AVANTAGE[™]

The Desert Fox. From the turret of his Tiger tank he swept across the searing North African desert with speed and cunning, leaving behind miles and miles of blood. Both his awed Italian allies and his dazed British adversaries had never encountered such a relentless German general before.

"I sniff through the country like a fox," he would say as he stalked the enemy with the canny instincts of a natural predator. The nickname stuck. Field Marshall Erwin Rommel would go down in history as "The Desert Fox."

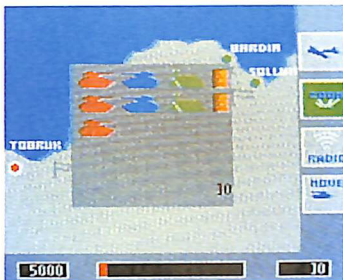

The Master of Armored Warfare. Now, you have been selected to engage in a ruthless campaign against World War II's most deadly armored arsenal... Rommel's "Afrika Korp." Your code name... "Lone Wolf." It is up to you to defend allied supply depots and convoys as you take on every bit of firepower the Third Reich has to offer: Tiger Tanks, Stuka Dive Bombers, Anti-Tank guns.

You must protect your Allied supply convoy by shooting down Rommel's Stuka divebombers with anti-aircraft fire.

Realistic Voice Simulation

Plan your offensive strategy as you intercept enemy radio transmissions—retaliate with a Spitfire air strike. But beware! Your opponent is fearless and calculating. Every decision you make, every battle you undertake, could be the difference between Allied victory and defeat.

In short, Lone Wolf, the challenge awaits you. And if you fail in your destiny as the complete warrior, your final conflict—a head to head tank battle with the mighty Desert Fox himself—will be your last.

Thrilling Combat Simulations. ■ Battle head-to-head with Tiger Tanks ■ Fend off strafing runs from Stuka divebombers ■ Defend against anti-tank gun ambush ■ Maneuver through lethal mine fields ■ Order Spitfire air strikes ■ Protect your convoy from Rommel's raids

From your command post assess your damage and locate the enemy. Intercept Rommel's radio messages to thwart his next move.
