"Rick and the Crickets"

Rick traveled from the Arctic to the Baltic. When sailing through the tropics, he lacked energy and felt sick.

The ship's doctor suggested, "Don't panic. Relax and eat exotic crickets." Rick responded, "I don't want to nitpick, but only a lunatic would eat crickets!" The doctor reassured him, "I am not a fanatic. This is not a gimmick. Protein from crickets will make you energetic. Stop being a tough critic and trust my academic training."

Rick picked the thickest cricket. He licked its leg, and then the cricket kicked him in his nose! Rick swallowed the exotic bug. His throat tickled. He quickly ate all the crickets.

Rick admitted to the doctor, "That did the trick. I no longer feel sick. Thank you very much."
