COVID19 – Evidence Of Global Fraud

Iain Davis

C OVID 19, and the subsequent governmental responses, appear to be part of an international conspiracy to commit fraud. It seems there is no evidence that a virus called SARS-CoV-2 causes a disease called COVID 19.

Sometimes you have to go with your gut. I am not an expert in genetics and, as ever, stand to be corrected. However my attention was drawn to some research published by the Spanish medical journal D-Salud-Discovery. Their advisory board of eminently qualified physicians and scientists lends further credibility to their research. Their claim is astounding.

The genetic primers and probes used in RT-PCR tests to identify SARS-CoV-2 do not target anything specific. I followed the search techniques outlined in this English translation of their report and can corroborate the accuracy of their claims about the nucleotide sequences listed in the World Health Organisations protocols. You can do the same.

D-Salud-Discovery state there are no tests capable of identifying SARS-CoV-2. Consequently, all claims about the alleged impact of COVID 19 on population health are groundless.

The entire official COVID 19 narrative is a deception. Ostensibly, there is no scientific foundation for any part of it.

If these claims are accurate we can state that there is no evidence of a pandemic, merely the illusion of one. We have suffered incalculable loss for no evident reason, other than the ambitions of unscrupulous despots who wish to transform the global economy and our society to suit their purposes.

In doing so this "parasite class" have potentially committed countless crimes. These crimes can and should be investigated and prosecuted in a court of law.

same family as SARS-CoV and MERS-CoV) via next generation sequencing (NGS) from cultured virus or directly from samples received from several pneumonia patients.”

The WHO's claim is that the SARS-CoV-2 virus causes the disease COVID-19. They also allege this virus has been clearly identified by researchers in Wuhan.

In the WHO's Novel Coronavirus 2019-nCov Situation Report 1, they state:

“ The Chinese authorities identified a new type of coronavirus, which was isolated on 7 January 2020..... On 12 January 2020, China shared the genetic sequence of the novel coronavirus for countries to use in developing specific diagnostic kits.”

These two statements from the WHO clearly suggest the SARS-CoV-2 virus was isolated (meaning purified for study) and then genetic sequences were identified from the isolated sample. From this, diagnostic kits were developed and distributed globally to test for the virus in towns, cities and communities around the world. According to the WHO and Chinese researchers, these tests will find the virus that causes COVID 19.

Yet the WHO also state:

“ Working directly from sequence information, the team developed a series of genetic amplification (PCR) assays used by laboratories.”

The Wuhan scientists developed their genetic amplification assays from “sequence information” because there was no isolated, purified sample of the so called SARS-CoV-2 virus. They also showed electron microscope images of the newly discovered virions (the spiky protein ball containing the viral RNA.)

However, such protein structures are not unique. They look just like other round vesicles, such as endocytic vesicles and exosomes.

Virologists claim that it is not possible to “isolate” a virus because they only replicate inside host cells. They add that Koch’s postulates do not apply because they relate to bacteria (which are living organisms). Instead, virologists observe the virus’ cytopathogenic effects (CPE), causing cell mutation and degradation, in cell cultures.

When Chinese researchers first sequenced the full SARS-CoV-2 genome they observed CPE in Vero E6 and Huh7 cells. Vero E6 are an immortalised monkey cell line and Huh7 are immortalised cancer (tumorigenic) cells. Meaning they have been maintained in vitro (in petri dish cultures) for many years.

Central to the official SARS-CoV-2 story is the idea that it is a zoonotic virus, capable of bridging the species gap from animals to humans. When scientists from the US CDC “infected” various cells with the novel virus they noted the following:

“ We examined the capacity of SARS-CoV-2 to infect and replicate in several common primate and human cell lines, including human adenocarcinoma cells (A549) [lung cells], human liver cells (HUH7.0), and human embryonic kidney cells (HEK-293T), in addition to Vero E6 and Vero CCL81 [monkey cells]...No cytopathic effect was observed in any of the cell lines except in Vero cells [monkey cells]...HUH7.0 and 293T cells showed only modest viral replication and A549 cells [human lung tissue cells] were incompatible with SARS-CoV-2 infection.”

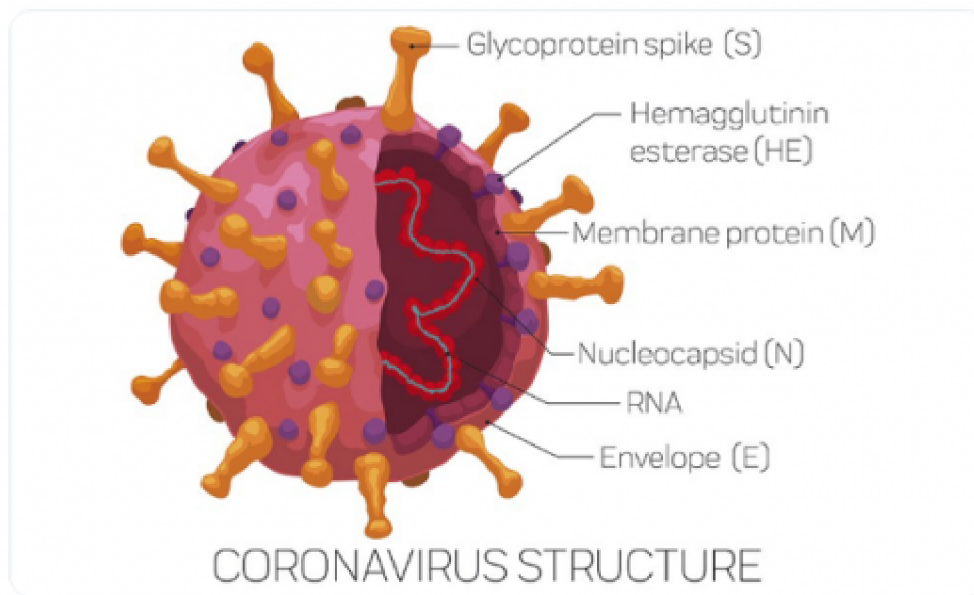

The CDC did not observe any CPE in human cells. They saw no evidence that this alleged virus caused any human illness. Nor did this supposed human virus show any notable replication in human cells, suggesting human to human infection would be impossible.

Noting this problem, a team of Polish scientists introduced this sequenced “virus” to human epithelium (airway) cells. They observed the effects on these HAE cultures for 5 days. They noted much greater replication than the CDC scientists but ultimately stated:

“We did not observe any release of the virus from the basolateral side of the HAE culture.”

Meaning they did not see any evidence of the supposed virions breaching the cell wall membrane. Again suggesting this so called virus isn't infectious in human beings.

It is not clear that SARS-CoV-2 is a human virus capable of causing illness. It may not even physically exist. Is it nothing more than a concept based upon predictive genetic sequences?

VOYAGE OF DISCOVERY

The Wuhan Center for Disease Control and Prevention and the Shanghai Public Health Clinical Centre published the first full SARS-CoV-2 genome (MN908947.1). This has been updated many times. However, MN908947.1 was the first genetic sequence describing the alleged COVID 19 etiologic agent (SARS-CoV-2).

All subsequent claims, tests, treatments, statistics, vaccine development and resultant policies are based upon this sequence. If the tests for this novel virus don't identify anything capable of causing illness in human beings, the whole COVID 19 narrative is nothing but a charade.

The WUHAN researchers stated that they had effectively pieced the SARS-CoV-2 genetic sequence together by matching fragments found in samples with other, previously discovered, genetic sequences. From the gathered material they found an 87.1% match with SARS coronavirus (SARS-Cov). They used de novo assembly and targeted PCR and found 29,891-base-pair which shared a 79.6% sequence match to SARS-CoV.

They had to use de novo assembly because they had no priori knowledge of the correct sequence or order of those fragments. Quite simply, the WHO's statement that Chinese researchers isolated the virus on the 7th January is false.

The Wuhan team used 40 rounds of RT-qPCR amplification to match fragments of cDNA (complimentary DNA constructed from sampled RNA fragments) with the published SARS coronavirus genome (SARS-CoV). Unfortunately it isn't clear how accurate the original SARS-CoV genome is either.

In 2003 a team of researchers from from Hong Kong studied 50 patients with severe acute respiratory syndrome (SARS). They took samples from 2 of these patients and developed a culture in fetal monkey liver cells.

They created 30 clones of the genetic material they found. Unable to find evidence of any other known virus, in just one of these cloned samples they found genetic sequences of "unknown origin."

Examining these unknown RNA sequences they found 57% match to bovine coronavirus and murine hepatitis virus and deduced it was of the family Coronaviridae. Considering these sequences to suggest a newly discovered SARS-CoV virus (new discoveries being ambrosia for scientists), they designed RT-PCR primers to test for this novel virus. The researchers stated:

“ Primers for detecting the new virus were designed for RT-PCR detection of this human pneumonia-associated coronavirus genome in clinical samples. Of the 44 nasopharyngeal samples available from the 50 SARS patients, 22 had evidence of human pneumonia-associated coronavirus RNA.”

Half of the tested patients, who all had the same symptoms, tested positive for this new alleged virus. No one knows why the other half tested negative for this novel SARS-CoV virus. The question wasn't asked.

This supposed virus had just a 57% sequence match to allegedly known coronavirus. The other 43% was just “there.” Sequenced data was produced and recorded as a new genome as GenBank Accession No. AY274119.

