CALIFORNIA CHALLENGE™

TEST DRIVE II SCENERY DISK

Designed by Distinctive Software, Inc.

A border-to-border race through the Golden State!

The most picturesque landscape in the world is the setting for this gruelling and demanding race. It's described here by stages—but there are no pauses once you've embarked on this competition!

The California/Oregon Border to the Trees of Mystery.

The sign says "Welcome To California"—but don't expect to stay long. The race begins at the border and immediately catapults you down a twisting redwood highway.

Trees of Mystery to Eureka. Hold on tight. The roads are as gnarled as the trees. Handling is paramount. The lush forest and oceanscapes may be beautiful but one errant glance could pile you head-on into a logging truck.

Eureka to Rockport. Prepare to climb. This stretch starts off like a ride on a speeding escalator—then the bottom drops out. Definitely not for the faint-hearted. Best to keep one eye on the road and the other on the elevation signs.

Rockport to San Francisco. No stopping for souvenirs in the small coastal towns. Time to get moving. Blast down 101, through the tunnel near Mill Valley, then feast your eyes on the famous Golden Gate Bridge and city skyline.

San Francisco to Carmel. Grab your sourdough to-go and hit the pedal. Infamous Devil's Slide is a cliff road that takes no prisoners, and the heavy traffic makes even the locals sweat. Shoot past Santa Cruz and wind your way down the Monterey Peninsula.

Carmel to Santa Barbara. The view from the vistas is pretty as a picture. Amble through the towering redwoods of Big Sur, then zip past a lighthouse off the Santa Barbara coast. No time for California Dreamin'. The snakelike curves, narrow bridges and undulating roadway demand your full attention.

Santa Barbara to Mexico. What makes the Beach Boys sing? Take a gander out of your window. Sunny Santa Monica. Del Mar and La Jolla beach. Wave adios to the palm trees, weave down that L.A. freeway and make a run for the border.
