made effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER as follows:

1. Amend § 71.181 of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by deleting the description of the Batavia, N.Y., transition area, and insert in lieu thereof:

That airspace extending upward from 700 feet above the surface within a 5-mile radius of the center, 43°01'55'' N., 78°10'20'' W., of Genesee County Airport and within 2 miles each side of the Geneseo, N.Y., VORTAC 302° radial extending from the 5-mile radius area to 20 miles northwest of the Geneseo, N.Y., VORTAC.

(Sec. 307(a), Federal Aviation Act of 1958; 72 Stat. 749; 49 U.S.C. 1348; sec. 6(c) of the DOT Act; 49 U.S.C. 1655(c))

Issued in Jamaica, N.Y., on June 20, 1969.

Acting Director, Eastern Region.

[Airspace Docket 68–EA–109]

PART 71—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS, CONTROLLED AIRSPACE, AND REPORTING POINTS

Designation of Transition Area

On page 18628 of the FEDERAL REGISTER for December 17, 1968, the Federal Aviation Administration published a proposed regulation which would designate a 700-foot transition area over Brookhaven Airport, Shirley, N.Y.

Interested parties were given 30 days after publication in which to submit written data or views. The U.S. Air Force entered an objection on the grounds that the instrument approach procedures for Brookhaven Airport for which the transition area would offer protection would have an adverse effect on operations at Suffolk County Air Force Base. An informal conference was held on February 27, 1969, to review the objections. At the meeting, a proposal was considered for revising the holding pattern collateral to the approach procedures. However, the revision has been determined to be impractical as it would vitiate the approach procedure.

As set forth in the notice of proposed rule making, a new NDB (ADF) and VOR instrument approach procedure had been developed for Brookhaven Airport, Shirley, N.Y., predicated on the Peconic, N.Y., RBN and the Riverhead, N.Y., VORTAC. At the time of publication of the notice of proposed rule making it was alleged that a 700-foot Shirley, N.Y., transition area would be necessary to provide airspace protection for aircraft executing the arrival and departure procedures at Brookhaven Airport. In spite of the inconvenience to the U.S. Air Force, the public interest still requires the effectuation of the transition area in that it is determined that aircraft executing the arrival and departure procedures at Brookhaven Airport still require airspace protection with a 700-foot transition area. Further, a minor correction of 1° is required to refine the 246° bearing from the Peconic RBN to 245° for which notice and public procedure hereon are unnecessary.

In view of the foregoing, the proposed regulations are hereby adopted effective 0901 G.m.t., August 21, 1969.

(Sec. 307(a), Federal Aviation Act of 1958; 72 Stat. 749; 49 U.S.C. 1348; sec. 6(c), DOT Act; 49 U.S.C. 1655(c))

Issued in Jamaica, N.Y., on June 25, 1969.

WAYNE HENDERSHOT,
Acting Director, Eastern Region.

Amend § 71.181 of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations so as to designate a 700-foot Shirley, N.Y., transition area described as follows:

SHIRLEY, N.Y.

That airspace extending upward from 700 feet above the surface within a 6-mile radius of the center, 40°48'40" N., 72°52'00" W., of Brookhaven Airport, Shirley, N.Y.; within 2 miles each side of the Runway 15 centerline extending from the 6-mile radius area to 6 miles southeast of the end of the runway; within 2 miles each side of the Runway 33 centerline extended from the 6-mile radius area to 7 miles northwest of the end of the runway; and within 3 miles northwest and 5 miles southeast of the 245° bearing from the Peconic RBN extending from the RBN to 10 miles southwest of the RBN excluding the portions which coincide with the Islip, N.Y., Calverton, N.Y., and Westhampton Beach, N.Y., transition areas.

Title 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter I—Office of the Secretary of Defense

SUBCHAPTER B—PERSONNEL; MILITARY AND CIVILIAN

PART 100—INVOLUNTARY ORDER TO ACTIVE DUTY OF READY RESERVISTS FOR UNSATISFACTORY PERFORMANCE OF OBLIGATION

The Deputy Secretary of Defense approved the following revision to Part 100:

Sec.
100.1 Purpose and applicability.
100.2 Definition.
100.3 Policy.

AUTHORITY: The provisions of this Part 100 issued under Section 301, 80 Stat. 379; 5 U.S.C. 301.

§ 100.1 Purpose and applicability.

This Part revises Department of Defense policy governing uniform compliance measures to be invoked by the Military Departments when certain "nonprior military service" Reserve personnel fail to participate in their units by: (a) Clarifying the term "unsatisfactory participation," (b) specifying the mobilization status of Reserve personnel held in the pool as a result of Government action, (c) amplifying national interest policy, (d) incorporating new policy with regard to certain reservists who change residences and nonlocatable personnel, and (e) adding minor technical changes.

§ 100.2 Definition.

"Selected Reserve" consists of Reserve personnel in pay groups A, B, C, and F (see Pt. 102 and Public Law 90-168). These reservists are either: (a) Members of units who—(1) regularly participate in drills and annual active duty for training, or (2) are on initial active duty for training for not less than 4 months; or (b) individuals who participate in regular drills and annual active duty for training on the same basis as members of Reserve units. Excluded from the Selected Reserve are: (1) Reservists who only participate in annual active duty for training but are not paid for attendance at regular drills (pay categories D and E), (2) reservists enrolled in ROTC training, (3) members of the individual Ready Reserve Pool, and (4) reservists on extended active duty.

§ 100.3 Policy.

(a) Unsatisfactory participation. (1) Personnel without prior military service who enlist or have enlisted in the Reserve components under the provisions of section 511 (a) and (d), title 10, United States Code; section 302, title 32, United States Code and section 262, Reserve Forces Act of 1955 (69 Stat. 598, 600) as amended by Public Law 88-110 (77 Stat. 134, 136) are expected to participate or perform satisfactorily in units of the Reserve components for the full period of their Ready Reserve obligation unless excepted in accordance with § 100.3(c) of this part.

(2) Failure to remain a member of a Selected Reserve unit (section 268(b), title 10, United States Code) or to meet prescribed standards for attendance at drills and active duty for training, training advancement and for performance of duty constitute unsatisfactory participation.

(b) Unsatisfactory participation compliance measures. (1) Those individuals who: (i) Fail, or are unable, to participate satisfactorily in units of the Selected Reserve, (ii) have not fulfilled their statutory Reserve obligation, and (iii) have not served on active duty or active duty for training for a total of 24 months will be ordered to active duty under the provisions of section 673a, title 10, United States Code and Executive Order 11366.

(2) A member ordered to active duty under these provisions may be required to serve on active duty until his total service on active duty or active duty for training equals 24 months.

(3) If the enlistment or period of military service of a member of the Selected Reserve ordered to active duty under the provisions of section 673a, title 10, United States Code and Executive Order 11366, August 4, 1967, would expire before the required period of active duty prescribed has been served, the enlistment or period of military service may be extended until that service on active duty has been completed in accordance with the provisions of section 673a, title 10, United States Code and Executive Order 11366.

(4) Orders may be mailed to a reservist when he is in an unsatisfactory participation status, if the reservist is not locatable by the usual means of telephone, personal visit, or when attending scheduled drills.

(i) Notification shall be fully and sufficiently accomplished through the mailing of the orders addressed to the reservist concerned at the mailing address which records of the activity mailing the orders indicate as the most recent one furnished by that individual as an address at or from which official mail will be received by or forwarded to him.

(ii) Absence of indication of delivery, or return as undeliverable, of orders addressed as above is alike immaterial as respects its efficacy as notice to or notification of the reservist concerned.

(iii) It is the responsibility of each member of a Reserve component to assure that the records pertaining to him in his organization accurately and currently reflect a mailing address at which he can be reached.