The Wuhan researchers subsequently found an 79.6% sequence match to AY274119 and therefore called it a novel strain of SARS-CoV (2019-nCoV – eventually renamed SARS-CoV-2). No one, at any stage of this process, had produced any isolated, purified sample of any virus. All they had were percentage sequence matches to other percentage sequence matches.

ISOLATE NOTHING

Scientists are very annoyed because they keep saying the virus has been isolated but no one believes them. This is because, as yet, no one has provided a single purified sample of the SARS-CoV-2 virus. What we have instead is a completed genome and, as we are about to discover, it isn't particularly convincing.

Investigative journalists Torsten Engelbrecht and Konstantin Demeter asked some of the scientists who said they had images of SARS-CoV-2 virions to confirm these were images of an isolated, purified, virus. None of them could.

In Australia scientists from the Doherty Institute, announced that they had isolated the SARS-CoV-2 virus. When asked to clarify the scientists said:

“We have short (RNA) sequences from the diagnostic test that can be used in the diagnostic tests”

This explains why the Australian government state:

“ The reliability of COVID-19 tests is uncertain due to the limited evidence base...There is limited evidence available to assess the accuracy and clinical utility of available COVID-19 tests.”

In The UK, in July, a group of concerned academics wrote a letter to the UK Prime Minister Boris Johnson in which they asked him to:

“ Produce independently peer reviewed scientific evidence proving that the Covid-19 virus has been isolated.”

To date they have not received a reply.

Similarly, UK researcher Andrew Johnson made a Freedom of Information Request to Public Health England (PHE). He asked them to provide him with their records describing the isolation of a SARS-COV-2 virus. To which they responded:

“ PHE can confirm it does not hold information in the way suggested by your request.”

Canadian researcher Christine Massey made a similar freedom of information request, asking the Canadian government the same. To which the Canadian government replied:

“ Having completed a thorough search, we regret to inform you that we were unable to locate any records responsive to your request.”

In the U.S. the Centre For Disease Control (CDC) RT-PCR Diagnostic Panel state:

“ ...No quantified virus isolates of the 2019-nCoV are currently available.....Detection of viral RNA may not indicate the presence of infectious virus or that 2019-nCoV is the causative agent for clinical symptoms.”

Last updated on 13th July 2020, the CDC are yet to obtain any pure viral sample from any patient said to have the disease of COVID-19. They openly admit their tests don't necessarily show if SARS-CoV-2 is either present or causes COVID 19.

We are told that none of this matters. That we are ignorant and just don't understand virology. Therefore, we must accept pictures of things we know could be something else and genetic sequences (which could be anything else) as conclusive proof that this virus, and the disease it is supposed to cause, are real.

TESTING FOR NOTHING

The WHO, and every government, think tank, policy steering committee, government scientific advisor, supranational institutions and others who promote the official COVID 19 narrative, assert that SARS-CoV-2 causes COVID 19.

While no one has ever produced a sample of this supposed virus, the alleged SARS-CoV-2 genome has been published. It is in the public domain.

Key genetic sequences, in the SARS-CoV-2 genome, are said to have specific functions. These are the target proteins that scientists test for to identify the presence of the “virus”. These include:

- RNA-polymerase (Rd-Rp) gene – This enables the SARS-CoV-2 RNA to replicate inside the cytoplasm of COVID 19 diseased epithelial cells.
- S gene (Orf2) – this glycoprotein forms the spike on the SARS-CoV-2 virion surface which supposedly facilitates SARS-CoV-2 binding to the ACE2 receptors on cells, allowing the RNA inside the virion protein shell (capsid) to pass into the now infected cell.
- E gene (Orf1ab) – small membrane protein used in viral assembly
- N gene (Orf9a) – the nucleocapsid gene which binds the RNA in capsid formation

The WHO maintain a publicly available record of the RT-PCR primers and probes used to test for SARS-CoV-2. The primers are specific nucleotide sequences that bind (anneal) to the antisense and sense strands of the synthesised cDNA (called forward and reverse primers respectively.)

The cDNA strands separate when heated and reform when cooled. Prior to cooling, nucleotide sequences called probes are introduced to anneal to specific target regions of the suspected viral genome. During amplification, as the regions between primers elongate, when a primer strikes a probe, the probe decays releasing a fluorescent or dye which can then be read by researchers.

It is the identification of these markers which scientists claim to prove the presence of SARS-CoV-2 in a sample.

Something else which is publicly available is the Basic Local Alignment Search Tool (BLAST). This allows anyone to compare published nucleotide sequences with all those stored by the U.S. National Institutes of Health (NIH) genetic database called GenBank. Therefore we can BLAST the claimed SARS-CoV-2 primers, probes and target gene sequences.

The WHO's forward, reverse primers and probe protocols, for the alleged SARS-CoV-2 viral genome, are based upon RdRp, Orf1, N and E gene profiles. Anyone can run them through BLAST to see what we find.

The vital RdRP nucleotide sequence, used as a forward primer is – ATGAGCTTAGTCCTGTTG. If we run a nucleotide BLAST this is recorded as a complete SARS-CoV-2 isolate with a 100% matched sequence identity. Similarly the reverse E gene primer sequence – ATATTGCAGCAGTACGCACACA – reveals the presence of the Orf1ab sequence which also identifies SARS-CoV-2.

However, BLAST also enables us to search the nucleotide sequences of the microbial and human genomes. If we search for the RdRp SARS-CoV-2 sequence it reveals 99 human chromosome with a 100% sequence identity match. The Orfiab (E gene) returns 90 with a 100% sequence identity match to human chromosomes.

Doing the same for these sequences with a microbial search finds 92 microbes with a 100% match to the SARS-CoV-2 E gene and 100 matched microbes, with a 100% sequence identity, to the vital SARS-CoV-2 RdRp gene.

Whenever we check the so-called unique genetic markers for SARS-CoV-2, recorded in the WHO protocols, we find complete or high percentage matches with various fragments of the human genome. This suggests that the genetic sequences, which are supposed to identify SARS-CoV-2, are not unique. They could be anything from microbial sequences to fragments of human chromosomes.

So called fact checkers, like Reuters' Health Feedback project, have been quick to dismiss the claims of those who have noticed the apparent lack of specificity in the supposed SARS-CoV-2 genome.

Using a slew of strawman arguments like, "this claim suggests every test should be positive," (which it doesn't) their debunking attempt runs something like this:

“ Primers are designed to bind to specific nucleotide sequences that are unique to the virus. The forward primer may bind to a particular chromosome but the reverse primer doesn't bind to the same chromosome and so the chromosome is not present in the SARS-CoV-2 virus. Moreover because the forward and reverse primers envelop the sequence to be amplified the cDNA sequence between primers is unique to the virus.

This seems to deliberately misrepresent the significance of these findings by forwarding an argument that no one, other than the fact checkers themselves, are making. BLAST searches show that these target sequences are not unique to SARS-CoV-2. Nor do all targets need to be found for a result to be deemed positive.

Moroccan researchers investigated the epidemiology of Moroccan alleged cases of SARS-CoV-2. Nine percent were positive for three genes, eighteen percent were positive for two genes and seventy three percent for just one. As we have just discussed, many may have been positive for none.

This is entirely in keeping with WHO's test guidelines. They state:

“An optimal diagnosis consists of a NAAT [nucleic acid amplification test] with at least two genome-independent targets of the SARS-CoV-2; however, in areas where transmission is widespread, a simple single-target algorithm can be used.....One or more negative results do not necessarily rule out the SARS-CoV-2 infection.”

Regardless of the spurious arguments of well funded fact checkers, if the forward and reverse primers identify junk, perhaps one being the fragment of a chromosome and the other a microbial sequence, then the amplified region between them is probably junk too.

The argument that RT-PCR only finds RNA is specious. Natural transcription (the separation of DNA strands) occurs during gene expression. No one is saying whole chromosomes or microbes are sequenced in the alleged SARS-CoV-2 genome. Though they may, for all we know. They are saying the alleged markers, used to test for this supposed virus, are not fit for purpose.

The screenshot shows a BLAST search interface with the following details:

RT-PCR tests do not sequence the entire genome. They look for incidents of specific probe fluorescence to indicate the presence of sequences said to exist. These sequences are defined by MN908947.1 and the subsequent updates. These primers and probes could reveal nothing but RNA matches extracted from non-coding, sometimes called “junk,” DNA (cDNA.)

For example the SARS-CoV-2 S gene is meant to be highly specific to the SARS-CoV-2 virus genome. The target sequence is – TTGGCAAATTCAAGACTCACTTTC. A microbial BLAST search returns 97 microbial matches with 100% identity sequence match. The lowest identity percentage match, within the top 100, is 95%. A human genome BLAST also finds a 100% sequence match to 86 human chromosome fragments.

No matter where you look in the supposed genome of SARS-CoV-2, there is nothing in the WHO’s test protocols that clearly identifies what it is. The whole genome could be false. The tests do not prove the existence of SARS-CoV-2. All they reveal is a soup of unspecified genetic material.

If so, as there are no isolates or purified samples of the virus, without a viable test, there is no evidence that SARS-CoV-2 exists. Therefore, nor is there any evidence that a disease called COVID 19 exists.

This infers that there is no scientific basis for any claims about COVID 19 case numbers, hospital admissions or mortality figures. All measures taken to combat this deadly virus are quite possibly founded upon nothing.

