

CORRECTIONS TO THE SPY VS SPY ARCTIC ANTICS MANUAL

SNOWBALL FIGHTS

To engage in a snowball fight Spies must first enter the same quadrant.

To make and throw a snowball do the following:

1. Stand in snow (not ice).
2. Get in position and place your Spy so that he is facing where you want the snowballs to land. Make sure you are not standing over any object in the snow.
3. Depress the joystick button and while keeping it depressed push the joystick itself in the direction of the throw.
4. Repeat step 3 above each time you wish to throw a new snowball.

NOTE: If you are standing over an object in the snow when you depress the joystick button you will pick that item up. If that happens, press the joystick button once again. The object will drop or enter your Trapulator. Next Move to a clear spot in the snow and follow the instructions in step 3 above.

TNT AND DETONATING PLUNGER

Use dynamite to blow up your opponent the sticks of TNT are limited but they can be used by either Spy. These can be buried in the snow in any desired location. Remember which ones you buried and where. Only you can move a stick of dynamite that you buried without it exploding. In order to detonate TNT by remote control, each Spy may only use the plunger which matches his colour.

To use your plunger:

1. Find your plunger and store it in your Trapulator.
2. Next find and bury sticks of TNT.
3. Observe the movements of your opponent. If he approaches dynamite that you have buried, access the Trapulator and select the Plunger.
4. With the plunger in hand depress the Joystick button and while keeping it depressed, pull the joystick itself towards you.

PLEASE NOTE: You can only use the igloos to increase your body heat, not to hide any objects.
