

"How Many Tiers?"

Sight Word #251 tier

Narrator: A woman leaves a voicemail on how many tiers she wants for her wedding cake to be, five tiers.

~one week later~

Woman: I am here for my five-tiered cake.

Man: Here you go.

Woman: Wow, that is a big cake!

~at the wedding~

Woman: There are spare tires in the cake!

Man: Listen to your voicemail; I will forward it to you. You ordered a cake with five tires.

Woman: Sorry, I did not pronounce tier correctly. It sounded like tire, not tier.

Woman: I have my receipt. May I please have a refund?