CONCLUSIVE FRAUD

Fraud is a criminal act. The legal definition of fraud is:

“Some deceitful practice or willful device, resorted to with intent to deprive another of his right, or in some manner to do him an injury.”

The Legal definition of a conspiracy is:

“A combination or confederacy between two or more persons formed for the purpose of committing, by their joint efforts, some unlawful or criminal act”

It seems, those who claim we face a pandemic have not provided any evidence to show that a virus called SARS-CoV-2 causes a disease called COVID 19. All of the information strongly suggesting this possibility is readily available in the public domain. Anyone can read it.

For there to be a fraud the deceit must be wilful. The intention must be to deliberately deprive others of their rights or injure them in some other way. If there is evidence of collusion between individuals ad/or organisations to commit fraud, then this is a conspiracy (in Common Law jurisdictions) or a Joint Criminal Enterprise (JCE) under International Law.

It seems COVID 19 has been deliberately used as a casus belli to wage war on humanity. We have been imprisoned in our own homes, our freedom to roam restricted, freedom of speech and expression eroded, rights to protest curtailed, separated from loved ones, our businesses destroyed, psychologically bombarded, muzzled and terrorised.

Worse still, while there is no evidence of unprecedented all cause mortality, there were unseasonable spikes in deaths. These correlate precisely with Lockdown measures which saw the withdrawal of the health services we pay for and a reorientation of public health services to treat one alleged disease at the exclusion of all others.

Further, it is proposed by those who have forwarded the COVID 19 story, that this alleged disease provides justification for the complete restructuring of the global economy, our political systems, societies, cultures and humanity itself.

To be allowed to participate in their so called "new normal," which is the wholesale transformation of our entire society without our consent, they insist we submit to their conditions.

These include, but aren't limited to, bio-metric surveillance of everyone, the centralised control and monitoring of all of our transactions, oppressive business and social restrictions and an effective demand that we have no right to sovereignty over our own bodies. This constitutes the condition of slavery.

There is no doubt that we have been deprived of our rights and injured. In Common Law jurisdictions innocence is presumed, but the evidence that harm has been deliberately caused by an international conspiracy is overwhelming. Destructive policies, enacted by governments across the world, clearly originated among globalist think tanks and supranational institutions long before the emergence of this non existent pandemic.

In Napoleonic Code jurisdictions, guilt is presumed. In order for the accused conspirators to prove their innocence they must show that, despite their immeasurable resources, they have collectively been unable to access or understand any of the freely available evidence suggesting COVID 19 is a myth.

Those responsible for the crime of conspiracy to commit global fraud should be tried. If found guilty they should be imprisoned while the rest of us get on with trying to repair the damage they have already inflicted.

Amid all the frustration of trying to inform the people around me – who just shut their ears – about the hoax that is taking place, I suggest this article as being perhaps THE best single article worth sharing. It truly gets to the heart of the matter.

I will propose one possible narrative here. The 5G narrative :

Wuhan was the first city in China to launch 5G, right before the 'outbreak.'

5G operating at 60 GHz deprives the body of oxygen, and inhibits its ability to absorb and use oxygen. ER Dr Kyle-Sidell in NYC describes 'covid' symptoms almost identical to these.

Prior to the lockdown, electromagnetic & health watchdog groups had been vigilant in blocking any attempted rollout of 5G without testing. Not the FCC nor any other telecom regulator in the world—each shamelessly captured by industry and the cult—has enforced the testing requirement, its most BASIC responsibility to the public.

The FCC is beholden to Big Telecom. Like the FDA is beholden to Big Food & Big Pharma. Like the EPA is beholden to Big Oil.

B*TCHES gettin TOO BIG FO DEY BRITCHES, and need to GET CUT DOWN.

While everyone was locked down, telecom operators worldwide were given the green light to roll out 5G, working 24-hour shifts to install the networks. In schools, in hospitals, in offices, etc. We had perfectly adequate 4G but somehow this was deemed essential work, even requiring triple shifts.

Almost all 5G networks active around the globe were deployed in H2 2019 and H1 2020, coinciding with the fake pandemic.

Because 5G has very short range, it requires transmitters every few hundred feet, or every few houses / buildings. The health consequences to all forms of life are devastating.

The links below point to the ample scientific studies on the crazy health impacts of EMF frequencies. To ALL FORMS OF LIFE, large and small.

But wait, there's more.

Elon Musk, through his StarLink venture has this year deployed 700 satellites beaming 5G over most of planet Earth. He was also green-lighted during the pandemic, with a license to throw into orbit a total of 12,000 5G satellites and 10 million 5G ground stations.

You will note that Elon Musk also runs a company called NeuraLink, which aims at linking the human brain to AI.

The lockdowns were, in my view and thousands of others, a pre-planned to once and for sneak 5G through without protest or testing. Of course, this would be only one of many objectives encapsulated by the not-so-great reset.

Unlike previous network evolutions, the shift from 4G to 5G is a sea change in terms of technology, and in terms of health and psychological (and ultimately, maybe even metaphysical) effects. It employs military-grade millimeter microwaves in a civilian setting, technology which is already being used for nefarious ends.

It can be used to influence individual or mass behaviour. Mind Kontrol.

It can be used as a lethal and non-lethal EMF weapon to harass, injure or kill targeted individuals and populations.

It can be used to trigger specific disease and medical conditions via payloaded nanotech within the body, of which we are already chock full, and which the vaxx will only enrich.

It can be used to trigger specific and permanent DNA alterations.

It can be used to send instructions to synthetic organisms within the body.

Gates, who has patents on several components of the CONVID-1984 vaccine program, ID & tracking systems, etc, is invested in developing various nanotech delivery technologies using vaccines, not least with teams at MIT. (See the Corbett Report on YT for a good overview of Gates in a 4-part mini-series.)

5G, basically, is the ultimate control system. Combined with nanotech and AI, it is a formidable and scalable control system, from the mass, to the individual, to the cell, to the molecule and atom. This tech-mesh is a pandora's box of evil.

Peace.

P.S.

I forget names and titles here but a doctor or scientist/engineer wrote a book recently suggesting the Spanish “flu” and other historic “outbreaks” were a consequence of major wireless rollouts across the world at the time, perhaps radio, TV and other. Apparently, a closer look at previous “pandemics” also reveals rank deception and manipulation, just like ours.

This article is excellent – I do not find any flaw in it but admit I am not a virologist. Anyway, one fact What we have to live with is: people are dying of an acute respiratory syndrome we are not knowing then caused by what. I agree there is no evidence it is by SARS Cov2 if that entity exists at all. But then, these deaths are caused by what? Might be worth an investigation, don't you agree? What strikes me is the efficacy of drugs like Hydroxychloroquine (HCQ) and Ivermectin – both are anti parasite drugs! Under early Ivermectin application almost noone dies anymore of this acute respiratory syndrome, regardless of his age! And under early HCQ combined with Zinc and Azithromycin neither!

There are now innumerable studies showing this – administered in the correct way, the rate of hospitalisation reduces drastically by about 80% and, of those hospitalized nevertheless, 50% less die.

Both drugs known for anti-parasite action – just to repeat!

Draw your conclusions!

Sidenote: never has been developed a vaccine for Malaria our worm diseases!

The whole issue of people dying from ARS is solved by administration of either the HCQ or the Ivermectin protocol. No need for vaccine, neither for masks nor lockdowns.

Whenever there's an outbreak of illness and an uptick in hospitalization visits, the CDC (U.S. Centers for Disease Control) sends out two teams: toxicology teams and infectious disease teams.

Why weren't the toxicology teams sent out? Notice how the U.S. government assumed that a *pathogen* was causing the alleged outbreak of illness supposedly "spreading" around the planet.

The toxicity issue was ignored.

If you check out the Med Scape interview with Dr. Cameron Kyle Sidell, you'll notice that he refers to the respiratory illness as not pneumonia, but something resembling an altitude-type sickness. He's almost about to point out that it's NOT caused by any pathogen, but realizes that doing so would turn the medical board against him.

The illness that Dr. Cameron Kyle Sidell described is characteristic of electromagnetic hypersensitivity (EHS). In many places, it's largely due to the 5G rollout. Wuhan was actually a PILOT city for 5G technology. In addition to that, incinerator plants and excessive pollution had already begun causing problems in people long before December of 2019.

Check out the summer 2019 Wuhan protests regarding two incinerator plants. I won't go into why germ theory is fallacious here, but do know that toxicity can cause disease, and this is even acknowledged by mainstream allopaths and WHO officials.

Excellent article. And I believe you are right, Dr Rosner. In any case, the risk of dying from 'Covid-19' (0.01%) is no greater than risk of dying of 'flu' or of painful illness from vaccines made by bio-warfare scientists using ingredients that should alert the regulators if they were not being frog-marched into hasty 'certification'.

I disagree that there is a new, specific acute respiratory syndrome that is killing people. The vast majority of deaths of so-called COVID deaths take place in nursing homes amongst the very elderly. Average age 82! It's what happens when you get very old: Your lungs disintegrate, like every other organ. Elsewhere, respiratory diseases are caused by pollution and other local environmental circumstances. Just like HIV/AIDS, where the WHO decided to create a new disease out of already-existing ones and include them under the same umbrella, the same is being done with COVID: Various respiratory illnesses that have been around for a long time are being rebranded as a new disease – all to facilitate the greed of the pharmaceutical industry.

