

Tekneka T180 is an accurate and ultra-fast responsive foldable thermometer that comes with 3 seconds responsive time thermocouple sensor ranging from -10 to 300°C (14 to 572°F). It has a foldable 4-inch long penetration probe which can be released by push button. The large 1.8-inch backlight LED display can enable users to view the measured values at any environmental condition. The T180 has a calibration adjustment function to bring back its accuracy limits without any effort. Users can hang it on the kitchen hook and strong magnetic backing allows it to stick on metal surfaces. This precise sensor gives you an accurate measured value within 3 seconds of the display refresh interval. It is powered by 2 x 1.5V AAA batteries, and the display can be switched off automatically for a long standby time.
