

#48 br Advanced "No Broken Bones"

On a breezy day, I jumped on a bronco, and then pulled down the brim of my hat. I had to brace myself for a rough ride.

The bronco bucked (an animal that leaps and quickly comes down) and I flew off its back. My brain abruptly (suddenly, unexpected) stopped.

I was knocked out!

Thankfully, I did not break any bones in my brush with death.

I think kissing a cobra on a beach in Brazil would be safer than riding a bronco.

Would you ride a bronco?