Soviet Union leaders knew all the years about the criminal character and structure of Capitalism, and were trying to protect its people from western civilisation poisoning. But in the end could not resist the pressure from the West and the pressure from within. Today Russia is “enjoying” capitalism in all its ugliness and much more.

Bill Gates is the Father and the Mother of this global scam/fraud. HIS vision of the “better” world is to reduce population by billion. Mostly by eliminating those aged 60 plus and all others with health conditions. HOW? with vaccination. Not necessary forcible. Enough to convince the public/sheep that vaccine is good for you, then it’s on automatic.

BUT...the BELLS of trouble are beginning to ring. Yesterday PFIZER announce about 2 deaths from their vaccine. I think Pfizer is beginning to realise that they and all other vaccine producers are committing fraud, and therefore in order to protect themselves in a possible future mass trials, they activated the first bell.

You are on the right track, but 2 suggestions for you to research.

1) Bill Gates is not the father and mother of this killer agenda. He is just the manager. He has much more powerful bosses in the shadows. He takes direction from the global central banking cartel (the Rothschild & Rockefeller criminal gang that owns the Federal Reserve and other central banks, including the central bank of Russia.) They create the global money supply through private institutions.

2) Communism was conceived and brought to Russia & China by THE SAME capitalist gang in London and New York. Read the true history of the Bolshevik revolution. The funding and directions came from NYC. Schiff & Warburg bank-rolled it. And Leon Trotsky was from Brooklyn. His real name was Lev Bronstein. It is a theater they play, like good cop bad cop, but on a global scale. They use conflicts, both of which sides they control, to drive history forward through dialectical friction.

This phony conflict is seen in the Left vs Right drama, World vs. Terror theatrical production, and now the World vs. Virus summer blockbuster. Yes, ISIS & al-qaeda are both funded and managed by US, UK, I... s)raeli...** and Saudi intelligence agencies.

It's a big movie, kid... a stage production. Willy S. was right.

It is a time of great deception and you have to pull back many layers to get to the truth.

Wonderful article! Just wished all would come out months earlier and prevented the unnecessary deaths and livelihoods loses. I run also lot of the BLAST searches, in particular patented proteins from old the 'other' vaccinations. We have to assume that the official SARS-CoV-2 genome is just theoretical, BUT RIGHT NOW it is becoming 'practical' in the sense that that's theoretical genome is the foundation of all the contents in all the new SARS-Cov-2 vaccines!!!! People are dying already because of that. That needs to be STOPPED A.S.A.P.

ZER IZ NO COVID-19.

Watch Dr Andy Kaufman and Dr Tom Cowan. Or Max Igan and David Icke (yes, I said it—David Icke.) My laundry list of fraud giveaways, a lot of overlap with what has already been said. Just copying and pasting from other comments sections I've posted this to:

Dr Kaufman demonstrates that a new virus has not been isolated and purified from patient samples.

Dr Cowan demonstrates that not one of Koch's 4 postulates have been met (the 4-step method for proving that (1) a microbe exists, and (2) causes a disease, and (3) is communicable.)

The RT-PCR test endorsed by the WHO and being used worldwide does not test for an isolated virus. The inventor Kary Mullis said explicitly that his test is useless for diagnosing infectious disease.

The test sensitivity can be amplified—turned up and down like volume—to increase or decrease “positive” cases as they see fit, to simulate, for example, lower case numbers due to the efficacy of the “amazing,” “warp speed,” “experimental,” mRNA vaxxine.

TESTING POSITIVE MEANS NOTHING.

People who haven't even taken the test are receiving results in the mail that they are positive.

If you test positive and get hit by a bus and die, the death certificate will say Covid.

The CDC has admitted that it does not have any viral fragments for the so-called Covid-19 virus.

A Freedom of Information (FOI) request to the national health service in Ireland to provide proof of a new virus has been met with a response that they do not know of any virus that has been isolated and identified.

Flu cases went to 0 in Queensland, Australia and elsewhere these past season. The regular flu is being designated as Covid.

There is NO excess mortality worldwide compared to previous 2-3 years statistics (death from all causes stat.)

The CDC is pressuring doctors to put Covid-19 on death certificates, and allowing doctors to determine a Covid cause of death without scientific/medical proof.

US hospitals receive $13,000 for every patient admitted as Covid.

$39,000 if the patient is put on a ventilator, which is proven to accelerate the death of people with "Covid" symptoms.

Masks stop viruses like goal nets stop mosquitos.

Zer iz NO NEW VIRUS. NO NEW DISEASE. It is A BLATANT SCAM. Don't play along with "Covid". More like Convid.

It is about the World Economic Forum's GREAT RESET and UN Agenda 2030.

A global totalitarian coup.

The coming VAXX will add nanotech into the body (which has already been flooded with nanoparticles in the last 20 years) and merge man with AI, using 5G.

It will also have other biotech which permanently alters our DNA, in addition to the usual heavy metals, bacteria, infertility agents and human & animal fetal tissue that they already put in vaxxines. Our rulers are eugenicists and they think there are too many of us breathing.

Wuhan was the first city in China to launch 5G, right before the "outbreak."

5G operating at 60 GHz deprives the body of oxygen—a common "Covid" symptom.

Most countries where 5G is now live launched their services during H2 2019 and H1 2020, perfectly coincident with "Covid."

It is the BEAST takeover folks.

If you shine an empirical light on this plandemic, you will find it to be a hoax like everything else they push out.

Peace.

According to the overall flu death rates in all the previous years, I saw just recently, an increased death rates were happening since ~2017. That's the time where loss of taste and smell started to accompany many flu-like symptoms. In old people it might take even a year to get it back, in young people much less.

The vaccines contain that 'theoretical' NIH stored SARS-CoV-2 genome with contents which I do not even want to mention, not to scare people. 2 volunteers in the test group in Pfizer trials died, but they died NOT with the covid-19 symptoms though, which implicates what's in these vaccines is something totally different than the official flu-like disease called covid-19.

Definitely 5G needs to come into play when talking about SARS-CoV-2.

The loss of taste and smell is rare but not unheard of in flu cases. For sure not all covid19 cases involve this either. Zinc deficiency and cyanide poisoning can cause these I think. Hydrogen cyanide is released during the refining of fracked oil. How much is released depends on how it's regulated and how well the regulations are enforced/followed. The environmentalist Jim West argues that this explains much of the covid19 labeled medical phenomena.

This is an interesting article reviewing the loss of the senses during sinus infection, common colds (coronaviruses) and covid 19.

<https://www.healthline.com/health/coronavirus-loss-of-taste-loss-of-smell#test-your-senses>

It would be interesting to study if there is a correlation with prolonged mask use and minor bacterial infections of the sinuses. If so, could this explain the loss of the senses being the only symptom for some noticed during this “pandemic”.

Unfortunately, the vaccine ingredients have not been disclosed as far as I know. But some facts includes: no developer, distributor, or administer of the vaccine can be held liable for proven damages done to any recipient. Scary. It has not been held to the same rigors of any previous vaccine in the vetting process. The animal trials are humans themselves. Finally it is stated that it is a synthetic mRNA vaccine that requires extreme and specific storage requirements.

Most importantly, with this information, would you voluntarily take a vaccine that at the very least, with genetic code, instructs your cells behavior (especially after reading this article), only to hopefully learn what ingredients have been injected in to your body after receiving said vaccine? And if you have any side effects, well you are responsible for those.

And maybe when they kept the liquor stores open throughout the lockdowns. (Chronic drinking causes zinc deficiency.). And perhaps why they severely dismissed Vitamins C, D and Zinc supplements as “effective”. D is essential to T-cell production and T-cells are a measurement of a healthy immune system. So perhaps supplementing would be counter to what they were trying to create happen?

I am not sure shielding is the way to go as there is natural frequencies that are healthy. Probably a environment with lots of trees away from the city is advisable and obviously get rid of all wifi and cell phones. Get sunshine. 15 minutes a day full body atleast on average. As far as the virus I think you just reached as stage where it is worse and the keto stuff is part of the conspiracy. I'd suggest fruit and salads and to check out Cyrus Khambatta and Robby Barbaro—co-founders of Mastering Diabetes. In the vegan world there is a lot of attacks on fruit originating from the usual suspects with promotion of protein such as beans. I think the protein is damaging the kidneys. maybe pine nuts is ok but look into food combining. You can look for example at this video from freelee who I think is a good source showing an example of these attacks on fruit in vegan youtube which have all sorts of arguments that are given that seem to be deceptive and not the true reason for the objections to fruit.

Hello, Great article, I have a question though, People who push these allegations insist that your article is a conspiracy theory nonsense, Even though when I point them the official sources, they fanatically defend that SARS-COV-2 was isolated and there are numerous citations and examples, one particular example I get is:

“Identification of Coronavirus Isolated from a Patient in Korea with COVID-19”

<https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC7045880/>

When infant the article claims: “The virus replicated in Vero cells and cytopathic effects were observed. Full genome sequencing showed that the virus genome exhibited sequence homology of more than 99.9% with SARS-CoV-2 which was isolated from patients from other countries, for instance China. Sequence homology of SARS-CoV-2 with SARS-CoV, and MERS-CoV was 77.5% and 50%, respectively.”

