

AMIGA

TIME MACHINE

"Professor Potts?"

"Yes!" you swing round curious to see who was calling your name.

Big and ugly.

"No! Not the machine..."

And as the terrorists' bomb ignites and blasts, scattering thousands of fragments into the unsuspecting sky; you fall, tumbling and tumbling into a vortex of historical visions.

Falling ... Falling ... Then ... it stops .....

Stranded in a prehistoric time, the sudden realisation of the challenge before you chills your bones. The only way to return to your time zone is to create your own and Man's future.

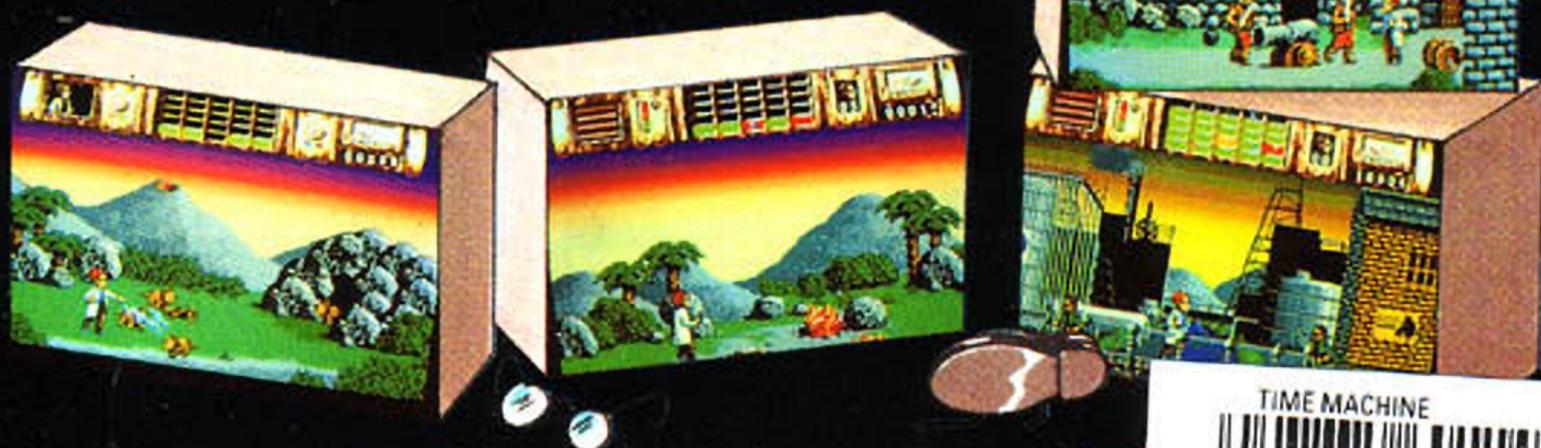

You must manipulate history and use your ingenuity to overcome the environments and creatures you will encounter.

Hitch a ride from a pterodactyl, stop the baboons from turning blue, make friends with stone-age man and invent the wheel!

With your resourcefulness and nerve tested to the full, can you stop the bomb attack and rescue the time machine, now 10 million years in the future?
