

"The Office Party"

Sight Word #229 office

A man, who worked in an office, was intrigued at the idea of having an extra tongue attached to his hand.

Why?

There is an office party every Friday that serves ice cream.

He would be able to eat more than his fair share.

The man went to a doctor's office to get the tongue sewed onto his hand.

The price was a bargain.

At the next office party, he was ready for the ice cream.

Sadly, everybody wanted to shake his hand,
gross!

The man in the office died of a disease.

He is now in a morgue
