When you're living in the city you got to be tough
 'Cos the alleys are dark and the streets are rough
 I'm a cat who knows what I want from life
 But I gotta fight hard, gotta do things right
 If you're looking for a rumble and the rumble looks back
 You had better know how to survive the attack
 There are cats who fight and there are cats who run
 If you know what you're doing you can pick the right ones
 In the sky there is danger, on the street there is fear
 You will need 9 lives to survive around here
 Better plan your moves, better watch your step
 'Cos it's only 8-30 and the night's young yet
 Take the roof, take the street, take the weight off your feet

COMMODORE CASSETTE

You have got to be kidding if you call this neat
 I'm a cat all right, but I must insist
 Any sensible creature wouldn't live like this
 When you try to start messing with the likes of me
 You had better have skills in dentistry
 If I can't use claws I can use my head
 Maaan, here's a pussy who can nut you dead
 So you'd better just listen to the rap I'm bustin'
 - In this life you know there's no trustin'
 Any man any bird any fish any rat
 Any creature on Earth
 And especially us CATS!

Grandmaster Cat

PLAYING THE GAME

You're out to prove you're the meanest cat in town and take control of all the territories in the neighbourhood. To do this you must collect all the fish bones in the street as you prowls the low light areas of the city. Once you have them all, you can move on to the next territory, and so on. However life is not so easy, the local kitty-hawks and hedgehogs are after your tail, and the slimy toads will drain your energy. Eating sparrows and mice will replenish your energy. Of course, other cats will take exception to you taking over, so expect a cat fight or two. Fleas are another problem; they will take a liking to your furry body, and if you pick up more than ten you're a dead puss. Finally, BEWARE OF THE DOG!