(c) Exceptions. As exceptions to this policy, individuals who are unable to participate in Reserve component units may be considered for discharge, retention, or assignment to the Individual Ready Reserve Pool as follows:

(1) Individuals eligible for discharge from the Reserve components for dependency, hardship, or other reasons authorized by applicable departmental regulations, will, upon application, be discharged.

(2) Individuals unable to participate in a unit by reason of action taken by the Military Departments (e.g., unit inactivation) rather than because of their own actions, will be retained in the Individual Ready Reserve Pool until they rejoin or are assigned to a Reserve unit or are discharged upon completion of their obligation. However, individuals excepted by this paragraph are still subject to involuntary order to active duty in the event: (i) of any mobilization if they qualify under the statutory provisions of the involuntary order to active duty; (ii) they fail to satisfactorily participate in any annual active duty for training periods (15 to 30 days each year) when so ordered.

(3) Individuals who provide substantial evidence that their occupation is included on the Department of Labor List of Critical Occupations for Screening the Ready Reserve [1] or meet the criteria for inclusion on such list, in order to maintain the national health, safety or interest, may, upon application, be discharged unless it is determined by the Military Department concerned that there is an overriding military need for the reservist's specialty.

(4) The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may determine the minimum period of active duty; e.g., 12 months, 9 months, below which these individuals cannot be effectively employed in an active duty status. In this instance, individuals will be discharged under the provisions of appropriate departmental regulations and reported to the Selective Service System under the provisions of section 6(c)(2)(D) of the Military Selective Service Act of 1967 and DoD Directive 1115.3, Furnishing the Selective Service System with Information Needed for Determining Induction Quotas and Classifying Registrants (M), April 17, 1967.[2]

(5) The provisions of Part 103 of this subchapter apply to individuals who incur a legitimate temporary religious missionary obligation during their obligated service.

(d) Change of residence. (1) Within the United States, its possessions, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico:

(i) Individuals who lose their unit positions because of a voluntary change of residence will be transferred to another paid drill unit within their respective Department whenever practicable or they will be given a period of 60 days after departing from their original unit to locate and join another Reserve component unit where they will fill an existing vacancy or be assigned as overstrength pursuant to (ii) below.

(ii) If individuals locate position vacancies which require different specialties than the ones they now possess, the Secretary of the Military Department concerned may provide for the retraining of these individuals (with their consent) by ordering them to active duty for training in a new specialty.

(iii) The Military Departments are directed to accept in their Reserve units obligated reservists of their respective Department who effect a voluntary change of residence regardless of vacancies—providing they meet the following determinations:

(a) the move is essential because of business or other cogent reasons;

(b) the losing unit certifies in writing that the reservist's performance of service has been satisfactory;

(c) the reservist's specialty is usable in the unit or that he can be retained by on-the-job training or is willing to be retrained as in (ii) above;

(d) transfers between Reserve components are authorized under the provisions of Part 123 of this subchapter.

(iv) In connection with (iii) above the Military Departments are authorized an enlisted overstrength of 3 percent above authorized paid drill strength for reservists and to compensate for administrative delays encountered during recruiting and separation processing.

(a) This does not constitute authority for an increase in paid drill strength and should tend to bring actual drill pay attendance closer to 100 percent of authorized paid drill strength.

(b) The Military Departments shall manage this program closely to assure that overstrength enlistment is not automatic; e.g., if a reservist moves to a locality where two or more Reserve units exist within a 50-mile radius, he should not be assigned to the nearest unit if a more distant unit has a vacancy or a lesser degree of overstrength.

(v) If these individuals fail to locate another position vacancy, they will be ordered to active duty or discharged as provided in this part.

(2) Outside the United States, its possessions, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico:

(i) Individuals, regardless of physical location, are subject to the provisions listed under § 100.3(d)(1).

(ii) Individuals will be directed to notify their unit if they plan to leave the areas listed in § 100.3(d)(1) and their unit will properly counsel them as to consequences.

(e) Other compliance measures—(1) 45-day active duty tours. The policy of either ordering individuals to active duty or discharging them will be followed, in lieu of the 45-day tour of active duty, for personnel without prior military service. However, the 45-day tour may continue to be used for those obligors who have completed 24 months of active service.

(2) Priority induction. Priority induction under the provisions of Section 6(c)(2)(D), of the Military Selective Service Act of 1967 usually will be invoked only in cases of nonlocatable members.

(f) Delay from involuntary order to active duty. Individuals who become subject to being ordered to active duty under this policy may be delayed, as prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, from active duty for the purposes of taking State or Federal examinations, seasonal employment, and for similar cogent reasons. Upon termination of such delays, reservists will be ordered to active duty. However, those members ordered to active duty for reasons other than willful unsatisfactory participation who join a unit during the period of delay will not be ordered to active duty.

Title 41—PUBLIC CONTRACTS AND PROPERTY MANAGEMENT

Chapter 1—Federal Procurement Regulations

CLARIFICATION OF CONTRACTUAL DEFAULT CLAUSES

This amendment clarifies the various "default" clauses (and a related Excusable Delays clause), prescribed in Subpart 1-8.7 of the Federal Procurement Regulations, by defining the scope of the terms "subcontractor," "subcontractors," and "subcontractors or suppliers" as these terms are used in such clauses with respect to delay in contract performance. The clarifying definitions specify that the cited terms include a subcontractor or supplier at any tier and thereby confirm the extent of coverage which was intended when the clauses were originally prescribed. In addition, the amendment requires the appropriate modification of standard forms which include certain of the clauses involved.

PART 1-8—TERMINATION OF CONTRACTS

Subpart 1-8.7—Clauses

1. Section 1-8.707 is amended by adding paragraph (g) to the contract clause prescribed therein as follows:

§ 1-8.707 Default clause for fixed-price supply contracts.

* * * * *

* * * * *

(g) As used in paragarph (c) of this clause, the terms "subcontractor" and "subcontractors" mean subcontractor(s) at any tier.

2. Section 1-8.708 is amended by revising the contract clause prescribed therein as follows:

§ 1-8.708 Excusable delays clause for cost-reimbursement type contracts.

* * * * *

EXCUSABLE DELAYS

Except with respect to defaults of subcontractors, the Contractor shall not be in default by reason of any failure in performance of this contract in accordance with its terms (including any failure by the Contractor to make progress in the prosecution of the work hereunder which endangers such performance) if such failure arises out of causes beyond the control and without the fault or negligence of the Contractor. Such causes may include, but are not restricted to, acts of God or of the public enemy, acts of the Government in either its soverign or contractual capacity, fires, floods, epidemics, quarantine restrictions, strikes, freight embargoes, and unusually severe weather, but in every case the failure to perform must be beyond the control and without the fault or negligence of the Contractor. If the failure to perform is caused by the failure of a subcontractor to perform or make progress, and if such failure arises out of causes beyond the control of both the Contractor and subcontractor, and without the fault or negligence of either of them, the Contractor shall not be deemed to be in default, unless (a) the supplies or services to be furnished by the subcontractor were obtainable from other sources, (b) the Contracting Officer shall have ordered the Contractor in writing to procure such supplies or services from such other sources, and (c) the Contractor shall have failed to comply reasonably with such order. Upon request of the Contractor, the Contracting Officer shall ascertain the facts and extent of such failure and, if he shall determine that any failure to perform was occasioned by any one or more of the said causes, the delivery schedule shall be revised accordingly, subject to the rights of the Government under the clause hereof entitled Termination for Default or for Convenience of the Government. (As used in this clause, the terms "subcontractor" and "subcontractors" mean subcontractor(s) at any tier.)

