

SCREEN SHOT REPRESENTS C64/128 VERSION

KILLER RING

The idea behind the game is to shoot anything that moves, this does not include family pets (except poodles).

If it moves, shoot it, if it doesn't, shoot it anyway.

If by some freak chance you should reach the spaceman, then blow out his heart for some extra bonus points!

Each time you play difficulty increases! (providing you don't turn off!)

K-RING Cupcakes

$\frac{1}{3}$ cup shortening
 2 cups sifted cake flour
 1 cup sugar
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 $\frac{3}{4}$ teaspoon salt
 $\frac{3}{4}$ cup milk
 1 unbeaten egg
 1 teaspoon vanilla

OVEN 375°

Stir shortening just to soften. Sift in dry ingredients. Add $\frac{1}{2}$ the milk and the egg; mix until all flour is dampened. Then beat vigorously 2 minutes. Add remaining milk and vanilla; beat 1 minute longer.

Fill paper-lined cupcake pans $\frac{1}{2}$ full. Bake in moderate oven (375°) 25 to 30 minutes. Makes 18 to 20 cupcakes.

High-altitude changes

If you happen to live in a high-altitude region (3,000 feet above sea level and up), you may find that many cakes will tend to fall and give unpredictable results. But here is a general guide you may follow to make adjustments in the baking powder, liquid, and sugar proportions.

	3,000 ft.	5,000	7,000
Liquid: add for each cup	1-2 table-spoons	2-3 table-spoons	3-4 table-spoons
Baking powder: decrease for each teaspoon	$\frac{1}{8}$ tea-spoon	$\frac{1}{8}$ - $\frac{1}{4}$ tea-spoon	$\frac{1}{4}$ - $\frac{1}{2}$ tea-spoon
Sugar: decrease for each cup	no change	usually no change	1-2 table-spoons

These are not hard and fast rules. Since each recipe is different in its proportion of ingredients and richness, you may have to experiment a few times with each recipe to discover the best proportions.
