ARTICLE 19 Eastern Africa undertook comprehensive protest monitoring from Jan 2018 to July 2019, the findings of which are outlined below.

Protests between January 2018 & July 2019

- 152
- 20% of these cases involved police use of violence leading to death and injury
- 31 cases featured officials and protesters fighting hand to hand
- 18 cases involved protesters in contact with firearms

Media Reports on Protest

- Number of deaths: 7

ARTICLE 37 of 2010 Constitution guarantees right to protest

Kenya promised to protect freedom of association and assembly during 2015 universal periodic review (UPR) and the 2016 UPR implementation plan. Kenyan Government committed to review the Public Order Act and develop guidelines on peaceful assembly. This is yet to happen.

Kenya promised to protect freedom of association and assembly during 2015 universal periodic review (UPR) and the 2016 UPR implementation plan. Kenyan Government committed to review the Public Order Act and develop guidelines on peaceful assembly. This is yet to happen.

Kenya promised to protect freedom of association and assembly during 2015 universal periodic review (UPR) and the 2016 UPR implementation plan. Kenyan Government committed to review the Public Order Act and develop guidelines on peaceful assembly. This is yet to happen.

Kenya promised to protect freedom of association and assembly during 2015 universal periodic review (UPR) and the 2016 UPR implementation plan. Kenyan Government committed to review the Public Order Act and develop guidelines on peaceful assembly. This is yet to happen.

Kenya promised to protect freedom of association and assembly during 2015 universal periodic review (UPR) and the 2016 UPR implementation plan. Kenyan Government committed to review the Public Order Act and develop guidelines on peaceful assembly. This is yet to happen.

Kenya promised to protect freedom of association and assembly during 2015 universal periodic review (UPR) and the 2016 UPR implementation plan. Kenyan Government committed to review the Public Order Act and develop guidelines on peaceful assembly. This is yet to happen.

Kenya promised to protect freedom of association and assembly during 2015 universal periodic review (UPR) and the 2016 UPR implementation plan. Kenyan Government committed to review the Public Order Act and develop guidelines on peaceful assembly. This is yet to happen.

Kenya promised to protect freedom of association and assembly during 2015 universal periodic review (UPR) and the 2016 UPR implementation plan. Kenyan Government committed to review the Public Order Act and develop guidelines on peaceful assembly. This is yet to happen.

Kenya promised to protect freedom of association and assembly during 2015 universal periodic review (UPR) and the 2016 UPR implementation plan. Kenyan Government committed to review the Public Order Act and develop guidelines on peaceful assembly. This is yet to happen.

Kenya promised to protect freedom of association and assembly during 2015 universal periodic review (UPR) and the 2016 UPR implementation plan. Kenyan Government committed to review the Public Order Act and develop guidelines on peaceful assembly. This is yet to happen.

Kenya promised to protect freedom of association and assembly during 2015 universal periodic review (UPR) and the 2016 UPR implementation plan. Kenyan Government committed to review the Public Order Act and develop guidelines on peaceful assembly. This is yet to happen.

Kenya promised to protect freedom of association and assembly during 2015 universal periodic review (UPR) and the 2016 UPR implementation plan. Kenyan Government committed to review the Public Order Act and develop guidelines on peaceful assembly. This is yet to happen.