MICRO MUD

THE CELEBRATED MULTI-USER DUNGEON game is now available to home computer owners. You can build up your skills and speed for MUD without the phone bills!

If you have already "logged-on" to mainframe MUD you will know all about the addictive qualities of this unique game. In MICRO MUD the computer simulates fellow players - a game can contain up to 10 smart opponents also participating (from a choice of 100 different personalities).

There are 400 atmospheric locations for you to map and explore, with the aim of scoring as many points as possible to increase your level, and building up your personal attributes of strength, stamina and dexterity. There are 10 levels in total, from Novice to Witch or Wizard, each successive level increases your ability in the game. There are commands and spells at your disposal, although you will have to build skills to use them properly. All of the well-known (and loved) features of mainframe MUD are incorporated in this excellent simulation.

For months the watering places where adventurers gather had been full of rumours about a fabulous land cut off from the world by mountains and which contained immeasurable wealth: a land which was said to exercise so strong a grip over its inhabitants that many adventurers never returned from it; a land ruled by all-powerful wizards and witches who were said to delight in confusing the tenderfoot adventurers who approached them; a land where magic exercised a powerful sway and wise adventurers were advised to keep their weaponry close to hand.

One summer I set out to find MUD. "