Here is the catch I might be wrong though so correct me If my assumption are baseless they base their 99.9% sequence homology SARS-CoV-2 claim on previous isolation of the virus and assume that the virus was isolated before so what ever they have found must be the same alleged virus, which they claim it accurately resembles that, and then go on and mention that the alleged virus has sequence homology with SARS-CoV, and MERS-CoV was 77.5% and 50%, respectively.

So If I understand correct:

1. This entirety of this article is baseless because it assumes that there is a virus and that assumed sequence homology is used in their study.

2. It admits that the alleged virus has some resemblance to SARS-COV and MERS-COV.

Hi ilgar

The paper you quote is somewhat misleading as it is about a 'viral isolate' obtained from patients. It doesn't concern or refer to pure isolated virus particles that were isolated from samples using density gradient ultrafiltration. What they did find in their isolate was bits of genetic material RNA which they inoculated and cultured in chemically treated Vero cells to use in PCR tests.

They were also using a 'viral model' which they concocted in their database for the probes and primers which were never claimed by any scientist to be based on any original SARS -Cov-2 virus that had been been previously isolated by the method I have briefly described above. Similarity or resemblance is problematic -the map is not the territory – it is not an identity. So, in a nutshell, the paper is a deception. See also my other posts which may also help clarify a few issues concerning virus isolation etc.

That wouldn't settle the issue whereas presenting a scientific paper with full details as to precisely how the alleged SARS-Cov-2 virus was effectively isolated at a specific density gradient as pure virus particles and nothing else that would be a start.

Without the purified virus particles that have also been proven to be infectious, any primers and probes used in PCR would be meaningless since they are ultimately derived from the density gradient banded material containing pure virus particles and nothing else.

This is a nonsense article full of misdirection and false equivalences.

I was thinking about going through to debunk each of the author's points, but the more I read the more disheartened I got. He has gone through great lengths to mislead and ignore evidence contrary to his claims. This appears to be skillfully constructed misinformation, although I can't say I understand what his goal is.

I am in fact an expert in genetics, in the last year of my PhD in epidemiology and bioinformatics.

Here are some highlights of blatant and seemingly willful ignorance. I'd be happy to talk about these more or discuss any of his other arguments that appear convincing if you are interested.

1. The initial article in Discovery Salud is not a scientific article, has no listed author, and the magazine has been in hot water before for pushing dangerous disinformation and hoaxes such as: chemotherapy causes cancer instead of stopping it, high cholesterol has no impact on health, as well as flu and HIV being "fake."
2. <https://www.rtve.es/noticias/20200715/argumentos-falsos-inexistencia-coronavirus-discovery-salud/2028208.shtml>
3. The claim that SARS-CoV-2 has never been isolated is bogus but he makes it appear more sound by constantly moving the target. Examples below:
4. The quotes he selects do actually contradict his conclusions when taken together: SARS-CoV-2 has been isolated, cultured in human cells, and thoroughly studied through many approaches including but definitely not limited to electron microscopy and sequencing of its genetic material. The electron microscopy image is not unique at that resolution. More detailed models of single proteins from CoV-2 have been discovered and those are specifically unique to this virus. But they aren't practical for diagnostics as they require large amounts of the protein and complex, time-intensive protocols.

5. That's why we rely on sequencing the genetic material of SARS-CoV-2. Immediately above the electron microscopy images, the author states that the Wuhan scientists relied on "sequence information" for their genetic amplification assays, implying they should have used something else if the virus were real. However, that "sequence information" is exactly what a genetic amplification assay is based on, the unique genetic sequence of the organism.
6. Below that, the link to Koch's postulate that the author himself provides confirms that this postulate doesn't apply when the bacteria can't be grown in pure culture (meaning they are the only cells present) which is absolutely the case with all viruses, since they don't have a means of reproduction themselves and need to hijack other cells to reproduce. Fun fact, this postulate was formed two years before the discovery of the first virus in 1892. Koch's postulate has been practically obsolete in the field of epidemiology since the 1950's.
7. In his cherry-picked quote from the Polish group who showed that SARS-CoV-2 very easily infects human epithelial airway cells (the cells lining your throat), he interprets a lack of evidence for "basolateral release" as conclusive evidence that the virions can't get through the membrane which is entirely false. The basolateral side of the cells are the sides that are basal, meaning they face away from your airway (lumen). This is an especially egregious conclusion since the literal very next two sentences in the research article he is quoting go on to say:
  8. "The results we observed are consistent with the previously reported polarity of the HAE cultures and apical infection/apical release reported previously for other human coronaviruses. Similarly as for other human coronaviruses, the apical-apical polarity of SARS-CoV-2 infection release restricts the virus to the airway lumen"
  9. Meaning the virus enters and exits the cells through the same side (the apical side, the one facing the interior of your throat (the lumen)) and he is clearly ignoring the actual findings of the study to support his narrative
10. https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Epithelial\_polarity#:~:text=In%20the%20context%20of%20renal,is%20oriented%20towards%20the%20lumen.
11. His quote from the CDC also appears to be interpreted with willful ignorance.
12. "No quantified virus isolates of the 2019-nCoV are currently available" is a statement on the quantifying the exact number of viral particles present in the viral isolates they have available free-of-charge for researchers around the globe. Exact quantification is challenging hence the unavailability of "quantified isolates". However, they do have 19 different viral isolates currently available for order.
13. <https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/lab/grows-virus-cell-culture.html>
14. <https://www.beiresources.org/BEIHighlights1.aspx?ItemId=79&ModuleId=14004>
15. The second half of the quote: "Detection of viral RNA may not indicate the presence of infectious virus" was also cherry-picked to be misleading. While this statement is true, without context it can be misleading. Inactivated or degraded virus will not be able to infect anyone but would likely still have enough intact RNA to be detected.
16. His blusterings about primers and BLAST are more of the same, misinterpreting facts to fit his narrative without addressing how the technology actually works. While there are imperfect matches to sequences found in our own DNA, RT-PCR used for diagnostics requires exact or close to exact matches within a very close range of each other and with the probe target located between the matches to the primers. He showed no evidence for this case and does not even try to address the disconnect between his claims and reality of how this technology works.

Iain Davis, if you do stand to be corrected as you claim, please address these points and I would be more than willing to take a second look. But as it stands, your articles is riddled with false conclusions and misinterpretations that cast doubt on your motivations and findings.

Since SARS-CoV-2 has been isolated, characterized, and thoroughly studied by all current standards in the biomedical research community, the burden of proof is on you if you claim that SARS-CoV-2 does not exist. This article fails far short of that burden.

“Because research has been initiated to study and respond to SARS-CoV-2, information about cell lines and types susceptible to infection is needed. Therefore, we examined the capacity of SARS-CoV-2 to infect and replicate in several common primate and human cell lines, including human adenocarcinoma cells (A549), human liver cells (HUH7.0), and human embryonic kidney cells (HEK-293T), in addition to Vero E6 and Vero CCL81 cells. We also examined an available big brown bat kidney cell line (EFK3B) for SARS-CoV-2 replication capacity. Each cell line was inoculated at high multiplicity of infection and examined 24 h postinfection (Figure 3, panel A). No CPE was observed in any of the cell lines except in Vero cells, which grew to >10<sup>7</sup> PFU at 24 h postinfection. In contrast, HUH7.0 and 293T cells showed only modest viral replication, and A549 cells were incompatible with SARS-CoV-2 infection. These results are consistent with previous susceptibility findings for SARS-CoV and suggest other common culture systems, including MDCK, HeLa, HEP-2, MRC-5 cells, and embryonated eggs, are unlikely to support SARS-CoV-2 replication (20–22). In addition, SARS-CoV-2 did not replicate in bat EFK3B cells, which are susceptible to MERS-CoV. Together, the results indicate that SARS-CoV-2 maintains a similar profile to SARS-CoV in terms of susceptible cell lines.”

What does this mean?

Do you know that Peter Daszak, the maker of the famous letter, is president of the Ecohealth Alliance, (look a bit at his connections with the Wuahn laboratory) he is the president of the Lancet and WHO commission to elucidate the origin of sars-cov2 ? What can we expect from both commissions?

Do you know the story of the Lancet and hydroxychloroquine?

The whole thing is a con anyway Alex. Why? Because according to virology pathogenic viruses can only replicate (if it can be proven that they actually do replicate at all) only in special host cells with special attributes namely host cells that are 'suceptible, permissive, accessible and have defunct defences or initially nearly defunct.

The viruses in turn are also assumed to be endowed with special attributes that are appropriate to those of the host cells they allegedly infect such as being endowed with 'pathogenicity' and the appropriate receptors. Both the special host cells and the viruses exist as unconditional functional postulates and the relationship between them is also universal and inexplicable. Wherever there are pathogenic viruses there must also be these special host cells for them to infect!

Thus, the special host cells must exist in order to perform all the necessary functions that are appropriate for the virus to replicate and the virus must exist in order to replicate in the appropriate host cells in order to survive. The closed and empty circle of functional determination – or simply put the revolving door!

Hi Jesper

The main reason why I have not responded to Daniels comments and questions is because they all presuppose that SARS-Cov-2 has been successfully isolated free from all contaminants, photographed and it's genetic material and proteins successfully sequenced and biochemically determined.