Title 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

[FCC 69–734]

PART 73—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

Requirements for the Determination of the Level of Hum and Extraneous Noise in Standard Broadcast Transmitters

1. Section 73.40 of the rules sets forth the design, construction, and safety of life requirements for standard broadcast transmitters. Paragraph (a)(6) of this section requires a showing that:

The carrier hum and extraneous noise (exclusive of microphone and studio noises) level (unweighted r.s.s.) is at least 45 db below 100 percent modulation for the frequency band 30 to 20,000 c/s.

2. Section 73.47 outlines the equipment performance measurements required to be made by standard broadcast station licensees at periodic intervals. Paragraph (a)(4) requires the measurement of:

Carrier hum and extraneous noise generated within the equipment, and measured as the level below 100 percent modulation throughout the audio spectrum or by bands.

3. The data obtained in complying with the requirements of § 73.47(a)(4) is for the purpose of demonstrating that the transmitter continues to perform in accordance with § 73.40(a)(6).

4. The distortion and noise meter used in the above determinations is fed a sample of the radio frequency output of the transmitter through a wide band demodulator, which extracts the audio modulation from the carrier. A properly calibrated meter can accurately establish differences in the levels of the components modulating the carrier, in this instance, the difference between the integrated level of hum and extraneous noise, and of a reference tone producing 100 percent modulation of the carrier. The level of this tone is usualy set by observing the station modulation monitor.

5. The rules cited above do not specify the frequency of the tone used to set the reference level, and this fact appears to have been the source of some misunderstanding and hardship for station operators and consulting engineers performing measurements pursuant to § 73.47. In particular, it seems to have been the practice of some engineers to establish the reference level for the hum and extraneous noise measurement at each of a number of discrete frequencies over the audio band.

6. Since the carrier remains at a fixed-level throughout the measurement procedure, the amplitude of the envelope with 100 percent single tone modulation is fixed, and the demodulated signal should have the same value, regardless of the modulating frequency. Accordingly, it should be necessary to establish the reference level with a tone at only one audio frequency for the purpose of the noise and hum determination. In instances where some engineers may have found that an indicated 100 percent modulation at one audiofrequency provides a different level of indication on the noise and distortion meter than at another, the discrepancy could result from an insufficiently flat frequency characteristic of the monitor or demodulator over the audio range involved. Thus, a type-approved modulation monitor is required to have a substantially flat frequency characteristic only over the range 30 the 10,000 c/s, and may be substantially in error if it is relied on to indicate the level of 100 percent modulation for a frequency well outside of this range. In such an instance, the proper procedure is to establish the reference within the frequency range where the modulation monitor can be expected to give accurate indications.

7. The particular frequency at which this is done is not important. However, to make the above rules more specific, and to avoid the misunderstandings which appear to have occurred, we are modifying the rules to require that the reference level be established at 400 c/s, a midrange frequency often used as a reference in audiofrequency measurements.

8. We also are taking this opportunity to correct an inconsistency which appears in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of paragraph (a) of § 73.47 viz.: Subparagraph (1) requires that the audiofrequency response be measured over the range 30–7,500 c/s, whereas the lowest frequency at which audiofrequency harmonic content is to be measured, pursuant to subparagraph (2) is 50 c/s. There is no good reason for specifying a different lower end frequency for one series of measurements than for the other, and we are amending subparagraph (1) to specify a range of 50–7,500 c/s.

9. The rule amendments which we adopt are for the purpose of clarifying the pertinent rules, and impose no new substantive requirement. Accordingly, compliance with the notice and effective date provisions of the Administrative Procedures Act (5 U.S.C. § 553) are unnecessary and would serve no useful purpose.

10. Authority for the adoption of these amendments is contained in sections 4(i), 303(r), and 319(c) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

11. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That, effective July 11, 1969, Part 73 of the Commission's rules and regulations is amended as set forth below.

PART 73—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

Table of Assignments, Television Broadcast Stations, Annapolis, Md., and Seaford, Del.

1. On January 23, 1969, the Commission released a notice of proposed rule making in this proceeding (FCC 69-66) inviting comments on a proposal to amend the Table of Television Assignments in § 73.606(b) of the Commission's rules by assigning channel *22 to Annapolis, Md., reserved for noncommercial educational use. This assignment would be accomplished by deleting *22 as a reserved channel at Seaford, Del., and substituting channel *66 there. The dates designated for the filing of comments and reply comments were March 3, 1969, and March 13, 1969, respectively.

2. The petition which prompted this proceeding, filed by the Maryland Educational-Cultural Broadcasting Commission, proposed to assign channel *22 to Annapolis by deleting it at Seaford, replacing it there with channel *38. However, the notice proposed instead to assign channel *66 as the replacement at Seaford, because of the much greater flexibility this assignment at Seaford would have with respect to location of a transmitter site (particularly in the direction of Atlantic City). The only parties commenting in response to the notice, Delaware Educational Television Board (Delaware Board) and Advisory Council on Educational Television of the Commonwealth of Virginia (Virginia Council), urged that Channel 66 not be assigned to Seaford but that channel 38 be used there instead for the educational assignment, as proposed in the original petition. Delaware Board states that the limitation on site location if channel 38 is assigned presents no problem, since the purpose of the assignment is to serve southern Delaware; and that use of channel 66 might present problems because of impact to and from the operation of a channel 73 translator at nearby Milford, Del., rebroadcasting WHYY, the educational station to the north.

3. Virginia Council likewise urges that channel 38 be assigned to Seaford instead of 66. It states that the proposed assignment of channel 66 to Seaford would preclude the use of the same channel in northern Virginia, that the Council has planned for and sought to bring statewide educational television to northern Virginia, and that there appears to be no channel below channel 70 assignable in northern Virginia except channel 66. It further states that it requested in RM-494, filed September 30, 1963, a channel for Arlington, Va., among others. Although many of its requests in other areas were provided for, northern Virginia was not, and the Council desires a channel for educational use in that area. It is also stated that although channel 66 would not meet the mileage separations in Arlington, it would in Clifton, Va., which is approximately 20 miles from the center of Washington, D.C.; that although there are two educational channels assigned to Washington, D.C., this does not provide a channel that can be used in a statewide educational system, a station that would be programed for the Virginia schools; and that unless channel 66 were allocated in the Clifton area it appears that there would be little likelihood of obtaining an educational television station in northern Virginia. It states also that if the channel is assigned to this area it would promptly activate it.

4. As to the making of the Annapolis assignment as requested, it appears that this is clearly warranted and in the public interest, in order to provide statewide coverage and provide a channel for the important population and educational center of Annapolis, the State capital. Accordingly, the Table of Television Assignments (§ 73.606(b) of the rules) is amended to make this assignment.

5. As to the most suitable replacement channel at Seaford, we are of the view that the preferable course is that urged by all of the commenting parties and the original petitioner, use of channel *38 for that purpose. Aside from obviating the problem of impact to and from the channel 73 ETV translator at nearby Milford, we find merit in the suggestion that if another replacement at Seaford can be provided it is desirable to preserve channel 66 for possible use in northern Virginia. As Virginia Council states, it appears that there is little likelihood of finding any other channel below 70 for use in this area. There are problems connected with assigning channel *66 on a reserve basis—the existence of two reserve channels already at Washington, D.C., and the fact that Virginia Council's use proposed here and previously is largely for inschool programing for which ITFS is available and perhaps more suitable—but we believe assignment in this area should remain as a possibility. Parties interested in educational or other use of this channel in the very limited area of northern Virginia where it can be assigned consistent with mileage separation requirements may seek it by petition. Accordingly, we conclude that the public interest would be served by assigning channel *38 at Seaford, Del.

