

ON-COURT™ TENNIS

It shouldn't be this tough. You've played this guy a hundred times, but today the conditions were right for your win.

You chose a clay court, because it's your best surface. You chose the best three-out-of-five sets, because you know you've got more endurance. But your opponent keeps hanging in.

Everything you try, he gets. Deep volleys. Drop shots. Lobs. Slams. It seems the harder you play, the harder he plays.

Frustrating? A little. Challenging? Absolutely. That's what real tennis is all about—even when you think everything is going to go your way, your opponent may have other plans.

For the best strategy, action and challenge you can find in computer tennis, you're wanted ON-COURT.

ALL TENNIS GAMES ARE NOT CREATED EQUAL

Over the years, game designers have brought several versions of "tennis" to the home screen. Unfortunately, they all resemble Atari's ten year old classic, Pong™. Good games all, but not real tennis.

PLAY AGAINST WORLD-CLASS COMPUTER PLAYERS

When you play solitaire against the computer, you'll be in for the match of your life, rookie or pro. That's because the computer players (there are four to choose from) play like their real life counterparts. And their play intelligence "floats" according to your skill. So while they like to keep you in a match, it'll take more than luck to beat them and join Gamestar's exclusive "Top Seeds" club.

ON-COURT™ TENNIS IS UNIQUE

ON-COURT™ Tennis by Gamestar was not created equal—it was created better. Over eight months in development, ON-COURT™ Tennis captures the play and feel of real tennis, not Pong™. With Player Perspective Graphics™ so realistic, you feel like you're on the court. With full racquet control over groundstrokes (angle & spin), serves, lobs and smashes. And with the kind of strategic choices you just can't get in a Pong™-like tennis game.

So whether you play tennis for a living or just wish you did, ON-COURT™ Tennis is ready now on the Commodore 64™ at your nearest software dealer. Or write GAMESTAR, 1302 State Street, Santa Barbara, CA 93101 or call 805-963-3487 for more information. Watch our for GAMESTAR—We play to win!