This is Not the case and some of the issues that Daniel raises may be valid if and only if proof that SARS-Cov-2 can be produced with full scientific, technical and methodological procedures used to obtain the pure virus particles. Otherwise all other debates concerning the whys and wherefores of this alleged virus are entirely academic and a complete waste of time.

So I'll say it again:

CONCRETE SCIENTIFIC PROOF OF THE PHYSICAL EXISTENCE OF THIS ALLEGED VIRUS IS THEREFORE REQUIRED TO BE PRODUCED BY THOSE CLAIMING THAT IT EXISTS BEFORE ANYTHING ELSE SO FAR IT'S EXISTENCE HAS ONLY BEEN POSTULATED AND REMAINS AS AN ABSTRACT SPECULATIVE MODEL.

Decent enough effort Daniel, when compared to trolls and incapable officials of main stream narrative. But you tend to generalize too much with a preoccupied full denial attitude. You have not made any comments about the primers , etc on the Spanish article. Their work seems valid there. Use of open databases result of a 100 similar cases when primers should be unique and part of supposed viral dna. Those are basics when one constructs a PCR test. Furthermore, their work on issue, seems to be supported by a science team who recently objected the Drosden paper, the one started all panic with fake tests. Furthermore, there is a problem with biotech and this bring the pure scientific applicability to its knees. It has a speculative element to it. LACK OF REPRODUCIBILITY.

If the virus has been isolated, why are Astra Zeneca & Johnson & Johnson not using it. They are using adenovirus( common cold) as the basis for their vaccines. Pfizer & Moderna are not even using a virus but mRNA? Traditionally vaccines are produced from the pathogen causing the disease.

Insofar as science is concerned if somebody makes the claim that a virus referred to as SARS-Cov-2 is the sole cause of Covid-19 the onus is on those who are making the claim to provide proof of claim.

So far this has never been done as no scientist has ever claimed to have produced concrete evidence obtained using the correct methods for virus isolation/purification. Moreover, no scientific proof or convincing evidence has been produced that the alleged virus is the cause of Covid-19 in human beings using the Henle-Koch Postulates as modified by T Rivers for viruses together with the necessary control experiments.

At the onset of a Covid19 the alleged virus would be present as complete particles in abundance and would be easy to isolate using standard density gradient ultra-centrifugation and filtration methods which are never used instead they resort to PCR which was never meant for virus detection so there is no way it can detect a complete SARS-Cov-2 virus even if one existed! So, there is a case for scientific fraud and deception by those who are advising the government and they should be held accountable in a common law Court convened by the people.

No viruses have ever been proven to exist. There are no infectious, contagious diseases/germ theory is a deadly myth. All studies, in the ex vivo environment, that try and support germ theory are null and void as they study dead or dying human matter outside of the body. These are simple objective truths that very few seem to grasp. As John Harris said: "The truth is simple, mankind makes it complicated"...

Germ theory, with the current 'germ' being 'COVID' is nothing but a cult!

High school biology teaches us that viruses are non-living outside of a cell host. I recently read something that referred to viruses as being like a solvent. That they are produced by the cell when overwhelmed by toxicity and then [the dirty rags/viruses] are ejected/tossed out and carried away by our antibodies. Which coincides with how the rest of our body works – everything is secreted *out*, tears, blood, saliva, urine, vomit, mucus. So this made perfect sense to me. Our bodies send fluid to an area to flush a scape, or if we get an eyelash in our eye, our body naturally produces tears to flush it out, etc. And then I thought, it's probably why hepatitis does not attack the lungs or tuberculosis does not attack the kidneys. The virus is cell specific, meaning a kidney cell is not the same as a lung cell, or skin cell. Aside from the fact that outside of a cell, a virus can do no harm (it's DEAD!) it can't attack! Unless it's taught to do so in a Petri dish and then we're talking bioweapon which could be called a vaccine (a foreign substance being injected *into* the blood stream that otherwise would not have been introduced (via our barrier called the stomach). So many arguments about whether or not v ingredients are safe using an apple as "proof" (cyanide). Consuming a naturally occurring substance is not the same as injecting i.e., cyanide into the blood stream to be metabolized. Over simplistic, I know; but, I'm not an iologist anything. This just makes sense to me.

Consider too that "influenza's" origin is "Influenza del Stella" (influence of the stars). Earth's star is the sun. The surface of our star is called "corona". The sun has a solar cycle and within that cycle are observable sun activities called flares and "coronal mass ejections". If they can effect our radio communication and electric grids, is it too far "out there" to consider they effect us, too? We have an electromagnetic field. What if the corona virus (the flu), is our personal electromagnetic field's response to corona activity? What if the flu virus is actually a solvent from an overwhelmed immune system 'detoxing' itself from an EMF (corona) "hit"?

I have derived this same hypothesis over the past 6 months. I worked on the most successful PCR assays in the world. What I began hearing about the test itself reeked of outright fraud months ago. Procedurally the test is bunk. No PCR assay is run so stupidly or so simplistically. The priming sequences have no specificity whatsoever to SARS and more specificity to human RNA than anything else as verified by BLAST. And not because the sequence was read as such. No isolate even exists. So the control sequence being used was manufactured from library sequences and 'consensus' as the article states. So at no point in this chain is any genuine SARS CoV 2 even involved. It's not what we're testing against and thus it is not what we're testing for. The reason we're not testing against it is because despite the 'global pandemic', not a single specimen is available anywhere. Nor is any isolate or any verification of one. Folks for every scientific case ever the only conclusion would be that it doesn't exist. That this is fraud and only fraud. People have offered huge cash rewards for one picture or petri dish of isolate and nothing has been produced for months now. Every competent doctor and researcher grasps clearly that we are just capturing exosomes or junk DNA. Any competent doctor or researcher can see through the facade that the vaccine neither works, is safe, nor will prevent a virus we've never seen or sequenced. And while many of the usual players have made a go at this vaccine, others are notably sticking to the sidelines despite the stakes. Quite atypical behavior given what we know of them. It all just reeks to the sky. I've been waiting to see someone connect all the dots like this. Share this story with everyone you know. It nails everything. Shock them into reality. If we let this pass unchallenged we are basically opening the gates to hell.

PCR is an amplification tool, it can't detect/identify. Period.

Cycle threshold (CT) is not only arbitrary, it's meaningless, and an abuse of Kary Mullis' amplification tool.

CT is merely an arbitrary and meaningless number of amplifications above an equally arbitrary and meaningless lower number of amplifications referred to as "background level"...

The PCR amplifies nucleotide sequences exponentially...

<https://www.khanacademy.org/science/ap-biology/gene-expression-and-regulation/biotechnology/a/polymerase-chain-reaction-pcr>

...up to approximately 40 amplifications,[1] therefore any differences between the CT level and background level are meaningless. A CT of 21x merely means there were 21 amplifications. A CT of 30 has 30 amplifications. A CT of 21x simply means the nucleotide sequence was amplified 21 times, not that there is “strong positive reactions indicative of abundant target nucleic acid”...

The West will form new political parties where candidates are vetted for Marxist ideology/blackmail, the use of the polygraph to be an important tool for such vetting. Then the West can finally liberate the globe of vanguard Communism.

I thought that RT-PCR-testing was not supposed to be used to test for viral or bacteria particles. The author – Kary Mullis – of PCR-testing said that his test was only amplifying test samples, not distinguishing if they contained specific viral particles.

But this pdf seems to state otherwise.

Liberals/Libertines are far more emotion-driven, and subject to the whims of the reptilian brain, lunging to consume that marshmallow—no matter the potentially bad outcome(s).

The default position for the reptilian brain — those Leftist-/Libertine-minded “journalists” (( or, as I’ve labelled them, from the 1970s forward : “Glorified Gossipers” )) — is to tell a L I E for some advantage, such as an allegiance to a political team they seek to defend/win, no matter what the TRUTH may be—or harm that may come to their society or nation.

Something needs clarifying. I agree 100% that no “virus” has been isolated here.

BUT, we have to be careful with this BLAST stuff. Microbiologists and geneticists will simply write it off as “they don’t know how to use BLAST”, etc.

also, are the published primers/probes the sense, or antisense versions of the constructed “genome”?

If we’re searching for the complementary nucleotides and not the ACTUAL presupposed nucleotides from the “genome”, this will likely yield radically different results.

Would love if Iain could chime in here.

There are no ACTUAL presupposed nucleotides from the genome of their alleged SARS-Cov-2 virus because its genome only exists as an abstract concept of ‘model’. Even if they find complementary nucleotides it cannot be claimed that they came from, and were present in, an ACTUAL viral genome because that doesn’t physically exist to use as the ACTUAL gold standard of comparison for those nucleotides. Hope this helps to answer your question.

They conduct a BLAST search to compare a protein or nucleotide sequence that they happen to find with their library or database of sequences that they have concocted for a particular virus i.e. the model virus. They then determine how similar what they have found is, to their model sequences in their database using statistics to calculate the significance.

Thanks, I am aware that there is a move afoot in Germany by this lawyer and a group of international lawyers who are attempting to sue the WHO over damage inflicted on large parts of the population as a result of the OCT tests and lockdowns.

