In the year 2525 the kingdom of TECHmania is challenged by the evil Lord CARAZ. He sends his TECH-cycle-drivers, the Black Leather Brigade (The TARGONoids) to beat the squad of King TECH. You are the last surviving protector of the King's elite squad. If you fail to to beat the enemy you lose and TECHmania will be occupied by the evil force of Lord CARAZ and the Dark Ages will again return to the land.

So be BRAVE.....

TECHPLAY:

The object is to surround the enemy and trap them, by cutting off their route, which results in a fatal ending for the unfortunate TECH-cycle driver! Strategy and speed of thought are essential for success. Various moves can be employed to trap or corner your opponents, but be aware, they can do the same to you! Just when you think you have every route blocked, you could find that it is you that was fooled into moving the wrong way. Forward planning is vital if you are to come out on top and defeat the baddies! Avoid the turrets, walls and ditches that will appear in later levels, for collision with these is fatal!