6. In view of the foregoing, and pursuant to authority contained in sections 4(i), 303 (g) and (r) and 307(b) of the Communications Act: It is ordered, That, effective August 11, 1969, § 73.606 (b) of the Commission's rules is amended by addition of the following entry under Maryland:

City	Channel No.
Annapolis, Md	*22

and changing the entry under Delaware for Seaford to read as follows:

Seaford, Del	*38

7. It is further ordered, That this proceeding (Docket 18430) is terminated.

(Secs. 4, 303, 307, 48 Stat., as amended, 1066, 1082, 1083; 47 U.S.C. 154, 303, 307)

Subtitle A—Office of the Secretary of Transportation

[OST Docket No. 1, Amdt. No. 1-29]

PART 1—FUNCTIONS, POWERS, AND DUTIES IN THE DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

Additional Delegation by Secretary of Transportation

The purpose of this amendment is to expressly state the delegation of authority to the Federal Aviation Administrator of the powers and duties relating to those matters, including those relating to aviation safety, that were transferred to the Secretary of Transportation by section 6(c)(1) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)(1)). It also corrects a typographical error in § 1.4(c)(7).

Since this amendment involves delegations of authority and relates to the internal management of the Department, notice and public procedure are not required and the amendment may be made effective in less than 30 days.

In consideration of the foregoing, effective July 1, 1969, subparagraphs (b)(1) and (2) and (c)(7) of § 1.4 are amended to read as follows:

§ 1.4 Delegations of powers and duties.

* * * * *

(b) * * *

(1) Carry out the powers and duties transferred to the Secretary of Transportation by section 6(c)(1) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)(1)), including those pertaining to aviation safety set forth in sections 306, 307, 308, 309, 312, 313, 314, 1101, 1105, and 1111, and titles VI, VII, IX, and XII of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended.

(2) Carry out title XIII of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended (49 U.S.C. 1531 et seq.), relating to War Risk Insurance.

* * * * *

(c) * * *

(7) Carry out section 204(a), (1), (2), (3), (3a), and (5) of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended (49 U.S.C. 304(a)(1), (2), (3), (3a), and (5)), relating generally to qualifications and maximum hours of service of employees and safety of operation and equipment of motor carriers.

Chapter III—Federal Highway Administration, Department of Transportation

SUBCHAPTER A—MOTOR VEHICLE SAFETY REGULATIONS

PART 367—CERTIFICATION

Regulations for the certification labeling of motor vehicles and motor vehicle equipment, and the provision of identifying information on the label, were issued under sections 112, 114, and 119 of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act (15 U.S.C. 1401, 1403, 1407) by the Federal Highway Administrator and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 24, 1969 (34 F.R. 1147). In a notice published on April 29, 1969 (34 F.R. 7031), it was proposed to make certain amendments to those regulations. This amendment to the regulations is based on that proposal.

The notice proposed that §§ 367.7 and 367.8, relating to manufacturers and distributors of motor vehicle equipment, be revoked, pending further study of the distribution patterns and the needs of the motor vehicle equipment industry. No adverse comments to that proposal were received. Those two sections are accordingly being revoked with a view to the future issuance of regulations relating to the particular industries whose products are covered by equipment standards. Manufacturers and distributors of motor vehicle equipment must, however, continue to meet the certification requirements of section 114 of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1966 (15 U.S.C. 1403) as amplified by notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER of November 4, 1967 (32 F.R. 15444).

Clarifying language was proposed by the notice adding the phrase "(except chassis-cabs)" to § 367.4(a), and substituting the phrase "door edge that meets the door latch post" in § 367.4(c). A sentence was proposed for addition to § 367.4(g)(1), requiring the name of a person, other than the manufacturer, who affixes a label on an imported vehicle to be shown on the label. No adverse comments were received on these proposals, and they are incorporated into the rule as issued.

It was proposed to delete the reference to the use of tools in § 367.4(b), so that the subsection would read: "The label shall be permanently affixed in such a manner that it cannot be removed without destroying it." Some comments have indicated uncertainty as to the types of label that are permitted by this section. It is intended that the label be affixed so as not to be removable without damage. The purpose is to make sure that a label cannot be easily and undetectably transferred to another vehicle, and to provide that, within this requirement, manufacturers would have discretion in choice of material and adhesive method. In order to clarify the requirement, the words "or defacing" are inserted after "destroying". Several inquiries were directed specifically to the adequacy of riveted labels. This amendment permits riveting since it has been determined to be a generally satisfactory method of affixing the label.

One comment noted that, particularly in some foreign countries, assembly of a vehicle may be performed by a subsidiary corporation controlled by a parent that is the generally known "nameplate" company. It was suggested that the name of the parent corporation should be allowable on the label. The suggestion has been determined to have merit, in that no important purpose is served by requiring the name of a lesser-known subsidiary corporation on the label, and language permitting the use of a parent corporation's name is added to § 367.4(g)(1).

In order to allow exporting and importing manufacturers to indicate the country to which the word "Federal" refers, a sentence is added to § 367.4(g)(3) permitting the insertion of "U.S." or "U.S.A." before the word "Federal" in the conformity statement.

One petitioner suggested permitting the insertion of the model year before the word "vehicle" in the conformity statement, so that it would read "This 1970 vehicle conforms * * *", in the case of a vehicle manufactured in late 1969. The requirement of stating the month and year of manufacture on the label is intended to eliminate confusion caused by model years that do not match calendar years, and that may mislead consumers as to the standards that are applicable. The manufacturer or dealer is free to indicate the model year of the vehicle by other labels, or any means that do not involve the certification label, and therefore it is not necessary to allow insertion of this possibly confusing additional date.

Objections were made to the requirement of color contrast on the label, and to the requirement of stating the actual manufacturer's name rather than that of a distributor under a "private brand" label. Similar comments were made and rejected at previous stages of rulemaking.

[1] Commissioners Bartley, Wadsworth, and Johnson absent.

Both of these requirements are important aids to enforcement where rapid inspection of large numbers of vehicles must be made.

One comment suggested that it would be misleading for a manufacturer to certify that the vehicle "conforms" to applicable standards, since the manufacturer has no control over the vehicle after it leaves his hands, and proposed that the certification be limited to the statement that the vehicle conformed at the time it was delivered to a distributor or dealer. The requirement for certification is not, however, limited to manufacturers, but extends to all distributors and importers as well. These parties satisfy this requirement by allowing the certification label to remain affixed to the vehicle. A distributor who alters a vehicle so that it does not conform to the manufacturer's certification, must certify that the vehicle as altered meets applicable standards or he is subject to penalties under the Act. A dealer who sells a vehicle after altering it so that it does not conform, would be subject to penalties under the Act, and prior parties would not be held responsible for the dealer's alterations. Any alterations that came about after a vehicle had been sold to a user would not be relevant to the question of conformity to applicable standards, as provided by section 108 (b)(1) of the Act.

One comment raised the question of who should certify a vehicle such as a boat trailer that is shipped complete but in unassembled form by its fabricator, such that it can be easily assembled without special equipment. The fabricator obviously has the technical knowledge on which certification should be based, but the subsequent assembler may be viewed as the "manufacturer" of the vehicle within the meaning of the Act. This question is part of the larger area of kits for the assembly of new vehicles or the renovation or alteration of existing ones. It is expected that separate regulations will be issued concerning standards applicable to such assemblers and their certification. As an interim measure, it has been determined that the purposes of the Act would be served by allowing the fabricator the option of treating itself as the certifying manufacturer under section 114 of the Act and affixing the label in a manner such that it will conform when the vehicle is assembled. Language to that effect is added to § 367.4(g)(1).

In § 367.4(e), describing the label location for motorcycles, the words "except the steering system" are added to the final phrase, "in a location such that it is easily readable without moving any part of the vehicle," in order to allow a location on the steering post that may be obscured when the steering system is turned to a certain position.

