Your office serves as the communications center in this high-powered simulation.

Search the globe for the most profitable offshore and interior oilfield concessions.

Select the type and quantity of the storage tanks needed to hold the gushing black crude.

Race the computer as you try to build a pipeline and bring your oil to market.

The geology of the drilling site affects your ability to reach the oil in this action sequence.

Hire an investigator to protect you from the competition or instigate a shady maneuver.

...and guide your own company in a search for the world's most treasured resource — "Black Gold." Millions of dollars ride on each of your split-second decisions as you buy and sell oilfields, build pipelines, drill for oil and race to bury your competitors.

- Sabotage a rival and protect your own assets in this intense simulation of life at the top of the oil industry.
- Select each scenario — from a quick race for cash to a ruthless long-term battle for survival.
- Match wits with the computer or compete with up to 3 friends in a heated confrontation.
- Master exciting action sequences — drilling, extinguishing fires and building pipelines.
- Track your progress with newspaper headlines, telex messages and computer displays.
- Buy oilfields, surveys and storage tanks, sign delivery contracts and monitor cash flow.
