

HUMAN-LIKE BEINGS ACTUALLY FOUND LIVING INSIDE COMPUTERS

After years of speculation and months of intensive work, the Activision Little Computer People Research Group (ALCPRG) has successfully discovered and actually drawn out dozens of small, living creatures who have been trapped in the confines of standard, store-bought computers – just like yours.

And now, an inexpensive commercial version of the actual laboratory design is available for your use. Yes, you can own your very own 2½ storey House-on-a-Cassette and that means you can soon meet a Little Computer Person residing inside your computer. Just look at some of the things you and your new-found friend can do.

Here's What Your Little Computer Person Can Do

- ☐ Moves right into his new house. Lives in and utilizes all rooms.
- ☐ Most are neat and clean – they brush their teeth, take showers and more.
- ☐ Quite a chef. He loves to cook and, of course, sample his own wares.
- ☐ All Little Computer People are accomplished pianists.
- ☐ Watch out Travolta – your Little Computer Person dances and does aerobics regularly.

Here's What You Can Do:

- ☐ Be a gift-giver. Leaving presents for your Little Computer Person is a great feeling.
- ☐ Use PPR – positive personality reinforcement – it's a super way to acknowledge your Little Computer Person's importance to you.
- ☐ Provide the basics – food and water. It's a real responsibility.
- ☐ Just watch and observe. There's so much we have to learn about these people.

Look At All You Get:

- ☐ The fabulous 2½ storey House-on-a-Cassette research software.
- ☐ A special Edition Wall Chart.
- ☐ Authorised "Deed" which enables you to register your House-on-a-Cassette.