Effective date. Since these amendments do not impose substantial additional burdens relative to the regulations as previously issued, this part as amended shall continue to be effective for all motor vehicles manufactured on or after September 1, 1969.

In consideration of the foregoing, 49 CFR Part 367, Certification, is amended to read as set forth below. This amendment is issued under the authority of sections 112, 114, and 119 of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act (15 U.S.C. 1401, 1403, 1407) and the delegation of authority from the Secretary of Transportation to the Federal Highway Administrator, 49 CFR § 1.4(c).

Issued on July 7, 1969.

AUTHORITY: The provisions of this Part 367 issued under secs. 112, 114, and 119 of National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act; 15 U.S.C. 1401, 1403, 1407, and the delegation of authority from Secretary of Transportation to Federal Highway Administrator, 49 CFR 1.4(c).

§ 367.1 Purpose and scope.

The purpose of this part is to specify the content and location of, and other requirements for, the label or tag to be affixed to motor vehicles required by section 114 of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1966 (15 U.S.C. 1403) ("the Act") and to provide the consumer with information to assist him in determining which of the Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards (Part 371 of this chapter) ("Standards") are applicable to the vehicle.

§ 367.2 Application.

(a) This part applies to manufacturers and distributors of motor vehicles to which one or more standards are applicable, who deliver these vehicles to distributors or dealers for resale.

(b) In the case of imported motor vehicles, the requirement of affixing a label or tag applies to importers of vehicles, admitted to the United States under § 12.80(b)(2) of the joint regulations for importation of motor vehicles and equipment (19 CFR 12.80(b)(2)) to which the required labor or tag is not affixed.

§ 367.3 Definitions.

All terms that are defined in the Act and the rules and standards issued under its authority are used as defined therein.

§ 367.4 Requirements for manufacturers of motor vehicles.

(a) Each manufacturer of motor vehicles (except chassis-cabs) shall affix to each vehicle a label, of the type and in the manner described below, containing the statements specified in paragraph (g) of this section.

(b) The label shall, unless riveted, be permanently affixed in such a manner that it cannot be removed without destroying or defacing it.

(c) Except for trailers and motorcycles, the label shall be affixed to either the hinge pillar, door-latch post, or the door edge that meets the door-latch post, next to the driver's seating position, or if none of these locations is practicable, to the left side of the instrument panel. If none of these locations is practicable, notification of that fact, together with drawings or photographs showing a suggested alternate location in the same general area, shall be submitted for approval to the Director, National Highway Safety Bureau, Washington, D.C. 20591. The location of the label shall be such that it is easily readable without moving any part of the vehicle except an outer door.

(d) The label for trailers shall be affixed to a location on the forward half of the left side, such that it is easily readable from outside the vehicle without moving any part of the vehicle.

(e) The label for motorcycles shall be affixed to a permanent member of the vehicle as close as is practicable to the intersection of the steering post with the handle bars, in a location such that it is easily readable without moving any part of the vehicle except the steering system.

(f) The lettering on the label shall be of a color that contrasts with the background of the label.

(g) The label shall contain the following statements, in the English language, lettered in block capitals and numerals not less than three thirty-second of an inch high, in the order shown:

(1) Name of manufacturer: Except as provided in (i) and (ii) below, the full corporate or individual name of the actual assembler of the vehicle shall be spelled out, except that such abbreviations as "Co." or "Inc." and their foreign equivalents, and the first and middle initials of individuals, may be used. The name of the manufacturer shall be preceded by the words "Manufactured By" or "Mfd By". In the case of imported vehicles, where the label required by this section is affixed by a person other than the final assembler of the vehicle, the corporate or individual name of the person affixing the label shall also be placed on the label in the manner described in this paragraph, directly below the name of the final assembler.

(i) If a vehicle is assembled by a corporation that is controlled by another corporation that assumes responsibility for conformity with the standards, the name of the controlling corporation may be used.

(ii) If a vehicle is fabricated and delivered in complete but unassembled form, such that it is designed to be assembled without special machinery or tools, the fabricator of the vehicle may affix the label and name itself as the manufacturer for the purposes of this section.

(2) Month and year of manufacture: This shall be the time during which work was completed at the place of main assembly of the vehicle. It may be spelled out, as "June 1970", or expresed in numerals, as "6/70".

(3) The statement: THIS VEHICLE CONFORMS TO ALL APPLICABLE FEDERAL MOTOR VEHICLE SAFETY STANDARDS IN EFFECT ON THE DATE OF MANUFACTURE SHOWN ABOVE. The expression "U.S." or "U.S.A." may be inserted before the word "FEDERAL".

(4) Vehicle identification number.

(5) For multipurpose passenger vehicles, the words, "TYPE MULTIPURPOSE PASSENGER VEHICLE". No type designation is required of other types of vehicle.

§ 367.5 Requirements for manufacturers of chassis-cabs.

Manufacturers of chassis-cabs shall affix securely to the windshield or side window a label containing the information specified in § 371.13 "Labeling of chassis-cabs," of this chapter.

§ 367.6 Requirements for distributors of motor vehicles.

A distributor of a motor vehicle who does not alter the vehicle in a manner that affects compliance with applicable standards may satisfy the certification requirements of the Act by allowing a manufacturer's label that conforms to the requirements of this part to remain affixed to the vehicle. A distributor of a vehicle who alters a vehicle in a manner that affects compliance with applicable standards shall furnish to a dealer or other distributor to whom he delivers the vehicle a separate certification. The certification shall be on a label as described in § 367.4, except that its contents shall be in the following form:

THIS VEHICLE WAS ALTERED BY [name of distributor] IN [month and year in which alterations were completed] AND AS ALTERED IT CONFORMS TO ALL APPLICABLE FEDERAL MOTOR VEHICLE SAFETY STANDARDS IN EFFECT ON THE DATE OF ORIGINAL MANUFACTURE.

Chapter X—Interstate Commerce Commission

SUBCHAPTER A—GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

[S.O. 1031]

PART 1033—CAR SERVICE

Distribution of Refrigerator Cars

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Railroad Service Board, held in Washington, D.C., on the 2d day of July 1969.

It appearing, that an acute shortage of mechanical refrigerator cars exists in the areas served by the Southern Pacific Co. and the Union Pacific Railroad Co., and that shippers served by the Southern Pacific Co. and the Union Pacific Railroad Co. are being deprived of such cars required for loading highly perishable products, creating a great economic loss; that present regulations and practices with respect to the use, supply, control, movement, distribution, exchange, interchange, and return of such mechanical refrigerator cars owned by the Pacific Fruit Express Co., a wholly owned subsidiary of the Southern Pacific Co. and the Union Pacific Railroad Co., are ineffective. It is the opinion of the Commission that an emergency exists requiring immediate action to promote car service in the interest of the public and the commerce of the people. Accordingly, the Commission finds that notice and public procedure are impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and that good cause exists for making this order effective upon less than 30 days' notice.

It is ordered, That:

§ 1033.1031 Service Order No. 1031.

(a) Distribution of refrigerator cars. Each common carrier by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act shall observe, enforce, and obey the following rules, regulations, and practices with respect to its car service:

R.E.R. 371 issued by E. J. McFarland, or reissues thereof, as having mechanical designations RP or RPL, and numbered in series 100,000 through 458,100.

(2) Pacific Fruit Express Co. refrigerator cars, described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, available empty at a station other than a junction with the Southern Pacific Co. or Union Pacific Railroad Co., may be loaded with freight requiring protection from heat or cold if destined to any station on or routed via the Southern Pacific Co. or the Union Pacific Railroad Co.