According to the lawyer Dr Reiner Fuellmich: "Under the rules of civil tort law , all those who have been harmed by these PCR test -induced lockdowns are entitled to receive full compensation for their losses. In particular,there is a duty to compensate, i.e. a duty to pay damages for loss of profits suffered by companies and self -employed persons as a result of the lockdown and other measures"

I am assuming that this action will not take place under common law and in a common law Court and will take place in a civil law Court under statute or Maritime law which is a place of corporate business – which means the action will probably fail as no jury is involved.

Really, Dr Fuellmich needs to contact Dr Stefan Lanka and use the expert witnesses that can conclusively prove that SARS-Cov-2 does not physically exist and cannot be the cause of Covid-19, then game over in that court as it was in Stuttgart over the nonexistent Measles virus.

Evil has always been here in one form or another so long as there has been human beings who are service-to-Self. The symptoms correlate with the lockdown. My analysis is the lockdown and fear induce people to drink more alcohol, snack more on sugary foods, smoke more cigarettes if smokers, lose sleep and therefore drink more coffee and tea. Each of these factors impairs the absorption and utilization of vitamin B1 (thiamine). A deficiency of thiamine can produce symptoms of breathlessness, fever, diarrhea, nausea/vomiting. B1 deficiency results in loss of the autonomic nervous system which explains the unusual-for-a-virus symptomology such as loss of smell and taste, racing heart (tachycardia), and the delirium and memory impairment not common for any other virus. When thiamine B1 was first discovered it was confused for a virus. See my reports:

Appreciate what you are saying here Bill but every disease has its own determinate conditions of existence and is not reducible to any single causal principle of explanation whether it be an alleged pathogenic virus or vitamin b1 deficiency as that would be a reductionist FALLACY. B1 deficiency may indeed play an important part as a causal factor but it cannot be claimed to be the sole cause of what they are claiming to be all Covid-19 signs and symptoms.

Sorry Bill, that is a fallacy. Vitamin B1 cannot act all by itself independently of the other biochemicals in the body with which it interacts that are required to process it in the body. If those chemicals are not present in sufficient amounts and at the right place and right times and therefore may also be deficient how can we say that B1 deficiency is the sole cause of Beri Beri ? That would hardly be scientific would It?

What truth am I being accused of dismissing here Bill? If you took the trouble to think instead of resorting to name calling we might have got somewhere. But I'll say it again in a slightly different way. Vitamin B1 has to be processed in the body before it can produce beneficial effects and that means it enters into chemical reactions with other chemical compounds to produce those effects. It therefore does not and cannot work all by itself independently of the other biochemical conditions that are necessary to process the vitamin and produce the effects in the body. What's wrong with that argument? For some strange reason you seem to think that I'm trying to say that B1 is not a cure for beri beri which I fail to comprehend.

There is no intention on my part Bill to mislead readers or anyone else as you put it. Here's a quote from a paper listed in the national library of medicine by KD Wiley and M Gupta (Jun 22 ,2020) on Thiamine:

“It functions as a catalyst in the generation of energy through decarboxylation of branched chain amino acids and alpha-ketoids and acts as a co-enzyme for transketolase reactions in the form of thiamine pyrophosphate.”

This quote clearly indicates that thiamine is not only dependent on other biochemical substrates and enzymes that it interacts with to produce physiological effects which means that it is impossible for it to work all by itself to produce those effects. If you want more references listing the chemicals it interacts with that prove it is dependent on them as well I will be happy to oblige .

So, what you're saying is basically that without a human body, a single compound can't be enough by itself. So, B1 sitting on the shelf won't fix anything, let alone an ailing body. It needs a body too. Hmmm? Guess that seems logical. Beri beri does seem to be a perfect example of needing only a single compound to fix all symptoms associate with that named "disease" (group of symptoms). However, and to your point, many "diseases" are not so simply fixed and do need correction by multiple compounds and actions.

Yes TMY I agree with much of what you say but I would like to add a few points to clarify the issue further.

Firstly, while vit B1 can cure beri beri which I have never denied that it cant, It can only do so when introduced into a living body where it enters into a complex series of chemical reactions with other biochemicals including proteins, carbohydrates, enzymes and it is also magnesium dependent. So you are correct it functions in the body as a co-factor .

Co-factors are "helper molecules" that assist in biochemical transformations and are substances that MUST JOIN WITH OTHER substances to produce a physiological result.

That's one of the reasons why B1 does not and cannot work all by itself in the living body to cure beri beri. So in a nutshell, what tends to be misleading are monocausal and reductionist explanations which exclude all other causal factors that also play an important part in the process, and if some of them are also missing or deficient B1 itself may not work as efficiently as a co-factor in the process.

Perhaps one of the best examples of causal reductionism is Louis Pasteur's germ theory of disease.

I'm always of a mind that once is an accident, twice is a mishap, and three times is a pattern. With this breath taking wisdom in mind, I want to look at three stories. I call them stories. Officially they were categorised as pandemics.

1918-19. Spanish Flu. Officially called that because the Spanish were neutral during WW1 and recorded real figures rather than government approved figures. The death toll for the war was soaring out of control on it's own. The last thing those at home needed was to hear 50 million had fallen to a virus. It was later traced back to Asia. Or at least it's components originated there.

The largest demographic that fell to it were young men. The largest demographic involved in the war were young men. The US came to the game late. And all military are vaccinated pre-war- no matter who they're attacking or when. Their arrival in Europe coincided with that of the virus. The military base housing the viruses / vaccine was in Kansas. It also coincided with the so called 'electrification' of Earth according to activist and opponent of phone masts. Arthur Firstenberg. Interestingly, shortly before the Covid game was initiated, the Military Olympics were held in Wuhan. The US team failed to compete in many events and under performed in others. They had trained near Fort Detrick and had vaccinations from there.

In 1976 we were treated to Swine Flu. Oddly enough( not) it's first cases were at a US military base, Fort Dix, in New Jersey. Given what we know now i think we can safely say that the military were guinea pigs. There's a long history of them being such, along with prisoners or the poor and black.

The DCD rolled out vaccines PDQ. They had the 1918 flu to reference as a fear point. Clever. Even cleverer was their failing to report that the vaccines being administered hadn't been trialled. So why the rush? After all there had been virtually no confirmed cases in the US. The CDC also didn't disclose the true possible effects of the vaccine – neurological disorders like Guillain-Barré syndrome (similar to paralysis). And plenty of women fell victim to that. What a caper.

In 2005 David Nabarro, the newly appointed Senior United Nations Systems Coordinator for Avian and Human Influenza (it just rolls off the tongue doesn't it) warned the world that:

“an outbreak of avian influenza could kill 5 to 150 million people”

German virologist Dr. Stefan Lanka exposed this [2005 H5N1] bird flu “pandemic” which resulted in under 300 deaths worldwide. Sounds familiar doesn't it. Big pharma, lies, manufactured viruses, manufactured fear, real profits and suffering...only the numbers / data / projections a mile off..

Dr. J. Anthony Morris, the government's most experienced flu researcher has said:

“,The swine flu is not contagious and is not a killer.”

He warned that the vaccine could induce greater diseases and,:

“We can predict that more and more tragedies related to the vaccine will come to light.”

He called the inoculation program a “potential virological nightmare.”

When Dr. Morris released a public warning to the Washington, D.C. newspapers in July, 1976, government agents entered his laboratory, killed all animals he used in vaccine research, destroyed the vaccine research records of him and his staff and fired him.

The government then went ahead with the mass inoculation program, lying to the American people and saying there was:

“No evidence the vaccine was dangerous.”

Let us reflect on the fate of Dr. Mikovits a moment. Let us consider the outrageous projections and predictions of Imperial College London and Neal Ferguson. Dr. Judy was put away and ostracised for speaking the truth; Ferguson was put out to pasture for exposing the bullshit by accident.

Let us remember the recent ‘warnings’ from the mouth of Fauci and then his ‘echo’, Gates, when they said that “1% of those taking the needle could end up worse or dead”. 1% of 7 billion is 70,000,000. That's some casual disclaimer there. Particularly when you consider that the vaccines heading towards us can't – according to their manufacturers- kill or prevent covid 19.. All points to one area. The virus isn't there. It isn't in the sufferers, the dead or the survivors blood. It isn't in a vaccine.

Those in charge have already reshaped the law to make sure this will all be put down to a tragedy as they ‘desperately’ tried to save the population and the economy. And all there will be is damaged survivors, in a state of confusion or fear wondering how so many millions became more collateral damage at the hands of the globalist Nazis operating from the various CIA pits...

Like i said at the top. Three times [ or more] is a pattern...

There's no way i can give you the full answer as it's an essay in itself. But the nutshell version, as thrown together as it is, is as follows.

Forget the world-on-hold-while-we-chase-a-virus cover story. It's a data exercise and mind game while the final strategies are agreed upon in closed rooms.

The 19th century saw the birth and first steps of the eugenics movement. Once it was on its feet Darwin's theory of evolution was set as the logical foundation to stand it up, whereas all religions were 'magical and mystical'. Eugenics was given scientific weight by those calling themselves scientists. Though Eugenics as it was meant, never had, and never will have- any foot in reality and science.

Since then it has gone through many re-definitions to hide the fact that is merely the elite deciding that anyone below them is unworthy, poorly born and moronic ; unfit to remain or to breed. It's the ultimate expression of a class war. The rationale for it is that we are damaging the ecology merely by breathing in such a large number.

