PREDATOR™

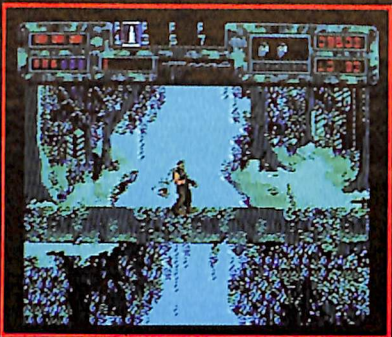

"IF IT BLEEDS, WE CAN KILL IT"

As Major Dutch Schaefer, you face the Predator – the alien hunter who kills for sport. It's wasted your entire squad, and you're next.

It skins men alive and collects human skulls. It kills by ripping out your spine. It's waiting. And watching.

You're a killing machine with automatic weapons, guns, grenades, and flame throwers to cut your way through 30 screens of non-stop terror.

You cross the river on a rotting log. A blast from the Predator takes off most of your right shoulder. You can quit, or you can pull yourself together and fight on.

In Predator-Vision, the hunter lines up his sights and unleashes a blast of alien energy that can cut a man in half. Good thing you love a challenge.

It's a shooting gallery, as enemy soldiers sneak through the jungle and take potshots from the barracks. You're one target that knows how to fight back.