(3) Pacific Fruit Express Co. refrigerator cars, described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, available empty at a junction with the Southern Pacific Co. or with the Union Pacific Railroad Co. must be delivered at that junction to either the Southern Pacific Co. or the Union Pacific Railroad Co., either empty or loaded with freight requiring protection from heat or cold.

(4) Pacific Fruit Express Co. refrigerator cars, described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, must not be backhauled empty, or held empty more than 24 hours awaiting placement for loading for the purpose of obtaining a load as authorized in subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph.

(b) Application. The provisions of this order shall apply to intrastate, interstate, and foreign commerce.

(c) Effective date. This order shall become effective at 12:01 a.m., July 7, 1969.

(d) Expiration date. This order shall expire at 11:59 p.m., September 13, 1969, unless otherwise modified, changed, or suspended by order of this Commission.

(Sec. 1, 12, 15, 24 Stat. 379, 383, 384, as amended; 49 U.S.C. 1, 12, 15, 17(2). Interprets or applies sec. 1(10-17), 15(4), 40 Stat. 101, as amended 54 Stat. 911; 49 U.S.C. 1(10-17), 15(4), 17(2))

It is further ordered, That a copy of this order and direction shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of all railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement; and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D.C., and by filing it with the Director, Office of the Federal Register.

By the Commission, Railroad Service Board.

Acting Secretary.

Proposed Rule Making

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Consumer and Marketing Service

[7 CFR Parts 1003, 1004, 1016]

[Dockets Nos. AO–293–A23, AO–160–A43, AO–312–A20]

MILK IN WASHINGTON, D.C., DELAWARE VALLEY, AND UPPER CHESAPEAKE BAY MARKETING AREAS

Notice of Hearing on Proposed Amendments to Tentative Marketing Agreements and Orders

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held at the Holiday Inn—Downtown, Lombard and Howard Streets, Baltimore, Md., beginning at 10:30 a.m., on August 4, 1969, with respect to proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreements and to the orders, regulating the handling of milk in the Washington, D.C., Delaware Valley, and Upper Chesapeake Bay marketing areas.

The public hearing is for the purpose of receiving evidence with respect to the economic and marketing conditions which relate to the proposed amendments, hereinafter set forth, and any appropriate modifications thereof, to the tentative marketing agreements and to the orders.

The issues raised by this proposal include whether the declared policy of the Act would tend to be effectuated by:

(a) Merger of two or more of the above marketing areas, in any combination thereof, including also the redefinition of marketing area for any separate or combined order to encompass part or all of the areas presently defined in the respective orders or proposed herein to be regulated; and

(b) The adoption of any of the proposed provisions, or appropriate modifications thereof, for any separate order or any combination of such orders, including a review of the appropriate pricing and pooling provisions of the orders whether to be separate or in any combination.

The issue of merging the marketing areas also raises the question of appropriate disposition of the producer-settlement funds, marketing service funds, and administrative funds accumulated under the respective orders.

The proposed amendments, set forth below, have not received the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

Proposed by Pennmarva Dairymen's Cooperative Federation, Inc.:

Proposal No. 1. Combine the Delaware Valley, Upper Chesapeake Bay, and Washington, D.C. marketing areas with the additional unregulated territory as proposed, and rename the expanded area as the "Middle Atlantic marketing area."

The complete regulatory terms for the combined and expanded area are proposed as follows:

§ 1004.1 Act.

"Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.).

(a) "Plant" means the land and buildings together with their surroundings, facilities and equipment, whether owned or operated by one or more persons, constituting a single operating unit or establishment at which milk or milk products are received from dairy farmers or processed or packaged. However, a separate establishment without storage facilities, used only for the purpose of transferring bulk milk from one tank truck to another tank truck, or only as a distribution depot for fluid milk products in transit for route disposition shall not be a plant under this definition.

(b) "Distributing plant" means a plant from which fluid milk products are disposed of during the month in the marketing area as route disposition.

(c) "Supply plant" means a plant from which fluid milk products are shipped during the month to a distributing plant.

§ 1004.8 Pool plant.

"Pool plant" means a plant (except an other order plant, a producer-handler plant, a plant specified in paragraph (f) of this section, or the plant of a handler pursuant to § 1004.10(e)) specified in paragraph (a) through (e) of this section.

(a) A distributing plant from which during any of the months of September through February, a volume equal to not less than 60 percent and during any of the months of March through August not less than 55 percent, of its receipts described in either subparagraph (1) or (2) of this paragraph, is disposed of as Class I milk in the form of fluid milk products and the volume disposed of as route disposition in the form of fluid milk products in the marketing area during the month is not less than 10 percent of such receipts.

(1) The milk received at such plant directly from dairy farmers (including milk diverted as producer milk pursuant to § 1004.15 by either the plant operator or by a cooperative association, but excluding the milk of dairy farmers for other markets) or from a cooperative association in its capacity as a handler pursuant to § 1004.10(c).

(2) Receipts of fluid milk products from other plants in the case of a plant with no receipts described in subparagraph (1) above.

(b) Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section, a supply plant from which during any of the months of September through February not less than 60 percent, and during any of the months of March through August not less than 50 percent, of the milk received from dairy farmers (including milk diverted as producer milk pursuant to § 1004.15 by either the plant operator or by a cooperative association) or from a cooperative association in the capacity as a handler pursuant to § 1004.10(c) is moved during the month to a distributing plant from which a volume of fluid milk products not less than 60 percent during any month of September through February, or 55 percent during any month of March through August, of its receipts of milk from dairy farmers, cooperative associations, and from other plants is disposed of as Class I milk in the form of fluid milk products, and the volume so disposed of as route disposition of fluid milk products in the marketing area during the month is not less than 10 percent of such receipts. However, a supply plant shall not be qualified pursuant to this paragraph in any month in which a greater proportion of its qualifying shipments are made to a plant(s) regulated under another Federal order than to plants regulated under this order.

(c) A supply plant that was a pool plant during each of the months of September through February pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section shall be a pool plant during the following months of March through August, unless written application is filed by the plant operator with the market administrator on or before the first day of such month, requesting the plant to be designated a nonpool plant for such month and each subsequent month through August during which it does not qualify pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section. However, the automatic pool plant status of a supply plant pursuant to this paragraph shall be canceled for any month during the March through August period that another supply plant is qualified for pooling by shipping fluid milk products to the same distributing plant(s) by which such automatic pooling was accomplished.

(d) A supply plant(s) not otherwise meeting the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section shall be considered to have met such provisions if:

(1) It is owned and operated by a handler who also operates a pool plant pursuant to § 1004.8(a);

(2) It is located outside the marketing area and is not a pool plant under another Federal order;

(3) The handler files a written request with the market administrator on or before the first day of September for pool plant status for such plant;

(4) The plant(s) in combination with the pool distributing plant meet the provisions of § 1004.8(a);

(5) The handler qualifies no other supply plant by actual shipments to such pool distributing plant; and

(c) As Class I milk, if transferred or diverted in bulk to a nonpool plant that is neither an other order plant nor a producer-handler plant, unless the requirements of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph are met, in which case the skim milk and butterfat so transferred or diverted shall be classified in accordance with the assignment resulting from subparagraph (3) of this paragraph:

(iv) Any remaining receipts from pool plants or other order plants shall be assigned to Class II: Provided, That if on inspection of the books and records of the nonpool plant the Market Administrator finds that the remaining unassigned receipts at such plant exceed the available Class II utilization, the transfer shall be classified as Class I up to the amount of such excess.