It's ultimate expression was intended to , by dark scientific alchemy, have man realise his real place. That is- Man as God. Not merely pretending to be God by his acts( Gates / Fauci et al) but by 'jumping'- just like they can cause a virus to 'jump' from one species to another. Man will 'jump' from man to machine man; a sort of man / robot mongrel. His brain is to be replaced by. or morphed with, computer technology. New 'nerves; will be implanted in the shape of small gel information chips. They regard this process as 'Supermanity'. Homo Sapien will be reset. That word ( 'reset' ) is to be accepted as a new normal. All part of the drip, drip mind feed.

The reason is cold and simple. A caste system is being mapped out as we speak based on how they rate our worth. They'll call it genes and data. It's neither. It's class war and hatred. It's spite and revenge. It's power gone insane.

The deadline is 2030. It's going to be a very long 10 years. Or a very quick war. Nihilism. Their 'final solution'

No illness in the past took away taste completely for 4-5 days and each of us (5 people) showed comparable symptoms. Flu and other illnesses in the past were worse than C19 in our case and it obviously is in most of the overall cases, but it's definitely there. I'd suggest to read this article:

Daniel, other ways than getting sick of viruses (since viruses have not been proven to exist) are :

1. Eat toxic foods
2. Inhale toxic gases or substances or add hindrance of pure inhalation (like using a mask)
3. Think or emote toxic thoughts or emotions
4. Move to or through zones of toxic environments like high radiation areas or areas with oxygen deprivation or similar
5. Add toxic drugs like medicines, alcohol, cigarettes, vaccines etc to your body
6. Add toxic technology to your regimen and in your houses or offices (WIFI, Bluetooth, 1G, 2G, 3G, 4G, 5G, GPS signalling, digital screens, cell phones

So, I wonder, how much of 1-6 have you and your family been going through the last 30 years (if you are at that age or older)?

Please be honest. All of the above suggestions will increase the risk of having/creating COVID19 symptoms.

I'm afraid that the author's proposals may be valid enough in their constituent parts, but the conclusion he reaches is quite clearly mistaken – ask scientists like Didier Raoult if this virus exists, and how the various strains have differed in their effects and infectivity, and then ask him why HCQ effectively reduces the viral load in infected people so that places and countries that have used the treatment have much lower death tolls. Ask him why it is that children do not become infected, and younger adults only mildly, or what it is that causes the temperature to rise associated with headaches and tiredness and loss of sense of taste, but doesn't cause the normal symptoms of influenza or common cold.

It is a mistake to focus on this theory when there are so many ways to show that this is a “scamdemic” or a “plandemic” in the way that information has been manipulated and the population blinded by fear. The sort of question we should be asking is how it is that this “highly infectious and deadly virus” infected 20 odd people who were in close contact with each other about ten days before one was found to have the infection, yet after testing 20,000 odd people they didn't find a single case of transmission?

The same thing happened in Victoria in October, when a truck driver visited a tyre shop in Northern Victoria and infected three people, but didn't admit he had been there till they were found over two weeks later. At least 15,000 people who had visited all the places the three cases had come to be tested, and NOT ONE positive case was found. Was the test faulty? How is it even possible that you do so many tests and find no positive cases?

But discounting that, one must conclude that in fact the disease is NOT very infectious, and almost exclusively between people in close contact where it is physically transferred. Not only does wearing a mask not stop the virus particles from passing, but there is almost zero chance that it will be present and infectious in this way.

If you toss out the idea that there actually IS a virus Sars-cov-2, then all this argument goes to the wind, but it is on this we must focus. Ask the authorities how many false positives you would expect when you test 200,000 people and find not one case, as has happened in Victoria. The virus may well have been eliminated, but if the test is credible then there must be a percentage of false positives.

At the same time we are told that the virus has been detected in waste water, meaning there could be ONE CASE in the community that has not been noticed, and that everyone in the catchment should get tested.

It also is obvious to not need saying that we will NEVER persuade people like the one here who believe what the government tells them about wearing a mask and keeping you distance, that something is not right, because he is incapable of believing the virus does not exist. As I am.

From Health Canada

Health Canada thanks to the Freedom of Information Act (Kari Stevens): COVID-19 and it's testing is officially a complete fraud. Health Canada response file: A-2020-000208 / BH under the Access to Information Act R.S.C. says that Health Canada has no record describing the isolation of any Covid-19 virus.-

University of Toronto & Sunnybrook HSC have no record of “COVID-19 virus” isolation

Public Health England: “We hold no proof we isolated SARS-CoV-2” -

But, I suppose no amount of fact will convince those who don't like to believe they were fooled. Its only in China where it was Isolated. Really? The rooster in the river of rats. –

That's true John, but so is the converse. For the record, have a look at "American Genie – Engineering a Catastrophe", that I wrote back in May:

<https://ahtribune.ca/world/covid-19/4152-american-genie.html>

I'm surprised to see that 8000 people have looked at the article, yet very few people seem to discuss the apparent US origins of the virus – from either "persuasion". Why is this? But of course if you don't believe that the bat-human chimaera actually exists, and that Fauci and co have been working to develop such bio-weapons for years, then it hardly matters where it allegedly came from.

I have no doubt that Fauci & Co have been involved in bi-weapons. He is in my view an evil person. Judging by comments from coworkers of his, he is a arrogant narcissist and some have even called him a manipulator and a liar.

However that does not prove that the outbreak of respiratory infections is related to the facility does it or in fact that it originates from that source does it? That is pure conjecture.

I would add that Covid19 that is supposedly a deadly disease is not at all a deadly disease. It is no more lethal than a common influenza and surely the weapon that they would want to design would be there to kill off healthy individuals like soldiers and not the elderly who are already compromised with comorbidities.

That I would hardly describe an effective weapon.

The truth is that there has as yet been no proven purification and isolation. The PCR test is useless and so is the computer generated supposed genome sequence for that matter.

Has the origin of the virus been proven? No. Again it is based on MSM reports and MSM has lost integrity because of its proven lies on many issues including the climate change hoax, Covids predecessor.

Where did climate change originate from the UN-IPCC, Where did Coronavirus originate the UN-WHO/WEF/Davos. Common denominator UN, Who funds these bodies? cui bono.

HCQ and Artemisia annua (along with zinc) are treatments for mycoplasma infection.

“Because facts should really be sacred”

But it is a luxury, isn't it to decide what are 'facts'. Is any of this fact? Well let us just limit ourselves to this statement about

“the Spanish medical journal D-Salud-Discovery.”. Their advisory board of eminently qualified physicians and scientists lends further credibility to their research. Their claim is astounding.”

It is astounding indeed because these eminent members of the advisory board are really not qualified to make the statements they do nor have they analyse any scientific work that does. This is a tabloid, not a recognised reputable medical journal.

“Discovery Dsalud is a magazine that is advertised as “for many, the best health magazine”. It is a publication in which all kinds of methods without scientific validity are promoted.”

The problem with your argument and your link is the side attack of defame attempt on media , while at the same time there is a lack of an effort to debunk main arguments.

The Spanish language link is also on the same spirit, using wording like “tsarlatans” for any alternative medicine. It is well known a decades-long debate about the existence of HIV that causes AIDS. The concept of external virus existence is abstract and not proven. That means that it Might, indeed, do exist, even be an RNA anomaly within self, but proven pathogenesis causing defined symptoms has yet to do a lot of work. There is scientific debate. It is a middle age practice to condemn or worse e.t.c ban, different views when there is lack of undeniable evidence to convince almost anyone with a logical mind without the well known flaws. There are lists of those logical flaws, often used by “debunkers” of conspiracy theories. The fact is that those flaws also exist in many so called scientific papers and arguments from any side of views. If you rely in bullying tactics of allegations, without solid evidence and proper debunk in ALL major points of an article, you will be misled.

You fail to realize that official medicine line has its own problems also and lots of unscientific approaches. Medical errors is a great source of deaths in US.

Highly cited Prof. Mr. John Ioannidis has a popular theory regarding the lack of reproduction in medical research and systematic explanations of various bias. Medicine, objectively, it can be categorized as a scientific field, mixed full of junk science that needs sorting. International laws regarding consent of patient also account on this. In my previous comment here, answering to debunking effort of David, I have a link about this problem in a credible research paper regarding biotech. The problem with PCR tests is not new. Furthermore, scientific points of article regarding the invalidation of test, seems to be verifiable by external, highly respectable team of scientists with solid expertise, with the paper sent to a European authority. The link exists in this discussion. This acts as a verification, an unofficial peer review of major point on this article. There are test specialists criticizing the current practice in the so called pandemic

. Even if we assume that test shows a relation with the disease, the problematic RNA quantity is hidden, while it could be transparent. The problematic rna can be a viral one , an hypothesis, or belong to internal body illnesses. This is not the major point. The fact is that binary results of test given to doctors as black box, without proper reporting of cycles and test brand used to detect the claimed viral load are hidden as a standard practice. This practice alone, even if there is an almost defined virus, destroys real science fields like epidemiology. Data are highly problematic driving wrong conclusions. Generally there is a lot of suspicious behavior regarding this crisis and unfortunately only high end political conspiracy assumption can explain the big picture.

The South Australian lockdown is based on the premise of a fast moving infection, and yet it appears that the so-called infected have no symptoms, and that this ‘strain’ from the U.K. needs less time to incubate hence the 6 day lockdown. None of it makes any sense. People are lining up for miles to get tested.
