

"A Biscuit Is Not a Cookie!"

Sight Word #292 biscuit

Let me make this simple for my British friends.

A cookie is a cookie,
and a biscuit is a biscuit.

A biscuit goes well with mashed potatoes and gravy.

A cookie goes well with milk.

Chocolate chips are baked with cookies,
not biscuits.

You can call banana a barrel,
and it would still be a banana.

Therefore, if you call biscuit a cookie,
it is still a biscuit!