(d) As follows, if transferred to another order plant in excess of receipts from such plant in the same category as described in subparagraph (1), (2), or (3) of this paragraph:

(1) If transferred in packaged form, classification shall be in the classes to which allocated as a fluid milk product under the other order;

(2) If transferred in bulk form, classification shall be in the classes to which allocated as a fluid milk product under the other order (including allocation under the conditions set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph);

(3) If the operators of both the transferor and transferee plants so request in the reports of receipts and utilization filed with their respective market administrators, transfers in bulk form shall be classified as Class II to the extent of the Class II utilization (or comparable utilization under such other order) available for such assignment pursuant to the allocation provisions of the transferee order;

(4) If information concerning the classification to which allocated under the other order is not available to the market administrator for purposes of establishing classification pursuant to this paragraph, classification shall be as Class I, subject to adjustment when such information is available;

(5) For purposes of this paragraph, if the transferee order provides for more than two classes of utilization, milk allocated to a class consisting primarily of fluid milk products shall be classified as Class I, and milk allocated to other classes shall be classified as Class II; and

(6) If the form in which any fluid milk product is transferred to an other order plant is not defined as a fluid milk product under such other order, classification shall be in accordance with the provisions of § 1004.41.

§ 1004.45 Computation of skim milk and butterfat in each class.

For each month, the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and other obvious errors, the reports of receipts and utilization submitted pursuant to § 1004.30(a) by each handler and compute the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in each class at each of the plants of such handler, and the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class which was received from producers by a cooperative association handler pursuant to § 1004.10 (b) and (c) and was not received at a pool plant: Provided, That if any of the water contained in the milk from which a product is made is removed before the product is utilized or disposed of by a handler, the pounds of skim milk used or disposed of in such product shall be considered to be an amount equivalent to the nonfat milk solids contained in such products plus all the water originally associated with such solids.

§ 1004.46 Allocation of skim milk and butterfat classified.

After making the computations pursuant to § 1004.45, the market administrator shall determine each month the classification of milk received from producers by each cooperative association handler pursuant to § 1004.10 (b) and (c) which was not received at a pool plant, and the classification of milk received from producers and from cooperative association handlers pursuant to § 1004.10(c) at each pool plant for each handler as follows:

(a) Skim milk shall be allocated in the following manner:

(1) Subtract from the total pounds of skim milk in Class II the pounds of skim milk classified as Class II pursuant to § 1004.41(b)(5);

(2) Subtract from the total pounds of skim milk in Class I, the pounds of skim milk in receipts of certified milk in packaged form;

(3) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class the pounds of skim milk in fluid milk products received in packaged form from other order plants as follows, if the fluid products so received are classified and priced as Class I milk under such order or the equivalent thereof if assigned to Class I milk under this order:

(i) From Class II milk, the lesser of the pounds remaining, or 2 percent of such receipts; and

(ii) From Class I milk, the remainder of such receipts;

(4) Except for the first month this order is effective, subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class I, the pounds of skim milk in inventory of packaged fluid milk products on hand at the beginning of the month;

(5) Subtract in the order specified below from the pounds of skim milk remaining in each class, in series beginning with Class II, the pounds of skim milk in each of the following:

(i) Other source milk in a form other than that of a fluid milk product;

(ii) Receipts of fluid milk products from dairy farmers for other markets pursuant to § 1004.14(a) and (b) and from unidentified sources; and

(iii) Receipts of fluid milk products from a producer-handler, as defined under this or any other Federal order;

(6) Subtract, in the order specified below, from the pounds of skim milk remaining in Class II;

(i) The pounds of skim milk in receipts of fluid milk products, for which the handler requests Class II utilization, which were received from unregulated supply plants, from other order plants if not classified and priced pursuant to the order regulating the plant and from dairy farmers, for other markets pursuant to § 1004.14(b), but not in any case to exceed the pounds of skim milk remaining in Class II;

(ii) The pounds of skim milk remaining in receipts of other source milk in the form of fluid milk products from unregulated supply plants, from other order plants if not classified and priced pursuant to the order regulating such plant, and from dairy farmers for other markets pursuant to § 1004.14(b), if not assigned pursuant to subparagraphs (3) and (6)(i) of this paragraph, to the extent that the total of such receipts is in excess of the pounds of skim milk determined as follows:

(a) Multiply the pounds of skim milk remaining in Class I milk (exclusive of transfers between pool plants of the same handler) at all pool plants of the handler by 1.25;

(b) Subtract from the result the sum of the pounds of skim milk at all such plants in producer milk, receipts from pool plants of other handlers, from a cooperative association in its capacity as a handler pursuant to § 1004.10(c), in receipts from Order 2 pool bulk tank units and in receipts in bulk from other order plants which are classified and priced pursuant to the applicable order; and

(c)(1) Multiply any resulting plus quantity by the percentage that receipts of skim milk in other source milk in the form of fluid milk products from unregulated supply plants, from other order plants if not classified and priced pursuant to the order regulating such plant, and from dairy farmers for other markets pursuant to § 1004.14(c), remaining at the plant is of all such receipts remaining at all pool plants of such handler, after any deductions pursuant to subdivision (i) of this subparagraph.

(2) Should such computation result in a quantity to be subtracted from Class II which is in excess of the pounds of skim milk remaining in Class II, the pounds of skim milk in Class II, shall be increased to the quantity to be subtracted and the pounds of skim milk in Class I shall be decreased a like amount. In such case the utilization of skim milk at other pool plant(s) of such handler shall be adjusted in the reverse direction by an identical amount in sequence beginning with the nearest other pool plant of such handler at which such adjustment can be made.

(iii) The pounds of skim milk in receipts of fluid milk products in bulk from an other order plant in excess of similar transfers to such plant if classified and priced pursuant to the other order and if Class II utilization was requested by the operator of such plant and the transferee handler, but not in excess of the pounds of skim milk remaining in Class II milk;

(7) Subtract from the pounds of skim milk remaining in each class, in series beginning with Class II, the pounds of skim milk in inventory of fluid milk products in bulk (and for the first month this order is effective, in packaged fluid milk products) on hand at the beginning of the month;

(8) Add to the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class II milk, the pounds subtracted pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph;

(9)(i) Subtract from the pounds of skim milk remaining in each class, pro rata to the total pounds of skim milk remaining in each class in all pool plants of the receiving handler, the pounds of skim milk in receipt of fluid milk products from unregulated supply plants, from other order plants if not classified or priced pursuant to the order regulating such plant and from dairy farmers for other markets pursuant to § 1004.14(c), that were not subtracted pursuant to subparagraph (6) (i) or (ii) of this paragraph;

(ii) Should such proration result in the amount to be subtracted from any class exceeding the pounds of skim milk remaining in such class in the pool plant at which such skim milk was received, the pounds of skim milk in such class shall be increased to the amount to be subtracted and the pounds of skim milk in the other class shall be decreased a like amount. In such case the utilization of milk at other pool plant(s) of such handler shall be adjusted in the reverse direction by an identical amount in sequence beginning with the nearest other pool plant of such handler at which such adjustment can be made;

(10) Subtract from the pounds of skim milk remaining in each class, the pounds of skim milk in receipts of fluid milk products from Order 2 pool bulk tank units and in bulk from other order plants (except receipts from other order plants not classified and priced pursuant to the order regulating such plant) in excess in each case of similar transfers to the same plant, that were not subtracted pursuant to subparagraph (6)(iii) of this paragraph, pursuant to the following procedure:

(i) Subject to the provisions of subdivisions (ii) and (iii) of this subparagraph, such subtraction shall be pro rata to whichever of the following represents the higher proportion of Class II milk:

(a) The estimated utilization of skim milk in each class, by all handlers, as announced for the month pursuant to § 1004.22(1); or

(b) The pounds of skim milk in each class remaining at all pool plants of the handler;

