

(present) spring (past) sprang (past participle) sprung

Present tense/Base form If that is a spider, I will spring from my chair. Spring as a verb is to jump or move quickly.

Simple past I sprang from my chair the last time a spider scared me.

Past participle (add a helping verb) The spider could have sprung upon me, but it rested on the floor.

Present participle (springing) If an insect starts springing on me, I am running!

3rd person, present singular (springs) It springs on me when I fall asleep.

Infinitive (to spring) Watch closely, a frog is going to spring out of the water.