PARATROOPERS

RABBIT

They're not dropping into your bunker for a cup of tea. Their mission is to wipe you out, and only a handful of them need to land before they bring in a tank to finish you off.

Your only hope is to blast the Paratroopers and their helicopters out of the sky before they are able to attack your command post.

Victory is elusive. The price of defeat is oblivion.

Loading Instructions

To load this program into your Commodore 64's memory, first ensure that the cassette deck is properly connected and (to avoid interference) as far away from your television and power supply as possible. Place the fully rewound cassette in the cassette deck then hold down the "SHIFT" key and press the "RUN/STOP" key, press play on tape, the screen will go blank. After about 15 seconds the game name will be displayed. Depress the C key. The screen will again go blank, now wait for the game to automatically load and run.

Playing Instructions

It gets awfully lonely sitting on your own in a bunker, with only a cold greasy ack ack gun to converse with whilst waiting for the enemy to drop in. But be warned, this ain't no social visit.

Your task is to prevent the invading forces from landing. You must shoot the helicopters and paratroopers as they descend. But be careful, don't get trigger happy, that ammunition is scarce and you lose points every time you fire. So don't end up with a negative score. Beware the bomber planes, their missiles are deadly accurate.

You lose the game if your bunker is hit by descending paratroopers or missiles also if you allow five paratroopers to land and man the tank which will drive out and blow you into oblivion.
