

(present) pull (past) pulled (past participle) pulled

Present tense/Base form Shall I help him pull his car?

Simple past Last time I pulled a car, my legs were sore for three days.

Past participle (add a helping verb) I don't think he has ever pulled a car before!

Adverbs, such as ever, just, etc., can be placed between the helping verb and main verb.

Present participle (pulling) Is he tired of pulling his car?

3rd person, present singular (pulls) No, he pulls his car to work every day.

Infinitive (to pull) Maybe tomorrow, you should try to pull your car.