Hocus Focus

Editors, I hate them!

"Jeremy" he yelled. He always yells when sales at the Daily Shocker are falling and he hasn't got a front page scoop.

"Simple little job", he said. "Will give you a chance to prove yourself - all you have to do is take a few photos!"

"My mate at Marylebone Cop Shop claims that Special Branch have just arrested Professor Augustus Doppler and that he had enough patent applications on him to keep the front page covered for weeks. I already have the headline written 'Police pounce on Potty Professor's Patent Palace'. Go and get the pics whilst I stay here and write the story."

"Near Kew Gardens", he said. "Be careful lad and be back before three. The Daily Stunt won't get wind of this until then!"

That's how I found myself under Kew Gardens being chased by aliens and glowing in the dark from a radiation overdose. Wait till I get back to Fleet Street!
