

It's the same old story, someone else's mistake has become your problem. The fools, the mad fools.. The scientists did it for fun, they must have done - no one wanted massive mutated insect-like droids, the ugly by-products of early bio-mechanical experiments with powerful x-rays, not me and certainly not you. Dumped on the planet Ryxx and left to stagnate and fade out - the sickening mutations not only survived but thrived. Their intelligence circuits warped, left seeking revenge for their tortured past. Fears of an all-out attack have forced the Federation into action! Your mission brief is simple.. Fly to Ryxx, into the heart of the station that the evil beings have made their lair.. and blow the whole thing sky-high.
