“A Cheesy Pizza Story”

The president was exhausted and confused. Everyone quizzed him as to why. He couldn't give a reason. He had a puzzled look on his face. Everybody could sense his anxiety.

The president realized the exact reason. This is not an exaggeration. Everyone was surprised when the president spoke up. “Yes. I now remember the size of the pizza. I want a large pizza with extra mozzarella cheese.” Has he lost his mind?

Magazines printed articles saying, “The president is crazy!”

(Yes, I know it's a cheesy story.)