(ii) Should proration pursuant to subdivision (i) of this subparagraph result in the total pounds of skim milk to be subtracted from Class II at all pool plants of the handler exceeding the pounds of skim milk remaining in Class II at such plants, the pounds of such excess shall be subtracted from the pounds of skim milk remaining in Class I after such proration at the pool plants at which received;

(iii) Except as provided in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, should proration pursuant to either subdivision (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph result in the amount to be subtracted from either class exceeding the pounds of skim milk remaining in such class in the pool plant at which such skim milk was received, the pounds of skim milk in such class shall be increased to the amount to be subtracted and the pounds of skim milk in the other class shall be decreased a like amount. In such case the utilization of milk at other pool plant(s) of such handler shall be adjusted in the reverse direction by an identical amount in sequence beginning with the nearest other pool plant of such handler at which such adjustment can be made;

(11) Subtract from the pounds of skim milk remaining in each class the pounds of skim milk received in fluid milk products from other pool plants and from a cooperative association in its capacity as a handler pursuant to § 1004.10(c) according to the classification assigned pursuant to § 1004.44(a); and

(12) If the pounds of skim milk remaining in both classes exceed the pounds of skim milk in producer milk, subtract such excess from the pounds of skim milk remaining in each class in series beginning with Class II. Any amount so subtracted shall be known as "overage";

(b) Butterfat shall be allocated in accordance with the procedure outlined for skim milk in paragraph (a) of this section; and

(c) Combine the amounts of skim milk and butterfat determined pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section into one total for each class and determine the weighted average butterfat content of producer milk in each class.

Minimum Prices

§ 1004.50 Class prices.

(a) Class I milk. For each month in each calendar quarter, the price per hundredweight of Class I milk shall be $7.17.

(b) Class II milk. The price per hundredweight of Class II milk shall be determined for each month as follows:

(1) Adjust the average price per hundredweight for manufacturing grade milk, f.o.b. plants in Wisconsin and Minnesota, as reported by the U.S. Department of Agriculture for the month, to a 3.5 percent butterfat basis by a butterfat differential rounded to the nearest one-tenth cent computed at 0.12 times the simple average of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago, as reported by the Department of Agriculture for the month. Such price shall be rounded to the nearest cent but shall not exceed a price computed as follows:

(i) Multiply by 4.2 the Chicago butter price specified in this subparagraph;

(ii) Multiply by 8.2 the weighted average of carlot prices per pound for nonfat dry milk solids, spray process, for human consumption, f.o.b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published for the period from the 26th day of the preceding month through the 25th day of the current month by the Department; and

(iii) From the sum of the results arrived at under subdivision (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph subtract 48 cents, and round to the nearest cent.

(2) Adjust the result obtained in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph by the amount shown below for the applicable month:

Month	Amount
January	+.05
February	+.04
March	−.03
April	−.07
May	−.10
June	−.09
July	+.05
August	+.12
September	+.08
October	+.08
November	+.08
December	+.08

§ 1004.51 Butterfat differentials to handlers.

For milk containing more or less than 3.5 percent butterfat, the class prices for the month calculated pursuant to § 1004.50 shall be increased or decreased, respectively, for each one-tenth of 1 percent variation in butterfat content by the appropriate rate, rounded in each case to the nearest one-tenth cent determined as follows:

(a) Class I milk. Divide by 35 an amount calculated as follows: Add all market quotations (using the midpoint of any weekly range as one quotation) of prices per 40-quart can of fresh sweet cream of bottling quality of 40 percent butterfat content, not including prices for cream carrying special municipal approvals, reported at Philadelphia for each week ending within the month by the Department of Agriculture, divide by the number of quotations, subtract $2, divide by 9.7143: Provided, That such butterfat differential shall not be less than that provided pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Class II milk. Multiply by 0.120 the simple average of the daily wholesale selling prices per pound (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) reported by the period between the 16th day of the preceding month and the 15th day, inclusive, of the current month by the Department of Agriculture for Grade A (92-score) butter in the New York City market.

§ 1004.52 Location differentials to handlers.

(a) For that milk received from producers and from cooperative association handlers pursuant to § 1004.10(c) at a pool plant in Pennsylvania or New Jersey located 55 miles or more by shortest highway distance, as determined by the market administrator from the nearest of the City Halls in Philadelphia, Pa.; Trenton or Atlantic City, N.J., or outside Pennsylvania and New Jersey and located 75 miles or more from the zero milestone in Washington, D.C., or City Hall in Baltimore, Md., or Salisbury, Md., and classified as Class I milk or assigned Class I location adjustment credit pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section and for other source milk for which a location adjustment is applicable, the Class I price shall be reduced at the rate set forth in the following schedule according to the location of the pool plant where such milk is received from producers, subject to the exception contained in § 1004.15(d):

Rate per hundredweight

	Cents
Distance of plant from nearest city base point:
55 miles	9.0
Each additional 10 miles or fraction thereof an additional	1.5

(b) For purposes of calculating such adjustment, transfers between pool plants shall be assigned to Class I disposition at the transferee plant in an amount not in excess of that by which such Class I disposition exceeds 95 percent of the sum of receipts at such plant from producers, cooperative associations pursuant to § 1004.10(c), and the pounds assigned as Class I to receipts from other order plants and unregulated supply plants and from dairy farmers for other markets pursuant to § 1004.14(b). Such assignment is to be made first to transferor plants at which no location adjustment credit is applicable and then in sequence beginning with the plant at which the least location adjustment would apply: Provided, That for purposes of this paragraph transfers from a pool plant to a second pool plant which are in turn transferred to a third pool plant shall be treated as though the transfer was direct from the originating plant to the plant of final receipt.

(c) For milk received from producers at a pool plant located 55 to 75 miles by the shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator from the nearest of the City Halls in Philadelphia, Pa.; Trenton or Atlantic City, N.J.; and classified as Class II milk (except that for which a Class I location differential was assigned pursuant to paragraph (b)), the Class II price shall be reduced at the rate set forth in the following schedule according to the location of the pool plant where such milk was received from producers, subject to the exception contained in § 1004.15(d):

Rate per hundredweight

	Cents
Distance of plant from nearest City Hall:
55 to 70 miles	5.0
Each additional 70 miles or fraction thereof an additional	1.0

§ 1004.53 Equivalent prices or indexes.

If for any reason a price or index specified by this part for use in computing class prices or other purposes is not reported or published in the manner described in this part, the market administrator shall use a price or index determined by the Secretary to be equivalent or comparable with the factor which is specified

APPLICATION OF PROVISIONS

§ 1004.60 Producer-handler.

Sections 1004.40 through 1004.46, 1004.50 through 1004.53, 1004.62, 1004.70, 1004.71 and 1004.80 through 1004.89a shall not apply to a producer-handler.

§ 1004.61 Plants subject to other Federal orders.

A plant specified in paragraph (a) or (b) of this section shall be considered as a nonpool plant except that the operator of such plant shall, with respect to the total receipts and utilization or disposition of skim milk and butterfat at the plant, make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may require (in lieu of the reports required pursuant to § 1004.30) and allow verification of such reports by the market administrator. In addition, each handler operating an Order 2 pool plant from which any unpriced milk is disposed of as route disposition in the marketing area of this order shall, on or before the 15th day after the end of the month make payments to the producer-settlement fund of the difference between the announced Class I price under this order and the announced uniform price under Order 2, both applicable at his plant location, on the volume of such milk so disposed, and pay the administrative assessment provided in § 1004.88 with respect to such milk.

(a) Any plant qualified pursuant to § 1004.8(a) which would be subject to the classification and pricing provisions of another order issued pursuant to the Act unless the Secretary determines that a greater volume of Class I milk is disposed of from such plant on routes in the Middle Atlantic marketing area than in a marketing area regulated pursuant to such other order;
