The heat is on!

The Falcons are down by 6 with 45 seconds left in the 4th quarter.

Radar fakes left then throws a bomb to Vic. Complete! Vic heads for the end zone, dodging tackles, tin cans and parked cars. He's at the 30...the 20...Watch out for that oil slick!...the 10...Touchdown! The Falcons clinch the Oak Street playoffs, with three seconds to spare.

The grittiest, greasiest, gutsiest football anywhere.

You'll play smack in the middle of a city street or construction site. So if you're low on street smarts, you'll end up with your backside in a mud puddle. And your score in the gutter.

Start by picking your team from nine neighborhood players. Give 'em a little pep talk. Call the first play. Then pull on those pads because it's time to knock heads!

- ▶ Complete with a Playmaker so you can design your own mean maneuvers. Or, select plays from the computerized playbook.
- ▶ Pick your team from a group of neighborhood kids each with different skills, from super star quarterbacks to super slow receivers.
- ▶ It's brutal! A 3 on 3 tackle game on a city street or construction site.
- ▶ Play against a friend or the computer, with beginner and advanced levels.

These neighborhood players can be anything but neighborly.

Huddle up and prepare for combat.

Dana stretches for a sideline pass as Vic races to make the tackle.

The Killer Playbook—your secret weapon.
