"The Air Makes Me Choke"

I awoke this morning at camp. The air was hot and filled with smoke. I felt like I was having a heatstroke. I wish I had a soda, perhaps a Coke. Instead, the polluted (dirty) air made me choke. Along came a fireman, and he soaked (wet) a burning oak tree with water.

I poked the fireman on his shoulder and spoke these words, "Thanks for not letting me croak (die)."
